CHARGED WITH KILLING WIFE

By Throwing Her From A Three Story Window—Serious Ending Of A Domestic Quarrel In Pittsburg, Penn

PITTSBURG, March 24—(Special)—Accused of having thrown his wife from the third story of their home on the north side, Charles Donley, 45 years old was arrested this morning after Mrs. Donley had been found lying unconscious on the pavement in front of the house early today. Donley denies the charge and insists his wife jumped from the window. According to Mrs. Donley, she and her husband had a quarrel and she struck her and tried to choke her. A pitched battle ensued, and finally, forcing her to the window, he picked her up and deliberately threw her out. Donley on the other hand, declares that his wife was trying to escape from him and she jumped from the window not realizing what she was doing. Mrs. Donley is seriously injured.

HARD ON KING OF PORTUGAL

Monarchists Say that His Marriage is Necessary, and Diplomats are now Discussing it—Other Troubles.

LISBON, March 23—Portugal's new king has a hard card to play to meet the demands of all political parties. The Republican newspapers are demanding the surrounding of the Cortes, dissolved by Senhor Franco. They assert that the dissolution decrees were null and void, being signed only by the dictator. Senhor Bernardino Machado has now left his bed but will require a few weeks' rest before he completely recovers strength. He will leave Lisbon shortly for the country and temporarily retire from politics. Guinea affairs are in a deplorable state, and the situation requires the despatch of at least a thousand men from Portugal and the colonies. Negotiations for an electoral alliance among the monarchial parties are already well advanced and the chiefs are expected to reach a resolution at an early date. The finance minister is in daily communication with bank directors and financiers with a view to clearing up the economic situation which, despite the optimism of official statements, is not at all favorable. A strong demand is being made by the Republican press for universal suffrage and freedom of conscience. In the proceedings in connection with the royal tragedy and the death of Costa several more witnesses have been heard, but no new light has been thrown on the matter, and it will be impossible to know whether the assassination was the outcome of a plot or who shot Costa. Among the monarchists there is a good deal of talk about the urgent necessity of the king's marriage, and it is stated that diplomatic channels are very busy over the matter. The court desires that the new queen should be a member of a reigning family.

WHISTLE SAVES 13 FAMILIES

Engineer of Train Uses it to Draw Attention to Fire

PARIS, March 23—While a train was passing through a village near Anancy in the Haute Savoie, about 5 o'clock this morning, the engine driver noticed flames rising from the roof of a tenement house containing thirteen families. He at once stopped the train, and kept the whistle shrieking until he had attracted the attention of the entire population. Thanks to the driver's presence of mind the inmates of the burning tenement, who were all asleep, were able to effect their escape. The fire brigades from the adjoining communities and detachments of military arrived on the scene shortly after, and prevented the spreading of the fire, but the entire tenement was destroyed.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
House met at 4.30 p. m.
A number of bills were presented, read a first time and set down for second reading.
Hon. Mr. Cummisley tabled some information asked for in a question asked by Mr. Kichham, viz., to lay on the table of the House a statement showing in detail how the item $9,443.23 appearing in last year's accounts under the head bursar, engineers, matron, caretaker, fireman, baker, carpenter, attendants, nurses, etc., is made up and the names of the parties, etc.
Mr. Mathieson asked for certain information regarding the Vernon River Bridge.
The Commissioner of Public Works promised to produce same tomorrow.
In reply to questions by Mr. Morrison, Hon. Mr. Cummisley tabled information regarding the contract for heating the Prince County Jail building.
Mr. Agnew moved that the address to the Lieutenant Governor, re the resolution regarding transportation and freight rates between this Province and the mainland be received and read. Carried.
An Act to further amend the act to incorporate the Telephone Company of Prince Edward Island was then considered in Committee of the whole House. The amendment is to enable the company to change the date of their annual meeting.

Mr. Agnew introduced a resolution asking for legislation to prohibit the running of automobiles on the public roads of this Province; in support of which he said that the object to be secured was the greatest good to the greatest number. The country roads were too narrow; for the present it would be to the interest of the Province as a whole to prohibit their running.
Mr. Irving seconded the resolution, saying that the machines were a dangerous nuisance; not a necessity; they fill no public need; there will be no hardships inflicted by suppressing them—they are owned by men of wealth and leisure, who force the public off the roads. Women and children who do the shopping in this country are forced to keep off the roads. These machines menace life and property. We have a right to our roads, its a privilege all the

HINDUS MAY CAUSE MUTINY

British Government Representative Takes Serious View of B. C. Policy

VANCOUVER, March 23.—Col. John Smith, for ten years resident adviser to the Maharajah of Mysore, of the British Government, is in Vancouver on his way to London, to confer with the imperial government especially regarding immigration matters. Col. Smith is British representative in a semi-independent district containing six million people. He very strongly resents the act of the government in deporting Hindus. He said: "Today I talked with several intelligent Hindus here. They were very angry at the authorities for deporting their countrymen. Many are former British soldiers wearing medals. One man I can remember seeing in the Sudan in 1885. If they write back of the treatment accorded to British subjects here, it is bound to create dissension amongst the troops and would not surprise me if it led to another mutiny. "People here do not realize how serious the situation can become with an easily influenced people like that of India."

TOKIO, March 24—(Special)—The newspapers are all issuing extras named at the hands of the Koreans whom I should expect to be assassinated. The fact that Stevens' life was safe in Korea and Japan and that his assassination was attempted in America has brought out the universal comment that the deed was the result of the propaganda in America against the Japanese.

AMUSEMENT EXTRAORDINARY

Wonderland's Popular Attractions, The Three Durands in New Acts.

The Three Durands received the hearty welcome last night at Wonderland, which old friends expect to be returning from an absence. And they certainly added to their already high class reputation of being capable of amusing to the limit their large audience. They change their numbers tonight, putting on something they have not given here before, and if the performance of last evening is anything to reckon by, that of this evening will be a genuine treat indeed. A laugh is certain where the Durands have the comedy portion of the program in hand. The motion pictures change too, the list of them appearing in Wonderland's regular space. These will be found to contain enough of merriment to serve any purpose, instruction intermingled sufficiently to tone the comedy element to the proper amount—pathos which adds the touch of completeness without being over abundant. Miss Wentworth in song and dance—Mr. Trainor in illustrated song. The list came as good as it could, and Wonderland has another week of genuine amusement in store for its numberless patrons.
