Monday Will Be Circus Day In Charlottetown

Today the Al. G. Barnes Circus is appearing in Halifax and shortly after midnight tonight some 1,000 people, hundreds of horses, caravans of camels, three herds of elephants and countless other specimens of wild animal life together with all the various paraphernalia will be loaded on the special circus trains and on their way here.

By all accounts the circus trains should reach Cape Tormentine by 8 o'clock Sunday morning. There will be several hours consumed in transporting the show on the S. S. Charlottetown as she will be forced to make at least four and perhaps more trips across the Straits. The trains will be re-assembled at Borden and proceed on to Charlottetown, arriving sometime late Sunday afternoon.

Let no one doubt but that the entire Al. G. Barnes Circus will be brought to Prince Edward Island and presented twice here on Monday exactly as it has appeared already this season in some of the largest cities in North America. The new ferry and the standard gauge railroad make this procedure entirely feasible, and necessary. Necessary because a circus is so organized to move and play a different town each day, that should any part be left out this would disrupt the organization. A case in point is illustrated when the circus plays Detroit, Michigan. Several days are played in a city of this size and several different locations are used. These different locations are from four to 8 miles apart, but it is found far easier to load the trains in the usual manner and moving only a few miles than it would be to just drive over to the location just "driving over" would upset the routine of the highly organized circus.

Arriving here late Sunday will enable the circus to have the tents erected on Connolly's Field early Monday morning and everything in readiness in plenty of time for the two shows that will commence at 2 and 8 p. m., the doors opening one hour earlier to enable all ample time to inspect the world's largest circus menagerie.

It is a far cry back to the circuses of boyhood days, from this super circus formed through the present conditions and which statistics don't mean much it is enough to say that this enormous amusement enterprise is altogether the greatest circus ever devised.

Many a staid citizen is already turning back the pages of memory to a long ago boyhood, when the circus was the biggest thing in life, and the privilege of carrying water to the large and apparently hollow elephants was an honor not lightly to be thrust aside.

The coming of the circus reminds many an oldster of the hurried dressing in the semi-darkness—the tip-toeing down the front stairs, and the run to the railroad yards, where the red and yellow trains were "spotted" when the circus came to town. In those days the circus carried, perhaps, a half dozen elephants. Tomorrow's circus brings three herds of the bulky creatures, with all else in like proportion.

"Bigness" is the keynote throughout. Twenty-two tents of varying size are erected to house the enterprise, the biggest of these, the main tent, or "big top", seating thousands. The increased size of this circus has meant the elimination of the street parade, every ounce of horse and man power now being required to get the circus installed and ready for its two daily performances.

BONSHAW W. I. The regular meeting of the Bonshaw W. I. was held on July 18th at the home of Mrs. Nell Ferguson. 15 members responded to roll call and 3 visitors. The meeting opened by singing the Ode and repeating the Creed, with the President, Mrs. Beaton, presiding. Minutes of previous meeting were read and adopted. Having our annual picnic was discussed and it was decided to go to the Experimental Farm on Saturday afternoon, July 21st. A letter of thanks was read from Miss Eva McLeod, teacher, for remembrance given her on leaving the school, to take up her duties in Hampton. A very interesting report was given by Mrs. Hector, McNevin and Miss Jean Crosby, delegates who attended the Institute Convention in Charlottetown, was adopted. A jumbled word contest was put on by the Entertainment Committee and won by several members. Delicious ice cream and cake was served by the hostess. Next meeting to be at the home of Mrs. Geo. Carson, roll call to be "The name of Biblical kings, and their deaths." The meeting closed in usual form.

A special meeting was also held on July 9 at which time the secretary gave a report of receipts and expenditures of the cream festival, held July 6th, the net profit amounting to $38.65.

Active Year For Uigg Institute

The following presidential report and financial statement was submitted at the recent annual meeting of the Uigg Farmers' Institute:

President's Report

We have come to the 7th annual meeting of the Uigg Farmers' Institute. Many lines of businesses of purchasing and selling of farm produce which in former years chiefly formed Institute work, is at present taken care of by other co-operative organizations. Our Egg Circles look after the handling of our eggs and dress the poultry. Our Shipping Club is looking after the marketing of hogs and lambs and the potato Growers attend to the shipping of seed potatoes. Our Institute is one of 24, scattered throughout the province doing business estimated at about $100,000. It is being requested that Institutes be discouraged in the handling of live stock as this work can be carried on more effectively through the Live Stock Marketing Board. Therefore our efforts as an Institute are to be confined to the purchasing of seeds and feeds. These branches of businesses are carried on by many institutes from accumulated funds which in some cases amount to several hundred dollars. At present we are called on to put cash on delivery of goods and it is well that our funds be increased.

In reference to the year's business, we wish to particularize the fact that there is quite a saving to farmers in the purchase of seeds. On 100 lbs. of Red Clover, a saving of 5 cents—$50.00. On 500 lbs. of Alsike a saving of 3 cents—$15.00. On 100 lbs. Mangle Seed, a saving of 10 cents—$10.00. On 300 lbs. of Turnip Seed and other seeds 10 cents—$30.00.

This makes a total saving of over $100.00 to farmers who deal with us. The mixed seed selling at 10 1/2 cents, has made it possible for many farmers to seed with clover at very small cost where otherwise it would be impossible. As we are purchasing much of our seed from the Kenora Clover Seed Co., operative this year the quantity available is very limited with no red clover to be had. In view of this fact we have to fall back on The United Farmers of Ontario from whom we have been getting such seeds as mangle, turnip, alfalfa and sweet clover. I think members present will agree with me that these seeds are of the best quality and high germination. We have handled "The United Farmers' Twine". This twine called "Irish Twine", is manufactured specially for them in Belfast, Ireland. This twine comes in 5 or 8 lb. balls with 600 ft. cordage which gives a greater binding capacity than Green Sheaf. A little calculation will show that at 3.75 a bale it is cheaper than Green Sheaf at 3.50. If it is possible to get an order of 100 bales the cost price will be reduced 1-2 a cent per pound.

At our Central Institute meeting in Charlottetown on farmers week we are bringing forward a resolution for increased grant from our government. It will be pointed out that Women's Institutes are costing the government $4,000 while the grant to Farmer's Institutes amounts to $900 and it is therefore requested that the appointment of a delegate be not overlooked. We conclude this report in the hope that we are turning the corner toward prosperity and better times for those who follow the profession of farming.
