NEW SERIAL STORY—Anything But Love, by Janet Doran. Between loveless luxury and penniless love many girls have had to choose. But Alma Whittaker's dilemma was not so simple as that. She had to decide between one man who offered her both wealth and love and another who offered neither. For her even to hesitate, you may say, was foolhardy. But read the story.—Janet Doran's newest—and most fascinating—serial novel, It starts shortly in the Guardian.

HOW'S YOUR STOMACH?

YOU lose vital nerve force if you allow your stomach to distress you. Acid stomach, indigestion, gas or biliousness, and "constitiveness" cause the blood to be poisoned and will eventually destroy health and nerve force. This is what Clarence House of 55 Main St., St. Catharines, Ont., said: "I had no pep, had to force myself to eat, and after eating, I would belch gas and suffer from indigestion and heartburn. I had poor stomach quite a bit too. I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it toned up my system so that I felt like a different man. The 'Discovery' helped to drive away the stomach distress and gave me an appetite." New size, tablets 50c., liquid $1.00 and $1.45.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER—The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ramsay, New London, was the scene of a happy gathering on Tuesday evening, the 26th, when over two hundred friends and relatives gathered to tender a miscellaneous shower in honour of Miss Lorna MacEwen, who is one of the season's brides. The drawing-room was beautifully decorated with asparagus fern and pink and white streamers. As the wedding march was played by Mrs. Harland Found, the bride-to-be dressed in a lovely gown of blue crepe trimmed with white satin, was escorted to the seat of honor under a prettily decorated trellis of asparagus fern and artificial flowers, by Miss Dorothy Brown. The heavily laden baskets were carried in by Misses Marion Taylor and Doris Buntain. The numerous gifts were opened by Misses Bernard while the accompanying verses were read by Miss Jennie McKay. Miss Muriel Montgomery tastefully arranged the gifts, including linen, china, silver, furniture and a large sum of money, which shows the esteem in which the bride-to-be was held. Miss MacEwen graciously replied thanking her friends after which all heartily joined in singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow." The remainder of the evening was spent in social intercourse, after which a bounteous lunch was served by the ladies. At a late hour all departed for their homes wishing Miss MacEwen many years of happy wedded life.

HOME ON THE ISLE

(With apologies to the range)

Many go to their home, near the ocean's salt foam
To enjoy nature's gifts for awhile.
Where the wheat and the corn mark the place they were born
On the Province of Prince Edward Isle.
Home, home on the Isle:
Where the tubers and timothy grow;
Where the wheat and the corn The landscapes adorn
Near the springs where the clear waters flow.
We'd all like to come, where the laughter and song
And the greetings are yours with a smile;
Where the friendship is true, when they say "howdy do",
On the Province of Prince Edward Isle.

Home, home on the Isle:
Where the beauties of nature beguile;
Where the men and the maid's Apple cheeks never fade
Like the color that comes in the phial.
O give me a day, in the fields, pitching hay,
Or at stooking the sheaves tandem style;
Or to harvest the grain, and thresh it again
As I once did on Prince Edward Isle.
Home, home on the Isle:
Where the coils and the stooks stand in rows;
Where the fork handles break
And you think it is great

Though it brings to the farmer his woes.

If you're lonely and sad, and would like to be glad
After roaming as one in exile;
Don't brood and berate, just cross o'er the Strait
To the Province of Prince Edward Isle.

Home, home on the Isle:
Where the tubers and timothy grow;

Where the wheat and the corn Mark the place I was born
Near the springs where the clear waters flow.
—Peter A. Reilly.
