Another Relic Of 2000 Year Old Race Is Found

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 26—Remnants of a race believed to have existed in Florida, 2,000 years ago, have been dug up in Broward county. Near a burial mound was discovered an idol, thirty-five feet tall, made of sea mangrove, or "wood eternal," as it is called by those who consider it not decayable. The features, seemingly those of a female, were carved from shells. They were also of the Momolian type. The body was fashioned from wood. Scientists found the burial mound about 500 yards from the Atlantic ocean. It is one of the highest spots of the country and the site of the first white settlers who came to Florida.

ISLAND HORSE WINS THE 220

SPRINGFIELD, May 26.—The Victoria Day races were held before a large crowd, considering the weather. The track was in fine condition. In the 220 Class, Pansy Aubrey, of P. E. Island, and driven by Charles Atkinson, was victorious, winning three straight heats. In the 230 Class after five heats, Bell of River Herbert, after a hard fight with Lady Evelyn Wilks and Goldie Hall, won first money. Rose Waltz came in second in the second heat but was put back in the fifth position on account of interference on the first run. Lady Evelyn Wilks won second money, Goldie third and Rose Waltz fourth money. In the 240 Class Kelly, Amherst, won easy in three straight heats. Minard's Hinnant for backache.

Hawboldt May Race Johnny Miles

WESTVILLE, May 26.—Now that Jimmy Hawboldt, of Westville, has won the New Glasgow Threshing race for the second consecutive time, a plan has been started to bring the Westville flash against John C. Miles, great little Cape Breton sprinter. This race would surely be a great one for any town.

SPORTING COMMENT

Judging by the large turnout of fans to the opening ball fixtures it looks as though the season in this city is in for the best season in its history. It is very rare to see, not hundreds, but thousands of ardent followers of the majority of whom in top coats and rubbers cheering themselves hoarse so early in the year, but such is the case and consequently great encouragement to ball players and officials alike.

This enthusiasm and interest on the part of the fans will help in no small way in bringing the game to a standard of efficiency never experienced in the city before and incidentally will lead to greater prestige and who knows a Maritime baseball championship. The more interest in the game, the larger the attendance, and the larger the following the greater will be the efforts of the ball players.

With reference to games here this summer with visiting ball aggregations it may be suggested that the managers and coaches of different league teams get down to business and teach their men the finer points of the game. For instance the stopping of a runner stealing second so easily with a man on third. It is ridiculous to notice a "runner" take second almost in a "walk"—just because there is a runner on third.

By way of illustration—the team in the field is leading one to nil at the last of the ninth; the opposing nine has a man on third and first; the batter on the first pitched ball takes it (lets it go by) as the runner is practically in a hole before he delivers a second ball to the batter; and that hole on numerous occasions develops into a second and third; the batter steps into a fast one for a double, the runner on second as said before is protected by a runner on third? With the pitcher, ball in hand, scoring. The result is a 2 to 1 score and victory. Had the runner been held on first only one would have crossed the plate on the play. It is again ridiculous to see a runner on second within a few feet of third base (protected by a runner on third?) with the pitcher, ball in hand, looking the runner over. In this case a short single is good for two runs. Base runners should be made work for every foot of ground they cover.

ACCURATE THROWING Accurate throwing to the bags with lots of whiz on the ball is the only means of stopping this wholesale pilfering of bases. Much practice should be given base men and catchers along these lines—the more practice than any other individual on the same distance; he gets hurrying to the plate all the time and his control of the ball should be nearly perfect. On the other hand the back-stop has long and short throws and sometimes off balance. But nevertheless his judgment and control should improve to greater efficiency as the season progresses—if not, why not?

It was noticed in the opening games the way with which a large percentage of the players are hitting; this is plenty of base running and no little throwing in the city league, isn't it a warning to managers and players as well. So get busy on that throwing arm and let's see some snappy and heady plays.

The above is not meant as a criticism; on the contrary merely an attempt to help boost the game and further increase the attendance, and last but not least with a view to the winning of a Maritime title for the first time in the history of baseball on the island. The material is here in the City League—so let's go!

WANTED, TWO SCORERS For the past three weeks the officials of the City League have been vainly endeavoring to secure one or more official scorers, but up to the present time their efforts have gone for naught. Now what's to be done? A League without records of base hits, fielding averages, number of stolen bases, etc., ceases to be an up-to-date organization. The writer in conversation with one of said officials was asked to make an appeal with reference to the above. If there is any person or persons who knows the scoring game, they would be doing the City League a great favor by communicating with either the President, Mr. George Dewar or Vice President, Mr. Philip Noonan.

MANY THANKS Mr. C. J. Gallagher, Manager of the Prince Edward Theatre has generously donated a quantity of gum to the players in the City League.

PITCHING Smart pitchers are the best pitchers. A majority are smart but untill their arm begins to lose its stuff. According to statistics this is typical of most of the successful big league pitchers. As long as it is an easy matter to mow down the opposition with natural stuff why resort to strategy, is the usual custom.

That is a mistake that most hurlers are guilty of. It might be a good warning to young pitchers not to wait until your stuff falls you before using your head. A mixture of brains with brawn early in every pitcher's career will undoubtedly add four or five years more of service. With the lively ball that has been in vogue for several years, the task of the pitcher has been greatly increased and now more than ever must he call upon his brain to assist his arm.

The game of today is one of free hitting. Pitchers' battles are the exception. The big thought of every pitcher today should be, win your game regardless of the score.

Ten years ago if a pitcher managed to stagger through a game which he won, 12 to 11, he would feel no great enthusiasm over the victory. He would figure it a badly pitched game. These days a 12 to 11 victory is as eagerly sought as a 1-0 affair.

Pitchers should develop a change of pace. Few pitchers can get by with speed alone. A pitcher needs a full repertoire of stuff and then must use it to advantage to win consistently.

Batters are constantly trying to get the upper hand on the pitcher. His only chance is to outguess them and this can only be done by using his brain power.

Q. S. S. LEAGUE

The Queen Square School League started at last, after having a week's setback through rainy weather. The Dodgers and Tigers played yesterday afternoon for the opening game. The score, although one-sided doesn't indicate that the game wasn't good. The Tigers played well but slumped in batting. The game started with the Dodgers at bat and they opened up in earnest by sending five runners across the plate, before the third man was put out. The Tigers failed to solve McFarlane's pitching for safe hits and they went out in order. In the second innings the Dodgers failed to reach first and the Tigers failed to reach first. The third, fourth, fifth and sixth innings passed with the Dodgers getting shut out in the third, scoring two runs in the fourth and fifth, shut out in the sixth, and pushing two more runs over in the seventh. The Tigers scored their only run in the seventh inning.

"Murderers' Row"

NEW YORK, May 26.—Here is the indictment against "Murderers' Row." There are thirty-six "counts" against it in thirty-one games. "Home run or no count," is the Yank motto these days. These are the Yanks held guilty of cruelty to the old horsehide, with the number of homers such man has made.
