Wall Street Mirror Says:
Special to Johnston & Ward

BY THEIR OWN PRIVATE WIFE
NEW YORK, April 20.—Further weakness developed during the earlier part of the session Saturday but it was scarcely of climatic proportions, covering in fair volume, however, the market higher for the day. U. S. Steel temporarily the limit day of setting or actually represents a turn is difficult to judge.
After the four preceding days of decline the market may be entitled to some further recovery. However, to be really convincing the volume of the decline should be considerably larger than has yet developed or another period of extreme quiet should prevail. Conflicting reports come from steel centers regarding the probable rate of operation to be reported next week, if it proves to be an increase, it is likely to be small. The market already has gone a good distance toward absorbing the further delay in the business recovery and what apparently will be a rather quiet summer. Just how much further it must go to provide the basis for a recovery in anticipation of the expected turn this fall cannot be definitely said but around last year's lows as indicated by the Dow Jones Industrial averages is the logical place for at least a stopping place to develop.

Baby Market In Gold Stocks
NEW YORK, April 20.—By virtue of economics and legislative fiat, the gold mining industry is looking up. A side-show to the recent bear and bull tussles in the big tent in Wall Street has been a baby bull market in gold mining stocks.
The highly speculative nature of gold mining, and the numerous fraudulent mining promotions by which "gold brick" securities were sold to gullible buyers in past decades, had caused Wall Street to regard these stocks as somewhat beneath its dignity.
Not since the vigorous development of Rand mines in South Africa around the turn of the century had Wall Street seen much of a bull market in the yellow metal issues, and then the bull market here was primarily in sympathy with the rise of the Rand issues in London.
There has been a distinct upward trend in the half dozen or so Canadian and United States gold issues traded on the New York stock and curb exchanges in the past two months, and Alaska Juneau, long a low-priced stock and classed in Wall Street jargon with "the cats and dogs," has more than doubled in value since January.
The 1931 high and 1930 low price for some of these issues follow:

Londoners Big Tea Drinkers

LONDON, Eng., April 23.—Exceeding 420,000,000 pounds, the consumption of the British Isles averaged five cups of tea a day during last year, the Imperial Economic Committee reported. The report says the British Empire now holds the position of tea garden of the world. Increased use of the beverage is attributed to the spreading custom of taking tea in the middle of the morning in addition to the usual afternoon "tea time."

An Unmixed Blessing

CAMDEN, N. J., April 20.—While her husband was seeking a job, having been unemployed for more than six months, Mrs. Ethel Burkard, 29, recently presented him with triplets. The couple already have four children, two being twins, ten years old.

"Ten minutes faster to the office this morning — and I didn't speed..."
FIFTY minutes from home? That's going some!
Yes—but you can always depend on Pontiac to come through on schedule. It isn't only speed—it is easy control and snappy acceleration.
And that's the truth about the new Pontiac Six. Driving and riding are restful—and you clip minutes from journeys with safety and economy.
You may never look under the hood, but it's a joy to experience the quiet, smooth power-flow of Pontiac's 60-horsepower engine. Steering and gear-shifting are effortless. And if you care for that sort of thing, you can "stop on a dime"—with Pontiac's big brakes.
Then consider Pontiac's modern beauty, the luxury and completeness of its appointments. Bodies by Fisher are finished with such careful attention to detail as special insulation against engine heat and noise. Such unusual items as 5 wire wheels, Lovejoy shock absorbers, fender indicator lamps, radiator screen and new-style bumpers, demonstrate the high standard of its General Motors value.
We invite you to see the Pontiac Six and to test it. You will be agreeably surprised at what you can buy for such low prices. Likewise you will be satisfied with the low, time-purchase terms of GMAC; and the generous provisions of the General Motors Owner Service Policy that safeguard your satisfaction.
