—CHARMING WINDOW DISPLAY—The store windows of Summerside were decorated very appropriately for St. Patrick's Day, but the windows of Gourlies Ltd., Bayley's Drug Store and Gallant's Drug Store were particularly charming and perhaps the palm should go to Miss Waite who was responsible for Gourlies window, and who distributed sprays of shamrock to the members of the press and visitors, in the absence of Mr. J. E. Dalton, who was confined to his home with a heavy cold, and who usually performs this charming Irish courtesy on St. Patrick's Day.—S

—HANDICRAFT GUILD REORGANIZED — At an organization meeting held on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. T. Holman, Summerside, the Prince County Handicraft Guild (which had not been functioning for some time) was reorganized. Miss Carrie Holman, who is quite interested in the work and is a member of the Canadian Handicraft Guild, occupied the chair, and gave a short summary of the past history of the Guild and also interesting details of the different handicrafts, carried on in Prince Edward Island and also in Quebec and other places. After some discussion it was decided to appoint officers and committees. Miss Holman was made president, Miss Mary Hunt, vice-president, and Miss Wanda Wyatt, secretary. Committees were formed to look after the various phases of the work which would be undertaken by the Guild. The chief object of the organization would be to encourage every kind of handicraft, both new and old. To stimulate an interest in ornamental iron work, wood carving and basket weaving; besides hand weaving, and the other handicrafts practiced in the home, particularly in the French settlements. The Guild would endeavour to establish markets for the products and to assist in every way possible the sale of work. The Guild felt that there was a great field of endeavour in handicrafts, but through lack of organization the arts and crafts on the Island were gradually disappearing. Fifteen members joined the organization and it was expected many more would join when the movement became more widely known. Owing to the difficulties of transportation it was not possible to invite any one from other parts of Prince County to this meeting, but it was hoped that before the next meeting there would be a number of ladies from other sections present. Much enthusiasm was shown and it is expected the Guild will do a power of good for the handicrafts of the Island. It was considered that there were great possibilities for an organization of this kind which would bring Island handicrafts to the forefront. Mrs. Allister MacKinnon of Montreal was voted as the representative of the Prince County Guild at the Canadian Handicraft Guild in Montreal. A afternoon tea was served at the close hour.—S

—BEDEQUE WINS—In an excellent game of hockey at Bedeque Friday evening Bedeque Maple Leafs captured a two goal lead in the opening tilt of a two game series for the Lea and Wright Trophy. The first period was slow getting underway and both teams played a cautious game. Frank MacDonald star player for Bedeque notched up the first goal, Leith Howatt retaliating for Kensington. In the second period the play was faster and MacDonald, from an assist from MacInnis and Currie, scored the second goal for Bedeque. Wright shot another one past the Kensington goalie. Kensington evened the score, however, when Hughes and Waite made a goal apiece, making it three-all at the end of the second period. In the third period MacInnis notched up two and Wright one for Bedeque and Kensington trying hard to even things up could only get in one, which was very cleverly handled, by Ready with an assist from Hughes and Waite. This made the game six to four for Bedeque. The Maple Leafs were a little handicapped as their goalie was unable to act as he had hurt his hand during the day. Besides this two of their forwards were unable to be present. One of the Kensington players was hurt slightly during the game.—S

After a service on Sunday at MacLean's Funeral Home, the remains were forwarded by the morning train to Summerside and conveyed by team to Central Bedeque where a service is being held in the Bedeque Baptist Church on Tuesday afternoon. Borden Team Defeated By Tormentine

On Saturday, March 19, Cape Tormentine Hockey Club crossed to Borden and defeated the Borden Terraplanes 6-5. The game was fast and clean and very evenly contested at all times.

The first period ended 2-2 with Peterson and T. Cormier, the Tormentine "Aces", each scoring, and then Charlie Love and R. Oatway tied it up.

In the second period Borden went ahead when Pep Darrach scored one that was deflected into the net by one of the opposition. Just about 20 seconds before this period closed T. Cormier scored his second counter, and tied it up again.

In the third period the Cape boys "went to town" banging in three, the first by Robinson, then Tucker, then D. Cormier.

Borden tried hard and cut the lead to one goal when Jack Darrach and Pep Darrach each tallied.

To pick out any outstanding stars would be a hard task because all the players on both teams played good hockey, but Peterson, T. Cormier and Jim McAleer were perhaps the three outstanding stars of the game.

Referee—O. Campbell.

The lineups:

Borden: Goal, J. McAleer; defence, R. Oatway, D. Baird, G. Jay forwards, J. Darrach, C. Love, P. Darrach, B. Burch, A. Oatway, W. Muttart, B. McAleer, L. Gaudet.

Dry, Hacking Coughs A Menace To Health

That dry, hacking cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to relieve it is a source of danger, and the longer the cough sticks the more menace it is to your health.

Don't neglect the hacking cough. Get rid of it by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It helps to stimulate, soothe and heal the bronchial tubes, allay irritation, subdue inflammation, loosen the phlegm and mucous, and aid nature to dislodge the morbid accumulations.

MR. ALEXANDER A. SOHM, 84-1st Ave., North Bay, Ont., writes:—"I had a very severe head cold accompanied by a dry, hacking cough. I tried various medicines to get rid of it, but they were useless until a friend told me to take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. After using one bottle the cold was considerably relieved, and the dry, hacking cough had entirely disappeared."

Town Council Appoints New Street Foreman

At an adjourned meeting of the Summerside Town Council held last night, Henry DesRoche, Street Foreman for the town for over 25 years, was, on motion of John Y. Phillips, chairman of the Street Committee, dismissed.

In asking for his dismissal, Councillor Phillips, stated, that for some time there had been complaints about the streets and while he was foreman of the Street Committee he wanted efficient service. Councillor Mollison, in seconding the motion said, that when the matter was discussed he understood that the man had to go, but that there was a minor position that could be offered him.

The motion was put to the meeting, and Councillors Phillips, Morrison and Mollison voted for dismissal and Councillors MacKay, MacNeill and Wedge against the motion. Mayor Campbell in casting the deciding vote for DesRoche's dismissal, said that he had nothing against DesRoche personally, but many citizens had expressed dissatisfaction and he had received strong complaints against him and that he had hired his sons instead of giving some employment to other men who were idle. Mayor Campbell favored giving him a minor job.

Councillor Mollison said, that in voting for dismissal he had nothing against DesRoche personally but he wished to have harmony in the street department.

Councillor Wedge in voting against dismissal stated that DesRoche had been with the town for 25 years and as far as he knew he had proved satisfactory. He was about 70 years of age and he did not think it proper to turn him off after that length of service. He thought there were two other jobs vacant and perhaps he could have on of those.

Councillor MacKay spoke very strongly against dismissing a faithfu servant of the town after 25 years service. He felt the man had done good service and that although he was old he had done good work.

Councillor MacNeill also spoke strongly against his dismissal.

James Millman was hired as street foreman at 18 dollars per week, moved by Phillips, seconded by Morrison; Wedge and Mollison voting for and MacKay and MacNeill remaining silent in the matter.

A motion was passed to have $30,000 additional insurance on electric light property and $5,000 on abbatoir property.

The electric light past due accounts were discussed and the matter of purchasing a horse for the town.

Meeting adjourned.—S

Canada At War

TWENTY-YEARS AGO TODAY

(March 22, 1918)
(Written by The Canadian Press by Capt. W. W. Murray, M. C.)

That the defeat of General Sir Hubert Gough's fifty army on March 21, 1918, was a disaster of first magnitude can not be gainsaid. Emulating the tactics employed four months before by Sir Julian Byng at Cambrai, the enemy, using hundreds of heavy guns and assisted by a thick groundfog, had crumpled the British line on a wide front, intent on the immediate purpose of dividing the British and French armies. Before him on March 22 were only the gallant survivors of Gough's divisions, units all mixed together, uncertain of their front, ignorant of the enemy's intentions, knowing only they would again be called upon to sustain the brunt of the continuing onslaught.

March 22 saw the battle resumed. Gough had no reserves: the three weak divisions that had formed his Army Reserve were thrown into the fighting the first day. Organized formations were far away, and few indeed were available.

A small "independent force," comprising of lines-of-communication troops, men attending courses of instruction, engineers—all capable of carrying a rifle, was being hastily scrambled together, under the command of General Carey, while, of special interest to Canadians, General Sir Arthur Currie, obedient to the instructions of Sir Douglas Haig, placed at Gough's disposal the Canadian motor machine gun brigade, commanded by Lt. Col. W. K. Walker, D. S. O., M. C. Five batteries of motor machine guns and the 2nd. Canadian divisional sub-park reported to Gough at Villers-Brenonneux, northeast of Amiens, and there they received instructions, general in character, to get in touch and co-operate with the nearest infantry units.

The extent to which the Canadian gunners carried out their orders is attested by Ludendorff himself: "At many places machine guns had given us an undue amount of trouble," he wrote later, "and so caused delay."

At the crossings of the Somme, the Canadians fought the advancing enemy. Swift vehicles, manned by determined and brave men, "ducked" hither and yon along the shell-torn roads, in and out of crumbled villages, taking heavy toll, suffering casualties, but always retarding that advance, which was now being concentrated against Amiens.

Austrian Nazis On German Visit

(C.P. Havas, By Guardian's Special Wire)

VIENNA, March 21—The first trainload of Austrian workers left today for vacations in Germany at the expense of the Nazi "strength through joy" organization.

Joseph Buerckel, new Nazi leader of Austria, spoke to the workers at the station and told them they were going to see for themselves the achievements of the Nazis in the Reich.

Halifax Liberal Member Attacks Railway Policies

Denounces Political Appointment To C. N. R. Board And Clashes With Liberal Colleague.

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, March 21—Robert Finn (Lib., Halifax), speaking during debate in the House of Commons today on the proposed layoff of Canadian National Railways shopmen, said he hoped the C. N. R. would not be permitted to aggravate the general unemployment situation.

The Nova Scotia member, who also criticised the recent appointment to the C. N. R. Board of Directors of C. H. Read of Amherst, N. S., said there was sufficient unemployment created in Halifax by the Government's policies on harbors without increasing the total through railway policies.

Transport Minister Howe told the House he was hopeful the present dispute between the C. N. R. and its shopmen would be settled amicably and without a general layoff.

"I trust the common sense of the shopmen through their union heads will prevail and this situation can be met in the future as it has in the past and that no general layoff will take place," the Minister said. "I sincerely believe that will be the situation."

Members Clash

The dispute reached the floor of Parliament when A. A. Heaps (CCF-Winnipeg North) moved adjournment of debate to discuss it. He finally withdrew his motion but not before Mr. Finn had criticised Mr. Read's appointment and a general squabble developed between him and Gordon Isnor, the other Liberal member for Halifax.

Mr. Finn declared "it is coming to a pretty pass when we pick a political friend and the active head of the Liberal Party in Nova Scotia and place him on the Board of management of the C. N. R."

Mr. Finn said Chairman Campney of the Harbors Board "went to Halifax, together with his usual coterie that surrounds him. I believe my colleague (Mr. Isnor) also went. His efforts were absolutely in vain. Men who were police officers were reduced to watchmen's pay when that should not have been done. That cannot be denied and that wrong must be righted."

Mr. Isnor interrupted to deny he had gone to Halifax with the Board.

"Then," continued Mr. Finn, "I will say this, that my colleague was in Halifax while the Board was there, whether or not they went on the same train and that he was present at some of the meetings that were held."

"That also is incorrect," interjected Mr. Isnor.

"Then I will say," persisted Mr. Finn, "that my colleague was present with the manager of the port and found out just what . . ."

Called To Order

Speaker Casgrain interrupted to call Mr. Finn to order, claiming he was not speaking to the subject before the House.

Later Mr. Finn said he was loyal to his party but as for Mr. Isnor "the arrival of the centralized harbors board synchronized with his arrival in Halifax and I had no knowledge of his arrival until I received a letter that he was there. I have not interfered with matters affecting the Harbors Board."

Again the Speaker called him to order from wandering from the subject before the House.

Mr. Finn appealed to the Prime Minister and other members of the Cabinet "to join with the Minister of Transport and see that Mr. Hungerford (President of the C. N. R.) does not make people hungry while he and the Board of Directors enjoy good meals and are happy and contented."

Mr. Finn repeated he was not being disloyal to the Government or to the party in his remarks. One member of the Government had voted against a Government budget when the Liberals were in office before, "so if I am disloyal, there are others in the same position and they will have to cross the floor of the House before I do."

Employment Increase

Mr. Isnor, speaking later in the debate, said there had been an increase in C. N. R. employment in Halifax and Nova Scotia generally. Some might believe the Maritimes were painting a dark picture which conditions would not warrant.

The C. N. R. was attempting a business-like administration and it should be praised, not condemned for its efforts.

Already there had been reductions in C. N. R. staffs, Mr. Finn declared. He understood President Hungerford soon was to be retired and his place taken by the C. N. R. purchasing agent. As far as he was concerned, a purchasing agent was no man to be made president of the C. N. R.

In a passing reference to Arthur Purvis, chairman of the National Employment Commission, Mr. Finn said he lost his interest in the unemployment situation as soon as he was appointed to the board of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

"That is not true," interjected Labor Minister Rogers.

"I did not say it was true," shot back Mr. Finn. "I only said it synchronized with his going."

Louis Robichaud (Lib. Kent, N. B.,) said there was a certain amount of amusement in some members advocating Government interference with the railways. Those same members later would criticise the Government for interference.

Mr. Robichaud did not believe there should be Government interference. He said he often marvelled at the inconsistency of J. S. Woodsworth, C. C. F. Leader, which he believed was a bad example to other members.

TRANSPORT

pose of handling automobiles only, it was pointed out.

The double train service would be effective May 30th. Other changes in schedules announced included the placing of a motor coach on the Summerside-Charlottetown service. The coach would arrive in Charlottetown at 10 a. m. daily and would leave here again at 7.15 for Summerside.

Other minor changes were announced in the letter to Mr. McLeod.

Last night's meeting of the Trade Board Council requested a committee, headed by Mr. J. H. Howatt, to wait on Premier Campbell, and ask that a request contained in a resolution passed by the Board last year, concerning the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act be carried out. The resolution, brought in by a committee headed by Mr. Howatt, requested that "the operation of the act in this province be discontinued immediately." Mr. Howatt was not present at last night's meeting.

T.V.A. Chairman Defies President

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21—(AP)—President Roosevelt threatened to suspend or remove Arthur E. Morgan from the chairmanship of the Tennessee Valley Authority today and promptly was confronted with a blunt declaration from Morgan that he was powerless to do either.

The determined chairman declined to participate further in Mr. Roosevelt's personal investigation of T. V. A. and spurned a presidential suggestion that he was obligated to resign or retract the charges he had made against his fellow members of the T. V. A. board of directors.

"It is my judgment," Morgan told the President in a third and apparently final session of Mr. Roosevelt's inquiry, "that my resignation at this time would not be in the public interest. Therefore, I do not tender my resignation. I wish also to say that I challenge the suggestion and deny the right and power to remove or suspend me."

He persisted in his refusal to give the President facts supporting his accusations that Vice-Chairman Harcourt Morgan, formerly of Strathroy, Ont., and director David Lilienthal had been guilty of malfeasance, or to defend himself against their charges that he had sought to "rule or ruin" the T.V.A.

Congress Approves Huge Naval Bill

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21—(AP)—The United States Administration's $1,000,000,000 naval expansion bill won House of Representatives approval today by a majority of nearly three to one.

Thirty Republicans joined one Progressive and 261 Democrats in swamping the opposition, 292 to 100. The measure, which by this vote reached the half-way point in its journey through Congress, would authorize construction of 46 warships, 22 auxiliary vessels and 950 airplanes. Experts say its authorizations could be carried out in four to six years.

It now goes to the Senate.

As approved by the House, the bill carried no actual funds for construction. President Roosevelt has recommended, however, that work be started this year on some of the vessels it would authorize.

No Wonder You Are Constipated!

What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? Bread, meat, potatoes? No wonder you're constipated—due to lack of "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It means the kind of food that forms a soft, bulky mass in the bowels. It's this mass that helps your bowels move.

The common sense thing to do about it is to eat a natural laxative food. Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast will give you just the "bulk" you need. And it gives you, in addition, Nature's great intestinal-tonic, vitamin B1. Eat this crunchy toasted cereal every day, drink plenty of water, and life will be brighter for you! All-Bran is made by Kellogg in London, Ont. Sold by every grocer.

Outstanding performer of the game was old man ice, he sure pulled some hat tricks with that old rubber.

Outstanding player goes to Heckbert getting the four goals for his team and always dangerous.

Second place goes to Biff with two goals and two assists, with old man ice robbing him time after time of others.

W. Campbell gets third position, he pulled a Turk Broda more than once and saved his team time after time from what looked like sure goals.

Howard has his big night on Wednesday and is dishing up two good hockey games for the fans, those will be the final games of the season, so don't forget to attend.—H.

Half Silvers Sell At $50

NEW YORK, March 21—The demand for silver foxes continued strong at Saturday's sessions of the sale being conducted by the New York Auction Company. Most of the offerings comprised cheaper skins, with half silvers bringing up to $50. While no specific figure was given, representatives of the auction company indicated that a large percentage of the offerings changed hands. The current emphasis on silver foxes is by far the outstanding feature of the fur season thus far.
