LEFTOVER JELLY
Nothing looks more dilapidated than the remains of a jelly, but it is quite easy to make it look appetizing.

You can rinse a mould, and half fill with the jelly, dissolved over a very low flame. Then leave to set and make some blancmange and color it with a contrasting color, let it set quite cool, then pour over the jelly when set, turn out and serve with custard.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Rev. Father, Officers, and members.

This is our fifth annual meeting since the C. W. L. sub-division was organized our parish. During the past year we have had a good deal of sadness occasioned by the loss of our members, and the death of our beloved pastor Rev. P. D. MacGulgan. He was a tower of strength to our sub-division, and his death was a great loss to us. We realize that we are a stimulus to our members and to our work. We who remain should be the better because he has passed, and we can do just as well in his memory by proving worthy of the trust he placed in us.

OTTAWA, May 31—(CP)—Regulations and laws aimed at prevent-of radio apparatus will be effective only when the owner cannot satisfy the authorities that such apparatus could not be and was not being used for sending or receiving purposes.

Radio-Telegraph Act Is Revised

Originally it was intended the mere possession of such apparatus would be taken as an assumption that it was being used.

Transport Minister Howe agreed to the amendment suggested by Opposition Leader Bennett that op-takers under the act should be taken within one year of alleged infringement instead of two years

Another Small Help

To avoid shortening from sticking to the measuring cup when making a cake or pudding, always break the eggs into the measuring cup first, then transfer them to the bowl. Now use the cup for shortening without rinsing out first. A coating of white of egg around the inner surface of the cup prevents the shortening from sticking badly to the cup.
