Reconstruction Of Horse Stalls Gets Underway

Reconstruction of horse stalls razed by fire early yesterday morning on the east side of the Provincial Exhibition track was well underway last evening. The structure would be completed prior to the Exhibition opening Aug. 16, it was announced.

The fire, cause of which has not been discovered, broke out in the vicinity of stall 42, and spread in both directions, east and west, making the greatest progress towards the west where the long structure was built on a slight upgrade. Damage was estimated in the vicinity of $5,000.

Scotland, a two-year-old trotter owned by Power Brothers stables and tethered in a stall close to 42 perished in the flames. Attempts had been made to rescue the animal, but crazed by the flames and the brooms resisted violently and had to be left to his fate. In the stall alongside his, where feed and harness had been stored, a little female bulldog owned by Marian Power, young daughter of the late Mr. Power, was trapped and burned to death.

The only other horse to suffer serious injury was Miss Alweby, a grey, owned by the late Mr. Power, who was burned about the back and side and as it fled from its flaming stall its mane which was afire was extinguished as it tumbled just outside the fire area. Firemen had the blaze under control shortly after four a.m. and by daybreak, workmen were clearing away the smoking debris.

Later construction of the new stalls commenced. Seventy-five workmen, painters, plumbers and carpenters are engaged in construction work on the Exhibition grounds preparatory to the opening of the big show.

DEATHS

LAMONT — At Charlottetown on Friday, July 29, 1933, William Lamont, Funeral from Belfast Church on Sunday, July 31st, at 10 a. m.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Mrs. Lillian K. Toudry, who departed this life August 2nd, 1937.
Friends may think she is forgotten,
But the wound is surely healed,
And they little know the sorrow
Lies within our hearts concealed.

Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in silence often flow,
Memory keeps her ever near us,
Though she died one year ago,
Bereaved by Mother, Father, Brothers and Sisters.

Sees Canada's Future Within British Empire

Rotarians yesterday were privileged to hear a timely and inspiring address on Canada's Foreign Policy by Rotarian W. A. Walsh, M. P., Conservative member of the Mount Royal division, Montreal. Mr. Walsh is principal of the Strathcona Academy and Superintendent of the Protestant Schools of Outremont, Quebec. He and his family are spending part of the summer at Stanhope Beach.

Mr. Walsh briefly reviewed Britain's foreign policy as evolved through the years, and also the various steps by which Canada reached her present status of nationhood under the Statute of Westminster, 1931.

These new rights and privileges, he emphasized, carried with them new obligations. It became necessary for Canada to define her attitude toward other nations.

"To discuss foreign policy," he continued, "of necessity we must contemplate the question of armaments, of home defence, of our position on sea and on land, our political position in the British Commonwealth, our geographical position and our internal economy."

Three Possibilities

"There are three possibilities in prospect as prospective foreign policies for Canada and we shall briefly examine each of these:

"Isolation. This position does not seem possible both from the economic point of view and from the financial point of view. From the geographical point of view such a policy would be quite untenable. I should only quote here our close proximity to the United States and our political association with the Munroe Doctrine.

"Also opposed to this policy of isolation and rendering it quite impossible is our trade relations with other members of the Commonwealth. We cannot live in isolation. We have no alternative, and I feel without any controversy whatsoever.

"The Speech from the Throne, January, 1937, made definite reference to the international situation in these terms: 'The international situation continues to give much ground for anxiety.' The present Government has taken due cognizance of the situation and for that reason must be contemplating a definite foreign policy. We have dismissed a policy of isolation as a possibility. We cannot live to ourselves alone. Another alternative is to take shelter under the Munroe Doctrine.

MOUNTED POLICE PATROLS ACTIVE

This past weekend mounted police have been active on look out for infractions of the Migratory Birds Convention Act and special Fisheries Regulations. Every class is filled and as usual the capacity of the stables will be taxed to the limit. There are still entries to come in from different points and it will be some days before the list will be published.

The burned debris from the 45 stalls was cleared away yesterday and the new frame will be laid this morning. It is expected that the stables will be completed early next week and will be in plenty of time to house the race horses coming from various parts of the Maritime Provinces. All the work in connection with the Big Fair is coming along at a lively rate and every last detail will be completed by Saturday night, August 14th. The plant is being thoroughly gone over and some 70 odd workmen will make it look more beautiful than it ever has before. The color scheme, green and white for grand stands, riding stables and entrance, is being favourably commented on. It is certainly very striking. The remainder of the buildings will be done in red and white. In the Main Building decorators are at work with miles of bunting, flags and other material. They will for the next two weeks. In the meantime a score of scrubbers will have cleaned every particle of floors. The woodwork is being painted and the walls muresoored.

FINDS DIAMOND IN FISH

While fishing at the well known spot, Sherry's Creek, over the week end, Mr. Wilfred Cullen of this city, hooked a good catch of trout. While preparing them for supper he was greatly surprised to find in one of his catches a good size goldfish. In the stomach of the fish was a large diamond in the centre and two smaller ones on either side. Mr. Cullen has had the ring valued but is retaining it for a time to find out if an owner will put in an appearance. The fish was not in the stomach of the fish, but was caught just back of one of the gills. He says that when preparing trout he has always been in the habit of keeping a sharp lookout for a find of something unusual, and his ambition has finally been realized.

Mr. Stewart is well known to young people of the Christian Church in this province where he has attended young people's camps. ing land from the late Mr. Bell. Col. Jenkins said. Now it appeared that demands were made for 4500 foot runways. In a report some years ago Mr. Wakeman had said that the Government had further development to the west, Col. Jenkins said.

Mayor Foster interposed to explain that the present requirements were 3500 feet, but at the site recommended one would be 4500 feet. Col. Jenkins wondered at the Wakeman's views on Charlottetown this year. There was "something fishy" about it. His purpose in wishing to meet Mr. Wakeman had been to recommend that he meet him in a social way. He reminded the meeting that he had been away on the occasion of Mr. Wakeman's first visit here this year but that the time his representatives had been unable to contact the Inspector.

Coun. Hennessey said that what Col. Jenkins had said threw "new light on the subject." Since hearing him Coun. Hennessey didn't know but what they were "going a little too fast in buying the proposed property."

Col. Jenkins pointed out that he didn't doubt but that the site recommended could be built at reasonable cost. But concrete runways were not needed—here, he maintained.

In the course of his remarks Col. Jenkins informed the council that that the Dominion pilot had landed at Upton on many occasions in the past few years. The flying speed of this plane here this year but to 250 miles an hour, the speaker said, pointing out that the faster the flying speed the faster the land-grated airport. The plan had been approved by the field and accommodations there.

It was doubtful if any faster ship would be in a service here for many years to come, Col. Jenkins said.

It was possible to use the ones at Upton every day in the year, unlike other places which were closed sometimes as long as two weeks when they were soft in the spring.

Mr. Wakeman had stated, Mayor Foster explained in reply to a

Wickens - Robblee Marriage

A wedding of wide community interest was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Robblee on July 16 at three o'clock when their only daughter Margaret Frances became the bride of William Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wickens of the ceremony. Rev. J. E. Kirk performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was most attractively attired in a pretty after-noon frock of blue silk crepe, and wore a corsage of pink roses. Bride and groom were unattended, and only the immediate families were present.

The rooms were prettily decorated with fragrant garden flowers and a delicious repast was served at five o'clock. The table was centered with the handsome three-tiered wedding cake, with tall harmonizing tapers.

The bride has lived in the district since early childhood and has recently been teaching at the Bessie school. The groom is a native son of Cayley, and both are well and popularly known amongst their warmest friends, who happened to be present.

After a honeymoon at Banff, Mr. and Mrs. Wickens will reside on their farm south of Cayley—(High River Times, Alberta.)

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Robblee, were former residents of Prince Edward Island.

West Indian Trips Popular

MONTREAL, Que. Aug. 1.—(CP)—Carrying a large number of passengers and an extensive cargo of West Indian products, R. M. S. "Lady Rodney", of the Canadian National Steamships, arrived in Montreal Sunday completing her voyage from Jamaica, Nassau and Bermuda. Both southbound and northbound the "Lady Rodney" carried an unusually large number of travellers to and from Jamaica, and it has been the experience this season that travel to Jamaica by the "Lady Rodney" has been on an increasing scale. During 1937 a record number of tourists and holiday travellers who remained beyond the usual brief period reached Jamaica. It is probable, according to Victor E. Eke, passenger traffic manager of the Canadian National Steamships, that the record of travel to Jamaica established last year will be surpassed in 1938, passengers

A wedding of wide community interest was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Robblee on July 16 at three o'clock when their only daughter Margaret Frances became the bride of William Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wickens of the ceremony. Rev. J. E. Kirk performed the ceremony.

The rooms were prettily decorated with fragrant garden flowers and a delicious repast was served at five o'clock. The table was centered with the handsome three-tiered wedding cake, with tall harmonizing tapers.

The bride has lived in the district since early childhood and has recently been teaching at the Bessie school. The groom is a native son of Cayley, and both are well and popularly known amongst their warmest friends, who happened to be present.

After a honeymoon at Banff, Mr. and Mrs. Wickens will reside on their farm south of Cayley—(High River Times, Alberta.)
