As will be seen by an advertisement in this issue Goff Bros., are preparing to terminate their partnership business. Some twenty-six years ago the business was first started under the name Dorsey, G. F. & Co. After the death of John Dorsey (1834) who was one of the original partners the name of the firm was changed to Goff Bros. and has been carried on ever since by the present owners and mostly under the sole management of R. C. Goff while L. W. Goff, the other partner has resided for a number of years in California. He returned to this Island last year and intends going back to California as soon as he winds up his affairs here. Some few months ago R. C. Goff started an independent exclusive wholesale shoe and rubber business in the building formerly occupied by R. B. Norton & Co and has purchased from Goff Bros., all their shoe machinery and manufacturing supplies, so that the long established and successful firm of Goff Bros., will terminate on the completion of the sale of their large stock of footwear now in progress and the collection of their book debts.

The residence of J. M. and Mrs. Hyde, 138 Lindsdowne Ave., W1 n.pex, was the scene of a quiet but very pretty wedding, Wednesday, August 21st, when Matilda, eldest daughter of Samuel Drake, Cornwall, P. E. I., was united in marriage to William H. Weeks, of Dauphin, Manitoba, formerly of Fredericton, P. E. I., by the Rev. W. W. Adamson of Dauphin. Promptly at the hour appointed the bride entered the spacious drawing room leaning on the arm of J. M. Hyde to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Lyle Hyde. The bride looked charming in a dainty dress of swiss muslin trimmed with valenciennes lace and insertion and carrying a bouquet of sweet peas and gypsophylla. The bride was attended by her sister Miss Susanna, who wore a dress of embroidered silk muslin and carried a bouquet of white asters and maiden-hair ferns. The groom was ably supported by his brother Gordon, of Culross, Manitoba. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold bracelet set with diamonds and pearls. After the ceremony was performed the guests repaired to the dining-room where a dainty repast was served, the table being tastefully decorated with marquerites and ferns. The many beautiful presents received testify to the high esteem in which the young couple are held. Mr. and Mrs. Weeks left by the C. N. R. for their home in Dauphin amid showers of rice and good wishes for their future happiness.
