Kensington and Vicinity

Messrs. Fred Deague and William Butler of Minimigash River were passengers by train to Summerside on Tuesday.

It would be interesting if the comparative longevity of small or large families was available in statistics —also physical environment, type of food, etc., etc. Whether denizens of mountain plain or seashore, a notable instance of the longevity of a family of seashore dwellers was brought to the attention of the writer recently viz. The twelve sons and daughters of the late John and Mrs. Thibedeau are all alive and in good health, the youngest being sixty-five years old —the oldest eighty-five.

Mr. Rex Dawson of Tryon was a visitor to Summerside last week. Mr. Dawson has recently returned from a visit to Boston.

Miss Eloise Gallant, R. N., of Bloomfield was a passenger by night express to St. Louis on Wednesday. Miss Gallant is a recent graduate of St. Mary's Hospital of Montreal.

Mr. Narcisse Myers of Peters Road, Lot 1 was a passenger from Summerside on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Fred MacKinnon and infant daughter were passengers from O'Leary to Tignish on Thursday.

Miss Donald returned to her home in Alberton by train on Thursday.

Messrs. Claude and Howard Shea, sons of Wilfred Shea of Ebbsfleet, were passengers by train on Tuesday A. M. to St. Dunstan's Univ.

Mr. Clarence Morrissey of Tignish was a passenger by train to Charlottetown on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Shea of Ebbsfleet who were recently married were tendered a post nuptial shower at their home on January 5th. A large number of neighbors and friends were present to congratulate the bridegroom and welcome the bride, the former Miss Audrey O'Brien of Alma. The gifts included many beautiful household necessities, money and checks including a substantial one from the groom's father, Mr. Wilfred Shea, and a chest of silver. The parcels were opened by Miss Priscilla Shea and the accompanying verses were read by Miss Rita Shea. The bride expressed her thanks in a few well chosen words. The evening was pleasantly spent with music and dancing. The music was supplied by Messrs. Richard Mokler, Raymond Gallant and Herman Kennedy. Mrs. Doucette and Mrs. E. C Gaudet. The guests departed in the wee sma' hours wishing Mr. and Mrs. Shea many years of happy married life.

The January meeting of the C. W. L. of Indian River, was held on January 7th at the home of the President, Mrs. L. G. Ramsay who opened the meeting with prayer. Roll call and minutes of last meeting were read. Treasurer's report followed showing that all fees and obligations have been paid. Corresponding Secretary reported one letter of sympathy sent. Correspondence was then read. Two letters from members expressing thanks for sick treats. Letters were read from the following Diocesan Conveners; Mrs. Rossiter, Convener of Education; Mrs. Brown Convener of Publicity; Mrs. D. F. McNeil, Convener of Magazine. Interesting letters were read from the following officers and boys of the parish, overseas who had received their Christmas gift of cigarettes. Capt. Rev. R. F. McDonald, Capt. Weston Campbell, Pte. D. S McLellan, Lac. Robert Goodwin, Sig. J. G. McQuaid, Sig. Allison McLean Pte. B J. Gillis, Gnr. M J. McKinnon and Pte. L. T. Kelly. Several boys acknowledged receiving their cigarettes in letters to their homes. The following institutions acknowledged donations to their Christmas celebrations. St. Vincent's Orphanage, Convent of the Precious Blood, Provincial Infirmary and Falconwood Hospital. The leader of Study Clubs in Indian River reported three meetings held with a good attendance showing increased interest each meeting. A short discussion on dispensing of charity reminded the members not to forget those less fortunate neighbors and the meeting adjourned.

Mr. Fred Tuplin and Mr. Roy Easter of Indian River, left last week for N B where they will spend the winter.—K.

Asthma Suffering Stopped 7 Years

Seven years ago J. R. was asthmatic, lost weight, suffered coughing, choking, wheezing every night—couldn't sleep. Mendaco stopped his spasms promptly and he now reports normal weight and good health although 70 years old. To prove that Mendaco may do the same for you, we make this liberal trial offer: Get Mendaco from your druggist today! Unless it lessens and removes thick strangling mucus, brings free breathing, restful sleep and frees you from the suffering of Asthma attacks, simply return the empty package and get all your money back. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose. So don't suffer another day without asking your druggist for Mendaco.

Junior Chamber Commerce Meets

The regular meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce was held last night in the City Building.

The President, H. G. Bohaker was in the chair and after disposing of some routine business, the discussion on the topic of the evening was opened by A. E. Russell of the Civic Affairs Committee.

The main features of Mr. Russell's remarks were the general improvement to the City of Charlottetown, especially with respect to housing and sanitary conditions.

A lively discussion followed on these topics and on methods of taxation as well as public health within the city.

Those taking part in this discussion included M. A. Farmer, J. O. McLean, Dr. J. A. McMillan, P. C. McCormick, C. R. McQuaid, Earle McDonald, H. W. Dick, Geo. H. Sinclair, Frank Hanson, Cyril Bell, Roland Taylor and Neil Higgins.

It was decided that the Civic Affairs Committee make a thorough study of these matters and the Chamber in general endeavour to stimulate public interest in the affairs of the City.

Assault Case In Supreme Court

The case of Josiah Smith, charged with assault causing actual bodily harm, was before the Supreme Court yesterday with Mr. Justice McGuigan presiding.

Attorney General F. A. Large and G. R. Holmes represented the Crown; R. R. Bell appeared for the accused.

Five witnesses for the Crown were heard yesterday: Dr. R. G. Howatt, Arthur Pineau, John Shepherd, Bertha Shepherd, and Mrs. Florence Dunn. It is expected the trial will conclude in time to go to the jury this afternoon.

The jury are: Messrs. Bruce McKinley (foreman) North River; Gordon McLean, Clyde River; Everett Shaw, Brackley Point; Aubrey McPhail, York Point; Keith Brown, York; Jules Gaudet, Charlottetown; Harvey McPherson, Charlottetown; William McLrod, Mount Stewart; Duncan A. McCannell, Charlottetown; Heber Cantfield, Westmoreland; John W. Gallant, Kingston; Edwin Bell, De Sable.

Mr. Holmes, in opening the case for the Crown, briefly reviewed the circumstances of the alleged assault in which at about 10 o'clock on the night of Aug. 23 last the accused is charged with having struck and kicked John Shepherd, his brother-in-law, with such violence as to have fractured Shepherd's jaw.

The case against Florence Elizabeth McNeill, charged with murder, will be heard before Chief Justice Campbell and a jury immediately following the disposition of the Smith case. It was to come up yesterday, but was postponed owing to the absence of the Chief Justice who was detained in Summerside.

Citizens Adoption Committee Meeting

At the annual meeting of the Citizens Adoption Committee of H.M.C.S. "Charlottetown" held last night in the Council chamber of the City Hall, the following officers were elected:

President—Mayor J. E. Blanchard.
Vice-President—George Ryan.
Secretary—Mrs. Arthur Henry.
Treasurer—Miss Mary McQuaid.

Mayor Blanchard presided at the meeting.

City Clerk James A. Fullerton, who represented the City at the presentation of Christmas boxes to the officers and men of H.M.C.S. "Charlottetown", gave a comprehensive report to the Committee on the presentation and on the warm welcome extended by the ship's officers and crew.

Ex-Mayor B. Roy Holman, who accompanied Mr. Fullerton on his goodwill tour as the representative of the Committee, also gave a report in which he stated twenty-four leather coats were still needed by the crew of the "Charlottetown."

Several letters were read from the ship's complement by Mr. Ivan Reddin, in which they expressed their appreciation for the kindness and thoughtfulness of the Committee in making possible for them a very happy Christmas.

A letter from Lieut.-Commander J. Harding, R.C.N., officer commanding the "Charlottetown", to the ladies of the Frigate Fund Committee was also read by Mr. Reddin. Excerpts from the letter follow:

"May I take this opportunity on behalf of the entire ship's company and myself to thank you for the splendid gift packages which you so thoughtfully forwarded this ship on Christmas.

"As many of the ship's personnel were without parcels from home Christmas Day due to late mail deliveries, these gift boxes along with a Navy League "ditty bag" turned what might have been a disappointing Christmas into a very merry one.

"It is with deep appreciation we extend to all of you from all of us our sincerest good wishes throughout this New Year."

Before the meeting adjourned, the following committee was formed to attend to the purchasing of 24 leather coats for the "Charlottetown": Mrs. Arthur Henry, George Ryan, and Miss Mary McQuaid.

Cmdr. Kingsley Takes New Post

A NEWFOUNDLAND PORT, Jan. 15 — (CP) — Cmdr. H. Kingsley of North Vancouver, a veteran of 28 years' continuous service in the Navy, has taken over new duties as commander-of-the-port in this Atlantic base.

He succeeds acting Capt. H. W. Balfour of Saskatoon, Sask., now commanding officer of H.M.C.S. Stadacona in Halifax.

Cmdr. Kingsley was commander of the destroyer St. Croix for more than a year prior to November, 1941. Later, he commanded another renowned Canadian destroyer, the Skeena, and was senior officer of escort groups at a time when U-boat wolf-packs were taking a heavy toll of Allied shipping in the North Atlantic.

Prior to his recent appointment he had served as Captain of the Royal Canadian Navy barracks at Niobe, Scotland, and an executive officer at the Stadacona base in Halifax.

He joined the navy as a cadet in 1916 and during the First Great War saw action on British battleships.

His first appointment in this war was as west coast signal officer at Esquimalt.

A BIG ASSIGNMENT

By the end of October the First Canadian Army had virtually completed its most important assignment since the beginning of the war — capture of the Scheldt estuary surrounding the port of Antwerp.

The defendant in a case of assault with intent to rob was further remanded one week.

AT ROTARY — Rotarian R. H. Rogers was the speaker at yesterday's Rotary luncheon, his subject being "Power". Mr. Rogers defined power as that which causes change in material the better to fit it for the satisfaction of human desire. He showed how power may be used to produce a finished product, suitable to human needs, by effecting necessary changes in the raw materials used. In some cases the changes are great, in other cases the necessary changes are only slight in order that the material may be made fit for human use or consumption. The speaker also discussed the various sources of power, noting that it lends itself to the production of evil as well as of good. It may be used for destructive purposes, for the infliction of human suffering and various forms of evil, as well as for the enrichment and adornment of life. Lloyd Wellner and Roy Kendall were joint chairmen. Roy MacLean, of Souris, was the only guest at yesterday's meeting.

Donald McLeod reported for the Kirk Cubs.

Four trustees retired this year and on ballot Mr. William McLean, Mr. Aben MacLean, Dr. Russell McClenaghan and Mr. R. S. P. Jardine were elected to fill the vacancies.

Votes of thanks were passed to the different organizations and all who had worked so faithfully during the year just closed.

A vote of appreciation was extended to Mr. W. A. Stewart, who has resigned as chairman of Trustees after many years of faithful service. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the Kirk Auxiliary, the pretty tea table being presided over by Mrs. Somers and the new Auxiliary president, Mrs. A. J. Murchison.

WHEELER TOUCHES

Senate after the last war," Senator Pepper called on his colleagues to agree to arm President Roosevelt with a statement of "what we will do and when we will do it" in supporting world peace moves.

Senator Eugene Millikin (Rep.-Colo.) challenged Senator Pepper's assertion that the Senate's actions had brought on the Second Great War. He asserted that other European countries "lacked the guts, the spirit and the enthusiasm to resist" German aggressors. He said Senator Pepper could not demonstrate that if the United States had been a member of the League of Nations the result would have been any different.

Senator Wheeler said that every time he spoke out he expected to be charged with aiding the enemy, but added that he "can take it." Previously Secretary of State Stettinus had said Senator Wheeler's remarks about unconditional surrender might have been labelled "made in Berlin."

Senator Wheeler, strongly isolationist before the United States entered the war, said he was convinced that with Great Britain the objective of restoring free governments to German-overrun countries" is now a secondary aim and with Russia it is not an aim at all."

Senator Wheeler proposed that the Senate advocate the immediate formation of an international council to handle such political questions as post-war boundaries on a multilateral rather than a unilateral basis.

Probe Begins Into Taxing Of Co-Ops

VANCOUVER, Jan. 15 — (CP) — Two representatives of co-operatives insisted at the opening session today of the Royal Commission on Co-operatives that monies retained after operations are surpluses and not profits.

Both said that although the British Columbia Act under which they are incorporated refers to "profits," the co-operatives regard such monies as "surpluses."

The Commission is under the chairmanship of Mr. Justice Errol M McDougal of Montreal. It will study the present position of co-operatives regarding application of income and excess profits tax and the organization, business methods, and operations and other matters relevant to application of such taxes. It will also investigate the comparative position in relation to taxation of persons engaged in any line of business in direct competition with co-operatives.

C. D. Clarke of Vancouver, secretary of the B. C. Co-operative Union, told the Commission the provincial act was wrong in referring to profits and should use the word surpluses. Thomas Blake of Vancouver, representing the B. C. Co-operative Seed Association, said that "we are not earning profits . . except for the statutory reserve as required by law."

Report State Of Panic In Vienna

ZURICH, Jan. 15—(CP-Reuters)—Persons who have arrived from Vienna said today that chaos reigns in the city.

Neither the gas nor the electricity supply is functioning, and communications are out of action over a considerable radius. Hundreds of people are attempting to leave without permits. These are summarily shot when caught.

The entire population is in a state of panic, they reported.

L. Cpl. Beaton Honored Young Island Officer Praised

Lance-Corporal G. Sutherland Beaton of Winsloe, left last Saturday for Toronto where he will enter the Christie Street Hospital to undergo further treatment for wounds which he received while in action in France.

He enlisted in the Canadian Army in December, 1942, went overseas in August, 1943, and was severely wounded on August 15 last while participating in the battle for Falaise. After being invalided back to Canada early in December he was granted a 30 days leave which he spent very pleasantly at his home in Winsloe.

On the eve of his departure upwards of one hundred of his friends and neighbors called on him to do him honor and presented him with a well-filled purse and address.

Although completely taken by surprise L-Cpl. Beaton thanked one and all for their kindness and consideration on his behalf. The address reads as follows:

Dear Sutherland: It is with feelings of joy, mingled with sorrow, that we have gathered here tonight to do honor to you, one of Canada's "hero sons" just returned from the battle front. Our joy is that you have been spared to return to your loved ones after participating in some of the most desperate battles on the Western Front. Our sorrow arises from the fact that you bear scars, and have suffered wounds which in all probability will trouble you for the remainder of your days. We hope that with modern medical skill at your disposal you will be restored, as nearly as possible, to your usual state of physical fitness. You had the honor and distinction of serving with, and being part of one, of Canada's finest regiments The Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders. This will be a matter of gratification in years to come as the Highland blood, which courses through your veins would not have permitted you to be satisfied with anything less. While on the field of battle you were promoted to your present rank. This, we know, was in recognition of services well performed. It also speaks well for your superior officers, as it is evidence that they recognized your true worth. It would be pleasing, indeed, if you could see your way clear to settle in your own community and among your old friends.

We would ask you to accept this gift as a symbol of the esteem in which you are held in this community.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors.

Suggests Change In Municipal Taxation

KINGSTON, ONT., Jan. 15 — (CP)—The housing shortage in Canada is a result of "absurd municipal regulations affecting property taxation," Jamieson Bone president of the Ontario Property Owners' Association said today in an address to a service club luncheon here.

Suggesting municipal governments adopt the British system of municipal taxation where "property is taxed on a revenue-producing basis," Mr. Bone said Canadian municipalities have forced property to pay "whether it is income-producing or not."

Camp Borden, Ont.

Dear Mrs. Nicholson: Your son "Nick" although he is one of my younger N.C.O.'S is doing a fine job. His enthusiastic drive, loyalty and devotion to duty have made it a pleasure to help him whenever he needed it. The last platoon he had come through their training in excellent shape. Since he did not have an officer for most of the time the credit is "Nick's" People such as I am, a former High School teacher, get a tremendous kick out of seeing young folks develop and accept responsibility in the splendid manner your son has done. I wish him the best.

selves, and the complacence with which their parents had regarded their ventures. She answered noncommittally:

"I thought you were expecting Jenness home before this."

"Well, she's going to be later than she thought, because she went down to North Carolina, to Jerome's wedding.

Rhoda looked up quickly from her coffee. "Why I didn't know Jerome had him a regular wedding!" she said in surprise.

"Oh, yes! He and Alix were married in his Colonel's quarters. And Jerome sent a telegram to Jenness, and said he and Alix would both like to have her as bridesmaid. So she bought herself a pink dress and caught the first train for Fort Bragg."

"You don't say!"

"Here's a wedding picture. Alix wore her great grandmother's wedding dress. Before the Civil War her family lived on a plantation named Benefontaine, right beside the Mississippi river. There were three acres on it covered with flower gardens and an avenue of live oaks a quarter of a mile long leading up to the house. And the house had fifty rooms in it. But the St. Cyrs lost it.

"Mrs St Cyr died when Alix was just a baby. Jenness said the second Mrs. St Cyr would have been glad to give her a home anytime. She had a great big house in New Orleans. She came to the wedding and made a very nice appearance, Jenness said. And she gave Alix and Jerome a substantial check for a wedding present— a very substantial check,' Serena repeated letting the words sink in "But Alix always wanted to be independent."
