Lost To Falcons Last Night 2 to 0, But Easily Won The Round.

(Canadian Press) Maritime championship and right to enter the Allan cup playdowns. Truro again played without the services of the three Bearcats' declared ineligible by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. It was stated some time ago that in the Maritime playdowns, Truro would use these three players and leave it to the hockey officials to decide the team's status.

Tonight's Game
The hockey battle scheduled for the Forum tonight between Campbellton and Abegweit is slated to draw one of the biggest crowds of the season. Campbellton comes here with a reputation of being a bang-up aggregation of seasoned and experienced hockey players. They boast of fast foot lines and a heady and tough defence, who know absolutely nothing about power hockey. In fact it is stated that the Campbellton style compares favorably with that of the Abegweit who are known to Island followers of the game as a team that thrive on clean hard hockey—the brand that is being handed out by all the leading teams of the Mainland. The local defence will be strengthened tonight by the presence of "Buck" O'aver, former defenceman of Sussex. O'aver has been rated this winter as one of the best "blue line" puckers in the east and the Abegweit management are to be congratulated in getting his services for this game—and perhaps a great many more. All in all the home fans are in for a great game this evening.

Bathurst and Amherst
All eyes—and ears of the Maritime hockey world will be cast in the direction of Bathurst tonight where the scrappy little band of Rambler puck chasers face the Papermakers in the final playdown for the Northern and Southern New Brunswick championship and the right to meet Truro Bearcats for the Maritime hockey pennant. Amherst struts into tonight's clash with two goals to the good and plenty determination to nail the Papermakers to the wall. This is a task that requires speed, stamina, skill and all the hockey brains possible to hold the desperate New Brunswickers in check for the full sixty minutes. However, in looking over the record of the Ramblers for the present season, the writer is of the opinion that Bathurst will be unable to hurdle the big jump that faces them in this final fixture. With "Bubbles" McDonald playing his usual steady game in the nets, and if Dalton, Cormier and Fraser stay on the ice over the full route, it looks just too bad for the former New Brunswick and Maritime champions. REMOVAL PLANNED—The fine residence of Mr. George Wheatley at the corner of Great George and Euston Streets is to be moved to the corner of Euston and Felling Streets, as the property on which it is at present situated has been sold. The removal will not be made until after the streets are free of snow.

TRAIN LATE—During the last few days the crossings of the Car Ferry have been greatly delayed by the ice in the Strait. The train from Borden arrived in Charlottetown last evening at 8.15. The mail from the mainland came across on this train, as the flight of the mail plane from Moncton was cancelled due to high wind.

MONTHLY MEETING C. W. L.—The C. W. L. held their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday night, March 3rd, in their Hall, with Mrs. Adrian Peters presiding. There was a good attendance and five new members were welcomed to the Society. Minutes of meeting and all reports and correspondence read, showed the Society to be in an active and flourishing condition. A Nomination Committee was elected to report at the April meeting, when the annual election of officers will be held.

FUNERAL OF J. D. MACNUTT—(Truro News, March 2)—The funeral service of John Duncan McNutt took place Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock at the United Church in Stewiacke, with Rev. L. G. Campbell, conducting the services. Rev. Mr. Saunders of the Anglican Church and Rev. Mr. MacNinch of the Baptist Church, assisted. The church choir rendered their hymnal selections with John W. Logan, of Truro assisting. They were "The Lord is My Shepherd," "The Breath of God," and "Lead Kindly Light." Rev. Mr. Campbell in speaking briefly on the active life of the deceased, remarked that he had experienced great success at his chosen calling and had been faithful in fulfilling his duties to the public. Mr. McNutt's was another instance, he said, in which when greater success and greater opportunities awaited him, he was called to his eternal rest. Following the church service, the Masons of the Truro Lodge, A. F. and A. M., conducted the service at the grave.

Mrs. Roper was introduced as a Y's Menette by President McFadyen. The obligation was read by Mr. T. W. Bentley. A violin solo by Miss Kathleen Hornby was greatly enjoyed, and was heartily endorsed. A congratulatory presentation was made to Mr. Art Douglas on the occasion of the arrival of a young daughter. The report of the play, the success of which exceeded all expectations, was submitted by Y's Men Neil McLean and Raoul LePage. Votes of thanks were tendered to the committees and to the cast of the play. A solo was rendered by Y's Menette Mrs. Roper, and the appreciation of the club was shown in the encore. Mrs. Roper made some interesting remarks with respect to the play. The meeting closed with The King.

our farmers, our fishermen, and our lumbermen; for it entails a large, concentrated industrial population which will require and demand the products of these other industries. It also means, eventually, the creation throughout the country of smaller industries—the logical outcome of provincial-wide prosperity—and these in turn again, will form an additional market for the products of the farm, the forest, and the sea.

But at present our Coal-Steel industry is at a low ebb, due largely to tariff and freight-rate disabilities. To rehabilitate it, to put it on a firm foundation, and to provide for its future expansion, we need the following:

- (A) Immediate needs, respecting the Coal Industry—
 1. Increased duty on imported foreign bituminous coal.
 2. Cancellation of Tariff Item No. 1049, which allows a 99 per cent drawback on the duty on imported coal for use in by-product ovens for the manufacture of gas and coke for domestic use.
 3. Duty on imported coke.
 4. Duty on anthracite screenings.
 5. Increased railway subvention on water-borne coal to Montreal, so that our coal may penetrate by rail further west from Montreal than it does at present.
 6. Increased purchase of our coal by the C. N. R., our national railway; and, if possible, by the C. P. R.

At present from 11,000,000 to 12,000,000 tons of coal are imported annually into Central and Eastern Canada; while our miners lie idle one-third of the year, and the whole country suffers. We feel assured that by the granting of the above requests our coal problem, and therefore our economic problem in general, will be solved, so far as immediate needs are concerned.

(B)—Laying the foundation for the future, in respect to the Steel industry.

At present, Canada as a whole imports foreign steel and steel products at a rate of $1,000,000 worth a day, for every working day of the year. We need an increased tariff on foreign steel importation. This with a possible agreement among the four chief steel manufacturing companies of Canada to confine themselves, each, to a special branch or step in steel manufacture, will lead, we feel convinced, to such an expansion of our steel plants (with a consequent increased use of our coal) that, in time, we could readily forego railway subventions or any other special aids.

With the prosperity which we are assured will result from the granting of these conditions, will come increased buying power. Our industrial welfare is thus of direct interest to the manufacturing centres of Central Canada. And with increased buying power, and increased sales of coal and steel, will come increased business on the I. C. R., and its "deficit" will automatically and rapidly disappear.

Very recent tariff adjustments in respect to the textile industry have already enormously benefited that industry in its many branches. But the seats of that industry are chiefly in Ontario and Quebec. We are confident that the recommendations we are making will benefit our industries correspondingly.

Most of these recommendations were recently presented before the Federal Cabinet by a delegation of Maritimers.

Maritime men, which embraced members of the Liberal Conservative and Labor parties, and which was headed by the Premier of Nova Scotia. The Prime Minister of Canada told the delegation that its recommendations would be carefully considered.

To assist in their being favorably considered, we appeal to every member of parliament from the Maritimes, to every member of our local legislatures, to every board of trade, to every newspaper, and to every man and woman interested in the welfare of our provinces by the sea, to forget matters of minor importance, and to bend their whole energies towards obtaining the implementation of these recommendations at the next session of the Federal Parliament.

Unusual Cast Of Stars Sparkles In "The Utah Kid"

An exceptionally scintillant cast of players is offered the patrons of the Capitol Theatre this week end in an above-the-ordinary Western melodrama, "The Utah Kid," starring Rex Lease.

Besides the star, whose lean handsome length, all-round ability to ride, shoot and do athletic stunts in keeping with the Western hero, the feminine lead is taken by Dorothy Sebastian, whose dazzling beauty recently adorned "Our Blushing Brides." The generally high calibre of the cast is kept up also by Tom Santschi, grand old fighter of the villain school, whose forbidding scowl and muscled menace are as delightfully formidable as ever; by Walter Miller, darkly handsome serial hero who plays a Sheriff here in an extremely sympathetic and unusual manner; by Boris Karloff, whose villainous grace scores of screens; by Mary Carr, grand old lady of the screen, in an "aunt" role; by Lyle McKee in a delightful characterization of an itinerant preacher; by Bud Osborne as a deputy, and many others.

"The Utah Kid" is extraordinarily good Western entertainment.

The second chapter of the Capitol serial and a riotous comedy with Charlie Murray and George Sydney round out a snappy week end bill.

Naval Estimates Submitted In British House

(British United Press) PARIS, March 5.—Hope for a new era of friendship and collaboration in Europe, was expressed in diplomatic circles today as a result of the naval accord reached at Paris and Rome. Half a dozen important and troublesome problems including the question of general disarmament, will be brought near a solution in the opinion of leading diplomats, as a result of the naval agreement. Chief among the problems are:

- 1.—The Italian claims for greater territory in North Africa than granted her under the Versailles Treaty.
- 2.—The Italian demands that Italian children in Tunisia shall retain their nationality.

The Franco-Italian controversy over North African settlements has been drawn out for years with slight hope of settlement. It was rumored to have been revived about the time of the London Naval Treaty negotiations and only this week in describing the benefits of the new naval accord, Foreign Minister Aristide Briand renewed the hope of ending such problems by saying that the naval agreement was "merely the prelude" to the settlement of all Franco-Italian differences. These "differences" have been many and increasing in recent years. They include Italy's repeated charges that she failed to get the benefits promised in the world war settlement; that France tries to force French citizenship upon Italians in Tunisia and abolish all Italian schools there, although they say Italians developed there by two to one, that France helped to arm her ally, Yugo Slavia and that France permits anti-Fascist elements to hatch plots on French territory.
