WEDNESDAY

GAINS ITS OBJECTIVE.—Murray Harbor District has gone over its objective in the Victory Loan Campaign. The district is to be congratulated and the canvasser is well pleased with the hearty way most of the people responded to the call—but why should they not?

HONORS FOR ISLANDER.—The last issue of the Canada Gazette contains the following: Lieutenant Colonel John Douglas Stewart, of the City of Calgary, in the Province of Alberta, Barrister-at-law; to be the Judge of the District Court of the District of Acadia, in the said Province of Alberta. His Honour John Douglas Deginald Stewart, Judge of the District of Acadia in the Province of Alberta; to be a Local Judge of the Supreme Court of Alberta.

A NEILSON GIFT.—The Guardian received a genuine and pleasant surprise in the mail yesterday in the form of a large and handsome box of delicious chocolates from Neilson's, Toronto. The assortment included samples from ten of the firm's leading packages and were not only dainty in appearance but delightfully toothsome. The most exclusive tastes are catered to by Neilsons and whether it is a hard or soft center, luscious fruit to delectable cream, the purchaser can get just what he wants. The packages also are a souvenir well worth keeping. The gift package from Neilsons which represents assortments to be had at the different stores in the city.

VALUABLE ISLAND MINK.—Master Earl Williams of Tyne Valley, last week had the good fortune to capture one of the handsomest mink ever seen in this province. The animal is beautifully furred and very dark and its pelt, if sold would no doubt have brought a record price. Master Earl however believes in conservation and sold his capture to Mr. Nelson Waldron of Tyne Valley who has a mink ranch probably second to none in Canada. Mr. Waldron has given a practical demonstration of the fact that mink can be successfully raised in captivity. He says they are as easily raised as cats and dogs and very much more profitable. Needless to say he finds no difficulty in marketing; all he can raise and at exceptionally good prices as mink fur is away up.

WEDDING BELLS.—A pretty church wedding took place at Marshfield Presbyterian church on October 15th of Miss May Stewart, of Dunstaffnage and Stanley Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Scott, of Marshfield. The bride, who wore a becoming tailored suit with hat to match was unattended except for her two little flower girls, Margaret McLeod and Jean McVingie both looking like some in their pretty pink dresses. The church was very handsomely decorated for the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. George Taylor. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Scott, where upwards of one hundred guests gathered to offer the happy and popular young couple their warmest congratulations. During the reception a jolly serenade party gathered and in a lively manner added their good wishes to the important occasion. The Guardian joins its felicitations.

AN INCIDENT.—That prohibition does not always prohibit was shown very plainly the other evening at a dance held just outside the limits of the city when a party of uninvited undesirables proceeded to make themselves generally obnoxious. Had they been of the opposite sex no great objection would have been made as an importation of ladies had to be made from the city to try and accommodate the all too many male dancers. One of the members of the aforesaid party in endeavouring to return some "Mountain Dew" which had become inextricably mixed with "Sole goods" and other sundries was somewhat disconcerted by the appearance of something which was neither fish nor spirit, but which quickly disappeared in the darkness. Lanterns, flashlights and auto lamps failed to locate the missing articles. Whether they were trampled in the mud, whether the dog ran off with them or whether some of the boys in anticipation of the time when one age and "sans teeth" were a reality pocketed them remains at present a mystery, but it is supposed that this ill wind blew somebody in the person of a Charlottetown dentist some good the next day. Kind friends made the suggestion that a "Lost" ad in the The Guardian with a suitable reward might bring its own.

RED ROSE TEA is good tea

HERE'S a welcome to the returned soldier and his bride. May their wedded life be a long and happy one.

If she is a "British Bride" she will be very fond of tea—and good tea, at that.

She will first be attracted to Red Rose Tea by the name which will remind her of the "Red Rose" of "Old England".

And when she tries it she will again be reminded of the "Homeland", for she will find Red Rose Tea the same kind of Tea that she has used at home—a rich, full-flavored blend, consisting chiefly of ASSAM teas grown in British-owned plantations in northern India.

Red Rose Tea is sold always in sealed packages.
