THE BOOK OF THE YEAR

The GOLDEN FUTURE of PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

Read What the Halifax Star Says:

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

THE Charlottetown Guardian has recently issued a souvenir edition published in book-size form, with the optimistic title of "The Golden Future of Prince Edward Island."

It is an interesting edition. It is one that the native of Prince Edward Island, far from home, will read with a special glow of pleasure, for in poem, and story, in attractive illustration, and advertisement, it tells of the island's glory, of its progress, and of its contribution to the life of this continent.

There are many excellent articles, but one of the best is the impression of an American journalist who visited the "Garden of the Gulf," and who tells vividly his impressions of its people, their traditions, the well kept homes, the splendid churches, and his amazement at the practical absence of divorce and crime.

His observations are worth noting. "This same little Province, which has no divorce problem, is also without a crime problem. Its crime rate, as indicated by convictions for serious offenses, is less than one-tenth the rate for Canada as a whole, and the Canadian rate is forty years!"

"Unemployment? There isn't any on the island."

"Poverty? It is almost non-existent there."

"This Island has, per square mile, twice as many people, four times as many cattle, and eight times as much poultry, as any other Province of Canada. It has more railroads per square mile, more post offices, more telegraph lines, and more churches, and its people have more money in the savings banks, per capita, than have those of any other Canadian Province."

The publication is one worthy of that enterprising daily newspaper, The Charlottetown Guardian. Price 25 Cents.

TRADE CONDITIONS IN SALONICA

Salonica, capital of the province of Macedonia, whose population is estimated at 350,000, promises to be the most modern town in the Near East when rebuilding is completed, and it is the port through which almost all foreign goods destined for Macedonia, Thracæ, and Northern Thessaly are imported, writes Henri Turco, Canadian Trade Commissioner in Athens. In the forthcoming issue of the Commercial Intelligence Journal, The Salonica market also extends to Southern Yugoslavia, through the towns of Uskub, Nisch, and Monastir to Southern Albania through Koritsa; and some classes of goods even find their way to Belgrade, the commodities destined for Albania and Yugoslavia being imported principally through the free zone, Salonica is, after the Athens-Piræus market, the most important business centre. It owes its importance to the fact that it supplies the requirements of a hinterland of some two million inhabitants. Wheat and flour are the two outstanding Canadian commodities in the Salonica market.

MARKET PROSPECTS FOR CONCENTRATED APPLE JUICE IN THE UNITED KINGDOM

Owing to the lesser bulk and consequent lower freight charges, Canadian makers have a better opportunity to market concentrated apple juice for making into cider in the United Kingdom, than in apples for that purpose, writes Douglas S. Cole, Canadian Trade Commissioner in Bristol, in the forthcoming issue of the Commercial Intelligence Journal. If the burnt or caramel flavour which has been the subject of criticism in the past could be eliminated it is believed much larger sales of the Canadian product could be effected. This criticism has not been confined to Canadian shippers, and it should be stated that recent samples of Canadian concentrate have been tried and found fairly satisfactory. Cider in Canada is not produced from cider apples only, but from all classes in the orchards. The situation is being made difficult for West of E.-grade cider makers owing to the shortage of genuine bitter sweets, and were such qualities available in Canada undoubtedly a large trade could be built up. Since 1924 certain quantities of Canadian cider and concentrate have been shipped to this market, but the West of E.-grade has proved disappointing for Canadian producers owing to the severe competition from France.

INSTITUTE MEETING.—The annual meeting of the Alliston Women's Institute was held on November 26th at the home of Mrs. John W. Beck and was opened by singing "Institute Ode" followed by roll call which was responded to with "Christmas Plans." The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. James A. Beck; Vice-President, Mrs. Wm. Carver; Secretary Treasurer, Miss Marion Crawford; Directors, Mrs. Vere Beck, Mrs. Chas. MacDonald and Mrs. James Thompson; Auditors, Mrs. John F. Beck and Mrs. T. Albert Hicken. Next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. T. Albert Hicken, roll call to be answered with a New Year's resolution. Meeting closed by singing "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

THE OLD ORDER

"There's naething in the world folk want more than just to be let alone, Hetty," he would say sometimes, but she had not profited.

Suddenly Mary spoke impulsively. "There's nothing to it, father. Nothing at all. I never was more surprised in my life, and I wish you would prevent mother speaking to me about it."

"No, no," Mary shook a rather rebellious head, and the tears were very near her eyes. "I hadn't any idea, and I can't for the life of me understand why he didn't speak to me since first."

"He had never said a word, then, before he came here?"

A very pretty post-nuptial shower and dance was given on Friday evening, Nov. 28th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McRae, Glasgow Road, when a very large number of friends from Milton, Wheatley, Hunter and Wheatley Rivers, gathered to tender Mrs. Gordon Carew, Hunter River, a miscellaneous shower. The room was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The bride entered the room to the strains of the Wedding March, and was seated in a decorated chair. A daintily trimmed basket was then brought in. The gifts were opened by Miss Florence MacRae and the accompanying verses and best wishes which afforded much merriment, were read by Miss Olive Sanderson. Mrs. Carew, although taken by surprise, thanked those present for their lovely gifts and good wishes. Luncheon was served, which was followed by a dance, which was continued to a very late hour. Music was furnished on the violin, played by Mr. Stewart Highfield and accompanied by Miss Florence MacRae on the organ. She was the recipient of many lovely gifts of silver, linen, china and cheques, which testified to the esteem in which the happy young couple was held. After wishing Flo a happy journey through life, they left for their homes all declaring they had a splendid time.
