Read has purchased from the underwriters the Ulva, the ninety-nine ton schooner that went on Juremain Reef, Cape Tormentine, during last Friday night's storm, and her cargo. ENJOYABLE TIME.—Messrs. G. A. Sutherland, G. T. Tomlins, B. V. Van-Iderstine, F. L. Crockett and D. L. Bethune were at home to City guests at "Keep-Kool Kottage," Rocky Point on Friday night. About 125 guests from the City went over by motor boat and according to all accounts it was "some time." The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Grant and Mr. and Mrs. G. Hughes. A clam-bake on the shore and a big dance figured largely on the programme. "K. K. Kottage" was brilliantly lighted with lanterns for the occasion and gorgeously illuminated with flags. Piano music and singing helped to make the time speed merrily.

THREE SONS ON DUTY.—Mr. Leon J. Arsenault, of Abram's Village, has three sons fighting for King and country. One son, Lance-Corporal Angus Arsenault, went to England with the 25th Nova Scotia Regiment. Some time ago he was wounded, but is again back in the trenches. Another son, Thurlfield, joined the 55th New Brunswick Battalion, and in England was transferred to the Signal Corps. The last to answer the call was Aubin Arsenault, who joined the 105th P. E. Island Battalion and is now in England says the Journal. Mr. Arsenault gave his sons cheerfully for the cause, and it is hoped that after they have completed their stern task they will return to their justly proud father.

A gloom of sorrow was cast over North Rustico and vicinity when the Angel of Death visited the home of Mr. Thomas Pineau and took a way his aged house maid, Miss Louise Martin in the eighty-third year of her age. Although indisposed for a few days no serious complications were expected as she was able to go around the house and seemed to be regaining strength. Death however had marked her and she passed away quite peacefully on Sunday, July 15th, fortified by the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church of which she was a devoted member. The late Miss Martin was a woman of sterling character and of charitable disposition. She led a life of singular piety and of self-sacrifice and her demise will be a source of regret to all who knew her. She possessed a quiet unassuming manner always ready to offer a helping hand to those who needed her assistance. In her last illness she bore her sufferings and trials with patience and resignation or in other words with a true Christian spirit. Her funeral took place at St. Augustine's Church, Rustico on Tuesday, July 18th. Rev. Dr. Chaisson officiated in the church and at the grave and all that was mortal of this venerable woman, kind neighbor and genial friend was laid to rest to await the final resurrection. The pall-bearers were Prosper Blaquiere, George Leclaire, Andrew Blaquiere, Alex. Leclaire, Jeremiah Blaquiere, Benoit Martin. Requiescat in Pace.

A very sad gloom was cast over the vicinity of Mount Vernon, recently, when the angel of death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan D. Morrison and claimed for its victim, their youngest son, Stewart, at the early age of 14 years. The deceased was a general favorite with all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance and during his lingering illness of seven weeks with bronchial pneumonia his Christian fortitude endeared him to all. During his sickness he was tenderly nursed by his loving mother and sister and despite all medical skill available, he passed away peacefully on July 15th 1916. He leaves to mourn besides his bereaved parents, three sisters, Mrs. Harold Balfour, Dorchester, Mass., Mrs. Joseph Ludes, Chicago, Ill. and Effie at home, also five brothers, Duncan and Daniel of Calgary, Alta., Murdoch of Dorchester, Mass., and Thomas and Alex. at home. The funeral which was held on July 17th inst. was largely attended and the service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. John Gillis, who also attended him during his illness. The pall-bearers were Duncan McRae, David McQueen, Willie A. McQueen, Roderick McRae, Alex. McLean and Duncan McMillan. Dearest Stewart, thou hast left us in our lonely home today. But in Heaven, we hope to meet thee. In that land where all is fair.

Hooper will be pleased to learn that no serious consequences are anticipated and that he is likely to be all right shortly.

WHILE THE CAR FERRY steamer was being loaded with freight at Picton on Friday something unusual happened. A barrel, filled it is said with (whisper! it!) Bottles of whiskey, fell over the side into the dock. The thought of the loss of such precious cargo resulted in desperate efforts being made to recover it. Pike poles were tied together and grappling was resorted to. The first attempt brought the prize half way up, when it slipped and went back to its muddy resting place. Other attempts of the same kind resulted in the loss of a good pike pole, but failed to raise the drink. Whiskey generally leads men to a downward direction and so it was in this case. As a last and desperate resort to solve the elusive conundrum, a Picton man wearing spectacles and two members of the crew, of the Car Ferry, for "diver's" reasons shed their everyday covering and encased their classic forms in bathing trunks tried several headers over the wharf in the downward direction referred to. Whiskey is sometimes hard to get and this was one of the occasions. It persistently eluded the submarine searchers even though one of his seal to locate the precious stuff, wore glasses. After a considerable time had been spent at these attempts the divers were obliged to give up the "dry" task to wait the chance of the Bremen or Deutschland when captured being brought to the scene and saving the stuff.

Mr. Theodore Lantz of this City received on Saturday night the following letter from Major Frowse of the 98th Siege Battery—telling of the death of his son, previously reported killed in action:

From O. C. 98th Canadian Siege Battery, C. E. F., C/o Army Post Office, London, Eng.

July 13th, 1916.
To Mr. Theodore Lantz, Charlottetown, P. E. Island, Canada.
Dear Mr. Lantz,—
It is with most heartfelt sorrow that I write to you regarding the death of your son Walter, who was killed this afternoon at 12.05 o'clock. An enemy shell, High Explosive, burst quite close to him where he was eating his dinner with seven other men, a piece of which hit him exactly in the middle of the forehead; he died instantly, falling into the arms of his comrade Pope Bear.
We prepared a casket for him from the rough materials at hand and his comrades carried him about 1 1/2 miles is as good today as when I bought it thirty years ago.

Tens of thousands of enthusiastic users are behind the public conviction that the word "OSTERMOOR" is synonymous with supreme and lasting sanitary sleep comfort. Ostermoor quality is the standard of comparison for all competition.

However, OSTERMOOR quality at the familiar price of $15.00 has now become utterly impossible. The constantly-increasing cost of all materials used in manufacturing the OSTERMOOR MATTRESS has compelled us to do one of two things; either to lower the famous OSTERMOOR standard—which means casting OSTERMOOR reputation to the winds—or to increase the price. The former is unthinkable, and is not desired by the public; therefore, we are taking the other course.

On and After August 1st, the Ostermoor Mattress sells at $18.

The first cost of the OSTERMOOR MATTRESS is the only cost; unlike other mattresses, it requires no renovation. You willingly pay $18—often much more—for a labor-saving device or a home comfort; then why not for an evenly buoyant, sanitary OSTERMOOR MATTRESS that will give you a lifetime of the refreshing sleep comfort so vitally important to health?

You can buy this Mattress only from an OSTERMOOR dealer. You can always identify the genuine Ostermoor by the binding around the edges similar to the border round this advertisement. Do not accept any substitute.

to a pretty little cemetery near a village, the name of which I will tell you later. A Church of England Minister named S. M. Morgan of the 64th Infantry Brigade performed the last ceremony and after the grave was filled in the boys placed flowers all over it. We put a cross at his head on which the following inscription was painted: 9292—Gr. W. J. Lantz, 98th C. S. B. Killed in Action, July 12th, 1916. Above the inscription we put the ensign of the Masons, also that of the Schriners. It was with very sad hearts indeed that we watched his body being lowered into the grave. I was going to say that he was the best man in the Battery, but I have so many good men that it is very hard to be the best, but he certainly was one of the very best.

He should be killed practically by accident, as it was only a matter of the odd shell coming in at the moment when it would do the most damage. We have been six weeks under fire during which time hundreds of hair-breadth escapes have occurred, but to-day is the first real casualties we have had, and that they were so fatal makes it harder to bear, but there is one thing Mr. Lantz I want you always to remember "this boy lived a man's life since he came to me, and he died a man's death," what more can we ask?
May God bless you and your family and help you in your dark hour of trial is the sincere wish of all your friends here.
To Mr. Theodore Lantz.
Yours Sincerely,
W. B. PROWSE, Major,
Commanding 98th Canadian Siege Battery.

"LEM" MILLS ENLISTS.—The first Prince Edward Island colored man to sign up with the new colored regiment now being formed in the Maritime Provinces for overseas service was Mr. Lemuel Mills formerly of Charlottetown. Mr. Mills has joined as a bandsman. "Lem" is a son of Mr. Thomas Mills of New Glasgow, N. S., who for many years was coachman at Government House, Charlottetown. He is a noted hockey player having played on the famous Rangers team when that lively organization was in existence.

Is Making History by Fitting Men to Fight the Empire's Battles Overseas.

NOW that the great Allied offensive is under way, gaining momentum with every stride, Canadians in training here and Overseas grow keener and more impatient to "get into the thick of it" Valcartier, already historical, is doing wonders in fitting men of Eastern Canada to uphold the standard of our gallant lads who have already played the game so bravely and effectively in Flanders.
