GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

As the Store we now occupy is to be replaced with a new up-to-date building, it will necessitate our going out of business for a time at least. Early in January the interior of the building is to be torn down.

In the mean time we must dispose of all our goods.

The rush since the sale began has passed all our expectations. Thousands upon thousands of people have visited our great Store during the first week of our big sale.

Following is a partial list of goods to be cleared out at once. The goods are all new and up-to-date and the buying public may never again have an opportunity of buying goods at such low prices.

What was lacking in the number of spectators on the opening night was however, amply compensated by the quality of the horses contesting for prizes and it is asserted that the show of 1937 will be memorable one in the high quality of horses shown.

One of the most interesting phases of the show is the friendly contest for prizes which has developed between Alfred C. Vanderbilt and his brother Reginald C. Vanderbilt. Honor for the first day went to Reginald whose horses captured three rosettes and two second awards, while Alfred ended the day with a first, a third and an honorable mention. The spectators watched the rivalry of the brothers with interest and applauded some of the rewards to the younger brother.

Hackneys, fillies, mares, pony stallions and hunters occupied the attention of the judges this morning but a varied list of entries was scheduled for judgment during the afternoon including ponies in harness, Hackneys in harness, pairs of roadsters, and stallions for getting po ponies, thoroughbred hunters, four-hand, harness horses shown to broughams and pairs shown to private omnibuses.

Are we Wrong?

Do we make a mistake in continually emphasizing QUALITY? Is it true that the majority of men purchase clothing according to its appearance 'alone,' without considering the workmanship and trustworthiness of the things they can't see and don't know about?

We don't think so. At any rate, our clothing is put together just as if each purchaser of it was a clothier expert--able to examine it minutely, in every detail of construction.

The result is that our clothing sales are multiplying from month to month.
