It is the Little Things That Count

In the selection of the simpler remedies for the most common ills and ailments, a drugstore has perhaps its best opportunity to prove its policy and method of serving the public. Its little things that count.

Because preparations for certain purposes are in common and constant demand, it is all the more reason why they should be carefully selected, even if the ailments they are to treat are considered lightly.

We have a preparation that we recommend to those who ask for a good physic. It is our LAXATIVE FIG SYRUP; a pleasant and agreeable fruit laxative that induces prompt and painless action of the bowels and cures constipation; 25c. bottle.

PROZEN TO DEATH WALKING IN SLEEP
BROOKVILLE, Ont., Dec. 2.—Getting out of her bed in what is presumed to have been a period of somnambulism, Miss Louise Moore, 35 years of age, daughter of Frederick L. Moore, a prominent farmer of Elizabethtown, met a terrible death. As she did not answer the call for breakfast, investigation was made and tracks in the snow led to the finding of her body in a field nearby. She was attained in her night dress with but one stocking on and the other in her hand. Dr. Hart, of Athens, was called and found that death was due to exposure. Her father, four brothers and one sister survive.

ELFVEN YEARS OF MARRIED LIFE QUITE SILENT
NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The story of eleven years of married life, during which not a word was exchanged between husband and wife, is told in two papers on file here in a separation suit in the state supreme court. The pair, Carl and Mrs. Mintz, were married in 1884. For thirteen years they lived happily together with their four children.

Eleven years ago they quarrelled. The dispute was over some trivial matter. It is said, but the wife declared that she would never address another word to her husband so long as she lived. He declared that the arrangement was satisfactory to him. Mrs. Mintz asserts that both adhered to the agreement.

Seven years ago their daughter Dorothy died, but even at the funeral services the vow of silence was not broken. Mr. Mintz is now seeking a separation.

SCHOONER WRECKED
MONCTON, Dec. 2.—Early this (Tuesday) morning shortly after midnight the Moncton Three-Mast Schooner, Ethel B. Sumner, was swept ashore in a blinding storm of wind and rain near the Breakwater at Waterford, Albert Co.

Four lives were swept out of existence and three sailors battered and blinded by rain and spume, swept upon the rocks on wreckage and their lives saved.

One of the heaviest rain and wind storms of the early winter swept over the Bay of Fundy district yesterday, and a gale from the southwest started early in the morning, west started early in the morning, and at six o'clock last night had reached a velocity of sixty miles an hour at some points along the coast. The full force of the storm was felt at Point Lepreau, but in the upper reaches of the Bay, the gale was only half force. Heavy seas swept the ships back into the harbor and all along the coast line on both the New Brunswick and Nova Scotia shores vessels sought shelter.

Hurrah, No More Lame Backs!

This Case Proves That The Best and Strongest Linctant Ever Made is Nerviline.

When it comes to determining the real merit of a medicine, no weight of evidence is more convincing than the straightforward statement of some reliable and well-known person who has been cured. For this reason we print the verbatim statement of Juan E. Powell, written from his home in Carleton Place, Ont., on Dec. 2, 1912.

"I am a strong, powerful man, six feet tall, and weigh nearly two hundred. I have been accustomed all my life to lift great weights, but one day I overdid it, and wrenched my back badly. Every tendon and muscle was sore. To stoop or bend was agony. I had a whole bottle of Nerviline rubbed on in one day, and by night I was well again. I know of no liniment possessing one-half the penetration and pain-subduing properties of Nerviline. I urge its use strongly as an invaluable liniment and household cure for all minor ailments, such as strains, sprains, swellings, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, rheumatism, and muscular pain."

No better medicine for curing pain was ever put in a bottle than Nerviline—rub it on and rub it in—that rubs out all aches, pains, and soreness. Large family size, 50c. trial size 25c. All dealers, or The Carrington Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

BOXING BOUT—The News reporter had a short interview with John Kilonis this morning and he stated that he would like to have a boxing match with Smart before he left the city for other points. He will be in town until after the match is arranged and if the match is arranged it will be here longer. Mr. Kilonis stated that the Saturday evening match was one of the fastest he has had for some time, and only wished that it had gone to a finish. In a short talk with Smart yesterday, he said that he was anxious to box Kilonis and also would like to continue the wrestling match. Smart also said that he was not in proper condition as he had only four days to train in before the bout. Just another word. If the drunks and other noisy characters will persist in attending these matches and raising Cain in general, they will have to suffer the consequences, so Mr. Keity, the Manager of the Empress said this morning. — Amherst Exe.—Kilonis is well known in Charlottetown.

LOVED ANOTHER MORE THAN HIS WIFE.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 2.—In her apartment on Friendship avenue, Mrs. Bertha Richards sorrowfully told the story of the wreck of her romance that started in a music student, Mrs. Richards had begun, suit for $50,000 against Miss Lulu Glaser, charging her with stealing her husband's love. Mrs. Richards says her husband said to her: "I am done with you. You are a mill stone about my neck. She said today: "I loved him with my whole being and he loved me too. I worked as hard for his success as he did; tire lessly assisted and coached him, not by note and line by line, for I was acknowledged to be a very good music critic. The day that I heard positively he had fallen under the influence of Miss Glaser I went to his hotel and saw him for a few minutes. Do you realize what this will mean to your mother? I asked him. He laughed at me. And do you really mean to go with this woman? I inquired. Take care now, he flared up. Remember you are speaking of the woman I love. That is how he talked to me. I went away and have not spoken to him since.

LAWRENCE, Dec. 2.—Joseph Warnes, Harnagou court, pleaded guilty to-day to the murder of Veronica Bretenas, a widow who lived at the same house, in the Municipal court. He shot the woman on Friday. Jealousy was back of the crime. Warnes had been paying attentions to another woman. The widow forced him to give her up. The widow then seemed to tire of the attentions of the man. He returned home on Thanksgiving and she would not see him. He met her the next evening and fired four bullets into her body. His case will come up again on Friday when it will be held, it is expected, by the Grand Jury. He is twenty-eight. The woman he killed was two years older.

BERNHARDT AGAIN IN UNITED STATES.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—This is not my farewell to you beautiful America, were the words of Sarah Bernhardt, as she stepped off the S.S. La Savoie from Europe with her company for a vaudeville tour of the United States. The French tragedienne carried her usual large personal equipment, which this time includes two pomeranian pups, tucked snugly under her arm, as she crossed the gang plank, cheered by the crew of the liner. Mme. Bernhardt left in a special car or Chicago where she will make her first appearance. Her tour will extend to the Pacific coast.

CALEB POWERS WEDS LOYAL SWEETHEART

NEWPORT, Ky., Nov. 30.—Congressman Caleb Powers, who spent two years in the State Penitentiary for alleged complicity in the assassination of Governor Goebel, to-night married Miss Anna Dorothy Kaufman, of this city.

Although the world seems to be against him in his ceaseless fight for freedom from the charge connecting him with the slaying of Governor Goebel, she stood by him and believed in his innocence. The ceremony was performed by Judge Harry Hawkins, an intimate friend of the Congressman. After an extended honeymoon trip through the East, the Congressman and his wife will reside in Washington.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Raymond Belmont, has been reported Saturday as having parted with his show-girl bride, Ethel Helen Linder, known on the stage at Ethel Lorraine, had not returned last night to the Gosford, where he went to live with his wife after their marriage. According to the seemingly well founded reports, the second son of the financier left the apartment at noon on Friday, and has been at the country home of his father, at Babylon, ever since. It is reported the financier has forgiven his son.

IRATE FATHER CHASE.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Dec. 2.—E. H. Chase and his bride, Miss Marion Mercer, must face an irate father for S. F. Mercer, father of the groom, of the young bride will reach Grand Forks tomorrow. The young couple was wedded in this city yesterday afternoon, Rev. J. K. Burlison performing the ceremony. Mr. Mercer says that the marriage was not consented to by himself or Mrs. Mercer; that their daughter is not yet 18 years of age, and that he intended to bring legal proceedings against the groom.

That the bride was but 17 years old last August is the assertion made by the father. He had no definite information of the marriage of his daughter and Mr. Chase, till his talk over the telephone with the Grand Forks people. The bride in yesterday's rather interesting element is well known to the people of the north west as a reader of no mean ability.

INQUIRY INTO EXCESSIVE CHARGES FOR COAL

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3.—Six millions a year, or a trifle more, annually is to be the saving of Philadelphia as a result of the bringing of the anthracite coal roads before the State Railroad Commission. So say the experts who have gone over the testimony given at the hearing, which was held at the Philadelphia and Reading Company has been attacked. The experts figure that, as a result of the hearing, not only will the freight rates from the coal fields to Philadelphia be considerably reduced but the railroad coal mine owning companies will have to give up their control of retail yards and of barges which transport the coal. But the inquiry will have a much wider effect, as it is to be continued to other large cities that think they will be subjects of discrimination. Harry E. Bellis, the freight rate expert who was employed by the local businessmen's associations and by the city to get at the exact cost of hauling coal, has been approached by business men in other cities, including New York, and has been requested to take up the fight for them. Railroad rate experts declare that had the railroads known of the great mass of evidence collected they would have offered to compromise, but now they are in the fight and will have to get out the best way they can.

INDUSTRIAL REPORT.

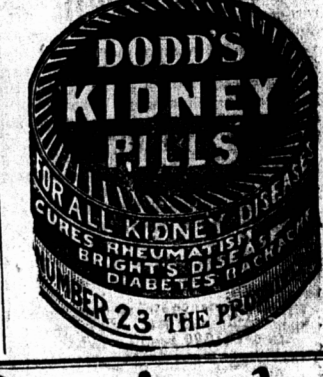

OTTAWA, Dec. 1.—The report of the department of labor on industrial and labor conditions during October just out, states that labor conditions were good during the month, that agricultural operations were extensively carried on and threshing was generally done under favorable conditions. With the exception of a few days of cold and wet weather in the middle of the month, good weather prevailed and progress was made in all branches of agriculture. Conditions in the west, the report says, were particularly favorable. The quality of the grain marketed is unusually high. Trade has been stimulated greatly. Metalliferous camps in all parts of the country were busy. Many men have set out for the lumber camps but the cut is not expected to be greater than that of last year. Railway work was carried on more extensively than during September as more men were available after the close of harvesting operations. The building trades were exceedingly busy in preparation for winter activities. In this line, however, a shortage of men was universally reported. Unskilled labor was in great demand and in most localities the demand was not adequately satisfied.

FUNERAL OF LATE REV. CHAS. BORDEN.

DARTMOUTH, Dec. 2.—The funeral of the late Rev. Charles Borden took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence, Pleasant Street, and was largely attended. A funeral service was held at the residence, proceeded to the Victoria Road Baptist Church, where another impressive service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Kempton, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. J. W. A. Nicholson, pastor of St. James' Presbyterian church, after which the remains were removed to Christ Church cemetery, where interment took place. The pallbearers were Charles Diggs, Robert Tynes, Abram Tynes, Edward Brown, Henry Tynes and Henry Collins. The large number of floral offerings testified to the esteem in which the deceased had been held.

ASTOR'S WIDOW SEEN ON 5TH AVENUE AGAIN AFTER LONG ABSENCE

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Mrs. John Jacob Astor has just made her first public appearance on Fifth Avenue since the birth of her son. She was accompanied by her younger sister, Miss Katherine E. Force. Mrs. Astor was becomingly dressed in a slightly modified mourning dress, its sombre effect broken by a few touches of white. She mingled with the shopping crowds and seemed to take more than a passing interest in the shop windows. A gayly bedecked Christmas tree in one large shop window held her attention for a long time. Mrs. Astor looked the picture of health. She wore a V-necked bodice, and her walking skirt had a broad band of black fox around the hem. Her coat was lined with fox fur also, and the same fur trimmed its cuffs. She carried a large black fox muff and a gunmetal waist bag. Her hair was entirely of crepe and over its crown fell a long widow's veil of crepe. But this she had twisted around her arm in such a manner that it hung in graceful folds on her left side.
