

THE WESTERN GUARDIAN

—SHOP from Holman's Catalog

—SUMMERSIDE BUSINESS COLLEGE will re-open for the Spring term, on Wednesday, Jan. 2nd, 1924. 649-12-27-51.

—TO LET—House six rooms. Modern conveniences, Barn, Acre land adjoining if required. J. A. Brace, Summerside. 680-12-23-21.

—SERVICES ON BEDEQUE CIRCUIT—Sunday, Dec. 30th. Bedouin 11 a. m. Cape Traverse 3 p. m. Searletown 7 p. m.

—SUMMERSIDE AGENT—Mr. Byron MacDonald of the MacDonald Drug Co., is now Guardian representative in Summerside and will be pleased to receive news advertising, new and renewal subscriptions and Job-Printing. Mr. MacDonald sells the Morning Guardian at his store. His telephone No. is 12-2.

—S. B. C.—A special six months training. Courses by mail. Write J. Pogson Box 145, Summerside. 51

—SUMMERSIDE METHODIST CHURCH—Sunday, Dec. 23rd, 1923. Preacher, Rev. J. F. Denny, 11 a. m. Is the Church Justified? 2.30 p. m. Sunday School, 7 p. m. God and Mamman. Special to all business men. Monday night 11.15 p. m. Watch-night service.

—AUCTION AT KENSINGTON.—On January 2nd—Immediately after the sale at Mrs. W. C. Orr's I will sell 50 acres of land situated in Spring Valley Adjoining property of the late Martin Connick—Hugh Morrison, Kensington.—21.

Minard's Lintolac for Headache

IN MEMORIAM

MARY CAMPBELL

On December 14th, at 195 Malboro St., Boston, Mass., Mary Campbell, for 40 years a beloved and respected member of the household of Francis W. Chandler, Services at 8 Marion St., Somerville at 4 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 16th. Burial at P. E. Island.

(The above death announcement is copied from the "Boston Globe" Dec. 16th.)

Deceased was a native of North Lake, P. E. Island. She went to Boston, Mass., about 43 years ago, and (as stated above) lived with the same people for 40 years. Although her illness was short she was granted the greatest of all earthly blessings, a happy death, and fortified by the Last Sacraments of the Holy Catholic Church, which was administered by her parish Priest, and Father confessor. Her many amiable qualities of head and heart gained for her a large circle of relatives and friends to whom her sudden and unexpected death was a painful shock. It can be truly said of her that many have lost a true friend but none has lost an enemy.

Her remains accompanied from Boston by her cousin, Mrs. John A. McDonald, Miss Carrie Mullin and Miss Annie McPhee, arrived at Elmira at noon, Dec. 19th and were conveyed to the residence of J. J. Campbell, where they remained until 9.30 a. m., on the 20th, when the funeral took place to St. Columba Church. Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. R. J. McDonald P. P. who also officiated at the grave. The pallbearers were Daniel Murphy, D. A. Campbell, Joseph Harris, Stephen Keefe, Raymond McPhee and A. P. McPhee.

May her soul rest in peace.

—A GOOD RECOVERY.—Miss Daisy Mosher, Tignish, returned last night from Montreal, accompanied by her little niece, Viola Mosher, daughter of Mr. Richard Mosher, Miss Viola, who is only two and a half years old had been operated on for appendicitis and has been undergoing treatment in the Montreal General Hospital for the past ten weeks. While there she underwent three serious operations from the effects of which she made a most satisfactory convalescence. The many friends of the family will be pleased to learn that little Viola, who is a great favorite with all who know her is now on the road to complete recovery.

POOR STARVE; RICH PAY HIGH PRICES FOR CONCERTS

BERLIN, Dec. 28.—Fritz Kreisler, famous violinist, this year played to standing room only at a benefit concert in Berlin—underirable seats on the platform costing $2.00 with others in accordance.

Last year Kreisler played a similar benefit with the best box seats costing the equivalent of 7 cents. This tells in a word the difference between the Berlin of 1922 and the Berlin of 1923.

Battistini, Caruso's old rival for favor in Berlin, recently played to a crowded house at the State Opera under Den Linden for prices which averaged about $1.00 higher than Caruso ever received here. Yet the public fills the Opera when old Battistini appears—no matter what the price may be.

And across the Spree, behind the museum which was once the castle of Wilhelm II., hundreds of unemployed are at the point of starvation. It is one of the paradoxes of German life which, as one observer put it, makes everything one says about Germany true.

SHOT WOMAN TO GET HOUSE

MOSCOW, Dec. 28.—The housing shortage in Moscow is getting worse daily. It has caused a number of crimes. Recently the police arrested Ivan Barbaryov on a charge of murder. The housing shortage was the cause.

Ivan's father had owned a small house before the revolution. It had been rented since 1912. The Government made a decree that small houses could be turned back to the former owners, if they agreed to care for the houses.

Ivan told the occupants to move. They refused. The chief plea was that the occupant's mother was old and ill and he had no place to move her to.

So Ivan, he is only 18, figured that the best way to solve the problem of the sick mother who blocked the move was to remove her. So he went to the house with the son was away and shot the mother to death as she lay in bed.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most effective remedy for breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get 16 ounces—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy retail for $2.50. Keeps perfect and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

THE EASTERN GUARDIAN

—SHOP from Holman's Catalog

—EASTERN AGENT—Mr. J. W. Murdoch is now Guardian Agent in Montserrat and will be pleased to receive news items, advertising, Job Printing, new and general subscriptions. 11

—SUNDAY SERVICE.—Regular services in Montague's Church, St. Paul's, Sunday, December 30th at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Also Georgetown Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. C. E. Armstrong.

—A CHRISTMAS TREAT.—Santa Claus, fully attired paid a visit to the Montague Furnishing Co., Montague on Monday last and displayed his unlimited generosity by presenting each of the employees, with costly, suitable and very much appreciated presents. One lady employee received an extra gift in the shape of a hug from the jolly old fellow, which seems to have pleased her very much. While time forbade him to visit the employers in person he was not unmindful of them, however. While it has long been the custom of this firm to generously remember its employees at the Yuletide, the writer feels that he voices the sentiments of all the employees when he hopes that father and son may long be spared to continue the practice.—J.

—IN THE SHIPPING WORLD.—Capt. Frank Murphy returned to Montague on Monday last from New Glasgow, N. S., where his vessel, the "Argo" laid up. The river there being frozen over. Capt. Murphy had no difficulty in disposing of his cargo at good prices. Two other vessels are laid up in New Glasgow, one of these the "Sea Foam" owned in Montague. Capt. Geo. Allen has also returned from Halifax where his vessel the "Athena" was laid up. The vessel from New Glasgow arrived at Lower Montague on Friday last and is being loaded with general produce by Messrs. W. A. Poole & Co.—J.

—DEPARTURE REGRETTED.—Montague has suffered another heavy loss in the person of Miss Katherine Ross, who left on Saturday last for her home in Bridgetown, where she will spend a few days preparing to become the principal in a very important event to take place in the near future. This esteemed young lady was for a number of years a faithful and trusted employee of the Montague Furnishing Co. and during her stay here, made a host of friends who all wish for her every happiness that connubial bliss can bestow upon her. We earnestly hope that when she has clearly proven her right to the title of "Better Half," in connection with the "lucky" man, she will not forget past memories and pay us an occasional visit.—J.

—CHRISTMAS SERVICES.—For the first time in a number of years the Montague Presbyterian Church has been without its Christmas service in a large measure to the fact that this Church at present is without a regular Minister. If there is one more than another when this congregation misses the Rev. J. D. McKenzie it is at the festive season; for the Rev. gentleman was ever mindful of the young people and his appearance at the appointed time. The congregation however were not deprived of their Christmas treat, having been so fortunate as to have the Rev. Parmenas McLeod preach at both services in the Church on Sunday last. The Rev. gentleman made a splendid impression on this congregation, for it is certainly not often that they enjoy the pleasure of hearing the great importance of the birth in the manger so clearly, forcibly and eloquently depicted as on this occasion. Mr. McLeod is what is known as a self made man and had to rely mainly on his own resources to make him the man of eloquence and learning that he is today. Born and brought up in Georgetown he is well known to a number of our Montague people, and when a young man on many occasions, with his school chums, the present Premier, Stewart walked the distance between the two towns, a man of Mr. McLeod's type would be what is known as the right man in the right place for this congregation.—J.

PERSONALS

—We are very sorry to learn that Mrs. E. R. Campbell of Montague is not improving any, in fact not as well as she was a few days ago. Her recovery, however, is anxiously hoped for.—J.

—Mr. Louis Burge of St. Peter's left Friday morning on a trip to Boston, accompanied by his cousin Leonard Ryan. Mr. Burge is one of the leading potato growers of St. Peter's. Their many friends wish them a pleasant trip.

X-Ray Photographs Used By Scientists

(United Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—Pictures of mummies taken with the X-ray disclose conditions existing in the bodies of ancient Peruvians and Egyptians which otherwise would escape our knowledge: unwrapping the mummy means its destruction for purposes of accurate study. Scientists have been employed by D. C. Davis, director of the Field Museum of Natural History, co-operating with the Victor X-ray Corporation.

These pictures revealed also what had been buried with the body. For instance, various Peruvian mummy packs were found to contain glass, pottery, necklaces of metal, gold vessels, beads, clay figurines and cut bone objects.

In addition to the range of objects found in the bundles, we learn from the X-ray pictures something definite concerning the age, sex, and condition of the body of the individual buried therein," said Mr. Davis. "We are able to discover the nature of injuries received during his life, as well as determine whether the deceased was a sufferer from chronic rheumatism, tuberculosis of the lungs, caries, arthritis of various kinds, and other conditions of disease."

In the Egyptian collections the mummy of a man of the twenty-sixth dynasty was photographed in four sections, beginning at the head, and furnishes a wonderfully clear picture of the entire skeleton. Here we may expect to find fractures, pathological conditions such as bony tumors, rickets, hydrocephalus, pyorrhea and caries of the teeth, all of which have been shown in the examination of unwrapped skeletal material to have been common conditions of disease among the Egyptians of the most ancient times. The great advantage of the X-ray process in this respect is that it is possible to discern accurately these facts without injuring in any way the exhibition value of the specimens.

Mummified cats, hawks, jackals, crocodiles and gazelles, also have been pictured with very satisfactory results. In the case of the hawk, even the tail feathers are very definitely shown. The picture of the mummy of the gazelle brings out the skeleton with marvelous distinction. That of the crocodile also shows the bones still to be in their proper relative position to one another.

Further investigations are to be made upon the Egyptian material as well as upon vessels made of marble, alabaster and metal.

MAN WITH A HOBBY

(By Dominion News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 28.—When Harold Meaden, a laborer, was accused at Chichester Police Court of stealing a service book from a church it was stated that he had a mania for visiting church to ascertain what hymns and chants were to be sung at the next Sunday service.

Meaden was bound over for two years on the condition that he did not enter a church except during Divine service.

WOMAN'S LIFE OF CRIME

(By Dominion News Service)

LONDON, December, 28.—First guilty of theft at the age of 15, and now with 14 previous convictions against her, including two terms of penal servitude, a pretty, twenty-year-old woman, Elizabeth Bevan, was yesterday found guilty of stealing from a flat in Hyde Park. The woman, Elizabeth Bevan, was tastefully attired in the uniform of a nurse. She gazed round with timid glance, and nobody would have guessed for a moment that the apparently distressed prisoner had such a dark record of crime behind her. Nor would they have dreamed it possible that out of the last 22 of her 37 years she had spent not less than 14 within prison walls. There was a dramatic intervention after evidence had been heard. A Roman Catholic lady probation officer interceded on prisoner's behalf, and begged that she should be given another chance. She asked the magistrate to allow Bevan to be sent to a convent for 12 months for supervision by the sisters there. Mr. Basil Watson, the magistrate, in view of accused's past life, felt that he was unable to accede to this suggestion, and passed the maximum sentence of six months. On the present occasion Bevan had not long left a situation. She was employed for nearly a year at the Bethelheim Hospital, Lambeth. She had also held a responsible position as sister in charge of London welfare centre, where she had some 150 women under her care. It was after leaving this post that she took up residence with a friend, a Mrs. Beatrice Egerton, at her flat in Oxford-terrace. Here she lived for some weeks, until Mrs. Egerton was unfortunately taken ill and had to go into a nursing home. It was then that Bevan's old habits reasserted themselves and again she lapsed into her life of crime. In order to obtain money on which to live, she took articles belonging to the woman who had befriended her, and commenced pawning them. In this way she got rid of goods to the value of $300. When Mrs. Egerton recovered sufficiently to return home, she found that Bevan had absconded, and the only trace that she could find of her missing property was 17 pawn-tickets relating to it.

The police were called in, and Bevan was eventually tracked to a place at Gerrard's Cross, where she had obtained a situation as nurse to a child and was giving every satisfaction. There was no connection with this theft, for, during the time she had been living with Mrs. Egerton, Bevan had been introduced to a young man in a large way of business in the West End, who had fallen in love with her and proposed marriage. Needless to say, she knew nothing of the previous history of the woman, and when she was arrested he was greatly shocked and immediately broke off the engagement.

Det.-sergeant Sprackling, in proving the list of convictions, related that the first was in 1901 at King's Heath. She was then bound over for stealing money in the name of Sumpter. After that there was no record against her until 1904, when, at Wolverhampton, she was sentenced to a month for stealing a jacket in March, 1905, she again fell into the hands of the police, this time at Bristol, where she was given three months for theft of a watch. There is not the slightest doubt, that the girl's overweening vanity was largely responsible for these offences. She delighted in pretty clothes and personal adornment and although she was only charged with the items mentioned above, there were other trinkets for the loss of which she was alleged to be responsible. Again, in June of 1905, she was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment at Worcester for stealing money, but the punishment appeared to have no permanent effect, for in 1906 she was brought up at Stafford in connection with a particularly cunning fraud.

On account of her youth she was then only 22 the Stafford magistrate took a lenient view of her offence, and again gave her a chance by binding her over under the Probation Act. She failed to take advantage of the opportunity to redeem her character, and in

AT THE PRINCE EDWARD WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

WOMAN'S LIFE OF CRIME

November, 1907, appeared at North London charged with stealing a watch. On this count she was awarded 12 months with hard labour. No sooner was she out of prison, however, than in October, 1908 she made her way to Glasgow, where she fell foul of the police for false pretences. Five months' imprisonment was her punishment.

Brought up at Hastings Sessions she was sentenced to three years' penal servitude in the name of Edith Taylor. She was released on licence, and at Drotwiche, in November, 1906, was awarded a month for failing to report. In March, 1917, she appeared at Marlborough street on three charges of false pretences, and was sentenced to three months, three three months, and six months' respectively.

Dancing Revels by Escaped Convict

(Dominion News Service)

SOUTHRND-ON-SEA, Dec. 21.—Escaping from custody in London a man succeeded in reaching Southend. For six weeks, without disguise, he lived in luxury at seaside hotels. He was the life and soul of gay parties, and gave an exhibition of step-dancing at one of them.

His arrest was dramatic, and at London Sessions he was sentenced to three years' penal servitude for robberies.

Jewel thief, crackman, and prison-breaker. Such is the record of Arthur Wallace.

After escaping from custody at the last sessions, he enjoyed forty-two days of complete liberty, and "enjoyed" the right term to use. He stayed at first-class hotels at seaside resorts, basked in the companionship of a pretty lady, and lived at a rate which necessitated his carrying out several daring burglaries whilst he was thus engaged.

Apparently he did not attempt to disguise himself, or to elude the police in any way, though his picture had been in nearly every newspaper in the land.

A close watch was kept on his home and upon his old haunts, whilst his relatives were shadowed day and night almost. And all the time he was living openly at hotels in South Coast towns. He was caught at Margate, his arrested being carried out under dramatic circumstances.

At the very moment that the police of Margate were advised that Wallace or rather "Taylor" as he was known down there—was at a certain hotel on the Marine Parade, the man himself was arrested in the enjoyable pastime of a game of billiards with the manager of the hotel.

Two plain-clothes men were despatched to effect his capture, and the desperate character of the man they had to deal with, they went thoroughly prepared for a violent resistance.

They waited whilst he made a stroke, and then at the instant he turned to look for the chalk they

INDIANS WANT PLENTY OF GAME INSTEAD OF OIL

PAWHUSKA, Okla., Dec. 28.—There is restlessness among the Osages, rich in oil, Indians. Oil and riches have entered their hearts, and they desire to have the land and the hunting grounds, where running water is fresh and game plentiful runs in a strong and recurrent today.

Prospecting parties, headed by wealthy Indian leaders, have investigated reservation sites in New Mexico, California and the lower Rio Grande Valley.

But the Osages are not planning to call upon Uncle Sam for their future home. Mrs. Rose Bunch, 2, Rodolph Martin, 3, May whose oil income is estimated at

RUSTICO CONVENT

Honor roll for Rustico Convent for December.

Grade IX.—1, Marie A. Doucette, 2, Louise Pitro, 3, Anne Fleming, 4, Gertrude Drapreau, 5, Antoinette Pinea.

Grade VI.—1, Emelie A. Gallant, 2, May Gauthier, 3, Nellie Chassan, 4, Margaret Gallant, 5, Nicéphore Doucette.

Grade III.—1, Berenice Pitro, 2, Yvonne Doiron, 3, Gertrude Gallant, 4, Lorette Doucette, 5, Elsie Blanchard.

Grade I.—1, Bernadette Paquet, 2, Rodolphe Martin, 3, May

BESCO Household COKE

Less Work—Less Dust—Less Dirt and fewer ashes than Hard Coal

$14 A TON

Cash Price—Ex Shed

Order it from Huntain, Bell & Co., A. Pickard & Co., C. Lyons & Co., W. D. Gill, C. J. Carragher & Co. and Poole & Thompson Ltd. Montague.
A Canadian Coke Produced by Canadian Workmen

Join With Us And Commence the New Year Right

We wish to announce that commencing Wednesday, January 2nd, we will conduct our business on a strictly cash basis, no goods on approval.

KENNEDY BROS

Kensington

The Quality and Blend of Flour that goes into the Beaver bag

guarantee the satisfaction you get out of the bag.

TESTS have proven that no one wheat produces a satisfactory flour for all baking. Exact blending of wheats is necessary for success. Beaver Flour is a scientific blending of the choicest Ontario Winter Wheat and the best Manitoba Hard Spring Wheat. It is the one flour that is best for all baking purposes. Beaver Flour makes—

- a bigger, whiter, better flavored loaf of bread,
- lighter and more delicious cakes,
- flakier and more delicate pies and pastries.

Requires less shortening than other flours.

THE BEAVER MILLS, CHATHAM, ONT.

BEAVER FLOUR

Blend of the Best from East and West

Carried by the best dealers

BEAVER FLOUR

Blend of the Best from East and West

The People's Choice For Over 70 Years

for digestive disorders has been Beecham's Pills. You can have confidence in this remedy for biliousness, headaches, flatulency, constipation. Sluggish organs are stimulated and the whole system benefited by

(By Dominion News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 28.—When Harold Meaden, a laborer, was accused at Chichester Police Court of stealing a service book from a church it was stated that he had a mania for visiting church to ascertain what hymns and chants were to be sung at the next Sunday service.

Meaden was bound over for two years on the condition that he did not enter a church except during Divine service.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most effective remedy for breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get 16 ounces—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy retail for $2.50. Keeps perfect and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

The People's Choice For Over 70 Years

for digestive disorders has been Beecham's Pills. You can have confidence in this remedy for biliousness, headaches, flatulency, constipation. Sluggish organs are stimulated and the whole system benefited by

(By Dominion News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 28.—When Harold Meaden, a laborer, was accused at Chichester Police Court of stealing a service book from a church it was stated that he had a mania for visiting church to ascertain what hymns and chants were to be sung at the next Sunday service.

Meaden was bound over for two years on the condition that he did not enter a church except during Divine service.

MAN WITH A HOBBY

(By Dominion News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 28.—When Harold Meaden, a laborer, was accused at Chichester Police Court of stealing a service book from a church it was stated that he had a mania for visiting church to ascertain what hymns and chants were to be sung at the next Sunday service.

Meaden was bound over for two years on the condition that he did not enter a church except during Divine service.

WOMAN'S LIFE OF CRIME

(By Dominion News Service)

LONDON, December, 28.—First guilty of theft at the age of 15, and now with 14 previous convictions against her, including two terms of penal servitude, a pretty, twenty-year-old woman, Elizabeth Bevan, was yesterday found guilty of stealing from a flat in Hyde Park. The woman, Elizabeth Bevan, was tastefully attired in the uniform of a nurse. She gazed round with timid glance, and nobody would have guessed for a moment that the apparently distressed prisoner had such a dark record of crime behind her. Nor would they have dreamed it possible that out of the last 22 of her 37 years she had spent not less than 14 within prison walls. There was a dramatic intervention after evidence had been heard. A Roman Catholic lady probation officer interceded on prisoner's behalf, and begged that she should be given another chance. She asked the magistrate to allow Bevan to be sent to a convent for 12 months for supervision by the sisters there. Mr. Basil Watson, the magistrate, in view of accused's past life, felt that he was unable to accede to this suggestion, and passed the maximum sentence of six months. On the present occasion Bevan had not long left a situation. She was employed for nearly a year at the Bethelheim Hospital, Lambeth. She had also held a responsible position as sister in charge of London welfare centre, where she had some 150 women under her care. It was after leaving this post that she took up residence with a friend, a Mrs. Beatrice Egerton, at her flat in Oxford-terrace. Here she lived for some weeks, until Mrs. Egerton was unfortunately taken ill and had to go into a nursing home. It was then that Bevan's old habits reasserted themselves and again she lapsed into her life of crime. In order to obtain money on which to live, she took articles belonging to the woman who had befriended her, and commenced pawning them. In this way she got rid of goods to the value of $300. When Mrs. Egerton recovered sufficiently to return home, she found that Bevan had absconded, and the only trace that she could find of her missing property was 17 pawn-tickets relating to it.

The police were called in, and Bevan was eventually tracked to a place at Gerrard's Cross, where she had obtained a situation as nurse to a child and was giving every satisfaction. There was no connection with this theft, for, during the time she had been living with Mrs. Egerton, Bevan had been introduced to a young man in a large way of business in the West End, who had fallen in love with her and proposed marriage. Needless to say, she knew nothing of the previous history of the woman, and when she was arrested he was greatly shocked and immediately broke off the engagement.

Det.-sergeant Sprackling, in proving the list of convictions, related that the first was in 1901 at King's Heath. She was then bound over for stealing money in the name of Sumpter. After that there was no record against her until 1904, when, at Wolverhampton, she was sentenced to a month for stealing a jacket in March, 1905, she again fell into the hands of the police, this time at Bristol, where she was given three months for theft of a watch. There is not the slightest doubt, that the girl's overweening vanity was largely responsible for these offences. She delighted in pretty clothes and personal adornment and although she was only charged with the items mentioned above, there were other trinkets for the loss of which she was alleged to be responsible. Again, in June of 1905, she was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment at Worcester for stealing money, but the punishment appeared to have no permanent effect, for in 1906 she was brought up at Stafford in connection with a particularly cunning fraud.

On account of her youth she was then only 22 the Stafford magistrate took a lenient view of her offence, and again gave her a chance by binding her over under the Probation Act. She failed to take advantage of the opportunity to redeem her character, and in