

Mr. T. Pott Says:

I'll number tea among the good and pleasant gifts that come. From Him who made the world and gave the wild things each its home I'll use it as one item in His glorious ministrations for a thousand years and for my cup of Tea

And Sydney Smith said "Thank God for Tea! What would the world do without tea? How did it exist? I am glad I was not born before tea"

By the way, have you tried MORSE'S FINE DAR JEELING? The last word in good tea

$1.00 per pound package. 50 cents the half pound

Central Guardian

This column is reserved for news of local interest but advertising of a new venture may be inserted at a word strictly payable in advance.

CONFEDERATION LIFE INSURANCE. L-6798-7-12-312.

CITY CHAMPIONSHIP Basketball final game, Navy vs. H-Y Grads, tonight, 8.30, Holy Name Gym. Admission 10c. L-6041

POLICE COURT—At the Police Court yesterday a man charged with obtaining money under false pretences was sentenced to thirty days in jail. An adjourned case was further adjourned until the 25th.

BRANT GETTING READY FOR SEASON'S WORK—Mr. H. L. MacDonald, chief engineer of the C.G.S. Brant and his staff are aboard ship busy getting ready for the opening of navigation.

CITY CHAMPIONSHIP Basketball final game, Navy vs. H-Y Grads, tonight, 8.30, Holy Name Gym. Admission 10c. L-6041

TWO MEN ARRESTED—Two men were arrested yesterday afternoon in connection with the theft of paint from the C. N. R. warehouse recently. They will appear in Court this morning.

EASTER GUEST—Mr. Scott Coffey, assistant manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Alberton, was the welcome guest to dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Murray, Esplanade, on the Easter Monday holiday.

CORRECTION—In the report of the election of officers of the P. E. I. Teachers' Federation, the name of the vice president should have read, Mr. Alfred J. Murray, B. A. Bradabane, not Alexander Murray, O'Leary, as reported.

FIRE NEAR TYNE VALLEY—A house, property of Cecil Bell of Springhill near Tyne Valley, was burned to the ground Monday night. The fire started in the kitchen and spread to the main living room. Mr. Bell had been moving it near the roadside for the night awaiting the assistance of men and horses to pull it further. The blaze was noticed around 11 o'clock, too late to save the building.

FUNERAL THURSDAY—The remains of the late Mrs. Thomas Collins, whose death occurred in St. John, N.B., arrived in the City last evening, accompanied by her son, Mr. Alfred J. Murray, B. A., of the residence of Mr. George Bell, Dorchester Street East, from whence the funeral will take place Thursday morning at 8.45 a. m. to St. C. D'Amant's Basilica, thence to R. C. Cemetery.

RELATIVES LOCATED—Chief of Police A. Birtwhistle is in receipt of a communication from Mrs. James E. O'Brien, St. Louis, Prince Edward Island, stating that she is a sister, and the only one of the family surviving, of the late Mr. John Mocker, who died in Winnipeg recently. His estate was turned over to the custody of the Judge of the Surrogate Court. A message was received some time ago by Chief Birtwhistle from Chief of Police George Smith, of Winnipeg, asking that an attempt be made to locate any relatives. He has since been able to locate them.

FUNERAL SERVICES—The remains of Mrs. Mary J. McMillan were taken yesterday morning from St. Dunstan's Basilica, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Eugene Murray. The pall bearers were Messrs. Otto Orne, James Currie, E. B. Fleming and H. C. Brown. At the conclusion of the services the body rested at the Funeral Parlors until the afternoon when the funeral was held at the railway station, the remains being forwarded to Vernon, B.C., where interment took place.

SOCIALLY ENJOYED—A most enjoyable and largely attended congregational social was held in the hall Monday evening. Contests and games were entered into with refreshments and entertainment. The successful function was presided over by Rev. Carlyle Webster. The following programme was rendered: Vocal solo, Mr. Harry Oraswell, Vocal duet, Misses Lorena Sempel and Claire McMillan; Male quartet, Messrs. Crawley, McLeod, McKenzie and McDougall; Reading, E. A. McMillan; Vocal solo, Mr. Peter Creighton; Vocal duet, Rev. C. Webster and Mrs. Webster; Vocal solo, Mrs. Arthur Roper; God Save the King. The choir of Mrs. P. A. Thompson.

FARM SEEDS at Lowest Prices

Oats, Wheat, Barley, Buckwheat, Peas, Vetches, Red Clover, Alsike, Timothy, Mangel Turnip, also large stock of all kinds Vegetable Seeds and Flower Seeds.

CASH and CARRY STORES

Great George Street

Jubilee Celebration Arrangement

(Continued from Page 1)

of Col. U. G. Dawson and will include three bands, the Legion Band, the Pipe Band of the Highland Regiment and the Holy Name Band. In addition to the fraternal societies the Militia and Cadets, the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides have been asked to take part. Invitations have also been sent to the registered nurses and the children of the orphanages to take part.

The procession will start from Queen Street at half past two o'clock. At the Victoria Park the following provisional program has been arranged:

Upon the arrival of His Honor the Lieut.-Governor at three o'clock the band will play the National Anthem and an artillery salute will be given. The assembled crowd will then sing "O Canada." Addresses will be given by His Honor the Lieut.-Governor, Premier MacMillan and His Worship Mayor Kennedy, M. B. E. The presentation of the King's Jubilee Medals, to those who have been awarded, will then be made by His Honor the Lieut.-Governor. The proceedings will terminate with the singing of the National Anthem. The program, it is anticipated, will occupy three quarters of an hour.

Vehicular traffic will be excluded from Victoria Park during the celebration. A grand stand will be erected in the vicinity of the Keeper's House, and a number of benches will be placed in the vicinity of Queen Square and the City Squares and the ordinance stores will be placed in front of the stand. In order to facilitate the hearing of the speeches Holman's Sound System will be utilized in the park and it was decided to ascertain what the cost will be to have the proceedings broadcast. His Worship has undertaken to arrange for the service of the City Police for point duty along the routes and at the park.

It was decided to have a display of fireworks in the evening, commencing at 9 o'clock, the city firemen to supervise the display.

Regarding the display of bonfires, it was decided that the Boy Scouts should be responsible for and light these at four different points in the Province, in accordance with the arrangements made throughout the rest of Canada.

Regarding the distribution of photographs of their Majesties the King and Queen, it was decided to defer this until Empire Day, May 23rd so that it could be done in school. His Honor expressed his intention of giving a state ball on May 6.

The committee in charge of the arrangements consists in addition to His Honor, the Lieut.-Governor and Mr. Stewart, of the following representatives: The Hon. Premier MacMillan, G. S. Sharp, H. F. MacPhee, C. C. Thomas, MacNutt, His Worship Mayor Kennedy of Charlottetown, Mr. H. H. Shaw, City Solicitor, Col. U. G. Dawson, Col. G. Elliot Full, Mr. Geo. P. Nicholson, City Clerk, J. O. Hyndman, President Boy Scouts Association, J. J. Morris, Provincial Commissioner of the Scouts Association, Mr. Wm. Warren, Field Commissioner Boy Scouts Association, Mr. T. E. McNutt, Secretary Charlottetown School Board, Mr. M. Alban Farmer, Private Secretary to His Honor.

OLD CHUM SMOKING TOBACCO

20 VIRGINIA FLAKE CUT

Richie's Co.

Profit by the experience of three generations of Canadian smokers and make Old Chum your tobacco. It is cut coarse for the pipe and cut fine for cigarettes—and sells at a price never before equalled for tobacco of such quality.

Trinity United Church GIRL GUIDE NEWS

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 24

8.15 P. M.—Mission Band in the Social Hall.

9.30 P. M.—Heartz Hall—Evening Auxiliary Thank Offering.

8.30 P. M.—Social Hall—Reception to New Members.

2nd Charlottetown Company

Wednesday, April 17. This Company took part in the Girls and Boys Hobby Exhibition held in the Y.M.C.A. building, along with other Companies and Packs in the City, giving a display of first-aid and bandaging at a "train wreck." Ten of the younger Guides of the Company made up the two trains and when the crash occurred ten of the older Guides rushed out, using their ties for the purpose, demonstrated the various uses of the triangular bandage on their "patients." Hand sets were then made and the "patients" were quickly carried off the scene. This Company was assisted in this demonstration by six members of the 1st Charlottetown Company who showed how to form a stretcher of broom sticks and coats, and proved its practicability by carrying off one of our badly injured "patients."

Other demonstrations included Morse signalling by the 3rd Charlottetown Company; a game, "The King's Jelly," by the 1st Charlottetown Company; the grand salute and a musical game by the Brownies Packs and a March Past and campfire songing by all Companies. We are indeed grateful to the Y.M.C.A. for this opportunity of bringing before the public a little of the aims and program of this world-wide movement of ours.

Each Patrol Leader has been given instructions regarding the sale of the cake at Messrs. Moore & McLeod's store next Saturday and will pass them on to her patrol before Friday's meeting.

RESERVE MAY 2ND for Charlottetown Tennis Club Novelty Dance. L-6045

WANT A LAUGH? See "Aunt Emma Sees It Through," in Central Christian Schoolroom, Tuesday night, April 30th. L-6044

EASTER MEETING—A very pleasant afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. A. B. Sellar, Winsloe, on Easter Monday, when the W.M.S. of South Winsloe, along with the ladies of the church, a program of Easter readings, recitations and music was given. A special offering for W. M. S. work was taken. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the ladies of the W. M. S.

PROGRESSIVE CLUB—The regular meeting of the Charlottetown Progressive Club was held in the commodious Lodge room of the Knights of Pythias. The membership of the club has grown to such an extent that the larger room was a necessity. A point of interest to which the Club devoted some time was the discussing of the contract that the City had in regard to the city hall. It was felt that the City Council should have made ample provisions for the use of the Strand or City Hall by the citizens so that speakers and other programs could be put on there, in what should be a public auditorium, and that the building should be at the service of any group of citizens at not more than operating cost.

Fine Tribute

That responsible government had been established in the Maritimes without rioting, tumult or sacrifice of a single life was a fine tribute to early statesmen, declared the Secretary of State, who quoted Howe's My pride and hope is that we shall make Nova Scotia, by her loyalty, intelligence and spirit, as well as a normal school for British North America and a wholesome and bright example to all our sister colonies.

In an appeal to Maritime youth the speaker expressed hope it "may ever be versed in the inspiring history and steeped in the splendor of tradition of these three provinces of the sea, and that the remarkable influence upon the public opinion of this Dominion which, in times past, has been exercised by such notable public men as Howe, Archibald, Tilley and Tupper, and later, by Thompson and Pilding, and not forgetting Borden, the foremost of those still living, may continue to be maintained throughout succeeding generations by their youthful successors."

Of Loyalist Descent

An estimate in 1891, said Mr. Cahlan, was that loyalist descendants numbered more than half a million in the Maritime Provinces and more than 700,000 in all Canada.

Early recollections were numerous in Mr. Cahlan's address. On the first day of the Canadian confederation he was taken by his father to hear Joseph Howe speak at Yarmouth. R. J. Uniacke, one of the Cumberland rebels of 1776, had a public career of 46 years as an assemblyman, speaker and member of parliament. Loyalist immigrant from Rhode Island, was a judge for 53 years and Chief Justice of Nova Scotia for 27 years. Other names, recalled by words in his youth, were household names. He also listed many distinguished graduates of Maritime universities.

Referring briefly to the King's Silver Jubilee Anniversary, the Secretary of the Canadian confederation in the Maritimes might be expressed in the words of one of Howe's letters to Sir John Russell:

"I have ever held, my lord, and still hold to the belief, that the population of British North America are sincerely attached to the parent state. That they are proud of their origin, deeply interested in the integrity of the Empire and not anxious for the establishment here of any other form of government here than that which you enjoy at home. . . . Why should we desire a severance of old ties that are more honorable than any new ones we can form?"

MAKES APPEAL

(Continued from Page 1)

continued survival of United Kingdom democratic institutions and forms of government, said Mr. Cahlan. "In that land the beacon light of personal liberty is still undimmed, and there men and women may yet abide in confidence under laws of their own making."

He hoped that people of the Maritime Provinces, "who have been nurtured in the traditions and practices of British constitutional government, may never be induced to accept any form of arbitrary government which would appear to be developing so rapidly throughout the world, and which seem to me to be utter negations of all the ideas of personal liberty that our fathers and we, as their successors, have striven to maintain during the century which has elapsed since Joseph Howe commenced his active political life in this city."

He expressed the further hope that the youth of the Maritimes, spurred by "splendid tradition," would continue to "exercise a potent influence upon the development of the intellectual and political life of the most important of His Majesty's dominions."

Found Right Man Then Wedded Him

(By The Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, April 23—Rebecca West, the English author, is spending five weeks in this country. This is Miss West's first visit in several years. She made a shopping tour in New York, and on her return expressed surprise that nobody had prepared her for the magnificence of Rockefeller Centre. "Her observation of London and Paris, with the steady cheapening of the stores, and the mad on display, made the window displays on Fifth Avenue seem altogether magnificent," one paper said.

As tea was brought, Miss West poured while saying that she seldom had tea at home but had to come to America for it. She was somewhat concerned, however, that tea in the United States is served with lemon or cream, never milk.

Once she started to say something about the bad manners of the quarantine and had swarmed into her room asking highly personal questions, but she laughed it off as simply amusing. "They wanted to know if I were happily married to my husband and, if so, why it was he didn't come with me on this trip," she said. "But it was all in good spirit."

She rather wondered that "she had been branded a renegade" because she had married a London banker, Henry Maxwell Andrews, in 1930, after having gallantly flown the flag of feminism for many years and spoken disparagingly of British husbands as "perfect nuisances."

"I merely found the right one," she said. "It is very exciting to be married to a banker, these days."

The suggestion was made that some thoughtful American public unduly sensitive to the criticisms of British author lecturers who are here, perhaps, Priestley, who is a perfectly magnificent playwright, but whose novels, like "The Good Companions," are so hearty they hurt, I do think it should be considered just what Priestley's background is. He is a simple, but appears snooty simply because he is a Yorkshireman, Yorkshire is a part of the country where I go

SAVE THE POKER HANDS

Shipping Construction On Increase

(C.F. Hava sby Guardian's Special Wire)

GENEVA, April 23—An increase of more than 1,000,000 tons in shipping under construction in Germany more than doubling the amount, is feature of the League of Nations' financial and economic review for the first quarter of 1935, compared with the same period of 1934.

In March of last year, the Reich was building 676,000 tons. The number rose to 1,208,000 six months later, and to 1,948,000 tons in March of this year.

Great Britain's construction in the same period increased from 4,810,000 to 5,580,000 and increases were also shown by France, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and the Netherlands. But while Germany's increase was well over 100 per cent, the combined increase of world tonnage in construction was only 18 per cent.

Industrial production indices show increases for Canada, Chile, Denmark, Italy and Norway. France's indices are unchanged and the Netherlands are slightly lower.

The Allan shaft last week will open here next Monday afternoon.

Rod G. McKay, town solicitor for New Glasgow and special examiner into mine accidents, will attempt to determine the cause of the blast that roared through the mine's 1,500 foot level last Tuesday and entombed the seven miners.

Witnesses expected to testify include D. H. McLean, resident superintendent of the Acadia Coal Company; Mine Manager A. H. Baudoux, Underground Manager George Fraser and workers on the 1,500 foot level when the explosion trapped the doomed miners.

Low Railway Fares King's Jubilee

In connection with the forthcoming celebrations to commemorate the twenty-fifth anniversary of His Majesty's accession to the throne of the British Empire on Monday, May 6th, the railways of Canada are offering the public low holiday fares for the long week-end on this occasion, with a generous time allowance for the return movement, it was announced today by C. P. Riddell, Chairman, Canadian Passenger Association.

Railway fares will be on the basis of single first class fare and one quarter for the round trip good between all stations in Canada for departure from 12 o'clock noon Friday, May 3, to 2 p. m. Monday, May 6. Passengers may leave destination as late as midnight of Tuesday, May 7, thus providing a maximum of four and a half days in which to enjoy an outing associated with this unique event in the history of the Empire and in the life of the Sovereign.

In view of the Dominion-wide character of the celebrations which will take place at this time and the favorable spring period for travelling, the railways anticipate a heavy flow of passenger traffic throughout the Dominion, particularly to the large centres where impressive ceremonies will be held and other Jubilee activities take place.

In preparation for this traffic, the railways are commencing to marshal extra equipment in order that the travelling public may be fully accommodated.

Rubber From Coal And Oil Produced

(By Howard W. Blakeslee, Associated Press Science Editor)

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

NEW YORK, April 23—Rubber from coal and oil, in limitless quantities, is ready when need arises. The formula, already developed in the Du Pont laboratories, was reported to the American Chemical Society tonight by E. R. Bridgewater, the company's rubber chemicals division.

This coal and oil rubber will be the same artificial rubber now made from the gas acetylene—a rubber that in some ways surpasses real rubber, and that has already been used in automobile tires equal in all respects to actual rubber.

Dr. Bridgewater's disclosure came during a tribute to Father Julius A. Nieuland of Notre Dame, whose acetylene discoveries led to the present artificial rubber. He said he practically unlimited domestic reserves of coal and limestone, "for the production of acetylene, and of salt for hydrogen chloride, obviously it will be possible."

Ontario Cabinet Shake-up Rumors Denied

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, April 23—The only shake-up in the Ontario Cabinet will be with respect to the Labor portfolio, Premier Mitchell Hepburn said today, and that will take place only if Attorney-General A. W. Ross, who is also Minister of Labor, feels he is overworked.

Rumors of a shake-up were "without foundation," said Mr. Hepburn, and if the Labor portfolio is given to another minister, the action will be entirely voluntary on the part of the Attorney-General.

Should Mr. Ross give up the position of Labor Minister, it was thought likely it would pass to Minister of Welfare David Orell.

Found Right Man Then Wedded Him

(By The Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, April 23—Rebecca West, the English author, is spending five weeks in this country. This is Miss West's first visit in several years. She made a shopping tour in New York, and on her return expressed surprise that nobody had prepared her for the magnificence of Rockefeller Centre. "Her observation of London and Paris, with the steady cheapening of the stores, and the mad on display, made the window displays on Fifth Avenue seem altogether magnificent," one paper said.

As tea was brought, Miss West poured while saying that she seldom had tea at home but had to come to America for it. She was somewhat concerned, however, that tea in the United States is served with lemon or cream, never milk.

Once she started to say something about the bad manners of the quarantine and had swarmed into her room asking highly personal questions, but she laughed it off as simply amusing. "They wanted to know if I were happily married to my husband and, if so, why it was he didn't come with me on this trip," she said. "But it was all in good spirit."

She rather wondered that "she had been branded a renegade" because she had married a London banker, Henry Maxwell Andrews, in 1930, after having gallantly flown the flag of feminism for many years and spoken disparagingly of British husbands as "perfect nuisances."

"I merely found the right one," she said. "It is very exciting to be married to a banker, these days."

The suggestion was made that some thoughtful American public unduly sensitive to the criticisms of British author lecturers who are here, perhaps, Priestley, who is a perfectly magnificent playwright, but whose novels, like "The Good Companions," are so hearty they hurt, I do think it should be considered just what Priestley's background is. He is a simple, but appears snooty simply because he is a Yorkshireman, Yorkshire is a part of the country where I go

PAIR HELD FOR MURDER

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

COATCOOK, Que., April 24—A verdict holding Kenneth Brown, 30, of Milton, Vermont, and Lucien O. Morin, 26, of Barnston, Que., criminally responsible for the death of Willis Keith Baldwin, 78, was returned today by a jury at a court inquest. Murder warrants issued against the two men were then issued by Dr. Leonidas Bachand, district coroner.

Brown is being detained at St. Albans, having refused to provide extradition formalities. Proceedings to have him returned for trial in connection with the killing of the veteran former Liberal member of the Canadian Parliament will be taken by Hon. A. Taschereau by Quebec in his capacity as attorney-general.

The other accused, Morin, was principal witness at the inquest.

Card Of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Ling and family wish to thank the Nurses, Dr. Neighbors and Friends for their kindness, also those who sent flowers and letters of sympathy during their recent sad bereavement.

L-6039-4-24-11.

Card Of Thanks

I wish to extend my sincere appreciation to all who freely contributed their time and service to make the entertainment held in the Strand Theatre on Easter Monday night, such a splendid success.

I wish to especially thank the director, Mr. J. Austin Trainor and all the members of the cast for their very capable and praiseworthy performance. Also those who kindly contributed the specialties between acts.

I am very grateful to the ushers and ticket-collectors at the door for their generous aid on this occasion.

Mrs. J. J. DUFFY, President, Saint Charles Auxiliary.

PERSONALS

Mr. Harry Ballantyne, Toronto, is registered at the Canadian National Hotel.

Mr. Chester Brown, New London, returned to his home after spending the past week in Montreal.

Mr. J. T. Cummings, New Glasgow, arrived in Charlottetown last evening. He is registered at the Canadian National Hotel.

Miss Margaret Black and visiting college friends have returned to Mt. Allison University, after spending the Easter holidays in the City.

The many friends of Mr. James Callaghan, who underwent a serious operation at the Prince Edward Island Hospital recently, will be pleased to learn that he is making a satisfactory recovery.

Do not allow worms to sap the vitality of your children. If not attended to, worms may work irreparable harm to the constitution of the infant. The little sufferers cannot voice their ailment, but there are many signs by which mothers are made aware that a dose of Miller's Worm Powder is necessary. These powders act quickly and will expel worms from the system without any inconvenience to the child.

RALSTON

(Continued from Page 1)

ley (Picout) and H. B. Short (Digby-Annapolis); Postmaster General Arthur (Hon. J. D. Chaplin (Lincoln) and Dr. Peter McGibbon (Muskooka-Ontario). R. K. Smith (Cons. Cumberland) is mentioned for the post of deputy Minister of Marine.

Other likely re-appointments are listed by the Ottawa newspapers as follows: Hon. J. A. Macdonald, (Cons. Kings); W. G. Ernst (Cons. Wentworth); Hon. Robert Rogers (Cons. Winnieog South); Thomas Hay (Cons. Selkirk); Percy Day (Cons. Athabasca) and former speaker, George Black (Cons. Yukon).

Our Mutual Benefit Plan

With all Formalments booked now, now until May 1st we offer

Two Free Finger Waves

or one Hot Oil Shampoo with one Finger Wave.

YOU benefit by getting your Permanent before the rush season and by getting the additional free services mentioned above.

We benefit by being able to give you your appointment now, thereby avoiding mutual disappointment later.

PHONE 1329

PERCY GULLISON, Hair Stylist

Elite Beauty Salon

176 Great George Street

N.D. MacLean

UNDERTAKER

EMBALMER

Charlottetown and North Wilshire Phone 149

Too Late Too Clasyfy

LOST - SATURDAY BETWEEN Burrows Grocery and Wright's Bridge's black handbag. Mrs. John Andrew, East Royalty. L-6031 L-6042

BISHOP KELLEY'S NEW BOOK

"Blood-drenched Altars" is the title of a voluminous work, brilliantly written and closely documented, which has just been issued by a Milwaukee publishing firm and which depicts, from the Catholic viewpoint, the past and present of the Mexican Government's war on the Reverend Francis C. Kelley, Bishop of Oklahoma City and Tulsa, a distinguished son of Prince Edward Island and a brother of Mrs. P. A. Clarkin, Mrs. J. M. Hughes, Mrs. E. J. Foley and of the late Mr. Joseph A. Kelley of this City. Bishop Kelley has first-hand knowledge of conditions in Mexico, and his new history, which bears witness to no much painstaking research, will no doubt be read with great interest throughout the English-speaking world. The work goes back to Cortes' time and the beginning of the relations between Church and State in Mexico; it traces the transformation of pagan tribes under Christianity, the revolt of the Hidalgo independence, and the subsequent bewildering sequence of revolutions with but little intermission, up till the present. It is an intensely dramatic story, written avowedly to show the heroic part played by the Church in Christianizing the Indians and in promoting their social and economic well-being.

Found Right Man Then Wedded Him

(By The Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, April 23—Rebecca West, the English author, is spending five weeks in this country. This is Miss West's first visit in several years. She made a shopping tour in New York, and on her return expressed surprise that nobody had prepared her for the magnificence of Rockefeller Centre. "Her observation of London and Paris, with the steady cheapening of the stores, and the mad on display, made the window displays on Fifth Avenue seem altogether magnificent," one paper said.

As tea was brought, Miss West poured while saying that she seldom had tea at home but had to come to America for it. She was somewhat concerned, however, that tea in the United States is served with lemon or cream, never milk.

Once she started to say something about the bad manners of the quarantine and had swarmed into her room asking highly personal questions, but she laughed it off as simply amusing. "They wanted to know if I were happily married to my husband and, if so, why it was he didn't come with me on this trip," she said. "But it was all in good spirit."

She rather wondered that "she had been branded a renegade" because she had married a London banker, Henry Maxwell Andrews, in 1930, after having gallantly flown the flag of feminism for many years and spoken disparagingly of British husbands as "perfect nuisances."

"I merely found the right one," she said. "It is very exciting to be married to a banker, these days."

The suggestion was made that some thoughtful American public unduly sensitive to the criticisms of British author lecturers who are here, perhaps, Priestley, who is a perfectly magnificent playwright, but whose novels, like "The Good Companions," are so hearty they hurt, I do think it should be considered just what Priestley's background is. He is a simple, but appears snooty simply because he is a Yorkshireman, Yorkshire is a part of the country where I go

Found Right Man Then Wedded Him

(By The Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, April 23—Rebecca West, the English author, is spending five weeks in this country. This is Miss West's first visit in several years. She made a shopping tour in New York, and on her return expressed surprise that nobody had prepared her for the magnificence of Rockefeller Centre. "Her observation of London and Paris, with the steady cheapening of the stores, and the mad on display, made the window displays on Fifth Avenue seem altogether magnificent," one paper said.

As tea was brought, Miss West poured while saying that she seldom had tea at home but had to come to America for it. She was somewhat concerned, however, that tea in the United States is served with lemon or cream, never milk.

Once she started to say something about the bad manners of the quarantine and had swarmed into her room asking highly personal questions, but she laughed it off as simply amusing. "They wanted to know if I were happily married to my husband and, if so, why it was he didn't come with me on this trip," she said. "But it was all in good spirit."

She rather wondered that "she had been branded a renegade" because she had married a London banker, Henry Maxwell Andrews, in 1930, after having gallantly flown the flag of feminism for many years and spoken disparagingly of British husbands as "perfect nuisances."

"I merely found the right one," she said. "It is very exciting to be married to a banker, these days."

The suggestion was made that some thoughtful American public unduly sensitive to the criticisms of British author lecturers who are here, perhaps, Priestley, who is a perfectly magnificent playwright, but whose novels, like "The Good Companions," are so hearty they hurt, I do think it should be considered just what Priestley's background is. He is a simple, but appears snooty simply because he is a Yorkshireman, Yorkshire is a part of the country where I go

Found Right Man Then Wedded Him

(By The Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, April 23—Rebecca West, the English author, is spending five weeks in this country. This is Miss West's first visit in several years. She made a shopping tour in New York, and on her return expressed surprise that nobody had prepared her for the magnificence of Rockefeller Centre. "Her observation of London and Paris, with the steady cheapening of the stores, and the mad on display, made the window displays on Fifth Avenue seem altogether magnificent," one paper said.

As tea was brought, Miss West poured while saying that she seldom had tea at home but had to come to America for it. She was somewhat concerned, however, that tea in the United States is served with lemon or cream, never milk.

Once she started to say something about the bad manners of the quarantine and had swarmed into her room asking highly personal questions, but she laughed it off as simply amusing. "They wanted to know if I were happily married to my husband and, if so, why it was he didn't come with me on this trip," she said. "But it was all in good spirit."

She rather wondered that "she had been branded a renegade" because she had married a London banker, Henry Maxwell Andrews, in 1930, after having gallantly flown the flag of feminism for many years and spoken disparagingly of British husbands as "perfect nuisances."

"I merely found the right one," she said. "It is very exciting to be married to a banker, these days."

The suggestion was made that some thoughtful American public unduly sensitive to the criticisms of British author lecturers who are here, perhaps, Priestley, who is a perfectly magnificent playwright, but whose novels, like "The Good Companions," are so hearty they hurt, I do think it should be considered just what Priestley's background is. He is a simple, but appears snooty simply because he is a Yorkshireman, Yorkshire is a part of the country where I go