

Use the Right Size "B" Battery

The length of time you listen in each day and the size of your "B" batteries in relation to your set determine how long the "B" batteries will last.

Follow these simple rules for "B" battery satisfaction and economy.

- On 1 to 3 tubes - Use Eveready No. 772.
On 4 or more tubes - Use the Heavy Duty "B" battery No. 770.
On all but single tube sets - Use a "C" battery.

When these rules are followed, the No. 772 will last for almost a year, and the No. 770 for about eight months, when listening at the year round average of two hours a day.

NOTE: In addition to the increased life which an Eveready "C" Battery gives to your "B" batteries, it will add a quality of reception unobtainable without it.

EVEREADY Radio Batteries - they last longer.

U. S. Seeking Canadian Polo Ponies

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 6.-Polo ponies from Western Canada are in demand in the United States between 200 and 300 ponies have been shipped this year from points in Alberta and other parts of the Canadian west, to New York and Boston, the principal market for these ponies. Some of the ponies have brought as high as $1,500 when fairly well trained. It is an acknowledged fact that it is a difficult matter to obtain first class ponies with the required qualifications of hardiness, gentleness, intelligence, agility and size. The best ponies are half to three-quarters bred, the sire being a thoroughbred and the mare of the selected, untamed type.

The demand for polo ponies from the United States is consistent and continuous, according to authorities on the subject. The Canadian government department of agriculture is encouraging the breeding and training of the polo pony.

Icelanders Make Splendid Emigrants

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 6.-After an extended tour of Western Canada, during which time he inquired into immigration possibilities of the Prairie Provinces and studied Canadian library system, Mr. Fredrickson, city librarian of Reykjavik, Iceland, will shortly leave for his native land. He was highly impressed with the opportunities of the dominion and remarked upon the exceptional progress made by Icelanders who had learned that from the small colony of settlers who braved the hardships of pioneer life on the banks of Lake Winnipeg in Manitoba, more than fifty years ago, there had developed a new generation, which had been thoroughly assimilated and was taking a prominent part in the development of the country. "We are proud of our people who have achieved these things," she said.

Mr. Fredrickson pointed out that one volume out of every twenty in the public library of Reykjavik was printed in the English language.

PRESBYTERIAN BUDGET IS FIXED AT $650,000

TORONTO, Oct. 6.-A budget of $650,000, decided upon as the amount to be raised by the Presbyterian Church in Canada for 1927, has been allocated among the various synods throughout the Dominion and will be presented at their respective sessions which are to be held this month. The opportunity for the Synod of Toronto and Kingston has been set at $220,000, while second to this comes the Synod of Hamilton and London, where an amount of $175,000 is specified. An amount of $85,000 has been apportioned to the Maritime Synod, $110,000 to the Synod of Ottawa, $16,000 to the Synod of Manitoba, $18,000 to the Synod of Saskatchewan, $22,000 to the Synod of Alberta and $21,000 to the Synod of British Columbia.

In view of the extended work in the foreign mission field which has been undertaken for the coming year, an increase of $50,000 has been asked over the budget of last year, making a total estimate for the foreign missions of $200,000. A total of $250,000 has again been apportioned to the work of home missions, while the remaining $200,000 goes to grants for colleges, Sabbath school work and general administration of the church. The Synods of the Presbyterian church will be in session throughout Canada from October 5 to November 5, commencing with that of the Maritime Provinces. Dr. A. S. Grant, general secretary of the mission boards, leaves Toronto on Sunday to attend these meetings. He will speak at each Synod on the budget for the year, as well as presenting the situation in which the Presbyterian Church in Canada stands at the present time. The Synod of Toronto and Kingston opens its session here on October 21.

Memorial To First Presbyterian Missionary

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 6.-When John Black, a Methodist Church in East Mildenau, recently destroyed by fire, is rebuilt, it will have as a corner stone the historic natural altar of Rev. John Black, at which the first Presbyterian missionary in Manitoba, gave services during the great flood of 1852. The altar is a rough field boulder and since 1852 has lain in the open air at Little Stony Mountain, in the same position where the small congregation of Old Mildenau church, given from their riverside homes, met down in prayer.

Old Mildenau Presbyterian Church was actually founded in 1851, when John Black came to the colony, but the present building was not erected until 1855. The flood started May 7, 1852, when the water in the Red river rose eight feet above the high water mark of other years. The rise took place during the night, and the colonist found themselves isolated when they awoke in the morning. Soon the country for three miles around was inundated and the people forced to take refuge in the upper part of their homes. Every house was eventually submerged, and much livestock was drowned. More than 3,000 colonists were rendered homeless and the loss in property was placed at $125,000. It was June 12 before the people could return to their homes.

The greater part of the community fled to the vicinity of Little Stony Mountain, with them was John Black and in a field he conducted services every Sunday. The stone served him as pulpit.

American Settlers In Saskatchewan

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 6.-More than eighty families from Kansas and adjacent mid-western states, have been settled on farms near Eaton and Tryon, Sask., since May of this year, and one of the largest American agricultural communities in Western Canada is in process of formation there, according to L. B. Boyd, superintendent of the land and public relations department of the Canadian National railways, at St. Paul, Minn., who has just taken fifteen families into the district. The settlement has been affected directly as a result of the efforts of the department, and the land has been put under cultivation, use of the railway.

The experience this year has been that the new settlers have been so pleased with their conditions and prospects that they have been inducing relatives and friends in the United States to join them. A big influx is expected next spring. Mr. Boyd said. These eighty families represent a cash investment in Saskatchewan of approximately half a million dollars, and in the opinion of Mr. Boyd every family is prepared to invest at least $100,000 in land and equipment, once they have satisfied themselves that the land can support them. In every case the head of the family is an experienced farmer, who prepared to settle in Canada rather than remain in Kansas, and other States where high rentals have to be paid for farms.

Poles Have Eye On Canadian Acres

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 6.-With a population of 58,000,000 increasing yearly 400,000 and seeking an outlet, Poland has its eyes on the broad acres of Canada, according to Gerard Hyna, Canadian Pacific railway passenger agent at Lember, who is now on an "educational tour" of the dominion. During the past year Canada received 4,000 poles and Mr. Hyna states this number will be greatly increased each year. If the prospective settlers could afford to come.

The allotment scheme by which Polish immigrants are settled in communities in the vicinity of Edmonton, Prince Albert, Vonda and Canora, according to farmers' requirements, was proving a distinct success. Mr. Hyna will visit these settlements and proceed to the Pacific coast before returning to Europe.

Yorkie Prince Horse Is Big Prize Winner

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 6.-Yorkie Prince, owned by George Addison of Calgary, proved the leading winner of the racing season over the circuit in Western Canada which has just closed. This sterling Western Canadian bred won six races and took one third. His total winnings amounted to $2,665. Addison ranked second among all the owners, in point of earnings. His various entries won $4,205 of the purse money. A. C. Tarn of Winnipeg was second with winnings of $3,530, while J. B. McGinn, Himsdale, Ill., topped the season on the western tracks with $4,930.

Louvain Swamped as World's Books Come

(Canadian Press)

LOUVAIN, Oct. 5.-Louvain Library, to which Uncle Sam stands godfather, is developing problems. Foremost is the question of how to complete the half finished gift of Americans to devastated Belgium, with money invested in Belgian bonds which cannot now be disposed of without an enormous loss on their face value. It may be years, as a result, before the million dollar library is completed.

Upkeep Fund in Bonds

Next is the problem of how to meet the upkeep of the completed unit with the interest on $125,000, also invested in Belgian bonds. Atop these considerations, citizens of the town are beginning to realize that the famous library is running away with them. Where they once had a university specializing in theology, with a fine old theological library attached, they now possess one of the most important international libraries in the world with a university attached which still specializes in theology. What effect the library is going to have on the university is the question they are asking.

Every Cranny Bulging

An unceasing flow of books comes to Louvain library from nations, societies and individuals in all parts of the world. From two to three thousand books arrive each month to swell the 600,000 already given. A shaft of twelve work constantly at indexing and still thousands of volumes are uncatalogued. Professor's attics, private libraries, and even commercial warehouses are filled with the overflow of the library. Every cranny of Louvain is bulging with books and still a generous world keeps sending. In the completed library there will be space for 2,000,000 volumes and Louvain's librarians nevertheless are grateful for each volume they receive, no matter what the difficulties its receipt entails for the present.

Foreigner Wearies At Chinese Play

(Canadian Press)

BOSTON, Oct. 4.-Boston's only Chinese theatre draws steady patronage even though it is unknown to most who reside here. Only those few who change along a dingy street have heard the clash of cymbals, the twang of squeaky two-stringed violins, the rattle and tinkle of unnam'd traps, and over all the falsetto of voices in the sing-song of the Chinese tongue which accompany the Chinese production.

The Stage and Orchestra

At the front of the hall is the square platform of the stage. In the alcove at the rear of the stage is an eight piece orchestra. One of its members wears an eyeshade. Another musician smokes a cigar. All the while weird sounds issue from the instruments, blended in a sort of monotonous rhythm, but jarred acutely by unexpected twangings, clashes and thumping on a dry wooden box. An especially loud clamor, and an air brushes aside the curtain and with it the classical and stilted gait and slow moving hands of the ancient drama. His robe and head-dress are ornate in the rigidly prescribed manner; his make-up is conspicuous. He begins to sing.

Mostly Long Monologue

The Occidental gets little from what follows. Actors and actresses all in elaborate costume, succeed each other at short intervals, singly or in groups. A scene shifter slides behind the classical plays to shift a chair to meet the new requirements of the play. He erects a throne, takes out a curtain bed, lays out a rug, fans and performs a constant succession of tasks. In no manner does he disturb the continued staging and playing of the orchestra. Some pantomime accompanies the play, but for the most part it is long monologues in singing or speaking, with occasional dialogue and rare bits of dramatic action. Toward midnight the spectator purchases from a vendor tidbits of dried pork, Lichee nuts, candied fruits or other confection. The Chinese come and go throughout the evening. They smoke and converse and sleep. They never applaud, but they do laugh appreciatively when a bit of buffoonery enlivens the scene. Few Occidentals see an evening's performance out. It lasts for seven hours and then resumes next evening where it broke off.

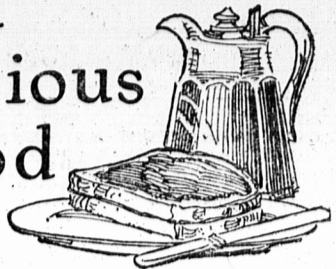

Calgary Nurses Allowed To Bob Hair

(Canadian Press)

CALGARY, Alta., Oct. 6.-Nurses in training at St. Paul's hospital hitherto barred from the bobbed hair fashion may now shorten their locks - and they have done so. The edict was removed recently and out of 108 of the ladies in training only about a dozen remain with tresses. The permission to join the ranks of fashion's followers was greeted with jubilation among the nurses, but they have been very respectful of the wishes of the authorities over them in conforming with certain provisions which accompanied the new regulation. The bob must conform with the facial features of the wearer, the superintendent of nurses explained, and must also be becoming to the nurses cap. So far, the superintendent said, the effect has been very pleasing and satisfaction is felt on all sides.
