

High Yields

Many investors think first of yield and safety next. This, it is true, is quite contrary to the rules of good investment practice.

If you belong to this class of investors we shall be glad to furnish you with a list of preferred shares which we have for sale at the present time.

LATEST FROM THE THEATRES

PROCTOR'S 125TH STREET THEATRE.

Twelve acts changed twice weekly seems to be the alluring feature of this popular playhouse and since the inauguration of the big bills business has been of the capacity kind. Commencing Monday and for the first half of the week, the holiday programme will be topped by Captain Geo. Auger and company in the novelty playlet "Jack and the Giant." Others diverting novelties are Samuel Ash, the phenomenal tenor; Florence Gordon and company in the comedy skit, "Who's Boss"; Wilson and Gallagher, blackface comedians; Three Tytes, plattique poseurs; Ruba Willis, comedy instrumentalists; Edison Talking Pictures; Shaw and Swan, comedy skit; Paulinetti and Piquo, novelty acrobats; Madame Helene Hardy, impersonating great women; O'Donnell Bros., Irish comedians and Lillian Carter, blackface comedienne besides black and white photo plays and the wonderful Kinema-color.

PROCTOR'S 58TH STREET THEATRE.

Major Doyle, the big little man will top a bill of comedy and class. Others are "The Goddess Nicotine" a big spectacular novelty in three scenes with a bevy of pretty girls; Big Jim, the wrestling bear; Dilks and Wade, comedy instrumentalists; Conboy and Company in the comedy sketch "The Claim Agent"; Goldie Boya, nimble dancers; Kinema-color and black and white photo plays de luxe.

PROCTOR'S 23RD STREET THEATRE.

Jesse Lasky's problem play of the future "In 1999" will be the feature of a dandy holiday bill for the first half of the week. Others listed are Three O'Connor Sisters, in a protean singing and dancing offering; Jane Knowles and company in the comedy sketch "What Henrietta Did"; Edythe Gibbons, singing comedienne; Chas. J. Neilson, instrumentalists The Stroud Trio featuring "Baby Violet" in a dainty pianologue offering; Toledo and Burton, gymnastic novelty; Kinema-color and black and white photo plays.

For the plunge into the heated term, Proctor's 5th Avenue Theatre has prepared a bill of refreshing novelties sure to please the fastidious summer spectator and aimed to delight the army of devotees of a safe and sane Fourth. The feature de luxe will be the appearance of the Modern Svengali, a hypnotist who exercises his occult powers on a beautiful singer, just as DuMaurier's creation, manipulated the vocal powers of Trilby. Prior to entering the next big Winter Garden show, Conroy and Le Maire will disport themselves for another week in vaudeville, while other features of a smart programme will be the Paulman Team in polo and basketball on bicycles; William Sisto, Italian-American monologist; Two Roses, expert instrumentalists; Willie Gardner, skatological terpsichorean; Lombardi and Knoll, operatic soloists; McMahon, Diamond and Clemence, singers, dancers and comedians; Hong Pong and Company, Chinese funmakers in American antics; Valveno and La More, eccentric tumbler and as an added feature, the Broadway debut of the Scottish comedienne, Jane Weir and company in the joyous bit of aria persiflage, "His Last Offense."

W. F. KEITH'S THEATRE, BOSTON.

Next week will be the third and positively last of the engagement of "The Meistersingers. In The Wild Woods," at B. F. Keith's Theatre, Boston. This is the last opportunity given to hear the combined Harvard, Schubert and West Male Quartettes of Boston in their beautiful scenic spectacle, depicting life in the great pine forests of Maine. An entirely new programme will be offered on this occasion, with new songs and new soloists. Second only in importance to the last week of "The Meistersingers in The Wild Woods," will be the appearance of Donald Meek, the popular character actor of the Castle Square Stock Company, in a brand new comedy of country life written especially for him. Mr. Meek scored a decided success on his vaudeville debut at this playhouse last summer, and it is in response to thousands of requests that Mr. Keith has arranged to present him for a second season in a new playlet. Mr. Meek will be supported by an excellent company. His engagement is for one week only. Other excellent features of a fine bill will be Ben Deely and company in "The New Bell Boy"; Maurice Golden, the yiddle with a fiddle, and Grace DeWinters, the kid ventriloquist, in a novel act; the Heuman Trio of wonderful celloists; Carl McCullough, in "Footlight Impressions"; Kathryn Chaloner and company in "Kate's Press Agent," a new comedy; Carson and Brown, dancing experts; and The Ballets, wonderful experts on the Roman rings.

B. F. KEITH'S UNION SQUARE THEATRE, NEW YORK.

One of the most generous as well as classy vaudeville programmes ever offered in New York City will be the B. F. Keith's Union Square Theatre attraction for the week of July 7th. The bill contains many novelties, favorites with new presentations and several new time offerings. The headline feature will, of course, be Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt, making a very welcome reappearance. Miss Vanderbilt has made a tremendous success all over the country and she has secured some of the most enthusiastic and laudatory press notices from the mass critics in every city where she has appeared. She will be assisted by Mr. George W. Moore, who has starred in several productions, and they will present for this special engagement a new terpsichorean classic, called, "Unusual Dances," intermingled with comedy sayings and brilliant songs.

The Messrs Koller, Hall, Morton and Company, a quintette of comedy entertainers, will make their first appearance presenting a hodgepodge of nonsense. Another new comedy feature, making their premiere are John R. Gordon and his company of players in the one act farce, called, "What Would You Do?" This playlet has been the one big hit on every program and we feel sure they will repeat their success here.

To add to the variety of the program, Merlin and his pack of cards will hold a prominent position. Mr. Merlin is the modern mystifier of the day managing to secure more humor out of a pack of cards than the average vaudevillean does from a one act farce.

NEW YORK'S CELEBRATED EDEN MUSEE.

There has been a wax work exhibition from time immemorial - or, as old Meyers used to say, "from time immemorial" in London in the days of George III, there was "Mrs. Salmon's waxworks. Now there is Madame Tussauds that everybody goes to see - at least once. In Boston there formerly a show of that kind at the old Museum. At present the Eden Musee of New York holds the palm and hundreds of notables figures can be seen there and ought to be visited by persons who appreciate the great truth so well expressed by the poet Byron when he wrote "because things seen are mightier than things heard." The Eden Musee is well worth a visit.

Few strangers have any idea of what can be seen at this popular place of amusement. In addition to the Eden in Wax exhibition depicting scenes and incidents from all over the world in groups and tableaux, hundreds of figures of the most prominent and most talked of people of the world are to be seen in life like figures. Then there is the Cinematograph moving picture exhibition every hour in the electrically cooled concert Hall, where visitors can listen to the Band concerts. Altogether several hours can be spent pleasantly.

Another Talk for Young Men

The importance of saving, as the first start on the road to fortune, is obvious. It is not what you earn, but what you save, that makes you rich. If the average young man will simply apply the same intelligent effort to the care of his money that he does to the earning of it he will soon acquire the savings habit. Presuming that YOU have already formed this excellent habit, and that you are now ready for an investment, we recommend for your consideration the 7 p. c. Cumulative Preferred Stock of the Maritime Nail Company. This is the amply-protected security of a prosperous Maritime industry, rendered even more attractive by 50 p. c. Common Stock Bonus.
