RECEPTION AT DUNSTAFFNAGE

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Foster, Dunstaffnage on June 31st when the residents of the community and surrounding districts assembled to welcome back their son, Ernest R. Foster, who has recently returned from overseas.

At an early hour the crowd assembled and the time was pleasantly spent in music and games. The music was furnished by Miss Bessie Crosby, Miss Jessie Jenkins and others. Songs by Misses Blanche MacBeath, and Bessie Crosby were much enjoyed. An address of welcome was read by Miss Pearl Vessey, while Miss Bessie Ellis presented Ernest with $10 in gold. Ernest, in a few words thanked his friends for their kind remembrance and most generous gift, and expressed himself well pleased to be home again. Presentations were also made to Mrs. John A. Stewart, and Mrs. Fred Webster, whose sons gave their lives for their King and Country. Short speeches suitable to the occasion were then made by several present, after which the ladies served refreshments. At a late hour the evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

Following is the address:

To Pte. Ernest R. Foster, Dunstaffnage, P. E. I.

Dear Ernest,—We, your friends and neighbors take very much pleasure in assembling here this evening to extend to you a hearty welcome home from the war-swept fields of France. Those of us not sharing the dangers and hardships of the past year have been with you in our earnest prayers and best wishes. Words of ours fall to convey to you our heartfelt appreciation for the services you have rendered our God, our King, and country. You have merited by your conduct, our respect and admiration, and your name, as it stands in letters of gold on the country's Roll of Honor, shall always be remembered. In our joy tonight in having you once more with us, let us not forget your brave comrades, who will not return, but now peacefully sleep in soldiers' graves in far-off France. But we know they have not sacrificed their young lives in vain for today the grand old Union Jack floats higher and prouder than ever before. In conclusion we ask you to accept this small token, not in recognition of any services you have rendered, but as a proof of our esteem and friendship, and we trust it may speak our hearts best wishes for you, those of health and happiness in years to come. Signed by the members of the Dunstaffnage W. P. A.

STRIKE OF GRAVE DIGGERS

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Grave diggers at St. Michael's Cemetery, Long Island City, are on strike for an increase in pay from $3.75 to $4.00 a day and a six-day week. During the influenza epidemic they received $4.00. Later the officials of the cemetery reduced the wages. So far there has been no delay in handling funerals. Yesterday the cemetery management technically discharged the striking grave-diggers.

Edward Murphy and his wife and son, Joseph E. Murphy aged five years. Mrs. Murphy before her marriage seven years ago was Miss Marguerite M. McKenna, of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy were presented with two beautiful presents. The following address was read by Mr. N. H. Deighan and the gifts were presented by Mr. John M. Murphy, of Kinkora.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Murphy.—It is with feelings of joy and pride; that we your friends and neighbors assemble here tonight to bid you welcome to your childhood's home.

Seven years with their sunshine and shadow, have come and gone since you passed over its threshold; and as this is the seventh anniversary of your marriage, we extend to Mrs. Murphy, whose advent among us is only short, a hearty welcome, and trust both you and Mr. Murphy will take with you many pleasant memories of your many friends. Your family, it must be said is a credit to you and we congratulate them on this joyous occasion. Many times have their thoughts gone out to you during your absence, and we are proud tonight that you have been spared to meet them once again. Again we bid you welcome.

Mr. Murphy in a few well chosen words thanked his many friends.

Potatoes in Maine Seriously Injured

AUGUSTA, Maine, August 4.—A. M. G. Soule, chief of the division of inspection of the Maine Department of Agriculture, states that a very serious situation exists in Aroostook County. His investigation there has revealed that the potato fields at this season of the year should show well developed plants, are, in some instances, far below normal, and, as far as our examination and investigations have existed, we believe that the injury is due to fertilizer containing potash with an excessive amount of borax.

"The plants which are supposed to have been affected by fertilizer containing potash which carried a high borax content, present a noticeable difference from the normal plants," said Mr. Soule, "the tops of the plants thus affected being taller and more slender than those of normal growth. The leaves show slight tinges of yellow, especially on the lower set of stalks, and if carefully removed, and examined, the roots of the plants are found to be burned off. The lower set of roots particularly present a stubbed and burned appearance, apparently those coming in closest contact with the fertilizer receiving the most serious injury, while the roots coming nearest the surface, present a healthier and more normal appearance. We believe, as previously stated, that the crop injury is due to the use of potash with a borax content.

Numerous fields were visited covering territory from St. Francis in the north to the towns of Orient and Amity in the southern part of Aroostook, but the section most severely affected is in the St. John valley in the towns of Van Buren, Limestone and Fort Kent. Serious damage was also noticed in the vicinity of Fort Fairfield, Caribou and Presque Isle.

2,000,000 IN BRITAIN WITHOUT HOMES

LONDON, August 4.—Very grave fears are entertained in responsible quarters as to the housing situation in this country next winter. If the estimated government officials that by the beginning of winter there will be an excess of population over housing accommodation even at the low pre-war standard of about 2,000,000. During the summer months, when a great deal of time can be spent in the open air, the worst consequences of overcrowding are not apparent, but the crisis may be expected about next November. In the judgment of those in authority, whose business it is to face the problem in all its aspects, one of the most alarming possibilities of the imposition of 2,000,000 crowded population is the outbreak, in epidemic form, of disease of the worst kind. The War Cabinet is now considering a plan which, it is estimated, would serve at the beginning to house about 100,000 of those who most urgently need homes.

Running Trades Presented Ultimatum To Railway Companies

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 4. — The leading feature of the session of the Robson Commission was the production of H. C. Stevenson, a witness of an ultimatum that had been drawn up by the Running Trades to be sent to the Railway Companies to the effect that the railway workers would walk out in order to bring about speedy settlement of the sympathetic strike because it was believed that the principle of collective bargaining was at stake.

J. T. Murray, labor counsel, stated that labor was prepared to present its case, and that Messrs. Winning, Robinson and Russell were prepared to take the stand.

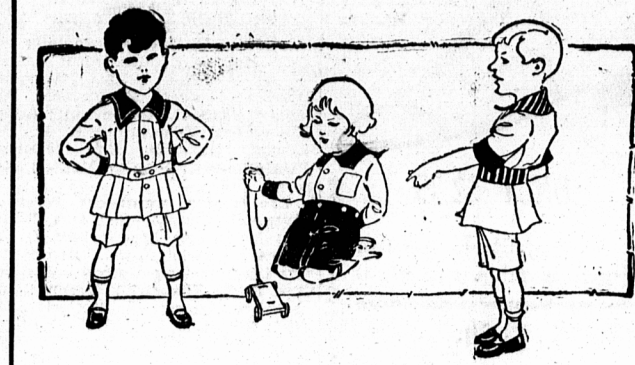

Upon the advice of C. P. Wilson, it was decided to complete evidence of the Railway Brotherhoods, and N. H. Maybank, a C. P. R. yardman, gave the history of the attitude of the Running Trades from the beginning of the strike.

After listening to addresses by members of the Strike Commission, he stated, it was felt that the strike was a vital strike for labor, and railway workers voted to strike but, at the same time, formed a mediation to attempt a settlement. In the meantime unsuccessful attempts were made to win the support of the Grand
