present generation and those to come. In closing he hoped that cloudless skies and prosperous days would greet the Exhibition Association but what ever came he hoped they would meet it with fortitude and patience. Premier Arsenault also dwelt on the reassuring war news and said there was reason to hope that when they met next year that the forces of despotism would be overthrown and peace reigning. The Premier said he was pleased the management had not been discouraged by the action of the Government in not giving a grant. They had grappled with the situation in man-fashion and shown that an enterprise can be a success without being bolstered up by the Government. He hoped when the present situation is relieved that the usual grant would be given.

U. S. Consul Pierce gave a splendid address teeming with the fervor of patriotism. Space unfortunately will not permit of a report of it and the splendid address which followed from the Mayor, Hon. J. M. McKinnon, Rev. Dr. Gauthier and Mr. S. A. McDonald. All were listened to with much interest and their remarks were heartily applauded.

THE HORSE RACES

The horse races yesterday created much interest and in all heats were excellent contests of speed. Lack of space prevents any more than the summary in this issue. Mr. Power of Halifax was the starter and gave eminent satisfaction.

UNIQUE EXHIBIT OF LIVE STOCK BRANCH

Increased consumption is the subject of the egg and poultry exhibit of the Live Stock Branch, Department of Agriculture at the Exhibition. This subject was chosen with the view of impressing upon consumers the national and patriotic service they can perform by using more eggs and poultry as substitutes for other meats now required for export to Europe.

The exhibit emphasizes ways and means in which the various egg dishes can be prepared and illustrates graphically and attractively by means of pictures and models a number of different egg dishes. This display in itself is highly educational, but it remains for the particularly efficient imitations of roasted chickens, ducks and turkey to make the strongest appeal to the individual in the way of something good to eat.

These models are displayed in show cases, and have as their setting an appropriately draped booth which forms a background for five large paintings. The outer scene on the left is a breakfast scene, the family seated at the table and "Commencing the Day-Well" with a large ration of eggs. Balancing this on the extreme right is the dinner scene with "Expectations Satisfied" as the result of the prospects for a full meal of appetizing and well cooked chicken.

Production is not lost sight of, and the central painting entitled "Production-Health-Profits" is an excellent reproduction and typical of rural Canada and illustrates poultry keeping as it really is, an attractive occupation, and one in which the keeper of the poultry is doing her bit towards winning the war, by producing more food, and further doing it in a way that brings health and profit in close attendance upon her patriotism.

This exhibit is representative of one phase of the progressive agricultural policy authorized by the Dominion Minister of Agriculture, The Honorable T. A. Crerar. It is presented under the direction of the Dominion Live Stock Commissioner, Mr. H. S. Arkell, and Mr. W. A. Brown, Chief of the Poultry Division; and was prepared under the immediate supervision of Mr. Ernest Rhoades.
