REDS ROUNDED UP IN UNITED STATES

Simultaneous Raids Made on Every Known Red Headquarters in the Country. 300 Arrests Already Made and More Coming.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The greatest roundup of radicals ever known in this country began at 9 p. m. last night when an army of agents of the Department of Justice, armed with 40,000 warrants, simultaneously raided every known "Red" headquarters in the principal cities of the country. In New York city the raids were under the personal supervision of Chief Flynn, head of the Department of Justice Secret Service, and eight hundred warrants were issued for the arrest of radicals in the city.

Attorney General Palmer personally directed the great roundup from Washington, which Federal Officials here state had as its definite aim the ridding of the United States of every Alien who plotted against American government. The raids were specifically directed against the Communist Party and the Communist Labor Party.

At 12:15 Chief Flynn announced that about three hundred arrests had already been made and that additional ones were being constantly reported. As fast as the warrants arrived at the Department of Justics offices they were segregated into Allen and citizens, and the foreigners were photographed and "finger printed" prior to their departure for Ellis Island. Only one woman has been arrested up to that time.

Headquarters of Communists and Communist newspapers were raided simultaneously by the police, and Chief Flynn announced that most valuable evidence had been obtained. About seventy five per cent of the prisoners were declared to be Russian.

Among the radical publications raided was the Novy Mir, the paper on which Trotsky worked while in New York City.

The radicals were brought to the headquarters of the department of justice in police patrol wagons, and army motor trucks which were manned by doughboys. They arrived in batches of twelve or fifteen.

In various Communist headquarters, including one with the title "Hell Gate Branch," meetings were in progress when the raiders arrived and from fifteen to twenty arrests were made in each place.

Prime Minister Thanks Rockefeller

(Special to The Guardian.)
OTTAWA, Jan. 2.—Sir Robert Borden has written to John D. Rockefeller expressing his deep appreciation for Mr. Rockefeller's gift of $5,000,000 to promote medical education in Canada.

In his letter he says: "You may be sure the gift will be of the greatest value to the medical profession here, which has nobly shown its worth by its conspicuous services in the war in which your country and Canada fought so bravely. It is a noble and a common ideal. I trust the relations between these two neighbouring countries will always be inspired with the spirit that has animated your action."

Lloyd George Will Accept Carnegie Bequest

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Jan. 4.—There is every reason to believe that Premier Lloyd George intends to accept Andrew Carnegie's bequest of an annuity of $10,000. The bequest was not sought and was an expression of Carnegie's personal admiration and was unfettered by any conditions, there is no apparent reason why the Premier should decline it.

Much Ice in Strait

The Car Ferry steamer was busy all day Sunday keeping up communication between Borden and Tormentine carrying freight. There is a great deal of ice in the Strait and the fact that it took the steamer five hours to make a round trip will bear this out.

Britain's Gift To Earl Haig

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Jan. 4.—One of the largest and most picturesque estates in England is to come to Earl Haig as a national gift. This is the mansion of Bemerdey situated in Berkshire, the estate of the Haig family from which he took the title of Earl Haig of Bemerdey. The property has been purchased by the British Government and will be presented to the Earl at an early date. Most of the mansion has all modern conveniences but part of it has been left just as it was years ago.

UNVEILING OF WAR MEMORIALS

Dedication Ceremonies Held Yesterday in St. Peter's and St. Paul's Churches.

At the 11 o'clock service in St. Paul's Church yesterday after the reading of the Second Lesson a tablet was unveiled to the memory of Richard Egerton Warburton and Hugh Cautley Warburton, sons of Dr. George Warburton who made the supreme sacrifice in the Great War. Richard Egerton Warburton enlisted in British Columbia and met death on the field of action. Hugh Cautley was an Honor Graduate of McGill and a Rhodes Scholar and Honor Graduate of Oxford.

He was in the service of the British Government in Rhodesia, South Africa, and came to England for furlough. He was returning to Nigeria when the steamer he was on was torpedoed and he was drowned with all on board.

The dedication service was conducted by the rector, Rev. H. D. Raymond and the tablet was unveiled by Lieutenant Philip Palmer. Previous to the ceremony a letter of application from the relatives of the deceased was read by the rector asking permission to have the tablet erected which was replied to by the rector and by Mr. P. Pope on behalf of the Church wardens. At the close of the ceremony the "Last Post" was sounded by Mr. Charles Hine. The tablet bears the following inscription:—

In loving memory of Richard Egerton Warburton of the 29th Battalion, C. E. F., killed in action at St. Etienne 6th April, 1916, in his 29th year.

Hugh Cautley Warburton drowned while returning to duty in Nigeria on the 9th November 1917, when his ship was torpedoed and went down with all hands, in his 29th year.

Sons of Dr. George Warburton.

In St. Peter's Cathedral last evening the war memorial to the special memory of those members and former members of the congregation of St. Peter's who laid down their lives in the Great War was unveiled. Special psalms, hymns and scripture readings were features of the service and Rev. A. E. Andrew, M. C., rector of Pictou who officiated at the unveiling ceremony preached a sermon appropriate to the occasion, from the words, "I am come that they might have life and have it more abundantly," in which he paid a strong tribute to the valor of the great host of young manhood who suffered and died that freedom might continue on the earth.

On behalf of the war memorial committee of the congregation Mr. R. L. Cotton read a request to have the tablet unveiled.

The tablet which is of very beautiful design bears the following inscription:—

Their Name Liveth for Evermore.
To the Glory of God and in plous memory of those who laid down their lives in the Great War of 1914-18 especially—
John Franklin Peters.
Gerald Hamilton Peters.
Harry Cuthbert Stewart.
Stewart Basil Simpson.
Arthur Lee Collett.
Noel L. Tooker.
Henry Turner Carbonell.
Harold Morris.
John Walter Jones.
Arthur Gordon Peters.

Translated from the Warfare of the World into the Peace of God. Grant unto them, O Lord Eternal Rest and Let Light Perpetual Shine Upon them.

The tablet bears a border of maple leaves the coat of arms of the Diocese on one side and the crest of St. Peter's Cathedral opposite with the cross in the centre.

The "Last Post" was sounded at the close of the ceremony by Mr. Russell Smith.

IMPORTANCE OF LORD GREY'S RETURN

On His Report Will Depend the Scope of the Paris Negotiations Especially as Regards the Fate of Turkey.

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Jan. 4.—Lord Grey's imminent return to London is an event overshadowing in importance the question of the resumption of the peace party in Paris for on the report he personally makes largely depends the scope of the Paris negotiations, especially as regards the fate of Turkey.

It is expected that he will immediately confer with the British Premier and the cabinet on his arrival in London regarding the treaty situation. Lord Grey has kept constantly in touch with his government since his arrival in Washington. It is considered most unlikely that the premier will in the mean time make any public utterance regarding the peace party, he is waiting to accept the senate reservations beyond what he had already intimated of the votes of the colonies. In authoritative quarters it is stated today he has seen no warrant to Washington to that effect, but Lord Grey would only voice the Government's attitude in intimating to senator Hitchcock and others that such resolutions would not be acceptable to this country.

YOUNG-ADAMS COMPANY CONCLUDE ENGAGEMENT

Two Excellent Performances Staged on Saturday, "Peggy O'Moore" and "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

The Young-Adams Company concluded a very successful season at the Prince Edward Theatre Saturday night when the theatre was again filled to capacity. In the afternoon Peggy O'Moore was put on as a matinee performance and needless to say, again delighted the audience.

The play deals with social and political life in a large American city. Two young Irishmen, both in love with the same girl, Ireland coming to America to seek their fortune—the one frail and his mind turning back to the girl he left behind him returns to his native land; the other becomes prosperous and eventually the mayor of the city. While in this capacity his ward, the daughter of his former friend and sweetheart arrives some what unexpectedly. This arrival was the cause of considerable complications, which create intense interest and many humorous situations.

The first and third acts of the play were laid in the Mayor's office. The settings were very effective and gave an interesting insight to civic affairs as administered in the larger cities. Mr. H. Wilmut Young as the Mayor looked and acted the part to the life and Miss Adams as Peggy O'Moore was very winning.

King Urges And Practices Economy Fur Prices Continue to Soar

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Jan. 4.—King George is again asserting the necessity for economy in view of the high cost of labor and has decided that hand-picked Welsh coal must no longer be provided for the Royal Yachts. Naval storekeepers in the future will supply coal free from just, in 100 pound bags similar to those used on the Admiralty vessels. Some comment is being made as to the reason for not fitting the yachts with oil burning engines on the ground of cleanliness.

So far as North Western Canada is concerned the scarcity of these skins is laid principally to the drying up of sloughs as a result of low water. The same thing applies to all other kinds of furs and consequently there is little hope of lower prices to the consumer for a long time.

The trappers are very much alive to the fact that the principle markets have advanced sharply and they are making the most of the situation so are the country dealers who collect from the trappers. Dealers of this type, especially in Canada, who bought early last year and had their purchases are now making large profits. As between the trappers and the dealers however, I believe the former are getting the better of it. I found the fur business active in all the cities I visited and in Canada, I found general business much better than it was thought here to be. The premium on American funds there is hampering trade between the two countries somewhat, but it is diverting practically all shipments of Canadian furs to the United States.

Denikine Govt. Was Overthrown

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Jan. 4.—General Denikine's Government in Southern Russia has been overthrown and General Romanovsky has been chosen to replace General Denikine as an anti-Bolshevik chief, according to a wireless dispatch received here from Moscow, quoting advices from Taganrog.

The report indicates that owing to defeat along the front a coup d'etat occurred at General Denikine's headquarters and that his Government has been replaced by a group known as the "Vozsokozhdenye Roostec," a term meaning the regeneration of Russia.

British Commission Leaves For Kiel

(Special to The Guardian.)
BERLIN, Jan. 4.—The British Commission established by the Supreme Council with the task of investigating the port material of Germany in connection with compensation for the sinking of the German warships in Scapa Flow left here today for Kiel.

U. S. Senators Are Again Ready to Take Up Treaty

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Efforts to break the Peace Treaty deadlock in the Senate were renewed today as Senators of both parties began returning from their holiday trips preparatory to the reconvening Monday of Congress.

The only surface development to indicate the trend of the negotiations was a number of conferences in which Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, and Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, acting leader of the Democrats, were prominent figures, though they did not see one another. All of the conferences seemed to go into details, but they gave an impression of hopefulness that the day's work had advanced the situation towards an agreement.

Who should make the first open move for a compromise, however, continued to be a warmly debated question, each side apparently manoeuvring while the negotiations went on under the surface, to force the other side to be the first to break from its former position.

Meanwhile both sides were active at work on proposals they hoped to use once the wheels of compromise formally were set in motion, and were feeling out sentiment on the opposite side of the party fence in preparation for the break which would bring the whole situation to a head.

Reservations Should Not Block Treaty

LEEDS, England, Jan. 3.—Lord Robert Cecil, former Assistant Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, in addressing the students of Leeds University today concerning the suggested reservations by the United States in the Peace Treaty, declared that he could not say that the reservations were so vitally important that it would be impossible to accept cooperation on the terms of the reservations. The urgency of the European situation, Lord Robert said, was so great that it would be assuming a tremendous responsibility to refuse America's co-operation in trying to bring order out of the chaos.

GERMAN ARMY NEARLY A MILLION

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Jan. 2.—Germany's armed forces are estimated by the British office to total close to a million men. These are divided into the regular army of 400,000, the land forces of the regular navy 120,000, the armed constabulary 40,000, the territorial army 100,000, the temporary volunteers or regular army reserves 150,000 to 200,000; civic guards 300,000 to 400,000.

The figures with regard to the last named branches are rough estimates, the exact totals being unknown. Under the terms of the peace treaty Germany is compelled to reduce her regular forces to 100,000 by March 31 and the number of gendarmes must not exceed those functioning as military police in 1918.

Assistance For Those Not Able To Secure Work

TORONTO, Jan. 3.—The fund provided by the dominion parliament for the assistance of civilian classes of men who served in the war, E. R. C. Clarkson, chairman of the finance committee of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, points out, is to be used only for the assistance of men who have served overseas and are now without fault of their own, out of employment. No departure from this rule is to be made, except under very special circumstances, Mr. Clarkson said.

The returned man who refused a job that is reasonably suitable for him, or the man who wilfully quits his job is to get no assistance from the fund.

Mr. Clarkson urges employers to make use of the department of sold-out men while the present exchange situation existed, they could obtain the equivalent of about ten per cent. increase over the prices paid by the Canadian dealers.

DISCUSSING THE NEW WHEAT PRICES

Bakers Blame the Western Wheat Growers for Advancing the Price. Predicted That Prices Will Go Still Higher When Seed Wheat is Being Looked for.

REGINA, Sask., Dec. 31.—That the increase in price of fifty cents a bushel of wheat authorized by the Canadian Wheat Board may be still further advanced, is the opinion of J. B. Musselman, secretary of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association.

Mr. Musselman points out some of the complications which may arise from the advance in price. He believes that farmers who have been hauling their wheat across the boundary into the United States may find some difficulty in purchasing seed wheat for next season. "The action taken by the Canadian Wheat Board," said Mr. Musselman, "has been anticipated for some time and in the opinion of many it ought to have been taken before this."

"The Order-in-Council" appointing the board gives specific instructions that the price to the Canadian farmer for your flour consumption is to be as nearly as possible the price obtained for export. While definite information has not been published by the board, it is generally understood that the average of the price for domestic consumption has been under the average of the price secured for export. The opinion in well-informed circles is that the new price to the millers is still under the present export value of wheat. If these assumptions are correct it means the Canadian growers of wheat are being penalized for the benefit of the Canadian consumer. However, I do not wish to express a positive opinion on this point until full information has become available.

RAISES CLASS ISSUE.
"I am free to state, however, that if when the season's business closes, it is found that the wheat grower has been penalized in order to provide cheap bread for the employees of protected industries, and that the industrial centres of Canada have secured cheap bread by securing a price lower than the price lower than its export value, it will be difficult to persuade the wheat growers of Canada that they have been fairly dealt with. The price of $2.80 a bushel may be advanced again so as to bring it into full harmony with export values, as the Order-in-Council intends that it should be and as in all fairness to the growers it ought to be.

"Various complications are sure to arise from this advance in price. It is rumored, for instance, that a number of farmers who had been marketing their wheat by the wagon load across the international boundary, sold their holdings, depending upon buying their wheat at a lower price in Canada, but, except as they may purchase the same direct from other farmers and haul it by horse conveyance they will be forced to buy their wheat seed wheat for the reason that no shipments by rail are permitted without the permit of the Wheat Board. The greater hardship will come to those farmers in the dried out areas who have not secured their seed wheat for the season."

"The score was no indication of the play as Charlottetown outskated and outplayed their opponents to quite an extent. Charlottetown, although exceptionally strong in the general play was exceptionally weak around the net. Stewart of the Amherst team and also Lowther, of N.H.A., fame were outclassed by the Island aggregation but owing to their greater experience at the game were enabled to hold Charlottetown at the critical moments and with the greater number of substitutes defeated Charlottetown to the extent above stated.

For Charlottetown Lou Campbell on the wing put up a fine game while Moore on the defence blocked many of the swift runs of the Amherst team.

"Wacky" McEachern, centre in one of the fastest runs ever witnessed in a Maritime rink notched up the first goal for Charlottetown and also the first tally of the game.

Stewart, 30 seconds later repeated the trick for Amherst. Campbell, playing at top speed beat out the Amherst defence and scored Charlottetown's second goal making the score at the end of the period 2 to 1.

In the second period, with Callaghan of Charlottetown recalled Amherst scored twice making the score at the end of the period 3-2 in their favor.

Charlottetown in the third period although faster and better in all departments of the game were unable to supply the necessary substitutes to chalk up a victory.

It may be added that the Amherst team played a very unskillful game, and their appearance here is expected within the next ten days.

Amherst Defeated Ch'town Hockeyists

AMHERST, Jan. 1.—In the opening game of the season in Amherst's new rink a fast and clean game of hockey was witnessed between Amherst and Charlottetown by over a thousand spectators. Judging by the big turnout, it looks as if Amherst was coming back to her old time love. Following is score:—

First period two to one, Charlottetown.
Second period, three to two, Amherst.
Third period, six to two, Amherst.

Stewart shot the first goal for Amherst. Frank Brown from Montreal refereed the game very successfully.
