HER LOVE WAS SPURNED.

Strange to relate, it was a man who did it.
"And so you spurn my love?"
It was the woman who made this exclamation, queer as that may seem. A glitter of anger, a frenzied gleam, inhabited her optics and shot threateningly at the man who stood in front of her.
He withstood with arctic demeanor these advances and resolutely folded his arms. He was the atmosphere of the north pole personified. This notification is a safe guess. The north pole is still a problematical quantity, and its atmosphere even is a thing of doubt. He made no reply to her words. The woman's lips quivered. On the fringe of her eyelash nestled a tiny tear-drop. She repeated the utterance before mentioned, and her words rang in a tone laden with despair. She sobbed piteously, but the man, stony hearted, answered not save by a chuckle all too plainly audible to the suffering creature whose love had been so cruelly spurned.
"My love! My love!" she whispered and knelt before the man.
He unfolded his arms and looked at her, his gaze fraught with superciliousness.
"Come, now," he said, half roughly, "this is nonsensical."
"But were you in my place," she told him, "you would realize what it meant. Think of the future, of my love, of my happiness! Why, oh, why, do you spurn my love?"
The man smiled. Her words aroused him to a sense of the part duty forced him to play. His hands went into his pockets.
"He's a saphead," he replied. "When you get a love who is intelligent I shall not spurn his presence. But as long as that harebrained, knock-kneed, cross-eyed, hisping dude calls on you I shall never consent to your marriage."
And her father stamped the floor decisively. Then, like all great men at a crisis, he lighted a cigar and smoked in silence.—New York Times.

The Vernacular.
This was the conversation between the girl with the gum in her mouth and the other girl with the gum in her mouth:
"Aincha hungry?"
"Yeh."
"So my. Less go neet."
"Where?"
"Sleeve go one places nuther."
"So dy. Ika neet mo stennyware. Canchoo?"
"Yeh. Gotcher money?"
"Yeh."
"So vy. Gotcher aptite?"
"Yeh. Gotchoors?"
"Yeh. Howbout place crosstreet?"
"Nothin' teet there. Lessgurround corner."
"Thattiedoo zwell zennywhere. Mighta thoughta that first. Getcher hat."
"Ina gettinit. Gotcher money?"
"Yeh. Didnt'cheer me say I had it? Allready?"
"Yeh."
"K'mon."—Chicago Tribune.

HE TOLD HER AT LAST.

"There is something," he said, "that I have wanted to tell you for a long time, but—"
"Oh, Bertie," she said, blushing sweetly, "not here in the car before all these people! Wait. Come this evening."
"It's merely that you have a streak of soot down the middle of your nose, but I couldn't for the life of me get a word in till just now."—Chicago Record-Herald.

AN INVOLUNTARY GIFT.

How He Looked at It.
Cholly was having some trouble with a horse that was ordinarily gentle.
"By gum!" exclaimed the deacon. "That boss is most human. I bet he got a look at you an' has a sense of shame over the situation he finds himself in."—Chicago Post.

The Gentle Voice He Heard.

"Naomi," he said softly as he gazed at the moon above them, "isn't the evening beautiful? Do you know, strange fancies throng my mind on a night like this. Every zephyr seems to bear gentle voices, perhaps from the spirit world. Do you hear such voices?"
"I think I do, George."
"What do they sound like to you?"
"They are very indistinct, but they make me think that papa and brother Henry are calling the dog."—London Tit-Bits.

Faulty Kidneys Imperil Life.

Don't Experiment With Cheap, Dangerous Nostriums. Get the Unfailing Sure Cure
FERROZONE
Thousands are kept in perfect health and free from kidney complaints by Ferrozone. Among those who speak in the most laudatory terms of Ferrozone is Mr. Chas. F. Olive, of the Gazette, St. John, N. B.: "For several years I have had kidney trouble," says Mr. Olive, "until quite recently I suffered torture. A few months ago my condition assumed a very serious form. I consulted several city doctors, used different pills, but without the slightest benefit. I suffered from an intense pain in the groin, and the increasing seriousness of my trouble prompted me to try Ferrozone. It gave me quick relief, and half a dozen boxes cured. Ferrozone I can recommend as a specific for disordered kidneys."—Chas. F. Olive.
Ferrozone not only cures kidney complaint, but also such maladies as Rheumatism, Gout, Sciatica, Skin Eruptions, Diabetes, Lassitude and Nervousness, which are caused by defective kidneys. It neutralizes and destroys all poisons in the system, cleanses the blood, and invigorates enfeebled energies. It is mild, gentle and certain. Costs 50c. per box, or six for $2.50. At druggists every where, or by mail from the Ferrozone Company, Kings' on, Ont. Don't fail to get Ferrozone at once it will make you well.

DOES CHILDREN GOOD.

Mrs. Joseph Langtry, Brockville, Ont. "I have used Dr. Low's Worm Syrup in my family, and it has always been effective and has done the children good. I can highly recommend it."
A gentleman writes: "My little girl, a pretty young lady in the presence of his wife."
"It's lucky I did not meet Miss Hopkins before I married you, my dear."
"Well, yes; it is extremely for her was the rejoinder.

INSTANT RELIEF.

Mr. Robt. Jennings, Mansfield, Ont., writes: "I have used one bottle of Dr. Low's Oothache Gum for severe toothache, and received instant relief. Besides this, it acted as a splendid temporary filling. Price 10c."
The Elderly Lady—They say his wife has money.
The Younger—Well, that isn't his fault. They've only been married a short time.
Minard's Liment for sale everywhere.
"I tell you," cried the author, "I'm going to rise in this world."
The editor eyed him doubtfully for five seconds, and then asked: Balloon or elevator?

EARACHE CURED.

Miss J. J. Johnson, Inverell, Alta., says: "I was troubled with Earache for a long time, and nothing helped me until I used Hagyard's Yellow Oil, which cured me completely."
Nurse—"Johnny, stop asking your father so many questions. Don't you see it annoys him?"
Johnny—"Why, nurse, it's not the questions that makes him angry; it's because he can't answer them."
Minard's Liment Cures Dandruff.
Mother—Tommy, you're really too bad! there's a hole in your trousers that was there this morning.
Tommy—Where do you suppose it was, then?
