Italian Sailors Run For Base

British Fleet Engages Fascist Force "At Extreme Range" — Details Not Available.

By Harold Fair Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(CP Cable)—The admiralty tonight announced the Mediterranean fleet attacked a big Italian force at "extreme range" somewhere in the vicinity of Sicily today, and that the enemy fled for its base with British ships in pursuit.

There were no details available immediately, it was announced. The attack came at a time when British forces were engaged in a battle upon a policy of hammering the enemy by air and sea while the Greek army is pounding Mussolini's foot soldiers in Albania.

"We are plugging in all we can," one source commented in a confidential manner. "We could," he said, "one source commented in a confidential manner."

NATION'S SHIFT TO WAR PRODUCTION PROCEEDS RAPIDLY

Largest individual increase in production was shown in cars and trucks, up 294 per cent. Pig iron was up 82 per cent.

Aside from direction and control of industry, the contribution of the Department of Munitions and Supplies was stepped up upon heavy industry and finished products was $360,000,000 making a total of $300,000,000.

Under this program, many products not formerly manufactured in this country will be produced and some chemicals not before made in the British Empire.

Some new plants already are in production and many more will go into production within the next two to three months.

Judging is Concluded at Poultry Show

The 350 birds on display at the 1940 Poultry Show will return to their home nests today after spending the past few days in wire cages in the A. Horne Building.

Many people crowded into the building last night to view the prize birds which were on exhibition as well as the other participants in the show.

A feature of this year's show was the sale of choice pullets and cockerels of all different breeds which was conducted last night by Mr. Charles E. Worth.

A short musical program was presented at the show last night which met with strong competition from the birds in the cages.

MR. B. BYERS DIES AFTER FALL AT HOME

Mr. Benjamin Byers, 79-year-old employee of the Charlottetown Police Department, died in the Charlottetown Hospital yesterday morning from injuries he received in a fall at his home the previous day.

The deceased had finished eating his supper Tuesday evening and had gone upstairs to get his pipe. On his way down to enjoy his evening smoke, the aged man fell down the stairs severely injuring himself.

He was immediately removed to the hospital but failed to recover, passing away at 11 a. m. yesterday. He was well known around Charlottetown having spent most of his life here.

For many years he has been employed by the City and made his regular rounds up until the day of the fatal accident. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Jack McKelgan, and five sons, William, Andy, John, George, all of Charlottetown and Fred who is on military duty on the mainland.

The funeral will be held from the residence of his son, Frederick, 150 Dorchester Street, on Friday morning at nine o'clock.

MAKE SECOND ARSENAL OF NORTH AMERICA

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(CP)—Arthur Greenwood, member of the War Cabinet, told the House of Commons today that Britain's output of war material is "not enough" and that the government hopes to make North America "a second arsenal."

He said that while the British war effort has been helped by the "clean breast" of Britain's troubles, the Chamberlain government spoke before an attentive House in his capacity as chairman of the committee directing the nation's economic policy.

Mr. Greenwood said Canada's help will far outweigh anything she did in the last war "because we have taken the bold step of trying to convert her into an industrial country."

The flow of supplies from Canada is "valuable in quality and quantity and will continue to increase as the unit of production come into operation."

Facing critics who complained of shortcoming in fields ranging from employment to the industrial strategy, Mr. Greenwood thus summed up the position.

Mr. Greenwood said the shipping situation is "not so bad as it might have been but for the actual increase in merchant tonnage built up to date."

can have a neck at them," he said. "Next year, if I were sitting in Canada, I would be very worried at what is going to flow out of the United States."

Accuses "Timidity" Emanuel Shinwell, Labor, accused the government in the House of Commons of timidity, over-optimism and "failure to face the fact that the dice of war are heavily loaded against us."

"The people," he said "have no desire to be lobbied off with exaggerated optimism, and it is better to bring them up against the realities of our position."

Mr. Shinwell also declared:—"I am sure that at this most critical moment of our history appears to be increasing."

"Had we applied conscription of labor," Ernest Bevin, Labor Minister, answered, "we should have made direct for defeat. Compulsion does not give the desired result."

"The whole industrial field was in 'chaos,' when he took office," Mr. Bevin added, but now "tests show we are making in spite of bombing and over-optimism, a great increase in war industrial output, and that increase is being maintained."

Mr. Greenwood said before June there will be "another emergency call-up" of Britons to the fighting services—of men 35 and over, probably up to 40 years of age.

Mr. Greenwood told the House it would be folly to deny that enemy air raids have damaged production. "Nevertheless," he said, "we have targeted our expanding program."

"Beyond that I do not go. With some knowledge of the industrial situation, it is clear that we are not eating up any extent into our production capacity."

Mr. Greenwood said the shipping situation is "not so bad as it might have been but for the actual increase in merchant tonnage built up to date."

2,000 Attend Dance for War Funds

About 2000 people attended the mammoth dance of the Carry On Canada Corps at the large new warehouse of the Eastern Hay and Feed Co. in Charlottetown last night.

The three floors of the building were crowded with people. The first floor was used for modern dancing to the music of the New Dome orchestra.

The square dancing took place on the floor with Don Messer's orchestra supplying the music. The basement checking overcoats and other wear.

"Swing your partner," was the familiar refrain as dancing continued to the early hours of the morning.

Such was the size of the crowd that members of the City Police were kept busy at every exit and in single file to avoid traffic jams.

Not only were people from all many visitors from other provinces, including a number who came by plane from Moncton yesterday.

Free prizes including War Savings stamps were given away with drawings scheduled to take place every hour. This procedure had to be abandoned, however, because of the first attempts due to the difficulty of attracting the attention of the swiftness who preferred to "swing the dice" away from the prize.

A special feature of the gala evening was the staging of bingo and games, and a specially decorated dance and entertainment will go towards the Carry On Canada War Work.

Indies for apologies and compensation for the alleged injuries and affronts Japanese had inflicted.

The Japanese have been demanding important economic concessions in the oil and rubber-rich Netherlands East Indies since the spring.

The Netherlands islands, now in a weakened and relatively isolated position, were being examined by Japanese leaders part of the "East Asia" pact which Japan proposes at least an economic leadership.

Domel said the following alleged incident occurred: A Netherlands policeman assaulted and seriously injured a Japanese resident and his wife while they were being examined at a police station. The Japanese consul at Batavia already has protested.

A Batavia dispatch giving the details of the case said the Japanese and a Dutch woman were taken to the police station when the man, intoxicated, shoved and cursed a policeman who stopped them from walking on a night patrol duty. The Japanese said the Japanese suffered no harm.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(CP)—The Royal Air Force coastal command announced today that it had sunk a supply ship and a tanker—a rare feat for the British.

The Frisian Islands, the Air Ministry announced tonight. The stacks of the North-west coast of the Netherlands were discerned shortly after details were dispatched from the German bombers, which were then seen to be inflicted by far-ranging bombing planes last night.

In these the R.A.F. made a heavy attack on the German coast. The greatest centre of Italian war production, hit hard at Cologne, manufacturing city of the Rhine, bombed Berlin was destroyed at shipping and explosives on half-a-dozen Nazi-held ports as well as upon arsenals, armament factories and the like in many German areas.

A number of fires were left blazing in the Ruhr factory area. The Air Ministry said the German tanker destroyed was a 7,000-ton craft. A Beaufort plane attacking it, dived to within a few feet of the sea before releasing a torpedo which struck the tanker's ship.

"It immediately burst into flames and was sinking fast, stern first, when the aircraft flew away," the announcement said. An anti-aircraft ship was escorting the tanker but could not prevent the attack, staged in a similar fashion to the Italian battleships at Taranto last Nov. 11.

The attack on Cologne was the most important of the busy night, the Ministry said. Other attacks included the destruction of a German ship at Rotterdam, Flushing, Antwerp, Calais and Boulogne.
