VISITING OLD HOME — Mrs. W. J. Cheverie and daughter, Miss Cecelia, who are visiting the former's home in Arichat, N. S., are in daily attendance on her father, Capt. Jos. Pettipas, who has been stricken with a second attack of paralysis. Although doing as well as can be expected, still no great hopes are extended for his recovery, due to his advancing years. Having spent the most of a long life, sea-faring without ever having any serious illness, the present affliction is to be regretted.

K. OF C. MAKE PRESENTATION TO GRAND KNIGHT FARMER—A pleasing event took place in the Chambers of the K. of C. Home Friday evening when Mr. Alban Farmer, Grand Knight, who is about to be one of the principals in an interesting event, was presented with a congratulatory address and beautiful parlour chair on behalf of the council. The address was read by Bro. S. F. Doyle, lecturer and the presentation made by Bro. Wm. Moran, trustee. Mr. Farmer made a fitting reply thanking the council for their thoughtful act and referred to the hearty cooperation he had always enjoyed since occupying the chair. Several of the members delivered congratulatory, and incidentally humorous addresses before the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and the National Anthem.

STREET ACCIDENT — A car crashed into a buggy at the intersection of Richmond and Church streets about 8 o'clock last evening breaking the shafts and a wheel of the vehicle, and slightly injuring one of the occupants, a young lady. It appears that the car was proceeding east on Richmond street, and that the driver while turning north on Church street was watching a car coming south on that street. In this way he failed to see the buggy which was going east on Richmond. The occupants of the buggy, a man and two women escaped without serious injury, although one of the women sustained a twisted ankle.

A WONDERFUL RECORD — Newspapers record the doings of the youngsters in their various fields of achievement, but who can better the performance of the following oldest: Mrs. William LeBlanc, Sr. (or White as it is generally known) of Rollo Bay Centre, a young thing of 90, this year carded, and spun a skein of yarn which won first prize at the Sour's Exhibition. This in itself may not appear so very wonderful considering the youthful activities of the old Acadian stock, but in her case, when you are informed that she has reared a family of nine children, has not a single gray hair on her head, is able to thread the finest needle without the aid of glasses, for she has never needed the use of them—can read her Prayer Book as readily and easily as a school girl of 16, and takes an intelligent interest in the farming activities of her youngest son, then one would think this old lady is entitled to more than passing recognition. Her claim to longevity is well established on the maternal side at least, one uncle Reuben (Urban) Cheverie having attained the age of 104 years, one sister, Judith who died in the Magdalen Islands at 99, and another, Mary, at 97 and so on. Anyone motoring from Charlottetown to Souris when passing the cross roads leading to Bear River at St. Margaret's may see this Mrs. LeBlanc, if walking around the old homestead to

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL

The three services at St. Peter's Cathedral on Sunday were well attended. The Rev. Canon Malone officiated at all three, and preached splendid sermons at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.

College students and other visitors are always welcome at St. Peter's.

The Prayer Book orders the following commemoration this week. Yesterday Paulinus, Archbishop of York in 644, Thursday, King Edward, Confessor 1066.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The speaker at the morning service was Rev. Peter A. Walker of the Maritime Interprovincial Home for Girls, Coverdale, N. B., who delivered an interesting and instructive address. Dr. A. C. Vincent was the evening speaker delivering with eloquence and power "A Thanksgiving Message." The Sunday School had another day of encouraging attendance and interest. Mrs. G. R. Gilroy's soprano solo and the anthem of the morning made a fitting contribution to the thought of the service. At the largely attended evening service the choir rendered very effectively Turner's "Praise Ye the Lord." It was a privilege indeed to have as the evening soloist Mr. Mason McKay of New Glasgow, N. S. whose fine tenor voice gave reverent expression to "The Ninety and Nine" and "Shadows."

The week's activities were mentioned, including the Boy Scouts on Monday, the re-opening of the Mission Band on Tuesday afternoon, thank offering service of the W. B. M. U. on Wednesday at 7:30 and the Young People's Society on Thursday evening at the same hour. The flowers of the day were the gift of Mrs. H. C. Brown in memory of her father and mother.

and mammals believed last night he was on the eve of his greatest discovery—a prehistoric race of supermen. Making final preparations for an expedition into a desolate section of the Mexican State of Sonora, where three giant skeletons have been discovered, Dr. Cummings told of the great possibilities these relics may hold for the world of science. With the hesitation of the scientist in expressing opinions not based on personal investigation, Dr. Cummings said that the description given to him of the skeletons was the most authentic trace of the long sought "Cyclops" he had ever received.

The existence of a race of men more than eight feet tall, and possessed of mentalities surpassing other races known to have flourished in Mexico in past ages, was indicated in the report of J. L. Coker, a Sonora mining man who found the skeletons.

Mrs. Belle Shaw of Waltham, Mass., left Boston on Thursday on a visit to relatives in this Province. Mr. Harry Foster, city, has returned to Toronto to resume his studies at the Toronto University. Mr. Ernest Anderson has arrived home from Halifax and will resume his duties here with the Canadian National Telegraph.

Mrs. G. F. Hutcheson left Saturday morning for New York where she will visit her son Dr. H. V. Hutcheson. Mr. George E. Noble, clerk at the Canadian National Hotel, returned to the city last evening after three weeks' vacation spent at his old home in Port Hope, Ontario.

Mr. Melvin A. Lewis, Cardigan, is spending a few days in the city the guest of Mrs. W. M. Flynn, Euston St.

Major W. J. MacDonald and Mrs. MacDonald, accompanied by Major and Mrs. Coles, left by auto Friday morning for Halifax where they will visit a few days.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. WILLIAM DUFFY

A sad gloom was cast over the community of Bunbury on Oct. 3 when word was received of the death in the Charlottetown Hospital of Mrs. Wm. Duffy formerly Catherine Jackman.

The deceased who was in her 67th year had been apparently in good health, judging by her cheerful, pleasant manner, but patiently had been suffering severe attacks at intervals which finally necessitated an operation.

All that medical aid and loving care could accomplish was done to preserve a life so cherished, but consoled by all the advantages of Holy Mother Church she peacefully passed to her eternal reward.

Surviving are her sorrowing husband, eight sons, namely Joseph of Estlin, Sask; Frank of New York; Wilfred of Edmonton, Alta.; and Vincent, Ambrose, Ernest, Gavin and Edmund of Bunbury, also two brothers, Peter and Wm. Jackman of Village Green.

The funeral mass was celebrated on Wednesday morning by Rev. Louis Dougan at St. Dunstan's Basilica and the services at the grave were conducted by Rev. E. O'Hanley.

The pall bearers were her four sons and two nephews namely Ambrose, Ernest, Gavin and Edmund, Martin Jackman and Edwin Duffy.

The great number of mass cards, spiritual offerings and beautiful floral tributes are tokens of the esteem in which the deceased was held, and the sympathy of a large circle of friends is extended to her sorrowing family. May her soul rest in peace.

Life Dedicated To War Memory

(Canadian Press) MONTREAL, Oct. 10.—A five year task of illuminating the Book of Remembrance which will contain the names of 68,000 Canadian men and women who died overseas from August 1914 until the disbandment of the Canadian Expeditionary Force in 1922 is the life-work of William Purves who exhibited a rough sample of the proposed book in the McGill University Library here. The completed work will be placed in a specially-built vault in the Peace Memorial Tower in the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa. "The work I am now engaged on is my life-work," said Mr. Purves when interviewed. "If I live the next five years to finish the job I shall feel that my life has not been spent in vain."

The Book of Remembrance containing 450 leaves of the finest calfskin vellum will be bound in purple Morocco leather, mounted on solid gold and engraved with the Canadian Coat of Arms. The 68,000 names will be inscribed by hand on the parchment, the work of several men, but 15 pages will be fully illuminated by Mr. Purves.

He intends to tell pictorially, year by year, the story of the war, for instance, the theme for 1914 will be the carrying of troops by the navy, for 1915, the pouring in of men from every province to aid their country, and so on. Mr. Purves also plans to work into his illuminations many authentic scenes showing the pleasures and pastimes of the men overseas.

Shock Gives Sight To Baby Born Blind

MELBOURNE, Oct. 10.—Blind from birth eleven-months old Raymond Hanniver can now see for the first time, as the result of shock caused by a burn.

Specialists who attended the baby at the Eye and Ear Hospital in Melbourne said that he would remain blind all his life. Baby Raymond was sent home, but a few nights later a spark shot from the blazing fire and burnt him on the leg.

He cried as children will do as a result of a shock, but his mother noted there was a new look in his eyes. The parents took their baby back to the hospital and were overjoyed to find as a result of tests by specialists that young Raymond could see. The specialists are agreed that the effects of the shock will be permanent.

CANADIAN TYPEWRITERS FOR THE BRITISH ISLES

ROUGE AND LIPSTICK RULING

NEW LONDON, Conn., Oct. 5.—Daily use of rouge or lipstick has been reserved exclusively for themselves by seniors at Connecticut College. The senior proclamation of special privileges, read today to the student body by Miss Virginia Swan, of Lowell, Mass., president of the class, decreed that underclasswomen might use these cosmetics only on week ends. The seniors also ruled that they alone may use roller skates on the campus.

"Mr. Marsh, I'm leaving — I'm going to retire" ...

"What do you mean, Jim?"

Retire! How can you afford to stop work? Has someone left you a fortune? Why, I'm sixty-five and head of this business, but I can't afford to retire. "Well, Mr. Marsh, thirty years ago I planned this day, when I could say good-bye to work, worry and struggling for an existence. I planned then that when I reached fifty-five years of age I would be able to retire, play golf or dig in my garden all day long if I wanted to." "How did you do it, Jim?" "Well, it all began one day, thirty years ago, when I made my first payment on a Dominion Retirement Policy." "I envy you, Jim—makes me feel I've been a bit of a fool, though. Here I am at the head of a business and I've never planned the day when I could retire in peace and comfort; but you bet I'll make sure that my son, Jack, looks ahead. Tell me how this Retirement Policy of yours works." "Mr. Marsh, the operation of it is very simple—A Dominion Retirement Policy will enable you to stop work and enjoy life at age 55, 60 or 65, on a monthly income of any amount you desire, say—$100, $150 or $200, for life. "Suppose, when you are thirty, you decide that you are going to retire at sixty-five, and live on an income of, say, $100 a month, you would be guaranteed— "A monthly income of $100 a month for life. "If you should die before age sixty-five, your beneficiary or next of kin would receive $10,000. "In case you die after age sixty-five, when you are receiving your monthly income, your beneficiary would continue to receive a regular monthly income of $100 for a period designated in the policy, or a cash sum equivalent to the remaining unpaid monthly income instalments. "Retire at 65—if only I could," you say. Well, you can—just let a Dominion Life Representative show you how, or send in the coupon below for the booklet—"Retirement at 65."
