WORD has been received of the death by drowning at Hooper, Dodge Co., Nebraska, of Daniel Foley, aged 40, formerly of O'Leary, who was married to Miss Annie Currie, daughter of Donald Currie, West Point. The accident occurred on the Elkhorn River. This river is deep, swift and narrow and at the place where the fatality occurred had formerly been connected with the opposite side by a bridge. A storm however, some time ago swept this bridge away and for the time being crossings were effected by means of a cable ferry service. This also met with an accident and was overturned. There were seven persons on it at the time and all were saved with the exception of Foley and another man named Neale. Their bodies were found after three days search.

If We Could Make You Understand Exactly How We Do Business

We would have you for a permanent customer. First—the buying. This is done personally and everything of doubtful value is thrown to one side—we take next consideration, then cost. When we receive the goods, we examine them and satisfy ourselves they are absolutely perfect in every detail. In the pricing of goods we do not ask ourself how much will they stand, but how low can we sell them? The expenses of running our business are probably 30 per cent less than most stores. You get the benefit of this saving. This is the reason why good, reliable artistic furniture people are proving this every day. Don't you want to be sure of the quality of the furniture you buy? If so, come here for your next furniture purchase.
