ROOSEVELT ASSAILS DICTATOR NATIONS

DESCRIBES TO COURT LIQUOR TRAFFICKING

Crown Witness Gives Account Of Landing Operations In Halifax County.

BY E. L. WILLIAMS Canadian Press Staff Writer HALIFAX, Jan. 4 (CP)—Liquor-landing operations in Halifax County between the fall of 1935 and late 1937 were described today by William (Bill) Goodnow, a crown witness in the preliminary hearing of John Tanner of Halifax on a conspiracy charge.

Describes Wrecking

On the stand most of the afternoon, Goodnow described how the wrecking occurred. He was waiting at Enfield, 31 miles from here, for a truck he knew was coming. When it came along the highway he saw a police car immediately behind it and swung his own car around to cut off the officers' auto and enable the truck to escape.

When Goodnow pulled up alongside the truck to tell its driver the officers had been tricked, the driver swung the truck at him, thinking it was the police car. The truck driver, he said, was Sidney Regan, one of the accused.

When he entered the liquor business, he told J. Gordon Fogo, Halifax lawyer who with Eugene T. Parker, is prosecuting, he was paid a $30 salary weekly. He worked chiefly in Halifax City, distributing rum to customers in lots never less than a five-gallon keg.

The rum he delivered was taken from three hides, located at suburban Bedford and Rocking.

HIRANUMA IS ORDERED TO FORM CABINET

Fascist-Inclined Baron Selected To Weld Nation To Meet War Emergencies.

TOKYO, Jan. 4—(AP)—Baron Kichiro Hiranuma, fascist-inclined President of the Privy Council, was commanded tonight by Emperor Hirohito to form a new cabinet to settle internal conflicts and make Japan for "new policies" in China.

Hiranuma, 73, is one of Japan's outstanding nationalists. Prince Fumimaro Konoye, retiring premier, was thrust aside by a powerful movement, mostly behind the scenes for an even more authoritarian government.

This movement represented elements within the army, inside and outside the government of the comparatively liberal Konoye and within ultra-patriotic groups.

Among Demands

Among its demands were more rigid control of economic life, new policies to consolidate conquests in China and the fusion of all political parties into a single nationalist group.

Konoye, whose 19-month tenure started a month before the outbreak of war with China, said in resigning that it was "urgently necessary to enhance the confidence of the nation by formulating new policies under a new cabinet."

The time had come, he added, "when the government must concentrate its efforts on construction of a new order to maintain lasting peace in East Asia."

Offered Portfolio

Hiranuma offered a portfolio to Konoye "for the purpose of strengthening the cabinet" and the retiring premier asked until Friday to consider the offer.

Foreign Minister Hiroshi Arima was invited to remain at his post.

Other cabinet members predicted Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, Konoye's Navy Minister, and Lieut.-General Seishiro Itagaki, his war minister, would retain their posts.

Because feeling in some quarters was intense, fear was expressed for the personal safety of some retiring ministers, especially Seishiro Itagaki, elderly finance minister. He angered extremists by blocking army demands for government control of corporate capital, dividends and investments.

Is Committed For Trial On Charge Of Manslaughter

MONTREAL, Jan. 4—(CP)—Charles Medley McIntyre, who once was sentenced to life for manslaughter in New Brunswick, was committed for trial today on a manslaughter charge arising from three deaths in a Dec. 20 wood alcohol drinking party here.

The 31-year-old negro rooming house proprietor, a native of Fredricton, N. B., is alleged to have supplied the liquor for the party and to have been present when Hazel Adelaide Gedbois and Armand Boileau were sent to trial on one indictment covering the three deaths.

Prosecution counsel told the court McIntyre in 1913 had been sentenced at Gagetown, N. B., to life for manslaughter. By Executive clemency the sentence was changed to 20 years, and McIntyre went free in 1924 on parole. Later he was jailed again for violating parole. Details of the Gagetown conviction were not made known.

Daladier Pleased With Inspection Tour Of Tunisia

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) CAIRUES, Tunisia, Jan. 4—The promise of a visit to Tunisia given France's overseas empire by Premier Daladier was symbolized today in a parade of military might in the southern Tunisian desert.

The Mareth defence works fronting Italian Libya provided a significant, but almost invisible, background for the army review which won praise from Daladier, Defence Minister as well as Premier of France.

The 20,000 men, modern war equipment and air squadron participating were a cross section of the military force distributed throughout French North African territories. Obviously satisfied with the review and his inspection tour, Daladier told newspapermen:

"You have been able to judge the loyalty of all the peoples to France. It is a stimulating impression. I counted upon it, but I did not expect so much enthusiasm."

TAKE STRANDED PARTY OFF PICTOU IS

Planes Make Charter Flights—Magdalen Is. Mail Service Expected To Open Today.

A Canadian Airways plane from Upton report here yesterday flew Capt. O. H. MacDonald of the Dartmouth Ferry and party of four from Pictou Island to New Glasgow, Nova Scotia. The Captain believes to be a native of the small island in the Cumberland Strait off Pictou Harbor, with his party were stranded when drift ice cut off easy access to the mainland. It is believed the Captain was spending the New Year's Holiday at his old home.

Pilot H. S. Jones, superintendent of Canadian Airways here made the trip to pick up the party with the Stearman, an open cockpit single engine job. Use of a larger twin-engine machine was not possible because of landing conditions at the island. Ice had not formed sufficiently thick to bear up a plane and landing was made in a field.

There was considerable drift ice in the Strait, Pilot Jones said on his return here.

First trip of the winter mail service to the isolated Magdalen Islands in Gulf of St. Lawrence would probably be made today, Pilot Jones announced last night. If weather conditions permitted two trips would be made.

Two way radio communication with pilots on the flights would be maintained. A ground station is again in operation at Upton Airport.

A charter flight was made with the cabin job Fox Moth with Pilot Joe Anderson at the controls to Mt. Vernon, near Wood Islands, Montague, Souris and St. Peter's, backbones of the Province. Fire Inspector C. A. Beer and Provincial Electrical Inspector E. S. Chandler.

Mr. Beer was visiting Mt. Vernon where a dwelling owned by Mr. Jack Acorn was burned recently and Montague where a recent fire damaged the dwelling of Mr. Guy Nelson.

Capone's Release Slated For Jan. 19

CHICAGO, Jan. 4—(AP)—Payment of $37,892.29 toward the $50,000 fine and court costs outstanding against Al Capone, one-time gang czar, was made today. The payment consisted of $30,000 on the fine and $7,892.29 costs. This action apparently cleared the path for Capone's release, scheduled for Jan. 19, from Alcatraz Island Prison where he has been serving a 10 year term for income tax evasion imposed in 1931.

Re-united With Wife After "One-man Invasion" Of Soviet

MOSCOW, Jan. 4—(AP)—Bryan Grover, British Engineer, got his wife back today, proving again that faint heart never won fair lady.

What diplomats expected had failed to achieve in four years of effort, the Englishman accomplished in a few weeks by daring to make a "one-man invasion" of Soviet Russia in a second-hand plane with only three weeks flying instructions.

On top of that he carried his case to the doorstep of Joseph Stalin and offered to become a Soviet citizen if necessary to regain his wife.

Whether the 37-year-old engineer would be allowed to take his wife out of Russia was not certain, but he was with her tonight "somewhere in Moscow" after being released by Soviet authorities.

Stresses Need For Preparedness In Congress Message

President Calls For A United Nation To Combat Threats Of "Military And Economic" Aggression.

(By Richard L. Turner, Associated Press Staff Writer) WASHINGTON, Jan. 4—(A. P.)—With Adolf Hitler's chief envoy an impassive listener, President Roosevelt warned the dictator nations today that the United States would resist "strident ambition and brute force" in world affairs.

Addressing a dramatic joint session of Congress in the House of Representatives, the President, with slow and deliberate emphasis, asked that resistance be buttressed by increased military preparedness.

And equally necessary, he said, was the elimination of class prejudices and intral dissensions through the abolition of social abuses so that a nation united in spirit might combat all threats of "military and economic" aggression from abroad.

Moreover, Mr. Roosevelt hinted that immediate steps might be under consideration. He asserted that "there are many methods short of war . . . to bring home to aggressor governments the aggregate sentiments of our people."

Domestic And Foreign

Linking domestic problems with foreign policy through his plea for national unity, Mr. Roosevelt announced that the period of new deal social and economic innovations had reached at least a pause, if not an end.

His applause and the accomplishments of the past year he has been in power and asserted the time had arrived for congress "to improve the new machinery which we have personally installed, provided that in the process, the social usefulness of the machinery is not destroyed or impaired."

While the augmented republican ranks of congress listened silently and a roar of approval arose from the democratic side of the crowded house of Representatives, he made it amply clear that government spending would continue, in the expectation that it would increase national income to a point at which the budget could be balanced.

There was an even more emphatic outburst of approval, largely from the republican side of the chamber, when the President mentioned the expectation of drastic retrenchment, an alternative not advocated by him.

Comment Colored

Congressional comment on the President's message was, as is always the case, colored by political bias. Obviously satisfied with the review and his inspection tour, Daladier told newspapermen:

"You have been able to judge the loyalty of all the peoples to France. It is a stimulating impression. I counted upon it, but I did not expect so much enthusiasm."

As Mr. Roosevelt repeatedly denounced the whole philosophy of dictatorship, many turned frequently to glance in the direction of the Diplomatic Gallery.

For there sat Hjalmar Thomsen, charge d'affaires of the German Embassy, the man who recently received a stinging answer at the State Department when he asked that the United States Government apologize for anti-Nazi remarks made by Interior Secretary Tamm.

In company with all in the big hall, Thomsen's face reflected the significance of that first statement of admission of policy since the Republican and Conservative gains of the November elections challenged the new coalition government of effective opposition to Roosevelt measures in the present session.

Unemployment Still Remains Major Problem

Welfare Council Deplores Continued Lack Of Intelligent Planning.

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, Jan. 4—It is possible that the threat to Canadian welfare being "now less not so largely in the actual state in employment which we are facing but in the let-down of spirit and morale of the country as a whole," the Canadian Welfare Council reported today.

In its preliminary analysis of the outlook in unemployment and general dependency the council said the most disturbing factor in the present situation is the realization that by the end of next March Canada will have spent in nine years about $90,000,000 on direct aid, works and projects for relief of unemployment and agricultural distress.

"At the end of that time Canada will have more dependents on public funds than for this purpose than when she started," the report said.

The council's survey was built on returns from 210 public or voluntary social agencies and representative citizens across the Day.
