

Large Furniture Sale By Auction

We will sell on Thursday, Oct. 30th commencing at 1:30 o'clock p. m. in the store lately occupied by Mr. Chas. Chandler on Victoria Row a lot of choice furniture, comprising parlor, dining room, bed rooms, hall and kitchen furniture, rugs, mats, shades, oil cloth, squares, dishes and lots of useful household furniture, and effects.

BENJ. CARTER & SON, Auctioneers 361-10-25M11.

Big Clearance AUCTION SALE

AT CORNWALL, ON WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 27th, 1924

At One O'Clock Sharp

Having sold my farm I will sell on my premises all my stock, crop and implements as follows:

STOCK—Horse, one mare Commodore, 8 years old; one horse, Happy George, 8 years old; one work horse, Cattie—seven head milk cattle, better rising three Jersey and Ayrshire due to freshen tenth November. Cow, Holstein Grade due to freshen in January, heavy milker, Ayrshire Grade six years old, due to freshen in February. Cow, Jersey and Ayrshire, 8 years old due to freshen last of March. Cow, five years, Ayrshire, eligible for registration, due to freshen about April first. Cow, Jersey and Guernsey, four years old, due to freshen about first April. Cow, seven years old, Ayrshire and Holstein. Hens—20 pullets, 50 young hens, trees—2 trees.

IMPLEMENTS—Frost & Wood binder, truck and carrier, almost new. Bait wagon, shaves and pole, scuffer new. Massey Harrow, spring tooth harrow, spike harrow, plough, Frost & Wood No. 6, two furrows, sulky plough, foot lift Cockspur, nearly new, rubber tired driving wagon, nearly new, three bar bow sledge, almost new, 1 rider press, 1 turfing sledge, hay fork, rope and carrier all complete, work harness and driving harness all new, 1 De Laval Separator No. 12, new, Daisy churn No. 3, new.

FURNITURE—1 stove, Capital Favorite, new; 1 parlor suite, 1 dining room suite, 2 bedroom suites, 1 sliding bed couch, 2 rockers, kitchen furniture, oil cloth, Furniture all new, 1 sewing machine Raymond, new; a lot of other articles too numerous to mention, 20 barrels of winter apples.

TERMS—12 months on all sums over $100.00, 6 per cent off for cash, if stormy following day.

GEO. W. DICKENSON, Cornwall J. A. McDONALD, Auctioneer.

FARM FOR SALE

60 acres of land, situated at Brookfield about all clear and in good state of cultivation, comfortable dwelling house and outbuildings in good repair, beautiful stream flows through three fields and a never failing pump in yard. As I intend going West I will sell at a reasonable price.

For further particulars apply to GORDON MACLEOD, Brookfield, R. R. 4 403-10-29Mwsm61.

Wanted to Ranch

I will ranch a few pairs of good Foxes for fifty per cent the increase.

JAMES McCONNELL, Nova Scotia Pioneer Fox Ranch Port Hillford, N. S. 327-10-24-M91.

Auction Sales

The Guardian Job Department is well equipped to turn out sale bills. Any person having an Auction sale should advertise in both ways.

A n advertisement may pay for itself if it brings only one more bidder to the sale. The Charlottetown (Guardian)

POULTRY NOTICE

If you have poultry to sell write for our latest quotations before disposing of your stock. New price list on fowl and chickens effective Oct. 27th.

THE HARRIS ABATTOIR CO., LIMITED Charlottetown 351-10-21-mt.

As far back as I can remember Baker's was the best is better because it is made of better beans by a better process and has a better flavor than other kinds.

BAKER'S COCOA

Walter Baker & Co. Limited Montreal, Canada Dorchester, Mass.

FARM FOR SALE

150 Acres farm for sale at Kensington. We are offering for sale that splendid farm of 150 acres until recently owned by the late Isaac Lowther. This is a square block of land, all cleared with exception of 20 acres of hard and soft woods. Excellent orchards, running brooks. Cheese and butter factory on farm which abuts town of Kensington. Running water, bath and sewerage in large double house. Barns 90 ft. long. New machine house. Other buildings in good repair.

L. T. Lowther, Kensington Executors. 381-10-27-m-31.

FARM FOR SALE

Situated at Oyster Bed Bridge, 12 miles from Charlottetown, containing 78 acres of land in a high state of cultivation, 70 acres of which are clear balance covered with hard wood.

Large new house, barn and other out buildings thereon. Three pumps on farm very conveniently situated. If not sold by private sale will be set up and sold by public auction on Nov. the 6th. For further particulars apply to E. S. MacLeod on Premises.—37110-07-mw41.

CLEARANCE AUCTION SALE

AT MT. ALBION, ON MONDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1924

At 1 O'clock Sharp

Of farm, stock, crop, farm implements as follows: Farm of 90 acres, 65 clear, good buildings, telephone in house, balance of land in hard and soft wood, 15 acres plowed, 1 acre of strawberries, well watered and fenced. Also all my stock, etc., as follows: 3 horses, 7 head of milk cows, 1 reg. Holstein cow, 7 years, 50 pullets, Leghorn, Crop, 7 stacks hay, quantity grain, potatoes, turnips and other vegetables. Implements 1 M. H. binder, new, 6 ft. cut, 1 hay mower 6 ft., 1 cream separator, new (600 lbs.), 1 seeder 1 hay rake, pulper, gang, single plow, 1 truck wagon, 1 driving wagon, 2 wood sleighs, 1 express wagon, 1 disc. harrow, 1 pin harrow, 1 set scales and all other farm implements together with all working and driving harness, forks, shovels, hoes and all other articles not listed. Sale positive. Terms of farm at sale, of stock, crop, etc., 12 months on all sums over $5.00, 6% off for cash.

W. R. BROWN, Mt. Albion J. A. McDONALD, Auctioneer, 358-10-25M61.

SEA HAWK

CHAPTER XXII (continued)

Fenichel saw her way very clearly. It was through Asad's devoutness as he herself had advised, though scarcely expecting such rich results as these—that he had been thwarted by Sak-el-Bahr. That same devoutness must further be played upon now to do the rest.

Taking up a flimsy silken veil, she went out to him where he now sat on the divan under the awning, alone there in the tepid-scented Summer night. She crept to his side with the soft, graceful, unobtrusive movements of a cat, and sat there a moment, unheeded almost—such was his abstraction, her head resting lightly against his shoulder.

"Lord of my soul!" she murmured presently, "thou art sorrowing."

Her voice was in itself a soft and soothing caress. "He started, and she caught the gleam of his eyes turned suddenly upon her. 'Who told thee so?' he asked suspiciously."

"My heart," she answered, her voice melodious as a violin. "Can sorrow burden thee and mine so light?" she asked him, "is happiness possible to me when thou art so sad? In there I felt thy melancholy, and thy need of me, and I am come to share thy burden, or to bear it all for thee. Her arms were raised, and her fingers interlocked themselves upon his shoulder."

"He looked down at her, and his expression softened. He needed comfort, and never was she more welcome to him. Gradually and with infinite skill she drew from him the story of what had happened. When she had gathered it she looked her indignation."

"The dog!" she cried. "The faithless, ungrateful hound! Yet have I warned thee against him. O light of my poor eyes, and thou hast scorned me for the warnings uttered by my love. Now at last thou knowest him, and he shall trouble thee no longer. 'Thou'rt east him off, reduce him again to the dust from which thy honey raised him.'"

But Asad did not respond. He sat there in a gloomy abstraction, staring straight before him. At last he sighed wearily. He was just, and he had a conscience, as odd a thing as it was awkward in a corsair. Basha.

"In what hath befallen?" he answered moodily. "There is naught to justify me in casting aside the stoutest soldier of Islam. My duty to Allah will not suffer."

"Yet his duty to thee suffered him to thwart thee, O my lord," she murmured, "and he has done so."

"In my desires—aye," he answered, "and for a moment, his voice quivered with passion. Then he repressed it, and continued more calmly:

"St. Jacobs Oil stops any pain, and rheumatism is pain only. Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop druggling! Rub soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil right into your sore, stiff, aching joints, and relief comes instantly. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless rheumatism liniment, which never disappoints, and cannot burn the skin."

Lumber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest St. Jacobs Oil at any drug store, and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness and stiffness. Don't suffer! Relief awaits you. St. Jacobs Oil is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains. 20¢

MORTGAGE SALE

There will be sold by Public Auction in front of the Law Courts Building in Charlottetown, in Queens County in Prince Edward Island on Monday the 17th day of November, A. D. 1924, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon, ALL THAT tract, piece or parcel of land, situated lying and being in Charlottetown in Queens County aforesaid, bounded and described as follows: that is to say:—Commencing at a point in the southeast side of Easton Street East, at a point two hundred and thirty-seven feet north easterly from the angle formed by the southeast side of Easton Street with the northeast side of Felling Street and at the northeast corner of a lot of land sold to Dudley Riggs thence in a southeasterly direction at right angles to Easton Street, along Dudley Riggs' northeast side line a distance of one hundred and sixty feet, thence at right angles northeastwardly parallel with Easton Street ninety-two feet, thence northwestwardly parallel with Dudley Riggs' line one hundred and sixty-six feet to the southeast side line of said Easton Street, thence along said Easton Street southwestwardly ninety-four feet to the place of commencement.

The above sale is made in pursuance of a power of sale contained in an Indenture of Mortgage, dated the 7th day of April, 1922, made between Lorne Stewart, of Charlottetown aforesaid, Hotel-keeper, and Fanny Stewart, his wife, on the one part and Elmer B. Taper, of Charlottetown aforesaid, of the other part, default having been made in payment of principal and interest secured thereby.

For further particulars apply to McLEAN & MCKINNON, Solicitors, Royal Bank Building, Charlottetown.

Dated this 14th day of October, 1924. ELMER B. TAPER Mortgagee 153-10-15Mwed41.

"Shall my self-seeking overwhelm my duty to the Faith? Shall the matter of a slave-girl urge me to sacrifice the bravest soldier of Islam, the stoutest champion of the Prophet's law? Shall I bring down upon my head the vengeance of the One by destroying a man who is a scourge of scorpions unto the infidel, and all this that I may gratify my personal anger against him, that I may avenge the thwarting of a petty desire?"

"Dost thou still say, O my life, that Sak-el-Bahr is the stoutest champion of the Prophet's law?" she asked him softly, yet to a note of amazement.

"It is not I that say it. But his deeds," he answered sulkily. "I know of one deed as True Believer, or could have wrought. If proof were needed of his integrity he hath now afforded it in taking to himself a Nazran wife. Is it not written in the Book to be read, 'Marry not idolatresses,' is not that the Prophet's law, and hath he not broken it, offending at once against Allah and against thee, O fountain of my soul?"

Asad frowned. Here was truth indeed, something that he had entirely overlooked. Yet justice compelled him still to defend Sak-el-Bahr, or else perhaps he but reasoned to prove to himself that the case against the corsair was indeed complete.

"He may have sinned in thought," he suggested. "At that she cried out in admiration of him. 'What a font of mercy and forbearance art thou, O father of Marzak! Thou'rt right as in all things, who shall in Heaven's name?'"

"Try me, O father," cried Marzak. "Asad smiled with grim wistfulness. 'Art weary of life, O my son, that thou wouldst go to the death, and take the gallese to destruction?'"

"Thou art less than just, O my father," Marzak protested. "Yet more than kind, O my son," replied Asad, and they went on in silence thereafter, until they came to the mole.

(To Be Continued) A. Fraser Mitchell Case Finished At Last (By Mail)

On October 8th the last stage was reached in the long drawn-out case of Andrew Fraser Mitchell, formerly emigration agent for P. E. Island, in England, who was found guilty last April of defrauding ex-officers in connection with the now famous fox farming scheme.

Proceedings were begun in Bow Street police court, London, as long ago as January last. After Mitchell had been found guilty at the London Sessions of the charges preferred against him, the Judge (Sir Robert Wallace, K.C.) postponed sentence in the hope—which he expressed very strongly—that the Government of Prince Edward Island would see its way to compensate the defrauded ex-officers. Mitchell being released on bail.

Early in July, when the case came before the Court once more, it was reported that the matter of compensation was still being considered. Accordingly sentence was again postponed for a further period of three months.

When the case was called on Oct. 8, Mr. F. C. Buno (instructed by Messrs. Fowler, Legg and Young, solicitors, Bedford Row, London) who appeared for the prosecution, informed the Judge that there was really nothing more to tell his lordship. He (Counsel) had done what he could, but the authorities had not yet agreed to do what he thought they ought to do. He held in his hands a copy of correspondence which had passed between Earl Haig, as President of the Officers' Association and the Prince Edward Island Government. The matter was still under consideration of the Government.

The Judge remarked that proceedings in this case began nearly nine months ago.

Mr. Buno: The Officers' Association have done all they could.

The Judge: I am sure they have. The question is whether the colonial authorities are willing to respond.

Mr. Buno: The question is still under consideration.

Mitchell was then bound over to come up for judgment if called upon.

FOR SALE OR TO RENT

Mill and farm, property at Brackley Point (Black River) consisting of Rotary Shingle and Lathe Mill, also Grain Crusher. Also 100 acres of good land, 65 acres clear and balance under good wood growth. Apply LEW COLES West Covehead 392-10-28M21.

arms, as if apostrophizing Heaven, as if asking a question of the stars that twinkled in the wide-flung nimbus of the moon.

Then at last he paced slowly back to her. He was still undecided. There was truth in what she had said; yet he knew and weighed her hatred of Sak-el-Bahr, knew how it must urge her to put the worst construction upon any act of his, knew her jealousy for Marzak, and so he mistrusted her arguments and mistrusted himself.

Also there was his own love of Sak-el-Bahr that would insist upon a place in the balance of his judgment. His mind was in turmoil.

"Enough," he said almost roughly, "I pray that Allah may send me counsel in the night."

And upon that he stalked past her, up the steps, and so into the house. She followed him. All night she lay at his feet to be ready at the first peep of dawn to buttress a purpose that she feared was still weak, and whilst he slept fitfully, she slept not at all, but lay wide-eyed and watchful.

At the first note of the Muezzin's voice, he leapt from his couch obedient to its summons, and scarce had the last note of it died upon the winds of dawn than he was afoot, beating his hands together, and then slaves and issuing his orders, from which she gathered that it was for the harbor there about.

"May Allah have inspired thee, O my lord!" she cried. "What is thy resolve?"

"I go to seek a sign," he answered her, and upon that departed, leaving her in a frame of mind that was far from easy.

She summoned Marzak, and bade him accompany his father, breathed swift instructions of what he should do and how to do it.

"Thy fate has been placed in thine own hands," she admonished him. "See that thou grip it firmly now."

In the courtyard Marzak found his father in the act of mounting a white mule that had been brought him. He was attended by his wazir Tsamman, Biskaine, and some other of his captives. Marzak begged leave to go with him. It was carelessly granted, and they set out, Marzak walking by his father's stirrup, a little in advance of the others. For a while there was silence between father and son, then the latter spoke.

"It is my prayer, O my father, that thou art resolved to depose the faithless Sak-el-Bahr from the command of this expedition."

Asad considered his son with a somber eye. "Even now the gallese should be setting out if the argosy is to be intercepted," he said. "If Sak-el-Bahr does not command, who shall, in Heaven's name?"

"Try me, O father," cried Marzak. "Asad smiled with grim wistfulness. 'Art weary of life, O my son, that thou wouldst go to the death, and take the gallese to destruction?'"

"Thou art less than just, O my father," Marzak protested. "Yet more than kind, O my son," replied Asad, and they went on in silence thereafter, until they came to the mole.

(To Be Continued) A. Fraser Mitchell Case Finished At Last (By Mail)

On October 8th the last stage was reached in the long drawn-out case of Andrew Fraser Mitchell, formerly emigration agent for P. E. Island, in England, who was found guilty last April of defrauding ex-officers in connection with the now famous fox farming scheme.

Proceedings were begun in Bow Street police court, London, as long ago as January last. After Mitchell had been found guilty at the London Sessions of the charges preferred against him, the Judge (Sir Robert Wallace, K.C.) postponed sentence in the hope—which he expressed very strongly—that the Government of Prince Edward Island would see its way to compensate the defrauded ex-officers. Mitchell being released on bail.

Early in July, when the case came before the Court once more, it was reported that the matter of compensation was still being considered. Accordingly sentence was again postponed for a further period of three months.

When the case was called on Oct. 8, Mr. F. C. Buno (instructed by Messrs. Fowler, Legg and Young, solicitors, Bedford Row, London) who appeared for the prosecution, informed the Judge that there was really nothing more to tell his lordship. He (Counsel) had done what he could, but the authorities had not yet agreed to do what he thought they ought to do. He held in his hands a copy of correspondence which had passed between Earl Haig, as President of the Officers' Association and the Prince Edward Island Government. The matter was still under consideration of the Government.

The Judge remarked that proceedings in this case began nearly nine months ago.

Mr. Buno: The Officers' Association have done all they could.

The Judge: I am sure they have. The question is whether the colonial authorities are willing to respond.

Mr. Buno: The question is still under consideration.

The Operation I Avoided—

MRS. IDA M. COFFMAN, SHELBY, ILL.

IF there is one thing more than another a woman dreads, it is a surgical operation, and to be told that one is necessary is very disheartening. Hospitals are grand institutions, and undoubtedly many operations are necessary. However, we have received hundreds of letters from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation had been deemed advisable. Every woman who suffers as Mrs. Coffman did naturally wishes to avoid an operation if possible, and the remarkable statements which she makes in her letter will be read with interest by women everywhere.

Mrs. Coffman's Letter Follows:

Sidell, Illinois. "I was a nervous wreck. I was suffering from a pain in my left side which was noticeable at all times, but sometimes it was almost unbearable and I could not even lie in the bed clothing rest on my body at night. I had been sick for seven years, but not so badly until the last eighteen months, and had become so run-down that I cared for nobody but me. I could not do my work without help and the doctor told me that an operation was all there was left for me. I would not consent to that so my husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged me to take it. I have taken fourteen bottles of it and I feel ten years younger. Life is full of hope. I do all my housework and when my two little girls reach womanhood I shall advise them to take it."—Mrs. IDA M. COFFMAN, R. R. No. 2, Sidell, Illinois.

Alberta Woman Avoids an Operation

Provost, Alberta. "I was in a bad condition and would suffer awful pains at times and could not do anything. The doctor said I should have an operation. I read testimonials of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the papers and a friend recommended me to take it. After taking three bottles I became much better and now I have a bonny baby girl four months old. I do my housework and help a little with the chores. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and am willing for you to use this testimonial letter."—Mrs. A. A. ADAMS, Box 51, Provost, Alberta.

Before Submitting to an operation Women should try

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. LYNN, MASS.

REWARD

$100.00 reward to the person who will give information leading to the arrest of the parties who broke the window in the Post Office, Clyde River, Sunday morning about 11.30, October twenty-sixth. KENNETH MATHIESON, Post Office, Clyde River 295-10-28M31.

AUCTION SALE

PROPERTY ON MOUNT EDWARD ROAD I am instructed by the executors of the estate of the late George Tweedy to sell by public auction the property on the Mt. Edward Road, Charlottetown, with modern house and fox ranch of 13 well equipped pens, all ready for foxes, on Thursday, the 6th day of November, A. D., 1924, at the hour of 1 o'clock p. m.

EXTRAORDINARY CRUISES

Round the World Empress of France, Jan. 14 Mediterranean Empress of Scotland, Feb. 9 West Indies Montroyal, Jan. 20-Feb. 21 New York is the Port of Departure Membership limited for each cruise. Canadian Pacific management afloat and ashore. Each ship a gigantic private yacht with all the luxury and comfort of a modern hotel—at your disposal. These will be extraordinary cruises next winter and reservations should be made early. Beautifully illustrated booklets with full information on application to any Steamship Agent. Regular services to Liverpool, Glasgow, Belfast, Southampton, Cherbourg, Antwerp and Hamburg—sailings almost daily. Fortnightly sailings Vancouver to the Orient—the Empresses of the Pacific. Apply Local Agent G. BRUCE BURPEE, C. P. S. Agent, 40 King Street, St. John, N. B.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

EASTERN STEAMSHIP LINES INC.

Service will be discontinued for the season with the sailing from Boston, October 31st, and St. John, November 1st. S. S. GOVERNOR DINGLEY will leave St. John Wednesdays at 8 a. m., and Saturdays at 7 p. m. for Boston. Wednesday trips are via Eastport and Lunenburg, due Boston about 8 a. m. Thursday. Saturday trips are to Boston direct, due Sundays at about 2 p. m. RETURN—Leave Boston Mondays and Fridays at 10 a. m., for Eastport, Lunenburg and St. John. FARE $10.00. STATEROOMS $3.00. At Boston connection is made via the Boston and New York Line express freight and passenger steamers from New York and points South and West. For staterooms, rates and additional information, apply to A. C. CURRIE, AGENT, St. John, N. B.