May Succeed To Toronto Archbishopric
HAMILTON, Sept. 14. — Word is said to have been received here that Bishop McNally of the Hamilton diocese is to be appointed by Pope Pius XI as the new archbishop of Toronto to fill the vacancy left by the death of the late archbishop Neil McNeill. Definite announcement from Rome, where his lordship is now sojourning, is expected next month.

Born in Summerside, Prince Edward Island, Bishop McNally has attained national eminence as a Catholic ecclesiastic and as the man principally responsible for the erection of Canada's most beautiful and imposing cathedral, the Basilica of Christ the King, completed and officially opened here last year.

A friend during student days of the famous Catholic priest, Father Robert Hugh Benson, whose father was Archbishop of Canterbury and who became a convert in early life to the Catholic church, Bishop McNally spent his first year as a priest in Calgary, where he was an intimate friend of R. B. Bennett. He was Bishop of Hamilton for 10 years.

GOVT. BITTERLY ATTACKED BY LIBERAL LEADER

(By Ray Brown, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) MARKHAM, Ont., Sept. 18.—Before a great crowd here tonight, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King charged the Bennett Government with betraying the people.

"The government obtained power from the people," he asserted from his North York platform. "The government has now betrayed the people, and it proposes to go on betraying them for another year if the people will let them."

The Liberal leader charged Mr. Bennett with being blind and deaf to the demands for an election.

"Mr. Bennett says he doesn't hear or see a demand for a general election," he said. "I say to him that it is only because his hearing and sight are not as good as mine—and they're not as good as yours."

He declared that in every public place the government was denounced.

"Do you hear any endorsement of the government?" he questioned. "No," shouted some people in the crowd.

Mr. King attributed to Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways, the dictatorial attitude of a Hitler. The Railway Minister, he said, had asserted that defeat of the government would not affect the term of this administration.

"The rights of the majority are being held in contempt by ministers of the Crown," he warmly charged the opposition leader. He intimated that Premier Bennett, who had restored titles in Canada, now intended hanging on to power until next year when government members would attend the jubilee celebrations in London and there possibly receive titles and decorations.

Strongly Mr. King criticized recent legislation of the government in regulation and restriction. Again, the legislation establishing a central bank was the subject of criticism. As on the floor of the House of Commons, Mr. King fought for public ownership of this institution.

"We are parting with our right to control policies in matters of finance," he insisted in condemning the privately-owned system. Parliament was being robbed of its power in many lines. Through the central bank private shareholders would control the note issue and the distribution of credit in Canada.

The Liberal leader also found fault with Mr. Bennett because of large sums voted for barracks in Calgary as an unemployment relief measure. A large amount was being devoted to building headquarters for the Mounted Police in Ottawa, he said. He warned that there was a tendency after assumption of dictatorial powers, for persons to rely on force to sustain them. This tendency was in evidence in Canada. Parliamentary institutions should not be blamed for unrest in Canada. The people rather should blame "those who are betraying their trust."

"Introduced into this campaign the propriety or the right of myself to discuss matters which have been referred to in the price spreads committee.

Scores Mr. King
"I am apologizing to no one," said the Minister "for what I have done or what I have said. I notice Mr. King said this to the electors in Kenora; it is a choice between Bennett and Stevens.

"When has it become Mr. King's prerogative to speak for the Conservative Party? This anxiety of Mr. King—and Mr. Hopburn (Hon. Mitchell F. Hopburn, Premier of Ontario) by the way—this solicitude for the imagined and nonexistent difference between the Prime Minister and myself is most touching. The question one naturally asks is: When did Mr. King become so concerned about what might happen in the Conservative party? I am certain of this, that if he were assured there was something wrong in the ranks of the Conservative party, nothing would please him more."

TENDERS

Russia Formally Becomes Member Of The League

(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

(C. P. Cable By Guardian's Special Wire) GENEVA, Sept. 18.—Russia tonight formally entered the League of Nations. In the glare of powerful electric lights and to the click of camera shutters pudgy Maxim Litvinoff, the Soviet Foreign Commissioner, mounted the speaker's tribune and in Russia's first bow to the family of nations pledged co-operation for world peace.

It was one of the League's great moments. A queue lined up outside the entrances to the public galleries. Special police forces were on guard. The hall was packed, and as time wore on and the heat increased papers became fluttering fans.

Votes Taken
Two votes were taken. On the question of Russian admission 39 states voted in favor, 11 more than the necessary majority of two-thirds.

Portugal and Holland Seven did not vote. On the next vote, to grant Russia a permanent seat on the League Council, 40 voted in favor, 10 abstained.

President Richard Sandler then with cordial words of welcome invited Russia's delegation to take their seats. But Litvinoff, wearing a light tweed suit, with a dark red tie, walked the length of the hall and mounted the tribune. He shook hands with Sandler and began Russia's first speech in the League Assembly.

Litvinoff spoke of the early history of the Soviet Union, of how foreign powers attempted to destroy it. From this arose Russia's early hostility to the League, he said.

But the policy of isolating the Soviet Union no longer met with favor among broad-minded statesmen who thought on realistic lines, said Litvinoff. Those who still preserved the earlier attitude he classed as "narrow-minded victims of strong prejudices, receiving their information from muddy sources."

EGMONT BAY

was very graciously acknowledged by Rev. P. X. Gallant. His Honor then declared the exhibition opened.

Hon. Premier MacMillan, in a few remarks referred to the practical generosity of Lieut. Governor DeBlois in the interests of this exhibition and agriculture, which was a sincere indication of his interest in the welfare of the people. The Premier expressed his delight at the quality of the exhibits and particularly the handicrafts which were exceptionally fine. The weaving, spinning and some made rugs were worthy of special mention and could not be surpassed, even in Quebec, where these crafts are of a very high standard. He promised that the grant would be continued as it was considered in the best interests of agriculture to encourage the county exhibitions.

Mr. Walter Shaw of the Provincial Department of Agriculture gave a very fine address on the raising of stock, stressing the importance of raising the standard of the animals, as only by elevating the standard could we hope to devalue our goods in the agricultural market. Production of stock of a premier quality, he said, was the best way to control the price, as superior products always fetched a good price.

Dr. J. A. Clark, Superintendent of the Experimental Station, congratulated the exhibitors on their fine exhibit of grains, cranberries were very much improved this year. Egmont Bay was always noted for its beans which cannot be surpassed.

Other speakers congratulating the exhibitors were, Hon. Thomas MacNutt, Minister of Agriculture, A. E. Moran, M. P., and Hon. A. F. Arsenault.

The exhibitors:— There were over eleven hundred exhibits this year and the President was well pleased with the success of the fair.

The family of Joseph F. Arsenault had the largest number of entries on exhibition.

Mr. Shaw, of the dept. of agriculture, who judged the horses said that this year's exhibit was outstanding and showed considerable improvement, particularly in hereditary defects. The great majority were good sound useful horses.

The general purpose class was the largest exhibit and had some very fine specimens. There were over twenty exhibits in this class. It was suggested by Mr. Shaw that greater attention should be given to care of hoofs and shoeing, more attention should also be given to proper showing of the horses by the attendant.

Abel Polier had a large exhibit of draft horses.

Sylvère Arsenault of St. Phillip won first prize for his stallion which was a fine specimen in the draft class.

Peter S. Gallant of Egmont Bay took first prize for his fine matched team of horses.

Fine Dairy Cattle
Mr. Roper judged the cattle and considered that the exhibit was better in quality and fit, though fewer in number.

Special mention should be made of a very fine Ayrshire female belonging to Frank Bernard, several club members had an excellent showing in very creditable condition.

The champion heifer 2 years old was owned by Clouis Gaudet, Egmont Bay; champion heifer, one year old, Aubin J. Gallant, Abrams Village; champion heifer calf, Gailte Arsenault, Urbanville.

DEVILED CHEESE.

NO EVIDENCE OF MISSING PERSON FOUND

As reported in yesterday's Guardian, the Mounted Police are seeking information as to the disappearance from Tignish or vicinity of a boy, sixteen years of age, who, according to a statement given then by Mr. James McKenny, travelling agent for a Toronto firm, had apparently been drowned at St. Eleanor's on Monday.

No word of any missing person has been received, though diligent inquiry has been made by the police.

The story related by Mr. McKenny is that on Monday morning while driving from Charlottetown to Summerside and when about 15 miles out of Charlottetown he overtook a boy about 16 years of age "hitch-hiking." The boy said he would like a drive and McKenny took him into the car and drove on to Summerside. On the way the boy said he was going to Tignish. He noticed that the boy spoke with a strong French accent. When they arrived in Summerside the traveller went to lunch and left the boy on the street. The traveller had lunch, did some business around town and was preparing to drive away when the boy appeared and wanted a further drive and as McKenny intended going as far as Miscouche he took the boy. They drove as far as St. Eleanor's Beach and there the lad expressed a desire to have a swim. McKenny obliged him by driving the car down on the beach. When the lad took off his clothing he had a bathing suit underneath. The lad went in swimming and after some time McKenny heard him shouting for help. McKenny took off some of his clothes and went into the water but could find no trace of the boy. He got fishermen to help him but still was unable to find any trace of the boy. McKenny then went to start the car but could not get it out of the sand. He started to walk to Summerside and walked part way and got a drive the rest of the way. He reported the matter to the R.C.M.P. at Summerside at 10.15 Monday night. The police went out but were unable to find any trace of the boy, neither were they able to find the boy's clothes. Later McKenny found that about 1.15 which he had was missing. The police are still investigating, but so far without any result.
