MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER—Thursday evening an enjoyable time was held at the Pastime Hall Queen St., the event being a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Margaret Simpson, who is shortly to be the principal in an interesting event. The presents were "fished" from the fishing pond, many of the verses attached to the articles creating much amusement. The affair, which was under the auspices of the Killcare Club of which Miss Simpson is a member, was very successfully carried out. After the party was finished and the presents were being supplied by Misses Helen Hogan, Louise Arsenault, Mrs. Alf Stewart and Mrs. West.

PERSONALS—Mr. and Mrs. D. R. H. Mitchell and daughter have returned from an extended visit to the West, including Banff and other points of interest.

Mrs. J. F. McAleer and three children who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. A. Doucette, Winchester, Mass., for the past two months, has returned home. Mrs. McAleer visited several cities including Brooklyn, where her eldest daughter, Lillian, went under a very successful operation for the muscle of the foot. Mrs. McAleer speaks very highly of the Elliot Hospital staff, also the specialist, Dr. Adams who performed the operation.

WHY BABIES CRY?

It's often hard to find the trouble — It may be teeth — it may be stomach — but oh! so often it is just a chafed irritated skin on which poor Soap has been used. The remedy for this is so simple! Hours of suffering — night after night of disturbance — have been avoided by mothers, who have insisted on — Baby's Own Soap. Of course it costs a little more, a very little more, however — than what is often bought and used — but four generations of Canadian Mothers are there to vouch for its purity, for the soothing healing effect on Baby's delicate skin, for the lovely pure flower fragrance it leaves when Baby fresh and clean is taken from his bath.

Don't you think, Madam, it's worth trying the 15c. cake, a little less if you buy a box (3 cakes) which your dealer asks for Baby's Own Soap. Adv.

STONE TABLET TO MARK PLACE WHERE ARMISTICE WAS SIGNED

PARIS, Sept. 9.—Some emotion was felt in France at the idea that the glade in the forest of Compeigne where the Armistice was signed was left uncommemorated. November 11, 1918! That unique day of real happiness, when bursting with hope and joy, the hearts of the whole world hailed the dawn of peace! Many distressing "eyes have, alas! since then brought many gloomy days. But the memory of that day which saw the end of the great drama remains unfaded. The cannon shots which told the breathless world of the news of an armistice brought overflowing happiness. Solely did one know that from the hills of Verdun, to the wet ditches of the north, millions of heroes had been ordered to lay down their arms. That was enough. Nothing else for the moment mattered. The future dimly seen through the glorious present, could not but be smiling. M. Binet-Valmer, who during the war, enlisted in the French ranks, and is the indefatigable president of the Ligue des Chefs de Section, went one day with some friends through the devastated fields which saw the strife of the "pollus. They went to the forest of Compeigne and in a narrow glade found rusty, moss-covered rails, and on two pieces of worn-ent wood they deciphered the half-erased inscriptions: "Train des allemands" and "Train du Marechal Foch." There it was that on Nov. 11, 1918, the chief of the allied armies met General von Win-

Happenings of the Week

A large number of island visitors spent the week-end in Moncton, attending the races on Monday, while many others went on to St. John for the Exhibition, which was very largely attended all week.

Labor Day, which passed off so pleasantly on Monday, with appropriate and fishing parties, really ended the summer holidays. It might here be interesting to recall the origin of this public holiday. The idea of the day's celebration began on September 5, 1882, during a parade of New York labor unions. A national convention of the Knights of Labor, forerunners of the America Federation of Labor, was held in the grand stand. As paraders passed by, a delegate said to a worthy foreman of the Knights of Labor: "This is Labor Day in earnest, Uncle Dick!"

30-CENT WHEAT DUTY IS AIM OF U.S. FARMERS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—A concerted drive has been begun by leaders of the farm tariff block in House and Senate to prevent material reduction in the high agricultural rates fixed by the Senate in the Tariff Bill. One of their purposes is to continue the 30-cent wheat duty of the Senate measure. Present House agricultural leaders predict the Senate agricultural rates will be retained with little or no reductions.

WOMAN TO BLUESTOCKING

MILAN, Sept. 9.—A romantic Turkish lady is in charge of the press bureau and propaganda of Mustafa Kemal Pasha and the Ankara Turkish Government. Mme. Halide Edib lives in a country villa near Ankara, quiet and secluded, but from this abode the enthusiastic woman, who had an exciting escape from Constantinople to join the Nationalists, conducts a ceaseless propaganda, writing at least thirty letters daily to eminent politicians all over the world. Mme. Halide Edib is more than a scolarly Turk; there is something of the amazon about her. An Italian journalist, who recently visited her at Ankara, waited for her in a room whose walls galled with rifles, revolvers, daggers and swords. Suddenly he heard a horse approaching at a gallop and, looking through a window, he saw the Edib mounted on a magnificent thoroughbred, her well streaming behind in the wind. She wore large brown riding boots and at her waist hung a revolver. During the interview she remained in the orthodox manner, but once she raised her veil for a moment showing her interested auditor a fresh face with black eyes set in pallid complexion. Madame then began to talk propaganda.

SILVER FOR FARMS IN U.S. CORN BELT

TORONTO, Sept. 7.—Silver fox farming promises to attain proportions in the Upper Mississippi Valley equaling those of the live stock industry, judging by the ever increasing number of United States farmers who are acquiring the animals. Until recent years there were no fox farms in the United States Canada, especially Prince Edward Island, had a monopoly on the industry, largely through the wide spread belief that the fox would thrive only in extremely cold climates. This fallacy has been exploded by farmers in the corn belt, where a temperature of 15 below zero is rare.

PUGLISH DROPPED DEAD FROM OVER EXERTION

BASTON, Sept. 8.—Five minutes after he knocked down Elmer Cross, his sparring partner in a training bout today, Louis Barrese, 18, a boxer, dropped dead. Over-exertion was given as the cause of his death.

SILENCER NEEDED.

Some time ago I took an old colored man to the picture show for the first time. When he came out I said: "Well, uncle, did you enjoy the picture?" Oh, yes, he said; the picture was all right, but the piano made so much noise I couldn't hear a word they said."

ENTERPRISE PIPELESS FURNACE

What Users Say: Fort Williams, N.S., March 1, 1922. The Enterprise Foundry Co., Ltd., Sackville, N.B. Gentlemen:— I am writing to say I am perfectly satisfied with the Enterprise Pipeless Furnace. I find it much cleaner than stoves and with the thermometer registering 22 below zero, I did not realize it was a winter's day. Yours very truly, W. F. MEEK. Wolfville, N.S., Feb. 25, 1922. The Enterprise Foundry Co., Ltd., Sackville, N.B. Gentlemen:— I have one of your Pipeless Furnaces and am perfectly satisfied with it and think it far ahead of every furnace I have ever seen. As for heating the house thoroughly through, it is a goal saver, I think it is a wonder. Yours very truly, MRS. D. B. SHAW. Lunenburg, N.S., Feb. 25, 1922. The Enterprise Foundry Co., Ltd., Sackville, N.B. Gentlemen:— coldest weather this winter, my Enterprise Pipeless Furnace has given perfect satisfaction, heating where "stoves" would fail. I have used less coal than previous winters, when the house was heated by two base burners. Then the only comfortable rooms were those in which the base burners were. Now, the house is evenly heated throughout, I strongly recommend this Pipeless Furnace to anyone wishing for a warm comfortable house at low cost. Yours very truly, Capt. WILLIAM MILLER. Write us to-day The Enterprise Foundry Co. Limited 18 Lorne St., SACKVILLE, N.B. Our own dealer representative in your locality will make the installation for you. AN ALL CAST FURNACE
