town in 1922 he became chaplain of St. Joseph's Convent.

Throughout the long years of his work in Prince Edward Island, the genial priest was known for his kindness, his sincere friendship for everyone regardless of class or creed, and his great love of children.

Paying tribute to Father MacIntyre Lieutenant-Governor DeBlois once said:

"While some men may be so fortunate as to succeed in winning the admiration and the affection of the members of their immediate family and of their intimate friends, Father MacIntyre stands in a class by himself, because he has succeeded in winning the love and the admiration of the whole community and especially is this true with regard to the little children. The reason is quite obvious when you consider that for 365 days of the year his one aim and desire has been to promote the spirit of good-will and of tolerance that I am happy to say, characterizes the relations of the various religious bodies throughout this province and which I hope will be preserved and strengthened with the passing of the years." His Honor called the aged priest the "Children's Friend."

After meeting Father MacIntyre during a visit to Prince Edward Island in 1930, Hon. R. B. Bennett described him as "God's good old man."

TRIBUTE FROM PUPILS

The following tribute was paid Father MacIntyre by pupils of St. Joseph's Convent, where he was Chaplain:—

A solemn hush; our flag flying at half-mast is a silent testimony of the grief filling our young hearts today, for our dear Father MacIntyre is dead.

It is hard for us to realize that we shall never see that dear, familiar figure in our midst again, that those kind old eyes shall never be brighter at our greeting, that his venerable hand shall never again be lifted in benediction over our bowed heads.

Father MacIntyre's connection with St. Joseph's dates from 1883, when shortly after his ordination in Rome he began his priestly labors in this city. The annals of the house note with grateful appreciation his kindness to the struggling school and his frequent visits to the classrooms. In the years that followed, when the voice of obedience called him to labor elsewhere, St. Joseph's continued to hold a warm place in his affections, and when, in his declining years, he returned to Charlottetown, he gladly reassumed the duty of chaplain. During these last fifteen years the children of St. Joseph's, as he loved to call us, were everything to him and he was everything to us. He brought us near to God, for, looking into his kind face, we saw reflected there the tender love and solicitude of the little ones of his flock; he taught us to pray and to trust in the power of prayer both by his own reverence as he prayed with us, and by his oft expressed faith in the efficacy of our simple petitions; he inspired us to cherish the beautiful and the true by the example of his own noble, unselfish life, by his childish faith in God and his sweet charity to his fellow creatures of every class and creed.

And now he is gone, and today we can only gaze with reverent awe at that venerable face so beautiful in death with its aureole of snow, shall ever remain with us as one of the dearest treasures of our childhood days. All the pupils who have passed through St. Joseph's Convent during these fifteen years are mourning with us today, and uniting their fervent prayers with ours for the venerated spiritual father who brought a benediction upon their happy school days.

May Father MacIntyre continue to watch over his children from his happy home above, until we are all brought to the united life of our heavenly Father; may our heavenly Father's eternal home! May he rest in peace!

Free From Sciatica For 35 Years

In Perfect Health at 73— Thanks to Kruschen

Thirty-five years ago this septuagenarian was helpless with sciatica. The head of Kruschen. Since that day, he has enjoyed perfect health. Here is his remarkable story:—

"Thirty-five years ago, I had a severe attack of sciatica, and could scarcely move for about six weeks. Then I started taking Kruschen about half-a-teaspoonful every morning in hot water. In a few weeks, I got rid of the awful pain in my hips. I have never had to consult a doctor since, and am still in perfect health at 73 years of age, which I can only attribute to taking Kruschen Salts every morning." F. A.

Most people grow old long before their time because they neglect one vital need of health—the need of internal cleanliness. Eventually, they start the healthy Kruschen habit. Then, probably for the first time in their lives, they start getting rid, every day, of all waste matter from the system. The result is renewed health and vigour. Ailments due to clogged systems vanish, youth returns, and life becomes really worth living.

Funeral Of Alex. D. McLeod Yesterday

The deceased had many friends in various sections of the province, particularly in West Royalty where he had resided since his return from the Canadian West several years ago until last May. Although he had been residing in Brackley only a few months, having taken up farming there last spring, he had already made many close friendships in that district. It may be truly said of him that he was a man's man, who made friends readily, spoke ill of no one, and was beloved by all who knew him.

Although normally an extraordinarily strong and virile man he had not been well the past few months. He entered the Prince Edward Island Hospital about a fortnight ago, and succumbed on Friday morning, two days after undergoing a serious operation.

Born in Riverdale in 1884, the deceased moved to the United States at an early age. Later he purchased a farm in Saskatchewan and resided there for a number of years until the drought made farming in that portion of the Canadian West practically impossible and he returned to his native province.

The deceased is survived by a sorrowing widow, Kate, daughter of the late John McPherson of Bellevue, and a sister of John Angus McPherson of Grandview, his father Murdoch of Bonshaw; four sisters, Mrs. Mary Morrow of Arlington, Mass., Mrs. Florence Phinney of Quincy, Mass., Mrs. Rachel Matthews of Newton, Mass., and Mrs. Sadie Graham of New York; three brothers, Walter in California, Irving in Everett, Mass., and Gordon in Somerville, Mass. Geddes McLeod of Bonshaw is a first cousin.

Italian Consulates Closed In Russia

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) MOSCOW, Nov. 21—Five Italian consulates in Russia will be closed Jan. 20 at the request of the Soviet Government, it was announced today, bringing to 13 the number of foreign consulates shut down within a few months.

The Italian consulates to be abandoned are at Leningrad, Kiev, Tiflis, Novosibirsk and Batum, leaving only one Italian consular post, at Odessa. Russia has no consulate in Italy except in Rome.

Urges Purchase Of Canadian Goods

TORONTO, Nov. 21—(CP)—Urging Canadian women to seek the "made in Canada" label when making their purchases, Mrs. H. H. Pitts of Nelson, B. C., presented a report on Canadian industries to yesterday's convention session of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada. Mrs. Pitts is National Convener of the Federation. In New Brunswick this work was being stressed by exhibits at fall fairs, in store windows and at home products banquets. Prince Edward Island institutes maintained and supported a women's exchange in Charlottetown where home handicrafts were sold.

Fisherman Loses Life Off Halifax

HALIFAX, Nov. 21—(CP)—Indian Harbour, N. S., fisherman, was drowned 20 miles off Halifax harbor Saturday when a wave swamped his dory.

Johnston had been trawling alone and was on his way back to his ship, the schooner Bluebeard when a wave came over the stern of his boat, must have been heavily laden with fish. The sea was not rough.

A brother, Arthur Johnston, was drowned off the trawler National IV six years ago.

involve international agreements beyond the authority of settlement officials to modify, the Japanese navy Sunday seized some 30 customs vessels in Shanghai harbor, forced off the Chinese crews and foreign engineers and hoisted the Rising Sun flag preparatory to taking over operation of the customs.

The Chinese customs revenues are pledged to repay foreign loans and officials of interested foreign powers supervise their collection.

HEAVY CASUALTIES

The Chinese army left Shanghai to the Japanese after their southern flank was turned by a surprise Japanese landing at Hangchow Bay. During the last 12 days of battle—during which the Chinese winter defence line was broken at Soochow—Chinese casualties were 200,000, including 50,000 killed, according to a Japanese communique.

Press censorship, long a source of annoyance to foreign correspondents, has been discontinued in cable and radio offices in the International Settlement since the capture of Shanghai. Censorship had been in effect since 1930.

When it first was ordered foreign consular officials contended it was not sanctioned by treaty, but foreign cable companies submitted to the Chinese demands after they were threatened with total loss of their inland business if they refused to comply.

So far as is known correspondents have had no difficulty getting out any news stories they wished to send during the present conflict.

Any Reduction In Preference Opposed

KENTVILLE, N. S., Nov. 21—(CP)—Herbert Oyer, Kentville and George A. Chase, Port Williams, representatives of the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers Association leave here Monday for Toronto.

The representatives carry with them a brief to the Dominion Government protesting on behalf of the Nova Scotia apple producers against any reduction in the preference of $1.50 a barrel now enjoyed by Canadian apple growers. (reports said the preference was in whole or in part to be discontinued under a new trade agreement.)

Before conferring with the Dominion Government the Nova Scotia delegates will meet with those from British Columbia and Ontario at Toronto where a final brief will be drawn up. (By resolution the Nova Scotia growers oppose any reduction in the preference.)

French Aviator Sets New Record

NATAL, Brazil, Nov. 21—(CP) Havas)—Paul Cocoz tonight beat the record for commercial crossing of the South Atlantic although he deliberately flew into bad weather to test the capacity of his craft to withstand adverse conditions.

The French aviator landed at 8:05 P. M. GMT having crossed the South Atlantic from Dakar, Senegal, in 11 hours, 55 minutes.

His flight, at altitudes varying from about 1,600 to 11,000 feet, was accomplished at an average speed of 174 miles an hour. He planned to leave for Buenos Aires after filling his fuel tanks.

A main purpose of the flight was to ascertain the causes of repeated accidents over the South Atlantic. Cocoz made no deliberate attempt to break the record.

Welcome Prospects Of Anglo-U.S. Pact

LONDON, Nov. 21—The Sunday Times today editorially welcomed the prospects of an Anglo-United States trade treaty "on economic and political grounds alike. Concessions to the United States were likely to hit Canadian products, adding that "while we receive countervailing advantage from the United States we should have our own to give some equivalent compensation to the Canadians."

The observer expressed the opinion that the trade agreement would "pave the way to a more cordial understanding between the two chief democratic peoples."

What a sight there is in that word "smile"! It changes like a chameleon. There is a vacant smile, a cold smile, a smile of hate, a satiric smile, an affected smile; but, above all, a smile of love.—Hallburton.

REPORT STRIFE IN BARCELONA GOVERNMENT

Loyalists Minimize Trouble As Insurgents Delay Long Planned Offensive.

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Nov. 21—(AP)—The long-planned insurgent Aragon offensive today was reported delayed in the hope political strife within the Barcelona Government would provide a more opportune moment to strike.

Many insurgent troops have been withdrawn from the mud-soaked civil-war front in northern Spain. They had waited weeks for better weather to permit motorized units to strike the first swift blow against the heart of Government Spain.

Although a Government spokesman at Bayonne insisted Premier Juan Negrin's cabinet was "stronger than ever," insurgent reports that political trouble threatened at Barcelona were echoed in other Government quarters.

Some Government supporters said Defence Minister Indalecio Prieto had succeeded in stripping ousted Premier Francisco Largo Caballero of his leadership of the Anarcho-Syndicalist Labor Unions. They insisted, however, behind-the-front politics had no effect on the fighting forces.

Insurgents predicted "real trouble" ahead between Prieto, who was said to be using Negrin as a figurehead, and the Communists in a struggle for control of the Government.

The Anarcho-Syndicalists demand a labor union type of government, administered by the workers of each industry. The Communists want state possession and control of industry, a strong central government with the unions and syndicates subordinate rather than ruling.

A terse insurgent communique from Salamanca said "nothing to report on any front." The Barcelona Defence Ministry reported only minor artillery duels and scattered rifle fire.

Faith is a daring dependence on Divine control.

If religion be anything, it must be everything.

Lord's Day morning. An interesting sermon on Genesis 50:26 was preached entitled, "An Egyptian Mummy's Message." Joseph was embalmed and his body laid out for the Israelites and Egyptians both to look at. This was a messenger of death but brought comfort because it spoke of the hope of the resurrection. Joseph had imbibed some of the Egyptian superstition concerning the dead. In their thinking God was hovering over the body and at some time he would inhabit it. The message of the mummy speaks of immortality and Christ a greater than Joseph said because "I live you shall live also."

The evening sermon was a dynamic message on "The Revolutionary Commandment" which was based on the text John 13:34. "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another as I have loved you, that ye also love one another."

Is it any wonder that the new Christians were spoken despitefully of and accused of crimes and vices? This new love filled their hearts and made them flaming evangelists, a celestial fire filled their hearts and drove them out to conquer a crumbling Roman Empire. Each crumbling segment was filled with life because the Christians multiplied and filled all positions.

What the world needs today is not armaments but a Christ love. We have tried force and that has failed. Many say the Sermon on the Mount is idealistic and is not practical. It has never been tried. This new commandment is the heart of that sermon. May this Church and each one be filled with God's divine love.

The morning Anthem was "The Heart of God" and the evening Anthem, "Thou Knowest Lord was sung by the choir with Mr. Eric MacGregor.

THE SALVATION ARMY

At the morning holiness meeting Adj. Lynch took as his text Luke 9 chap. 56 verse—"The son of man is not come to destroy men's lives but to save them." His gospel is one of love—of uplift, of recovery, of remaking. So his followers should by keeping in touch with Him, reach out a helping hand to those who are drifting downward.

At 2 o'clock a meeting was held at the Infirmary which was enjoyed by all.

At 7 Mrs. Adj. Lynch spoke from Jeremiah 8th Chap., 20th verse—"The harvest is past—The summer is ended and We are not saved."

Procrastination is the thief of time. Especially is this true in the

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

The words of the prophet Isaiah "lengthen thy cords and strengthen thy stakes," served as a text for the morning sermon at Trinity on "Extension and Security" by Rev. Hugh Miller.

Customs suggest figures of speech. Nomadic tribes lived in tents. The larger the tents, the longer the cords and stronger the stakes. The figure of speech is a parable of life with extension, there must necessarily be adequate security. This applies both to nations and individuals. One of the criticisms made against our age is that it has over-expanded in material and scientific knowledge and neglected the moral and spiritual security. Freedom is regarded as deliverance from external restraints without the development of self-control. Both the individual and the church can safely expand when the security of faith, love and service are secured and kept. There is no substitute for God.

"What place do we give Jesus Christ?" was the subject of the evening sermon. It is answered in the letter of St. Paul to the Church at Colossae—"That in all things He might have the pre-eminence." Christ is the image of God, the beginning, the first born from the dead. Something, someone must be given first place; that we glory in and serve. Christ is admired, ennobled and even patronized. His appeal is for first place in every life as Savior that in all things, in all relationships He may have the pre-eminence.

Music for the day included an anthem "The Lord Is My Shepherd" sung at the morning service. In the evening the choir sang "O Taste and See" by Sir John Goss. A large choir was in attendance at both services.

LAUNCH DESTROYER FOR RUSSIA

LEGHORN, Italy, Nov. 21—(AP)—The 3,000-ton destroyer Tashkent, being built here for the Soviet Union, was launched today.

The Italian flag waved from the stern, and a priest blessed the vessel as it slipped into the water.

The love of Heaven makes one heavenly.
