St. Peter's W. A.

After a most successful season's work the Senior branch of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Peter's Cathedral held their closing meeting on Wednesday afternoon in the Guild Room. There was a large attendance of members, some of whom brought interested friends. After the singing of a hymn Canon Malone opened the meeting with prayers and also made a few kind and complimentary remarks about the work of the W. A.

The opportunity was taken of making a presentation to Mrs. Chester Acorn, who in the near future is leaving Charlottetown to join her husband in Detroit.

Mrs. Acorn has for many years been a most valuable worker in the W. A., and was for some time Recording Secretary of St. Peter's branch. Mrs. W. F. Tidmarsh read an address which expressed the regret of the members at Mrs. Acorn's departure and also their good wishes to her in her future home. The President, Mrs. Simpson, on behalf of the branch, presented Mrs. Acorn with a leather travelling bag.

During tea the Dress work, consisting of an outfit of well-made clothing, bedding and other useful articles was on exhibition and was much admired. Great interest was taken also in the work done by the Girls Branch—a number of neatly made garments for Indian children.

All of the work will go to the Gordon Indian Boarding School in the Diocese of Qu'Appelle, Saskatchewan. This school was recently destroyed by fire.

A Musical Triumph
Choral Production On Tuesday Next.

On Tuesday night next in Trinity United Church there will be presented by the United Choirs of the First Baptist and Trinity United Churches Haydn's Oratorio, The Creation. This is the first time this famous musical masterpiece has been sung by local talent. For four months the work has been in preparation and through willing and arduous endeavor by seventy voices the wonderful melodies of The Creation are now available to the music-lovers of the city.

It is expected that the big auditorium of the Trinity Church will be filled to capacity on Tuesday night next. Many enquiries are coming from outside towns and it is believed that numerous auto parties will be present from points east and west.

The production will be under the distinguished patronage of His Honor Lieut.-Governor Hertz and Mrs. Hertz, and His Worship Mayor Yeo and Mrs. Yeo. Leading popular vocalists will be heard in solo numbers, and it is pleasing to state that Miss Clara Graham will return for the presentation.

Nearly $210,000 worth of toys were sent from the United States to Mexico last year.

O'BRIEN DENIES THEFT—Joe O'Brien a well known character throughout the city was arrested on Wednesday charged with stealing $100.00 from the office of McDonald and McPhee in the Riley Building. On being arrested he confessed to the police that he "picked" the lock of the door, and on finding the safe open, extracted the money. Yesterday morning he said the cash was hidden on one of the wharves. Officer Biggar took Joe with him to the spot indicated, but no money was found. On returning to the station he admitted he lied, but further questioning at the time failed to get anything more out of him. Later yesterday morning the accused denied having anything to do with the robbery, neither in McDonald and McPhee's office or the law office of Mr. G. R. Holman, which was also broken into the same morning.

MALCOLM LAMONT

Entered into his eternal rest, at his residence in Dundee, on the 4th of December, 1928, Malcolm Lamont, a well known citizen of Orwell, P. E. Island. He was born 82 years ago in Lyndale, the eldest son of Ewen Lamont, lay preacher and hymn-writer. Malcolm saw Lyndale and surrounding districts, a young, struggling colony of settlers from the Highlands of Scotland still in the midst of clearing away the primeval forest. He belonged to a generation that witnessed changes, in many spheres of life, such as no age has seen through all the Christian era.

Malcolm Lamont's rule of life from boyhood to the end was Michal's motto: "Do justly, love mercy and walk humbly with thy God." He was one of the many trophies of grace that bore testimony to the divine power of "Old Minister MacDonald's" revivals. It is surely a unique tribute to that remarkable evangelist's memory that for nearly a century, obituaries in the public press, from time to time, continued to record that this, and that departed one, who kept the faith and died in the blessed hope, was a convert under his ministry. A very few years hence the last of those interesting converts shall have passed from the earth.

Mr. Lamont occasionally wielded the rhymster's pen—once at least with considerable success, when he translated a hymn that is still sung in MacDonaldite meetings: "As the end of my day In this body of clay, As my time of departure nears me There will pass from my tongue To the ears of the young, Timely words if you choose to hear me."

Deceased was an eager student of scripture: and though of a retiring disposition, was always ready when challenged to contend earnestly for the faith once for all delivered to the saints.

It was a great comfort to his wife and family that in his last illness, his niece, a trained nurse, tenderly ministered to his needs. To her he whispered his last testimony: "It is good to be so near home; to depart and be with Christ is far better."

Mr. Lamont leaves besides his sorrowing widow a son John in New York and daughters Mrs. A. A. McLeod, Ugg; Mrs. L. D. McPherson, Ugg and Mrs. David Compton Charlottetown.

The funeral service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. E. McDougall, B. D., assisted by Rev. Mr. Pierce who conducted the service at the grave at Orwell Head Cemetery.

MET FRIENDS FROM ISLAND ON U. S. TRIP

Capt. T. G. and Mrs. Taylor Have Returned From Enjoyable Visit to Western States.

Capt. T. G. and Mrs. Taylor, Weymouth Street, arrived home Wednesday night after a most enjoyable and interesting four months visit to Miami, Florida and many other American cities.

Leaving here on January 15th they first called at Boston for a few days, looking around and renewing old acquaintances, before proceeding to New York, where they found the weather about the same as in Charlottetown. After a short visit in New York they took a fast train for Miami making the 1700 mile trip in 33 hours. The temperature in Miami was 70 degrees on their arrival, and when they left it was 84.

While in Miami, Captain Taylor attended the big prize fight staged on the beach between Jack Sharkey and "Young" Stribling, at which approximately 43,000 people were present.

There are no industries in Miami, although considerable building work is going on along the beach, and in the city a sixteen storey Court House is under construction. The population is 120,000 and everybody seems prosperous. The Captain was much impressed with three beautiful causeways spanning Biscay Bay, a distance of three and a half miles.

Leaving Miami, Captain and Mrs. Taylor took a steamer to Norfolk, Virginia, calling at Jacksonville on the way. From Norfolk, they proceeded to Baltimore and thence to Washington. During this time the temperature hovered around the 33 mark, the highest temperature recorded in 58 years. While in Washington Captain Taylor met a gentleman who had just come from Alaska and who reported ideal weather conditions there.

Many Islanders were met on the trip, including Mr. Joseph McCarey and family who are now residing in Baltimore. Mr. McCarey and family are enjoying the best of health and like their new surroundings very much. Speaking of Baltimore, Capt. Taylor remarked that when he was running to that port in 1879 the population was 200,000, but it now boasts of 600,000 and is still growing. From this city Captain and Mrs. Taylor went to South Bend, Indiana, where they spent an enjoyable time with their daughter, who is married there. The Studebaker people, he said, have a plant in this city employing 16,000. After a very pleasant stay they proceeded to Chicago, one thing which impressed the Captain very much while passing through the small towns of seven and eight thousand population was the many electric signals on the intersections of the various streets, and the wonderful lighting system of the towns in general.

Asked as to weather conditions in some of the eastern states visited, Capt. Taylor replied that, spring was somewhat earlier and that farmers were busy on the land. He thought that the Island farmers were far superior in every way and if we had the roads there would be no stopping us. As it is he met hundreds of people who asked about Prince Edward Island and how to get there. Speaking about the tourist traffic, Captain Taylor stated that busses are running continuously from Montreal to Miami; from New York to Los Angeles, Calif., and from South Bend, Ind., to Chicago. These busses are always filled with passengers. While in South Bend Capt. and Mrs. Taylor met Dr. Walsh, formerly of Summerside and Dr. Moore who left here over thirty years ago. They are among the leading citizens of that city.

In Chicago, he was very much surprised and amused to see the Santa Maria, which called at this port some years ago, drifting about in Jackson Park. During all his journey Capt. Taylor found the trains no more comfortable than our own. He also spoke very highly of the many Prince Edward Islanders and Nova Scotians he met, who were always ready with the "glad pleased to welcome" and only too pleased to do everything in their power to make things pleasant and enjoyable.

Farmers of Denmark, who have had almost continuous trouble since the World war, are rejoicing over high prices for the products of the last harvest.

Maynard Scores Another Hit With "Lawless Legion"

SPECTACLE ADDED TO THRILLS. ROMANCE AND COMEDY IN NEW PICTURE.

"The Lawless Legion," Ken Maynard's latest starring vehicle (western) which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre, is a fast, concise well told story with just the right amount of romance, thrills and drama to make it a typical Maynard and the kind that has moved this star into the high position he holds today.

The story deals with a huge cattle drive in which Ken and his horse Tarzan are entrusted with the job of driving them from Texas to the border. This tremendous herd of cattle represents the combined stock of an entire community who find it necessary to seek other grazing lands because of a continued drought.

The picture opens with Ken in jail where he has been put for disturbing the peace but as soon as he starts on the trail with between eight and ten thousand bovines to chaperon the fun begins.

"The Lawless Legion" derives its name from the band of organized thieves who not only endeavor to steal the herd, but do it and at the same time ruin Ken's reputation and he only girl.

It is then up to him to get them back which he does, but not until after tremendous odds.

A very capable cast is Nora Lane who plays the feminine role, Paul Hurst and J. P. McGowan, the two arch villains are very good. Frank Rice and Howard Truesdell are seen to advantage. However the entire picture belongs to Ken and Tarzan, and when they are on the screen, one hasn't time for much of any thing else.

Autos Cause Traffic Jam
With the rapid increase of automobiles, Fochow, China, has a serious traffic problem. In most of the 6 miles of streets there is not sufficient room for even two rickshaws to pass with ease, two automobiles cannot pass, and frequently when a motor car approaches, ricksha passengers are compelled to alight, and the rickshaws carried off the roadway. Some of the thoroughfares are being widened to 48 feet, but the majority are still too narrow to accommodate the traffic.

Woman Scales Zealand Alps
Mount Teichelmann, which is more than 10,000 feet high, and the only peak in the Southern Alps of New Zealand which had not been scaled, was recently conquered by a woman. She is Miss Kate Gardner of England. She was accompanied by H. E. L. Porter, an English Alpinist. Porter declares that the views of Mounts Tasman and Cook from the summit of Mount Teichelmann "took one's breath away."

First British Flyer Found
The first British subject to make the first flight in a heavier-than-air machine in the British Isles has just been determined by a committee of three, appointed by the Royal Aero Club. It was Col. J. T. C. Moore-Brabazon, M. P. The flight was made at some time between May 30 and April 2, 1909. The airplane rose 50 to 80 feet, flew for a quarter to half a mile, and in turning, crashed, with no injury to the pilot, says the committee's report.
