2. Forgiveness, v. 19-21.
3. Faith, v. 22-26.
Date.—According to Usher's chronology from verse 14 to verse 21, B. C. 1689. The death of Joseph B. C., 1635.

LESSON HELPS.

Jacob died at the age of one hundred and forty seven years. Joseph wept over him, and commanded that the body be embalmed. A mourning of seventy days was observed, according to the custom of Egypt. The sons bore the body to Hebron, and laid it in the cave of Machpelah. Joseph outlived his father fifty four years, and died at the age of one hundred and ten. Before his death he told his brethren that they would return to the land of promise, and bound them by a religious oath to bear his remains with them.

15. "Joseph will peradventure hate us"—What reason had they thinking so? There was nothing in the manner of Joseph, but they knew they had done a wrong to him which it was in his power to avenge. They judged Joseph by their own nature. "Will certainly requite us all the evil"—Family quarrels were suspended while the aged father lived; but now that he was dead, there was a fear that Joseph would punish his brothers.
16, 17. "They sent a messenger"—Probably Benjamin, as he was the only one who had done no wrong to Joseph, and was a universal favorite. "Thy father did command"—We have no account of this command, but there is no reason to suppose that he did not give it. "Forgive the trespass"—Joseph had long ago forgiven them, but it was hard for them to believe this, and hard to forgive themselves. "And Joseph wept"—Tears of sorrow for their suspicion of him, and tenderness on their submission. To weep at rare intervals is to the credit of a man, but not to weep too often.

18, 19. "And his brethren also went"—They were not willing to trust entirely to their messenger, but pressed the suit in person. In their prostration the dream of Joseph's early life had come true. "Thy servants"—Rather, thy slaves. "Fear not"—And to reassure them he gives the reason why they should not fear. "Am I in the place of God" that I should assume the office of judge and condemn. He is willing to leave the matter with one who is merciful to forgive those who are penitent.

20, 21. "Ye thought evil against me"—Joseph does not smooth over the sin of his brothers, but states it and traces its origin. "But God meant it unto good"—we see (1) God overrules the wrath of man and brings good out of evil. (2) This fact does by no means justify evil doers, and (3) if evil doers repent they may sometimes comfort themselves with the fact that God averts some of the evil consequences which might follow. "To save much people alive"—For (1) the Egyptians were saved; also, (2) Israel and the neighboring nations, and also (3) Israel and his family.

22. "And Joseph dwelt in Egypt"—He was 56 years old when his father died, and he lived 54 years longer. Doubtless he was held in great honour for he did much services during the years of famine.

23. "The children also of Machir," who was "the son of Manasseh" were brought up upon Joseph's knees.—They were placed there when newly born for his recognition and blessing, according to an ancient custom.

24. "I die"—Dying men are often unwilling to admit that they are dying, but this was not the case with Joseph. Why should he fear who had God for his friend. "And God will surely visit you"—In mercy. (1) The presence of God will make up for the loss of friends. (2) He has promised to come, and have faith in the promise. "Unto the land which he swore"—The oath, as recorded in Gen. 22, 16; was given to Abraham, and through him to his descendants.

25. "Ye shall carry up my bones from hence"—A grander funeral he could have had in Egypt, but he desired to be buried with his kindred. He had such faith that the children of Israel would yet come into Canaan that he was willing to have his burial in that land.

26. "And they embalmed him"—The Egyptians were skilful embalmers as is seen by the immense number of mummies. The word "coffin" strictly means a chest, and here a mummy case.

ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE.

The Greatest Case in the History of Modern Medicine is Completed by Another Sworn Statement.

THE OTTAWA FREE PRESS SUSTAINED.

A Prominent Ottawa Man Confirms Under Oath Every Statement Made by this Paper in the Original Story Published Nearly Seven Years Ago.

(From the Ottawa Free Press.)

Some seven years ago the Free Press published a graphic account of a remarkable case here in Ottawa.

A man named George H. Kent had been cured of Bright's Disease after the doctors had given him up to die, and the Free Press reporter, after a most thorough investigation, published the whole story in detail, giving credit to Dodd's Kidney Pills for the most miraculous cure.

The following sworn statement was given by Mr. Kent in order to substantiate the almost incredible statement made by the paper in its account of the case.

(Sworn Statement, Feb. 16th, 1895.)

I, George Henry Kent, resident at 114 Cambridge Street, Ottawa, and employed as a printer in the British American Bank Note Printing Company, in the said City of Ottawa, do solemnly declare that I consider it a duty to myself and to my fellowmen generally to make a declaration as to the efficiency of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

1. That I found them in my terrible case of Bright's Disease, from which I suffered for almost one year, of the greatest medical value. I can say confidently and assure anyone interested, or a sufferer, that I positively owe my life and present excellent health to the results brought about by their use. I was taken sick and confined to my bed on December 28th, 1893, and was successfully treated for L. Grippe, then Pleurisy, followed by Kidney Troubles, and latterly Bright's Disease. I lost the use of all my limbs; my entire body became swollen to a terrible size, and my skin became as hard as and similar to leather, the pores all having closed up, and I suffered the most agonising pains. I was subject to periodical spells of utter prostration and insensibility, to a state of absolute coma. I was also a victim of dangerous convulsions in which my facial expression and other muscles would become severely contorted and tense.

2. My regular physician attended to me, and, though, medical consultations were held over my case by two city doctors, nothing could be done. My case grew gradually worse and latterly I was given up as hopeless. My wife, friends, and neighbors were certain from what they saw and were told by the visiting doctors that I would die in a very short time.

3. My wife was casually reading a newspaper about this time, and saw a description of a similar case, in which a patient gave testimony of the relief and cure that had been effected on him by Dodd's Kidney Pills. I started to take them right away, and from the first pill I discovered a change for the better. After the first box I was wonderfully improved, and at the end of the fourth I was sure I was to get well again. I continued taking them until the seventeenth box, and I can now positively declare that I am perfectly cured and able to do a day's work with any of my comrades in the shop, and Dodd's Kidney Pills undoubtedly cured me, because from starting to take them I took no other medicine whatever.

AND I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the ACT RESPECTING EXTRA JUDICIAL OATHS.

Declared before me at the City of Ottawa, in the County of Carleton, this 16th day of February, 1895.

G. H. KENT,
(Sgd.) CHAS. A. BLANCHET,
A Commissioner, etc.

The Free Press in the article published in 1895 stated most positively that Dodd's Kidney Pills and nothing else were entitled to the credit of having saved the dying man's life, and this is most emphatically endorsed by Mr. Kent in his sworn statement. The Free Press also said without qualification that the cure of Mr. Kent was an absolute and permanent one, and while Mr. Kent could not make a sworn statement as to the future, he stated that he felt he was permanently cured.

Notwithstanding this there were many who could not believe that a man with one foot in the grave as Mr. Kent was could not get a lasting cure.

It occurred to the Free Press the other day that it would be interesting to enquire now, after the lapse of nearly seven years, as to how Mr. Kent was feeling.

He had removed to 408 Gilmour Street and at that address a Free Press reporter found him.

After reminding Mr. Kent of the article and his affidavit the newspaper man asked him point blank.

"Have you lost any time from your regular work since you were cured of Bright's Disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills in 1895?"

"Not a minute," answered Mr. Kent promptly.

"Have you since had the slightest symptoms of your old kidney trouble or anything like it?"

"Not the slightest," he said.

"You are sure that Dodd's Kidney Pills and nothing else saved your life and restored you to your present good health?"

"Absolutely sure. Why, my wife and I are so grateful to Dodd's Kidney Pills that we have christened our little girl, born in December, of 1896, by the name of Dodd's. This shows you better than anything I can tell you to what we attribute my recovery. I owe my life to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"Would you be willing in order to confirm our story published in 1895 to make another sworn statement?" asked the scribe.

"If it would do you any good I have no objections," answered Mr. Kent. The free Press was certainly well within the truth in every statement they published about my case."

Mr. Kent, at the request of the Free Press, has given the following sworn statement:—

SWORN STATEMENT, OCT. 3, 1901.

1. GEORGE HENRY Kent, resident at 408 Gilmour Street, in the City of Ottawa, and employed as a printer at the American Bank Note Company in the said City of Ottawa, do solemnly declare:—

1. That on February 15th, 1895 I, George Henry Kent, then resident at 114 Cambridge Street, Ottawa, did appear before Charles A. Blanchet, Commissioner, etc., and before him on that date did make a solemn declaration regarding my recovery from Bright's Disease by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills and setting forth the fact of my case and its cure.

2. That in the declaration I set forth that I believe that I was absolutely and permanently cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills after the doctors had given me up to die.

3. That I am now absolutely certain that Dodd's Kidney Pills and nothing else saved my life and I hereby unhesitatingly reaffirm every statement made in my declaration before Mr. Blanchet on February 26th, 1895.

4. That I have never since that date had the slightest symptom of the return of the Bright's Disease or any Kidney Trouble, having enjoyed unremittent good health and having worked steadily without interruption full time at my regular employment as a printer every working day from the day Dodd's Kidney Pills sent me back to work to the date of the declaration.

5. That in evidence of our gratitude to Dodd's Kidney Pills for having saved my life, my wife and I have christened a little daughter born to us in December of 1896 by the name of "Dodd's."

6. That I have recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills to many people in this city and elsewhere, who having heard of my wonderful escape from death by their use have called on me or written to me enquiring about them; and having followed many of these cases closely, I knew of no case where they have been used according to directions that has not been cured, and I know positively of my own personal knowledge of several extreme cases where Dodd's Kidney Pills have effected satisfactory and permanent cures.

And I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act, 1893."

Declared before me at the City of Ottawa, in the County of Carleton, this 3rd day of October, 1901.

(Sgd.) G. H. KENT.

(Sgd.) A. W. FRASER,
A Notary Public in and for Ontario.

Nothing could be more convincing than this plain declaration made by Mr. Kent, and the Free Press is pleased to be able to present such a complete and emphatic confirmation of our article of 1895.

The Kent case must, therefore, go on record as the most wonderful cure ever heard of in this city or province. Every detail of which has been carefully substantiated by sworn evidence.

To Dodd's Kidney Pills is due all the credit for having rescued and restored this dying man and that after all hope had been abandoned and the cold waters of the river of death were lapping his feet.
