Little Master-Minding From The Dug - Outs Expected In Present Playdowns—Looking 'Em Over.

Today's Choice

GUY BUSH Pitcher Cubs

The probabilities are that fast balls, shoulder high and inside the plate, high and outside the park, will play a much more strategic part in the World Series between the Yankees and Cubs, starting this afternoon in the Yankee Stadium, than any master-minding from the dug-out or on the ball fields.

For the first time in years, old-fashioned, straight away baseball appears likely to dominate the championship proceedings, minus the factors of score-card warring or other inside stuff calculated to confuse the combatants as well as the spectators.

Joe McCarthy, big, silent leader of the old school, will rely on the big punch of Ruth, Gehrig, Lazzeri, Dickey and company to pull the Yankees through to their third successive World Series triumph, meanwhile juggling a versatile corps of pitching sharpshooters to get the best results. Marse Joe's strategy was under fire when he managed the Cubs in 1929, but it always looks bad without base hits or good pitching.

Likeable, good natured Charlie Grimm, holding down first base himself, will depend on the hustling, pinch hitting of his team, plus the resources of a great right-handed pitching staff, to pull the Cubs through to a world championship.

If any major surprise is sprung in pitching strategy, the Yankees now appear likely to pull it off by inserting their 230 pound former bullpen pitcher, Walter Brown, into the list of starting pitchers. Brown's sensational work in winning three games within the past two weeks has inspired confidence in his reliability, especially if Lefty Gomez and Red Ruffing do not look any better in the series than they did in their last few workouts.

Guy Bush will draw the opening box assignment for the Cubs with Charley Root, Lon Warneke and Pat Malone due to work behind him in that order. Burchfield Grimes is not expected to start, but the old spitballer might be the Cubs' ace in the hole, if he happens to feel the old battle urge once more and be right for the occasion.

FIVE TEAMS IN WESTERN CAN. LEAGUE

Reorganization Will Be Carried Out Within a Week.

(Canadian Press) CALGARY, Alta., Sept. 27.—Reorganization of the Western Canada Professional Hockey League will be carried out within a week unless unforeseen developments occur, Lloyd Turner, Calgary promoter, announced today. Saskatoon, Edmonton, Regina, Moosejaw and Calgary are the cities slated to enter teams in the proposed league.

Athletic Meet At Kensington

The present period of economic depression and consequent repression of costly tastes and Roman extravagances in other ways, has a most beneficial effect on the physical, mental and moral well-being of the great majority of the people. It forces us to accommodate ourselves to conditions—and learned writers say that the Anglo-Saxon race has a happy and philosophic faculty of making the best of everything—not "kicking at the pricks of fortune and flying to hills they were not of." We are perforce back to the "simple life" and the simple enjoyments and sports that comprise it. The great tug-of-war tournament and athletic sports staged in Bedeque rink recently by Messrs Strong and Morrison in conjunction with the rink management was a shining example of what may be done in the way of popular amusement with an almost negligible admission fee. The crowds of spectators ranged from 600 to 1,200 on the different nights. The spirit of comradeship and good fellowship was paramount. People gathered in hundreds to see the sports and meet their friends. The tug-of-war contests were conducted without a note of dissension—due in no small degree to the fairness and capability of George L. Sheen of Summerside who acted as referee. The sports too brought out some good prospects as shot putters and high jumpers. The tournament to be started in Kensington rink on Wednesday night September 28th promises to be a big affair. Mr. Frank Arnett of Summerside has generously donated a beautiful silver cup to be presented to the winning team at the finish of the elimination contests. Rankine McLaughlin's ten man 1700 lb team of Charlottetown will be ready to pull any team from Prince County. The Hunter River team has also entered, other entries will be received at the rink. The pulls, which will have a time limit of two minutes each, will be pulled on cleats—this will be to the advantage of teams of medium weight, with real strength and staying power against heavy teams. The polling division teams will consist of eight men. The cup to be

JACK EXTENDS OLIVE BRANCH TO KEARNS

Former Heavyweight Champion Created Major Sensation At Walker-Schmeling Bout.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN BOWL, New York, Sept. 27.—Jack Dempsey created the major sensation at the Walker-Schmeling heavyweight bout here last night. He shook hands with Jack Kearns.

The bitter feud between Dempsey and the man who managed him into a world's heavyweight championship had become proverbial in fist circles and has left the men as far apart that mutual friends had abandoned all hopes of ever getting them together again.

But last night just before the man bout was on, Dempsey was called into the ring and amazed the critics by dashing over to grasp Kearns' hand and mutter a greeting.

Whether or not Dempsey's action meant a burial of the hatchet raised in 1925 could not immediately be learned.

Kearns, who now manages Walker, said he was as much surprised as any of the boxing writers and could offer no explanation.

Little Mickey States He Wasn't Hurt — Couldn't See His Opponent — Schmeling Pays Tribute To "Toy Bull Dog".

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Mickey and we'll lick our way back. He'll stand up, see I can take any more punishment when he couldn't see me. Mickey, otherwise little hurt but with his left eye jammed shut, thought that would be all right.

"Max Schmeling never did hurt me until I couldn't see, and the punch that closed my eye was the strangest thing that ever happened to me," he said.

"Coming out of a clinch in the eighth round, he hit me a light right hand uppercut. It glanced off my right eyebrow. I thought he'd cut it.

"Then the next thing I knew the eye was swollen shut. I could see three Schmeling's in front of me. I was helpless."

Walker doesn't think much of Schmeling's punching power, insists that he was the stronger of the two until the right uppercut ruined his vision.

"He's a good puncher," he said, "but not a knocker out."

Jack Kearns, his manager, was equally upset.

"I'll turn him loose among the middleweights again," he said.

United States Red Cross for badly needed assistance.

Rafael Veve, Jr., assistant general manager of the Fajardo Sugar Company, arrived in the Capital late today after a fatiguing journey of eight hours from Fajardo only 30 miles away. "All the towns between Fajardo and Carolina, more than half the distance to the capital were levelled," Veve said. All the plantation houses were destroyed. "There were thirty-nine dead at Fajardo when I left at 8 a. m. and I saw about 100 dead between Fajardo and Carolina. I can well imagine thousands dead in the districts I traversed."

Loss in Fruit Crop $7,000,000

Starting shortly before last midnight, a 120 mile wind lashed San Juan and the Hinterland, wrecking buildings, ripping the roofs from houses, blowing down their side-walls, and ruining the valuable citrus fruit and coffee crops. Loss in the fruit crop alone was estimated at $7,000,000. After a personal inspection of part of the area devastated, Governor James R. Beverley said the damage to the crop would be even greater. The storm put San Juan's water and light facilities out of commission. The manager of the Power Company said it would be impossible to restore either service before Thursday. A new transmission line must be built before power can be furnished for pumping water six miles from the reservoir. Arrangements for a temporary water supply imperative for reasons of sanitation were being rushed.

Sporting News Announces Player Selections In Big Leagues.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27.—The "Sporting News" today announced its selection of Chuck Klein, slugging outfielder of the Phillies, and Jimmy Foxx, the Athletics' new home-run King, as the most valuable players in the Major leagues for 1932.

It was Klein's second straight selection in the National League, the first for Foxx in the American, Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, who was chosen the most valuable in the American last season, was runner-up to Foxx for the honor this year.

Foxx was given a total of 56 points out of a possible 88. Klein received 46 points, barely beating out Lefty O'Doul of Brooklyn, with 40.

Bedeque The Rural Sport Centre Of P. E. I.

The prosperous community of Bedeque and its environs lays claim to the title of P. E. Island's outstanding sport centre, and apparently with very good reason.

In 1930 it was decided that the young people should have some better place to spend their evenings than sitting on the counters of the village store, or trying to skate and learn hockey on an antiquated outdoor rink.

Committees on ways and means were appointed led by Jimmie Clark, Henry Calbeck and a few others, and before the season was out a new rink was in operation at a cost of over $9,000.00, the bulk of which was immediately paid by the residents in share purchases.

Jimmie Clark the same year, offered a beautiful silver cup to the junior hockey team within playing distance of the rink, which should come out of the junior league victorious. This cup has been fought for with as much ardour and enthusiasm as the Stanley Cup, but the boys from Jimmie's own district, North Bedeque, refused so far to let the trophy rest anywhere but in that district.

The rink looked after the healthy entertainment of old and young during the long winter months, but as the evenings grew longer and the ice thinner, the boys began to wonder what they were going to do for a meeting place in the summer-time besides the old swimming-hole. Clayton Green began to talk soft ball and soon had a number of converts working with him to organize a soft ball league. Mr. Harry Leard and Mr. Henry Noonan offered another silver mug for the boys to fight over, and if you think the farmers are too tired from milking cows and doing farm work to get interested in ball games, you should have passed Bowness' corner any Tuesday or Friday evening after the league got under way, and seen and heard the hayseeds cheer for the team, to say nothing of the interested spectators from the town of Summerside, eight miles distant, who congregated at the finals to see the cup hungry and husky team from North Bedeque take the trophy over to their community and set it beside the junior hockey cup.

Our two stalwart standard bearers for the Conservative party for the fourth district of Prince, of which Bedeque is the centre, Mr. Heath Strong and Mr. Hugh Morrison, asked the boys, when the ball games were wound up for the season, what they were going to do for the balance of the time intervening between the ball and hockey seasons. The boys said that they did not know but they owed a little money on the rink and were open for suggestions. At this Hughie and Heath said that they would donate a cup to a tug-of-war league to be conducted in the rink.

Well we used to think we got some excitement from the hockey finals, and we got quite a thrill out of some of the soft ball fixtures, but you should have seen the queues at the wicket, waiting their turn to buy tickets for this old time sport classic.

Over a thousand spectators lined the promenade to see the finals about it.—Cor

Bush, Cub Ace And Ruffing Yankee Moundsman Slated For Opening Game Of World Series

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—In a setting that may lack its customary jam and jubilee, unless the weather and box-office conditions take a quick turn for the better, the battle for World Series baseball "gold and glory" will start tomorrow for the purpose of determining whether the New York Yankees have the power to overthrow the hustling Chicago Cubs.

Yankees Favorites

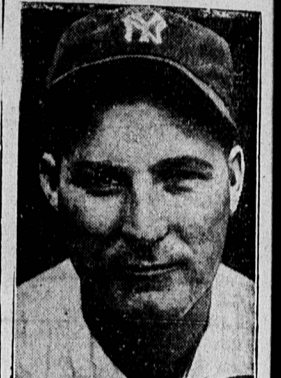

For reasons not quite clear to the innocent bystanders, the Yankees will go into their seventh World Series at least 2 to 1 favorites to bring the big banner back to the American League, despite the well-known illness of their biggest batting threat, Babe Ruth, and the lately developed shakiness of their pitching staff. If it's power alone that establishes the New Yorkers so firmly as pre-series favorites, the Cubs feel convinced they have the speed, pitching craft and fighting spirit to offset it.

Pitching Duel Predicted

Aside from all the inevitable arguments before the battle, however, the salient prospects are for a pitching duel between Guy Bush of the Cubs and Charley (Red) Ruffing of the Yankees for the opening game, showery weather and a turnout of cash customers not likely to exceed 40,000, unless there is an unexpected last-minute "break" in the weather and a consequent rush for the turnstiles.

Unless there is something more than a shower, however, tomorrow's opener will go on at 1.30 p. m. (E. S. T.) with Mayor Joseph V. McKee tossing out the first ball and a notable crowd assembled along the side-lines, even if the big American League park is away short of its capacity of 69,000 customers.

Claims New Candle Record

(Canadian Press)

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 27.—Wonnacott, Pythian bowler, tonight claimed a new Canadian candle record after scattering a total of 431 maples in three strings. His scores, officially recorded in the fraternal league, were 141, 143, 147. Wonnacott previously had held the single string record of 185, but was captured last week by "Pos" Elliot with 187.

Title Defender Fails To Qualify

PEABODY, Mass., Sept. 27.—Hen Hicks of Long Island today gained the dubious distinction of being the first title defender to fail in the qualifying round of the women's United States gold championship. She was seized with nerves for the first time in her short, sensational competitive career as she made so many mistakes that she carded an 89, 12 over par and stroke over the deadline.

Two United States stars tied for the medal with 77's, Virginia Wie of Chicago, and Maureen O'Connell of Haworth, N. J. Two strokes behind them came Enid Wilkes, easy playing British champion at the tourney's outstanding favorite.

Remarkable Increase In Grain Loadings

(Special to the Guardian)

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 27.—An increase of fourteen and a half millions of bushels of grain has been marketed along the lines of the Canadian National Railways in the last seven-day period over the same period last year, according to T. P. White, Superintendent of Car Service, Canadian National Railways at Winnipeg, the total figures for this year being 17,659,000. This represents 8,209 cars loaded as against 2,033 a year ago.

Saskatchewan leads the province in grain marketed with 10,685,000 bushels as against 1,336,000 last year. Alberta shows an increase of 4,464,000 bushels over last year while Manitoba records an increase of 1,330,000 bushels. Since the beginning of the crop year there has been an increase of approximately 13,000 loaded cars.

These grain loadings have influenced the employment situation in the west to a considerable extent. A considerable number of employees having been taken on by the railways throughout the West to handle the crop.

In this event, and who do you suppose won this cup? Well you ask Bob Baker, he's the coach of the North Bedeque team. Yes sir, those North Bedeque boys with a team aggregating 1620 lbs. weight, dragged all comers (even Rankin MacLean's Invincibles) all over the rink and placed the tug-of-war cup on the much-burdensome mantle piece right beside the hockey trophy and the soft-ball trophy.

During the summer a mammoth tea was held at the rink and at that time a beautiful silver cup was offered for the three-mile bicycle race held here annually, and another big feature of the annual teaparty. Calvin Bowness from Summerside came to Bedeque and took the latter trophy to his town for safe-keeping for a year, while a real smart boy, a son of Mr. Bruce Burns, Freetown, took the bicycle trophy up into the potato country for twelve months.

Yes, the Bedeque people sure do take an interest in sports, and it is altogether probable that another trophy or two will be dug up over competition in some other branch of sport another year.

If you are unwilling to concede to Bedeque the title to which they lay claim, we would like to hear of your rural activities for the past year, and if they surpass those enumerated above, why we'll just get Bob Baker to take the North Bedeque boys up or down or over or across and see what we can do

CUT IN RELIEF Seals To Search For Lobsters

MOOSONEE, Ont., Sept. 27.—The Ontario Government intends to increase its detective force in and around James Bay. A herd of seals is being taken on and the creatures are to be sent out to search for delinquent oysters and lobsters.

Reliable trappers in this part of the world have reported that on various occasions when they have caught seals they have found remnants of oysters and lobsters in the beasts' stomachs. So the Government feels it should attempt to trace the seals to the possible source of a new branch of Ontario's fishing industry.

At least, that is one of the points which Hon. Charles McCrea brought to the fore today when he was explaining to members of the legislative party just where the Government expects to get new revenue for the T. and N. O. extension to James Bay. If the seals do their work there is a chance that Ontario will be able to edge in on the more eastern canning business which has helped to make Prince Edward Island famous.

Hon. Mr. McCrea made the announcement and Hon. George Chalmers nodded and said he guessed it would work out all right. The new branch of the Provincial Detective Service will come under Mr. Chalmers' department and he feels that the theory is sound. The chief difficulty is that the seals may decide to visit Eskimo land instead of returning to police headquarters to have their interiors examined.

A new food and drink mixer is operated by water pressure by connecting it to any faucet.

WKAQ which was broadcasting during the early part of the storm, lay bent and twisted in the streets. Numerous small craft along the waterfront were stove in and driven aground. Several of the piers were left roofless. Great damage was done to merchandise stored on the docks. Preliminary check indicated that none of the Americans living here were killed or injured. But no American resident escaped without property loss.

Sausages of the frankfurter type are cooked by electricity on a new device that suspends them between contact points.
