PHIL McDONALD ARRIVES HOME FROM EUROPE

Mr. Phillip McDonald, local athlete arrived home Tuesday night from Europe where he had been one of the Canadian contestants in the Olympic Games held at Paris.

Phil, along with several other Canadian athletes at the conclusion of the Paris meet, made an extensive tour of England and Scotland.

Referring to the charges of discrimination against Maritime men by Upper Canada officials, Phil stated that these were absolutely groundless as every man was afforded equal opportunities and treated with the greatest courtesy both while training and on the competition field.

During his trip through the Old Country, Phil visited many important centres both of historic and present day interest and is of the opinion that the most pleasant means of acquiring an education along geographical and historic lines. He looks none the worse for his interesting trip and will not doubt at once assume his accustomed place among the ranks of our island athletes.

RICH STAKES WON BY MILWAUKEE CHAMPION

NORTH RANDALL, Cleveland, Aug. 13.—Fayette National, owned by Guttenstein Brothers, Milwaukee and driven by Tom McKay, won the North Randall purse, $3,000 for 213 trotters, the feature of the Grand Circuit short program here today. He was the only winner to take his event in straight heats but was forced to a brush down to stretch to beat Voltage to the wire in both heats by a short margin.

Parrots Help To Round Up Burglar

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—When it comes to the burglar alarm business Henry Johnson of Brooklyn, has a couple of parrots that have all of the automatic systems backed up of the board.

John Hurley, a seaman, who has a room at Johnson's entered the landlord's apartment.

"Get out," came the duet from the parrot perch.

Hurley then went over and took $40 worth of clothing from the room of Zenas Jensen, another boarder, and passed on his way out to peep into Johnson's room again.

The parrots set up such an alarm that Johnson caught Hurley and turned him over to the police. He was held in $1,500 bail in Adams street court until the grand jury can settle his case.

Actor Breaks Neck But Will Live

(Canadian Press)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13.—Richard Talmadge, who does things for the motion pictures that cause shivers to run up and down the backs of film fans, has added his most remarkable stunt to his collection.

He is lying in the Hollywood Hospital with a broken neck, but will live. Not only will he live, but he does not get too nervous about what is going on around him and strain his neck. He will recover without any injurious effects. Talmadge was injured a few days ago when he made a flying leap into an automobile at Eighth and Alameda streets. It was filming a portion of "Stepping Lively," his first production under his banner, Richard Talmadge Productions.

Grocer: Why in blazes are you putting those cans upside down?

"HOPE RIVES 33 RUSTICO"

A return game between the Hope River Pirates and the Rustico Indians was played on the Hope River Diamond, August 9th, the Pirates winning 33-8. Hazen pitched a stellar game for the Pirates, while N. Woolner pitched well for the Indians but he did not have the support behind him, in the field. Special holding for the Pirates was done by F. Reardon and A. Bolger, and by H. Donette for the Indians. As this is one game for each team a good game is expected the next time these teams meet.

Gilbert and Sullivan and Henry Ford

SIATERR, O., Aug. 13.—(United Press)—Henry Ford has selected a few lines from light opera to instruct his railroad employees in chasing dirt.

The new watering station on the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton is the most beautiful building in this little village of less than 100 persons and apparently Henry Ford intends to keep it that way.

A landscape gardener has carefully graded and planted the lawn. Framed in a conspicuous place inside the building are these lines from "Pinafore":

"When I was a lad, I served a term As office boy to an attorney's firm; I washed the windows, I scrubbed the floor, I polished up the handle of the big front door."

A BURNT-MATCHES HOLDER CHILDREN CAN MAKE

First, I got an empty coffee-tin and bored twenty holes in the top with a nail. I made each hole big enough for a match to drop through easily.

Second, I painted the can and the canlid with black enamel. (I bought a little can for twenty-five cents.) I let this dry overnight.

Third, I cut bright-green letters out of an old magazine advertisement. The letters were M. A. T. C. H. E. S.

Fourth, I glued the letters on the side of the black-enamelled can, put on the lid and mother's burnt-matches holder was ready.

ABEGWEITS SHUT OUT NEW GLASGOW NINE 6-0

Mgr. Ches. Campbell To Be Congratulated On Splendid Showing By Local Nine.

Baseball fans were treated yesterday evening to the best game played on the C. A. A. diamond this season when New Glasgow was forced to bow in defeat to the local Abegweits, who came out on the big end of the 6-0 score.

The contest started off with the visitors at bat, and for three innings neither side was able to score. In the Abbie's half of the fourth, however, Diamond started things going with a rush when he knocked out a circuit clout, bringing in two runs. In the fifth the local team added three more tallies to their count and capped it with still another in the eighth, which ended the run making.

Notwithstanding the shut out with the visitors on the "goose egg" end, the large crowd of spectators were served up ball with all its trimmings, the Abegweits surprising the fans with stellar baseball, both offense and defense.

Lon Campbell who hurried for the Abegweits, with the exception of one lone hit had the visitors eating out of his glove for the full session.

Williams, the invading hurler, showed flashes of champion calibre on the mound and said to say, had he received support in the pinches the shut out would have been much smaller.

The line-up was as follows:

Abegweits	Catcher	McLean
Francis	Pitcher	Williams
Campbell	1st Base	McDonald
McCarty	2nd Base	Fitzgerald
Garrick	3rd Base	Lord
Lynds	S. Stop	J. McLean
McEachern	C. Field	Sullivan
Diamond	L. Field	D. McLean
Croun	R. Field	D. McDonald

Umpire—J. McAleer.
Base Judge—Fred Kelly.

NOTE

Several people remarked last night on the inconsiderate way in which some of the departing automobiles monopolized the use of the exit gate. These should not forget that there is still such a thing as the "pedestrian" and that businessmen as the latter spends twenty minutes or so walking to the centre of the city he has more cause to be in a hurry leaving the ball grounds than the autoist.

Seven Hours In Shark Infested Sea

(By Dominion News Service.)

LONDON, Aug. 13.—What is considered to be a record for life-saving at sea occurred during the voyage from Calcutta of the Brocklebank liner Mathura.

It is reported that a member of the crew was missing three hours after he had disappeared, the captain steamed back about 40 miles on his course and the man was picked up after he had been nearly seven hours in a shark-infested sea.

It appears that about 3:30 a.m. a man disappeared over the ship's side, although unseen by anyone at the time. At 6:30 he was reported missing.

In spite of the time that had elapsed, Captain Hines determined to turn the ship around and search for the man.

At 9:56 the man was sighted ahead. A boat was lowered, and at 10:15 a.m. the man was on board the ship apparently very little the worse for his experience.

He had been for 6 1/2 hours in the water, and according to his story several "big fish"—evidently sharks—"nosed" him, but he had scared them away by splashing with his legs and arms.

It was estimated that the ship steamed 78 miles as from the time that the man entered the water until he was picked up again.

AFTER THE HONEYMOON

"I wish to complain," said the bride indignantly. "About the flour you sold me. It was tough."

"Tough, ma'am?" asked the grocer.

"Yes, tough. I made pie with it, and my husband could hardly cut it."

QUESTION 1,256,974

"Mamma, how much do people pay a pound for babies?"

"Babies are not sold by the pound dear."

"Then why do they always weigh them as soon as they are born?"

BRITISH POLO FOUR IS STRONG

By PERCY M. SARRL.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The British polo team, which is to meet the pick of America in the contests for the America Cup at Meadowbrook in September, is freely admitted to be a strong combination, but among the experts there is not too much optimism as to its ability to bring the cup back to England this year.

The British team, as originally selected, was Lieut. Col. T. P. McVilly, Major T. W. Kirkwood, Lewis Lacey and Major Vivian N. Lockett, but after a few games, Major G. H. Phipps-Hornby and Major E. Hurndale were substituted for Kirkwood and Lockett, although these two players accompany the team as reserves—reserves, however, who may easily be included in the team if they show improved form on reaching Meadowbrook.

Lewis Lacey is to captain the side, though if Lockett plays in the big games, I should not be surprised to see the Anglo-Argentinian relictish command in favor of the gallant Lancer major, if only as a matter of courtesy due to Lockett's own experience of international games.

The six men named, would, in ordinary circumstances be regarded as strong enough for anything, but although all of them have played throughout the trial matches this summer, no four of them have been able to settle down to serious practice as a team, and the critics can feel that they should have been selected last year and allowed to gain team-practice this summer, instead of virtually having to play for their places.

Misfortune has dogged British polo this year. The abnormal wet period, which rained the first month of the season, would have been bad enough for anything, but disaster struck early when Lord Wodehouse, scheduled to captain the side for America, and perhaps the finest defensive player in the country, had a nasty spill and broke a wrist. Immediately following that, Major Kirkwood dislocated a shoulder, and, although he recovered in time to be definitely selected, his play in the final matches showed such deterioration that he was promptly shot out of a long pass, enabling the Britishers to do the trick. Lacey is not greedy with the ball, but when he starts a run on his own it is usually every match must militate against their chances on the hard score. And generally does, The Americans common to America as the

MONTAGU RACE POSTPONED TILL FRIDAY

The heavy rain of Tuesday night and Wednesday morning delayed the Montagu Race Track and it was considered that even if the sun came out early in the morning it would be unsafe for racing so the management cancelled the special train which was ready at Charlottetown with three cars of race horses and numerous passengers.

The races will now take place Friday afternoon and a real bang up race meet is sure as the horses entered are fast and seventy match-od.

In the 218 mixed the following horses are entered from Charlottetown:

Col. Waltz, 2:16 1/2
Our Peggy, 2:18 1/2
Glenmore, 2:15 1/2
Emotionless, 2:08 1/4
Radiant, 2:20 1/4

In the 225 pace such well known speed artists as Hector 2:19 1/4, Mac Aubrey (trial 2:16 1/4) Zua Baughman 2:20 1/4 and several others will take part.

In the 240 trot which has a very large list of entries the principal battle is expected between Stella Todd, Dupper Don, Silver Todd, and Casey Todd but there are some others that are known to be tip top form and may spring a surprise and upset the dope.

Nothing will be wanting in arrangement to make the day a success. A special train for the horses and passengers will leave Charlottetown at 9 a.m. arriving at Montagu about 11 o'clock and returning home after the races. This will be a comfortable and convenient method of taking in the races.
