MARK TWAIN, THE AUTHOR AND THE MAN.

With the death and burial of Mark Twain have come to light many incidents in his early career, many estimates of the man, the author and his work. For one thing, he began his life work comparatively in mature age. He was twenty-six years old, perhaps older—before he dreamed of literary success. The outbreak of the civil war parted him from his trade as a pilot on the Mississippi and he began to write. His "Celebrated Jumping Frog" was a surprise to the humor-loving public and its remarkable sale was equally a surprise to him. After he had written it he put it aside in a pigeon hole in contempt and disgust. On later reading he concluded to print it.

There had been for some time a impression that the author was older in years than the published records show. Judge Goodwin of Salt Lake City confirms this view. He is now seventy-eight, and says when he was associated with Mr Clemens on the Virginia Enterprise the latter was older than he. Moreover a well-known book of biographics published in 1889 contains this record:—"Samuel L. Clemens, born November 30, 1830." The matter is of small consequence. Mark Twain was always young in heart and spirit, and there are few things in the human make-up that contribute more to prolong the period of youth than a saving sense of humor. It was not given to the brightest spirits of our race in vain. Perhaps—who knows?—his sense of humor may not have been left behind, with the white flannel suit in which all that was mortal of Mark Twain was laid in the grave.

Not many authors, even of those whose fame is widest, accumulate wealth. Mark Twain made and lost a fortune, and later, rose from under a huge burden of debt to become a millionaire. In the last ten years his income from the sale of his books gave him from $40,000 to $50,000 a year. True humor has a high selling value in the literary market. Mark Twain's humor was, however, flavored strongly with wisdom. "He was not only a great humorist, but a great philosopher," writes Theodore Roosevelt. His gift made room for him, and brought him the acquaintance and friendship of many among the great, the powerful and the wise, some of whom have given high estimates of the man and his work since his departure.

THE WINDMILL AND THE STORAGE BATTERY.

The world in its eager demand for power, is rapidly burning up its vast stores of coal and oil, as it had before burned up its forests. One after another of the nations has been brought to consider and calculate how long it will be before its fuel supply will be exhausted.

The rivers have been dammed and harnessed in all quarters of the world, to drive the factory wheels, or to furnish electric light, heat and power. Still the demand grows from year to year while the sources of supply are being depleted. Even the rivers have shrunk in volume because the forests have been cut away.

There remain as new, or but partly exploited sources of power, the winds and the ocean tides. The wind has tremendous power at times, which the familiar windmill can make effective for the time. But the wind is an unreliable servant, often absent when most needed, and again displaying very high velocity when not required. The April number of Popular Mechanics tells that through the medium of electricity and the storage battery the windmill is rapidly gaining new importance.

The latest windmills are marvels of perfected machinery the working parts running on ball-bearings. Such a windmill of fair size and elevation can be made to generate electricity even with only a six-mile wind. It is provided with an electric generator, a switchboard and storage battery. The wind wheel makes use of every puff when it comes, and the battery stores away the current. From this store the farmer may light his buildings, drive his stationary machinery, and enjoy something of modern luxury in having a tireless and adaptable servant to do his bidding.

PREACHING THE GOSPEL OF HEALTH.

A feature of the religious services in New York and Boston last Sunday was that in nearly all the leading churches the gospel of health was preached, with a special reference to the battle against tuberculosis. The pastors and their people hoped in this way to increase the impetus already given to the anti-tuberculosis movement. Leading citizens throughout the Union from President Taft down, the Governors of nine States and the Mayors of hundreds of cities, thousands of doctors, and now the church pastors, are combined in the work of arousing the public interest, educating the people in regard to the dread malady, how to prevent its spread, and how to recover those who have begun to feel its blighting effects.

Altogether it is a remarkable, widespread and hopeful movement. The gospel of health may well be preached in the churches of Him whose ministry was so fruitful of healing. Great good has already been achieved by the earnest, systematical work done, and still better may be expected when the cumulative effect of the efforts already made is realized. It means more than a war against the single malady of tuberculosis. The zeal and earnestness aroused against one disease, will tend to precautions and preventive measures against all.

HALLEY'S COMET COMING TO CLOSE QUARTERS.

If the astronomers know what they are talking about, Halley's comet is now passing round the sun in the opposite direction from that pursued by the earth and other planets. The comet passed its perihelion, or nearest point to the sun, on April 20 and is now racing outwards, tail first into space. On May 18 it will be directly between the earth and the sun. The tail, which is rapidly extending now, will then envelop the earth.

Ten days later the comet will cross the orbit of the earth, but our planet will form a very brilliant spectacle in the sky and will be better seen with the naked eye than with the telescope. It will remain a notable object in the heavens till toward the end of June, after which it will rapidly fade away into the depths of space. There is apparently nothing more to be feared from Halley's comet than from any of the thousands of comets that have preceded it in their course around the sun.

It is given out from Ottawa that Parliament will close its session on or about May 11.

Dr. Andrew McPhail, writing of Mark Twain's death, says: "On his own account also I am sorry he is dead—he would have so enjoyed reading the accounts of his death in the morning papers." But if Mark Twain were living there would be no such accounts to read—unless they were "greatly exaggerated."

At a meeting of the Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance held yesterday in Kensington it was unanimously, resolved that the time has come when this Province should have total prohibition of the liquor traffic. The matter had been before considered by the Provincial Temperance Alliance, which had decided that the Prohibition Act of 1900 ought to be amended to provide for prohibition of the importation of intoxicating liquors, except for sacramental, medicinal and mechanical purposes, and that the control of such importations and the distribution of liquors to vendors be made by a commission appointed for the purpose. All of which proposals were yesterday adopted by the Grand Division.

WANTS TO ORGANIZE FRENCH-CANADIANS.

MONTREAL, April 25—Mr. Blondin, M. P., for Champlain, speaking at a meeting held at Cotean Landing today advocated the formation of a French Canadian party from the province of Quebec, at Ottawa, on the same lines as the Irish party, at Westminister. Mr. Blondin, who declared himself as a supporter of Mr. Monk, on the naval policy, said that a French Canadian party would eventually hold the balance of power at Ottawa as the followers of John Redmond now hold the balance of power in the British commons.

Suffered Terrible Pains From His Kidneys.

Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body, and most people are troubled with some kind of kidney complaint, but do not suspect it.

There is no way of getting the kidney poisons out of the system except through the kidneys, and no medicine so effective in taking them out as Doan's Kidney Pills.

They help the kidneys to flush off the acrid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and urinary passages.

Doan's Kidney Pills are entirely vegetable, and may be safely taken by old and young.

Mr. Dougald A. McIsaac, Broad Cove Banks, N.S., writes:—"I was troubled with my kidneys for nine months, and suffered with such terrible pains across the small of my back all the time that I could hardly get around. After taking two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills I began to feel better, and by the time I had taken three I was completely cured."

Price 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Kind Words For Paton's Millinery From the Charlottetown Ladies Who Visited The Show

"Well, your millinery is in a class by itself."

"The best yet."

"Your hats are not overloaded."

"Your prices are much more moderate."

"Not a freak hat in the lot."

"Why the European hats are more like the New York styles this year."

"We were pleasantly surprised, we expected nobody would be able to wear those Paris hats."

"Your lady buyers understand what is required for the home trade."

"It takes a Charlottetown lady buyer to select Paris millinery for the Charlottetown ladies."

"It's the best show this spring."

"Why you can get two hats this spring for the price of one last year"

"The hats are all lovely."

"They are not expensive."

"Another lady said they are wearable."

"You have got the style anyway."

"They have a distinct style."

"Where the price is high there is evidence of real value in Ostrich."

"You have done a lot of crowing this spring about millinery."

"Well you have something to crow about."

All those things were said in good cheer, and if the ladies who said those kind words, go on saying them to their friends, the advertising man can take a rest, and take up some other department.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY FOR CITY EMPLOYEES.

MILWAUKEE, April 25—Hours of work at city hall will be eight a day instead of six, and Mayor Emil Seidel, who today spent his first day in the executive office.

"I believe in requiring all city employees to devote eight hours each day to their work and I intend to take steps to have this requirement lived up to," he said. "Eight hours each day is not too much for any one.

"The offices in the city hall should be open to the people at any time that they find it necessary to call during the day," he continued. "They have not always been at the convenience of the public, but I want them to be."

Mayor Seidel may abolish Saturday half holidays from May 1 to November 1. He said that many people who had no other time to call at the city hall on business should have the opportunity of visiting the offices on Saturday.
