The Guardian some days ago published a clipping from an exchange to the effect that P. G. Dwyer intended changing his place of residence from St. John to Sydney. Mr. Spencer's friends in this City will be pleased to learn that he has no intention of moving from his present headquarters in St. John.

In view of the recent advances on sugar market the following will be of interest to readers in this Province. The market for raws is very strong on both sides the Atlantic, due it is said to the bad report from Cuba, Java and Mauritius. In the United States, however, the refined market does not seem to have followed the full measure of the advance, due presumably to the general quietness of trade which makes refiners willing to go a little further than they otherwise would to secure orders for prompt shipment. In Canada prices are very firm with a fairly active demand in the local field. Prices were advanced 10c. on all grades on March 5th, and on the 10th Australian granulated was pushed up 10c. further, making an advance of 20c. on this grade since the beginning of the month.

A party of young people met at Fred Wise's, Winnipeg, for a sleighing party and had a very pleasant time recently. The tandem arrived at 7:30. When all was ready Mr. Wise with his jolly laugh shouted all on board. They drove out to St. Charles, afterwards returned to 407 Langside St. where a dainty lunch was soon provided by Mrs. Wise. The party was then entertained with music and cards. Miss Annie Swann and Miss Alice Smith who sang some good Irish songs kept the parties in good cheer and it was broken up at an early hour and every person voted Mrs. and Mr. Wise very jolly hostesses. Among those present from this Province were: Mrs. Fred Wise, Miss Cecilia Murphy, Miss Myria Murphy, Miss Alice Smith, Miss Annie Swann, Miss Anna McDougall, Miss Annie White, Fred Wise, W. K. Pidgeon, Harry H. Speedy, Thompson Speedy, Thomas Swann, Herbert Douglas and William Holmes. Com.

There departed this life on Sabbath the 8th day of March 1908, at the early age of 32 years, Margaret the beloved wife of Silas A. Murley of Argyle Shore, and daughter of Archibald McPhee, of Canoe Cove. Her loss will be greatly felt. In the house she was an affectionate, loving and gentle wife and mother, in the community a quiet, kind, and charitable neighbor, and in the church a noble, faithful, and earnest Christian. The funeral services were conducted by her pastor the Rev. Jas. McDougall, who referred to her sickness and death in feeling terms and spoke of her as one of his most faithful friends. One of the largest funeral processions ever seen in the community testified to her popularity and accompanied her remains to their last resting place in Argyle Shore Cemetery. She leaves to mourn besides a large circle of friends and acquaintances, a husband, three young children, a father and mother, two brothers, Donald in Long Creek, and Hugh in Canoe Cove and four sisters, Mrs. Swee, Mrs. McDougall, and Mrs. McFadyen in the United States, and Mrs. Howatt in Cape Traverse.

The mildness of the weather has helped trade in green fruit and vegetables say The Maritime Merchant of Halifax and jobbers say their sales are as good if not better than they were last year. There is no change of importance in values except that oranges are a little higher and No. 2 apples a shade cheaper. A very fine quality of potatoes would probably bring five cents a bushel more than our present quotation, but P.E.I. land stock is being sold at somewhere in the vicinity of 45c.

The St. John Telegraph has the following despatch from Fredericton on the game of Thursday night: Although weakened by the absence of Goal Keeper Morrison, the Capitals this evening defeated the Victorias, of Charlottetown, in a hockey match for the Starr trophy by a score of 8 to 5. The Capitals appeared to be of color all the way through and their combination work was very ineffective. About 400 spectators saw the game and there was no very marked enthusiasm shown. Dunphy was easily the star of the eight goals made for his team. Splendid stops made by Goal Keeper Campbell, of the Victorias, was the feature of the game. Reddin, of Charlottetown, also played the game well, repeatedly carrying cleverly the puck the full length of the rink. At the end of the first half the score stood 4 to 3 in favor of Fredericton. Maher scored twice for the Victorias in the second half and Dunphy three times and Stuart once for the Capitals. The final goal was shot by Dunphy from the centre of the ice and was undoubtedly one of the best plays of the evening. The game was an exceptionally clean one and good feeling prevailed among the players. Stuart and Musick, of the Capitals, were penalized for tripping Reddin, of the Victorias, and put off for falling on the puck. "Shorty" Frites, of the Moncton Victorias, referred in a satisfactory manner. The line-up:

Victorias.	Goal.	Capitals.
Campbell	Point.	Titus
Prowse	Cover Point	Musick
Cornfoot	Rover.	McDonald
Reddin	Centre.	Dunphy
Ramsay	Left Wing.	Stuart
Mahar	Right Wing.	Murphy
Burns		Hughes

Summary—First half—Capitals: Dunphy, 20 seconds; Victorias, 15 minutes; Capitals, Dunphy, 15 1-2 minutes; Victorias, Reddin, 15 minutes; Capitals, Dunphy, 15 1-4 minutes; Victorias, Maher, 16 1-2 minutes; Capitals, Dunphy, 22 minutes. Second half—Victorias, Maher, 4 1-2 minutes; Victorias, Maher, 15 minutes; Capitals, Dunphy, 17 minutes; Capitals, Dunphy, 23 minutes; Capitals, Stuart, 27 minutes; Capitals, Dunphy, 27 1-4 minutes. Penalties—Musick, 5 minutes, tripping; Stuart, 3 minutes, tripping; Musick, 2 minutes, tripping; Reddin, 3 minutes, for picking up puck. Referee—"Shorty" Frites. Goal judges—Fred Baird, R. B. McFarlane. Penalty timers—Robert Lowe. Timers—W. E. Jardine, Harry Crothy. The Victorias are champions of the P. E. Island League and winners of trophy, also winners from the Sydney hockey team, champions of the Cape Breton League.

AUTOMOBILE LEGISLATION

A Timely letter Discussing This important Matter From The Master of The Rolls

Dear Sir.—The question of automobile legislation will, I understand, shortly be before the Legislature. It is well, therefore, to express an opinion before dangerous legislation has imposed a great evil upon us. It seems to me most unwise to "authorize" the use of these machines; the owners either possess a Common Law right to use them, with the consequent right to frighten horses, rendering life unsafe for those who use the King's highway, or they have not such a power. If they already possess it they do not require a statutory permission to do that which they already possess. If they have no such authority, what interest of the public requires that they should be given it? Are the rights of the public to be sacrificed to the demands of a few insurance agents, without any protection whatever to the citizens of Charlottetown or the inhabitants of the whole Island? A few months ago I was compelled to part with a valuable carriage horse, for it was impossible to drive when these people took possession of our streets. I was told that I might consider myself fortunate in not having my limbs or my neck broken. It by no means follows that because a person has to purchase one of these machines that he possesses the requisite knowledge or ability to operate it with safety. I have seen, in our streets, these machines in charge of children who seemed delighted at the fear they imposed upon the teams of men and women whom they terrified.

I am anxious that this should not be sanctioned by law. It is not new but instead of the slow and expensive remedy of an action brought by some victim who has been made a cripple for life, I would suggest that in the proposed legislation power be given to a policeman to remove the children from the charge of the machine and to empower the Police Magistrate to fine the owner $100. If a person driving a horse is run into and killed by one of these machines, or any of his limbs broken either of these facts shall be accepted as conclusive evidence of the unfitness of the owner of the automobile to manage it without such danger to the lives and limbs of his fellow subjects as should not be tolerated and the owner should be prevented from further using it. I most earnestly recommend that no authority is given by the proposed statute to the owners of these machines which they do not possess independent of the statute and care should be taken that no words should be used in the statute which might limit their liability either civilly or criminally for the injury and wrong which they may do. The utmost care should be taken in drawing the proposed legislation not to give these people any authority or power which they do not now possess. My great fear is that if any authority whatever is given by statute we shall place our roads, parks and public wharves at the mercy of these people. Has anyone considered what the result would be if one or more of these machines appeared upon a crowded wharf? I understand that these people, being a small and compact body, know exactly what they want and are determined to have it—that they have which they hope much. If they are to be successful it will soon be known. They claim the right to drive everybody from the public thoroughfare, except themselves, and they claim the right and the power to do so by legislation, sanctioned by the House of Assembly. Yours truly,

E. J. HODGSON.

LUX PERPETUA.
The night comes down o'er land and sea,
Let be the night so this remain;
The light of love Love sets for me!
The blessed light in the window-pane.
What matter that the night be dark
The wind be crying by bill and plain,
Since you're my refuge and my ark
The light of home in the window-pane.
Hid are the stars and no moon shows,
Eyes search the lonesome void in vain;
There hangs my star, my moon, God knows—
The golden light in the window-pane.
Sweet after breasting the steep hill,
Out of the deep and miry lue,
To see it shining, steadfast still,
The holy light in the window-pane.
God pity now all wandering folk
Out in the darkness and the rain;
God pity now the straying flock,
Set them a light in the window-pane.
God fence my precious light about,
Though the moon fail and the stars wane,
That never a wind may blow it out—
My light, the light in the window-pane.
