Give Canadian Casualties To First Of June

OTTAWA, July 18 — (CP) — Canadian army casualties to May 31, including the Mediterranean campaign to within four days of the taking of Rome June 4 but not including the invasion of France beginning June 6—totalled 21,689, Defence Headquarters announced today.

The total was made up of 6,793 dead, 430 missing, 3,509 prisoners and 10,887 wounded. Casualties for the nine months of the Italian campaign up to the fall of Rome totalled 11,240 made up of 2,268 dead, 8,572 wounded and 500 missing and prisoners of war.

Casualties in the first 15 days of the Normandy fighting totalled 2,815 including 383 dead, 1,359 wounded and 1,093 missing. The last official army casualty totals were announced April 25 and covered the war period up to Feb. 29. At that time the total was given as 16,768 made up of 5,742 dead, 330 missing, 3,509 prisoners and 6,699 wounded. It can thus be concluded that the casualties between Feb. 29 and May 31 totalled 4,921.

Up to June an official source estimated that 761,000 had served in the Italian campaign, 158,741 in the invasion of France, and 141-3 years of this war and up to 538 including 1,892 dead. This does not include Canadian merchant navy casualties of about 1,200 up to Feb. 29 and 191,052 prisoners and missing.

In the 4-1 years of the First Great War 620,462 Canadians served including 67,716 dead, 190,992 Empire casualties up to Aug. 31, 1943, after four years of war totalled 687,199 including 158,741 dead, 78,204 missing, 159,219 wounded and 270,995 prisoners.

Empire casualties reported in the 4-1 years of the First Great War totalled 3,190,258 including 906,317 killed, 6,000,000 wounded and 181,052 prisoners and missing.

Farm Crops in Normandy

By WILLIAM STEWART Canadian Press War Correspondent SOMEWHERE IN NORMANDY, the crops will suffer this summer on the Norman coast which have been enveloped by the Allied second front.

Because of the hundreds of tanks, guns and vehicles that have come pouring over the thousands of invasion troops, acres of rich farmland have had to be occupied for parking space, artillery positions and ammunition and supply dumps. The air force has had to take over hundreds of acres more for its bases and dispersal areas.

However, the Germans, while they were in occupation, used to take over a large portion of the food production and their departure has left the coastal bridge-strip with more than enough to feed the population. Butcher shops in towns like Bayeux crumple display great red sides of beef that would bring water to the mouth of the average European.

The stocks of meat are eye-opening as are the quantities of butter which are available to Canadians who have spent many months in rationed England.

Just as beer is the drink of the average man in England, so cider is the popular Norman beverage. Popular gathering place in the Normans is the little cafe where the proprietor's wife serves cider at four francs a mugful. The franc is worth approximately two Canadian cents.

Like Rural Canada Normandy is rural. The farms are never greater than on Sunday morning when the country folk in their best clothes die down their winding roads to the little stone churches with their pointed spires, each mounted with a weather-vane in the shape of a cock.

The French civilians most excited by the new order are the children. They are among the pitiful sights not because they are under-nourished but because they never learn to walk properly in their oversized war-time boots with thick wooden soles.

The farmhands of Normandy with their sprinklings of bright poppies are filled with fat cattle. Shell and mortar fragments kill a cow here and there and the troops have steak for dinner.

A blonde girl in Bayeux who helps her father in his cake took down in shorthand the official record of Gen. De Gaulle's address to the first of the French people to be liberated.

The first crossing of the English Channel by air was made in 1909.

Bristol and Vicinity

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Davaux left this week on return to their home in Halifax, after spending a week at Mr. Davaux's home here. Mr. Davaux left to reside in Nova Scotia, and twenty-four years have passed since he visited his home and he sees many changes in that time. And many old friends have gone to rest and children not yet born when he left here are fathers and mothers now but the old St. Peter's Harbour, where he fished as a boy is much the same except the old harbor itself has filled up and a new one opened. Mrs. Davaux, a Halifax lady, was very pleased with her first trip to the island and hopes to come again soon. Mr. Davaux's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Phileas Davaux, reside here and are in prime health despite the fact they are getting along in life.

Miss Clara Gauthier is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Gauthier. She will return to her duties in the city late this week.

Miss Mary Sinnott was a business visitor to the city on Saturday and reports the city very crowded especially the stores.

Mrs. William MacDonald made a paying visit to the city last week while on her vacation. She attended the bingo party. She was the winner of a jack pot. Luck was with her this time and it paid to remain over for the night and the party.

Friends of Mr. John T. O'Brien are pleased to see him out again after being confined to his bed for several weeks with a heart attack.

Cod fishing that has been very poor improved considerably last week and fishermen are hopeful yet of making a good season.

Mrs. John MacAdam was in the city last week on business returning home on the late evening train.

Mr. R. E. Seller, credit manager with the firm of R. T. Holman, Ltd., was in Bristol on business last week. He reports his calls very satisfactory.

Pte. Rupert MacDonald has returned to his training center after spending some time with his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. James P. MacDonald.

Mr. Donnie Matheson, who was employed in Halifax, for some time has returned home and will enter the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. He is a veteran of the last war and is present in Halifax.

Mr. Laurence Gauthier, Jr., has accepted a position in Charlottetown for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alder-shaw were in the city last week for a couple of days.

A large crowd of bathers were seen at Lakeside beach on Sunday. This has become a very favorite bathing beach now for many years ago. Several summer houses were here some years ago but now only one family resides here in summer. One family that resided at this beach in the past was that of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Anderson, and the houses stay idle and their creak a memory in the mind.

To Offset Shortage of New Butter Boxes In order to offset a shortage of new butter boxes due to labour conservation, the box factories, an Order in Council has been issued permitting the use of used boxes under prescribed conditions in Canada. When the order is issued, conditions have been fulfilled, a First Grade certificate of creamery butter graded under the provisions of the Dairy Industry Act may be issued on First Grade butter packed in used boxes which have been previously used. Exports of Cheese

OTTAWA, July 18 — (CP) — Canada's cheese exports to the United Kingdom have been practically tripled since 1935. Agriculture Minister Gardiner said tonight in the Commons.

In 1935 the cheese exports totalled $2,000,000. In 1943 the exports totalled between 140,000,000 and 150,000,000 pounds. They were slightly lower last year, but "were up" again this year. The price of cheese had increased from 11 cents a pound in 1938 to about 25 cents at present, Mr. Gardiner said.
