HERE is a case where Mutual profits were so generous, that this policyholder was handed a paid up policy for $1,000 in 1926 instead of 1932. In addition, he was given $8.26, instead of being asked to pay his 1926 premium.

This policyholder is no exception. Every other Mutual policyholder of the same age who took a 20 Pay Life P & M Policy in 1912 has received the same treatment and is feeling just as happy.

Mutual Life profits are more than a promise. They are actual, genuine facts, as you can see for yourself, if you will ask the Mutual Life Agent to show you his Mutual Book of Results. It shows the Mutual's wonderful profit record for the past 45 years. It shows what the Mutual principle of insurance means to you.

PERSONALS

Miss Mary E. J. Powers, Notre Dame Acadamy, spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Powers, St. Peters.

MALPEQUE

On Monday Thanksgiving evening Princetown congregation was privileged to assemble in the church to offer their songs of Thanksgiving. There were truly many things to be thankful for; rarely have a people had so much of mercy and blessing crowded into twelve short months. Such a season as this is surely worthy of the best acknowledgment possible to give and the service on Monday evening was worthy of the occasion. The address by the pastor, Rev. D. M. Grant was expressive of the true spirit of gratitude for the leading of the year and had in it a real note of optimism. The text itself was well chosen and is found in Rev. 7-12 Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thangsgiving, and honour and power and might be unto our God for ever and ever." Four reasons for thanksgiving were pointed out. 1st "For the blessings that come to us as citizens of this great Dominion. 2nd. For the blessings of Peace, Freedom and Righteousness. 3rd. For the blessings that have come to us through Christ and finally for faith enough to believe in the ultimate triumphs of Righteousness."

An interesting episode which is reported to have taken place recently betwen two "old time sports" is worthy of more than passing notice. Number one sport wishing to secure a passage to a nearby station accosted a passer-by who was driving a truck waggon with "where are you going" and on receiving the answer "None of your business" he immediately seized the horse by the bridle. Number two, assuming a serious tone, said to an onlooker "Hold these reins" whereupon the "ninety-five year old boy" alighted from the truck with the alacrity of youth and in real pugilistic style squared himself before his assailant the "eight-two year old." Fully satisfied that he would prove equal or the occasion number two resumed his driving. Malpeque and vicinity have many things to be justly proud of, but there is undoubtedly room for real appreciation of such splendid sports. It is earnestly hoped that these good friends may have many happy return of the thanksgiving season.

Cannot Practice in New Brunswick

MONTREAL, Nov. 11 — A special cable to the Star from London says:

"It is officially announced that since New Brunswick no longer affords to registered practitioners of the United Kingdom 'such privileges of practising in the said province as to His Majesty seems just', the Order-in Council of 1913, under which New Brunswick doctors could register on the Colonial List of the General Medical Council of Great Britain, 'is hereby revoked without prejudice to the right of any persons whose names have been already entered on the register.'

"For many years New Brunswick has accorded British doctors the right to practise in that province. The reason for the change is not known here."

Are Reticent About Vote On Wage Question

MONCTON, Nov. 11.—Trainmen nd conductors in this city are exremely reticent regarding the vote hat is being taken on the conciliaion board's wage award which was ecently announced. Ballots were istributed in this division on Monay on the return of Frank Appley, Walter Welling, trainmen, C. B. larke and Miner Purdy, conductrs from the meeting in Montreal hich was attended by nearly two undred representatives of the en. About eighty conductors and 50 trainmen in this vicinity are afected.

"It would be pretty hard to cut our own men's throats by turning town their recommendation that ve reject the award," was one of he few opinions expressed by train en. He was referred to the decison reached in Montreal.

Another declared that he believd the brotherhoods would hang ogether and the inference was that hey were in favor of a peaceful withdrawal from the railway serice if their age demands were not met. But the ballot is a secret one nd there is no means of determning what the result of the voting s until the total results are announced at Montreal. Then, it is understood, there is no means of udging which region of the country were in favor of a walk out or vere against it.

The men appear to be closely in ouch with the progress of wage negotiations in the United States s well. In the eastern states at the present time the trainmen and conductors are negotiating for an inrease in wages. Such an increase would be over and above the amount that the Canadian employees are asking for, it was pointed out. Several years ago an increase was granted to men on the United States lines but it was not given here owing to the unsatisfactory traffic conditions and the men did not press for it. They are now asking for the concession granted at the time in the United States.

Result of the ballot which may tie up Canadian railways east of Port Arthur, Ont., by the withdrawal of 15,000 conductors and trainmen from work, will be announced in Montreal on or shortly after November 15, according to S. N. Berry, senior vice president of the Order of Conductors. The announcement will be made by Mr. Berry on his return from Winnipeg for which place he left here for over the week end.
