

Woman's Realm Social and Personal Fashions Literature

HAPPENINGS OF THE WEEK

Mr. Francis C. L. Floud, K.C.B., who has been High Commissioner for Great Britain in Canada for the past three years, left Ottawa Saturday morning for Quebec and sailed on Sunday afternoon by the Empress of Britain for England. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss Ailsa Craig; also Mrs. Peter Floud, a daughter-in-law, who with her husband, has been visiting at Earncliffe, Mr. Peter Floud, who is in New York is sailing from there shortly for home. Mr. Floud and his wife will be pleased to receive the guests of the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. DeBlois last May, while on their first visit to Charlottetown.

Recent sales from Canada in London indicate that a controversy wages in the Dominion on the subjects of "shorts" for men and women. Which makes more interesting the news that the Queen is reported to have permitted the Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose to wear the comfortable garments like those their father used for camp. Joining thousands of youngsters of their own age in the sensible costume for summer life, the Princesses show once again that their wise parents are guiding them to the enjoyment of simple pleasures, examples of which are frequently given by purchases made by King George VI. Her Majesty last year visited the Scottish Industries Exhibition shortly before her birthday. For his daughters—just like any other father—he bought a present. It was a tea cloth and set of little tea napkins in blue with a map of Scotland woven in silver, and is now in frequent use at tea parties given by the Princesses at the Royal Lodge, Windsor.

The illness of Miss Carrie Holman is sincerely regretted by her friends, and especially by the Girl Guides of which Miss Holman is Commissioner in Prince County and has been quite active on their behalf.

Mrs. (Dr.) W. H. Pettiback was hostess at a prettily arranged afternoon bridge on Tuesday for her guests, Mrs. Pettiback of New Glasgow and Mrs. Protter of Antigonish, N. S. who are being cordially welcomed.

Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm James MacLeod, left by motor last week on return to New York having spent a delightful season at their summer place in Eldon. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Putnam will remain there during the autumn.

The disposition of Mrs. (Dr.) G. P. Dewar, who is at present in the P. E. I. Hospital is greatly regretted by her friends.

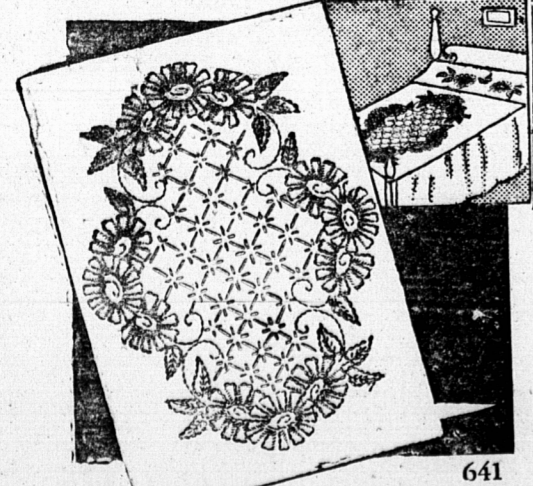

Mrs. Benjamin Rogers Sr. has left on a visit in Malden, Mass., the guest of Mr. Rogers' sister, Mrs. Hunt.

Mrs. Nelson Smith and Miss Laura Smith, who were here for the Turner-MacMillan nuptials, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Turner, have returned to Moncton.

The sympathy of many friends will go out to Mrs. Helen Hooper and family in their sudden bereavement.

Mr. A. H. Mould, Manager of the Canadian National Hotel, accompanied by Mrs. Mould left yesterday on a month's holiday. They are travelling by car to Montreal then proceeding to New York and other American points. Mr. Foster, who has come from Pictou Lodge to act in Mr. Mould's absence, is cordially welcomed.

To-Day's Popular Design By Carol Aimes

ZINNIAS IN A GARDEN, EMBROIDERED BEDSPREAD DESIGN NO. 641

Miss Aimes receives at least 200 votes for each design before it is accepted for this column. Send us your votes. We print all the popular designs. Dear Readers: Your letters telling us so many nice things about our department put us all in a grand mood this morning and so we have designed this lovely spread to show you how helpful you are. It represents beds of vivid zinnias nodding against a garden trellis. You may work all the flowers in one color or varying shades or you may select many colors. Note the clever flower petals made of straight stitches and a single row of outline. It is surprisingly quick and simple to complete. The pattern includes transfers of the designs for centre of the spread, corners and border, stitch and color guides and keys, materials required and diagrams of stitches. Send 20 cents, coins preferred.

Pattern Order Form—To be used when ordering Patterns and Voting for POPULAR DESIGNS. The Charlottetown Guardian Needlework Dept. DESIGN NO. 641

Name _____ Street Address _____ City _____ State _____ I suggest the following as a POPULAR DESIGN _____

All reproduction rights to this Design reserved.

Turner-MacMillan Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Smith Turner, Charlottetown, whose marriage took place last Saturday afternoon, with their attendants Miss Louise MacKenzie, R. N. bridesmaid and Mr. Norman Saunders, groomsmen.

han in Summerside, have returned home to Framingham, Mass. They were pleasantly entertained during their short visit.

Mrs. White and youngest daughter, Miss Betty, have returned to Summerside after a visit of some weeks to Mrs. White's daughter, Mrs. MacPherson and Dr. MacPherson, of Boston. They also visited Mrs. White's son, Rev. Charles De W. White and Mrs. White of Halifax, N. S.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ruggles, of Bridgetown, N. S. were welcome guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Merriman, Summerside.

Miss Winnifred Gillan of Worcester, Mass., is arriving tonight to spend the week with her sister, Miss Ina Gillan and her aunt, Mrs. George H. Reddin, King Street.

Last evening Miss Lena McLure entertained at her home, Bonnehilly, in honor of her class in Cavendish and surrounding districts. A pleasing feature of the evening was the playing of Mr. Horace McEwen and Miss Marion Morris.

Mrs. N. H. DeBlois left by motor Thursday for Rothesay, N. B., accompanied by her daughter, Miss Betty DeBlois, who is attending the Collegiate School, St. DeBlois will later be joined by Mrs. DeBlois who has been attending the annual meeting of the Maritime Wholesale Grocers at Digby, N. S.

Dr. and Mrs. Mark Inman and daughter, Miss Heather, left Wednesday for their home in London, Ont., after spending a delightful holiday with Mrs. Inman's mother, Mrs. Boyd Livingstone, Clyde River.

Miss Nan Shaw left yesterday morning for Quebec to attend the marriage of her brother Dr. Harold Shaw. From Quebec Miss Shaw goes to Toronto where she will take up her position as secretary of the Toronto Conservatory of Music.

Miss Janet Horne entertained very pleasantly last Saturday evening in honor of their guests Mr. and Mrs. Percy McMahon and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur McMahon of Moncton, N. B. Dr. McMahon is a son of Senator Melanson.

Mr. B. W. Robinson, Provincial President of the Canadian Legion, and Mrs. Robinson, entertained Lt. Col. W. Foster, D.S.O., Dominion President and Colonel H. D. Johnson, to lunch at the hotel before Colonel Foster and his party left for the mainland by plane. Members of the Summerside Branch were present.

The Princess Royal does not go to many dances now, probably because she is so busy in more serious directions. She, however, attended the dinner and dance given by her sister-in-law, Viscountess Lytton, the former Lady Margaret Lennox, to mark the coming-out of her only daughter, the Hon. Rosemary Hamilton-Russell, who was among the debutantes at the recent court. The dinner was at Lytton's London house, in Belgrave square, and among guests were the Duchess of Northumberland, Lady Diana Percy and Viscountess Brackley. For the dance Miss Maud Allan's big house and huge garden in Regent's park was secured. Miss Maud Allan was the Salome dancer known to pre-war generations.

Q. When a girl is dining in a hotel and wishes to dance, should she check her wrap? A. Not necessarily; she may leave her wrap on the back of her chair.

Q. Is it all right for guests to speak to one another without an introduction when attending a formal tea? A. Yes, this is permissible if the tea is a large affair.

Q. What kind of tie should a man wear with evening clothes? A. A white or light blue bow tie, to match his shirt and waistcoat.

Modern Etiquette (By ROBERTA LEE)

CATERING FOR HOME AND PUBLIC FUNCTIONS is a Leading Feature of our Business. During the past year we have catered for numerous private families and public bodies to their entire satisfaction.

DINNER, TEAS, AT HOMES purveyed for at moderate rates. Apply for quotations. THE NOBANA RESTAURANT Great George Street Telephone 1374.

What Keeps Marriage Going? Dorothy Dix

Husbands and Wives May Complain About Each Other and Rush Into Divorce Courts, But do You Notice How Many Take a Second Whirl at Matrimony?

When we read that one marriage out of every six in the United States ends in divorce, and observe the disgruntled husbands and wives of our acquaintance, we are inclined to think that marriage is a failure and to wonder that it keeps on being a going concern.

Without doubt, few of the optimistic young lovers who march so confidently to the altar realize their dream and marry the heaven-sent partner that they expected it to be. Nevertheless, there are many consolation prizes in the matrimonial lottery, and perhaps even the disappointed and peevish husbands and wives, who read the all-too-familiar complaints against marriage, are happier than they think they are.

For proof of this we have the indisputable fact that those who rail loudest against the disillusion and restrictions of the holy estate almost invariably rush back into it when death or divorce opens the doors of what they have regarded as their prison. One would think voluntarily return to a fire, but such is not the case. No sooner have they been freed from the yoke that galled them than they stick out their necks for it a second time.

Two commercial travellers were swapping tall wireless stories in the presence of an old countryman whom they were trying to impress. "You got a radio set?" asked one of the travellers. "Yes, sorr," said the countryman, "I got a very good one. 'Has it good selectivity?" asked the traveller, with a knowing wink at his companion.

"Well, yes," said the old fellow "it has. The other night I was listening to a quartet, and I didn't like the tenor, so I just tuned him out and listened to the other three."

Elizabeth - How's your new building house? Suzanne - The rooms are just tolerable, the table is so-so, but the gossip is simply great.

To utilize small bits of soap scraps, put in a jar of warm water and allow to dissolve into a soft soap or, if dry, grate them into soap granules on a cheese grater.

THE HOUSEWIFE AND HER ACTIVITIES

He pounded away at a brisk rattat-tat, Shearing and shaping with pull and pat. Hide well hammered and pegs sent home, Till the shoe was fit for the prince of Rome. And he sang as the threads went to the loom, "Whether 'tis hidden or whether it show, Let the work be sound for the Lord will know."

SUN-COLORED SKY The sky at night is not dark blue, as it appears to dwellers over the face of the land. Neither is it black, as it looks over the desert. It is yellow, sun-color. It doesn't look that way to human eyes because the light is so faint it can't be seen that way. But as recorded in delicate spectrographs, night sky light is indubitably sun-color.

SQUARE TOED SHOES STAGGERING A COMEBACK The square toe, with its tendency to shorten the appearance of the foot, is staging a comeback and is often accompanied by a really square heel. Trimmings of ribbon, metal or composite materials are given way to less conspicuous trimmings of leather, often in a shade or material contrasting to that of the shoe itself.

PIGEON FRIED WITH BACON IS AN UNUSUAL DISH Pigeons and bacon combine to make a dish which will be much appreciated. Cut off the heads and feet of the pigeons, split open and draw them, then flatten the birds out with a heavy weight and remove all the bones from the meat.

Cleaning utensils used for making pastry and cakes is always considerable work, but won't be if you take this tip: Rinse bowls as soon as you're finished with them in cold water to remove flour, dough or batter, then plunge into hot, soapy water and wash in usual way.

Patent Leather Fingerprints on patent leather bags will wipe off readily with a rag dampened with milk. When the leather has dried, rub it with a soft cloth until the shine appears.

The Double Boiler To keep cool water for the lower part of double boiler from boiling over, see that the water in the bottom pan does not touch the

THE COOK'S CORNER RECIPE FOR GENUINE SCOTCH OATCAKE Use medium oatmeal and roast it a little before use. Put a cupful in a bowl with a pinch of salt, pour hot water on it and stir well till stiff.

Melt some butter, about a tablespoonful, and pour on to dough. Mix well, adding dusting of oatmeal till dough leaves bowl quite clean. Place on pasteboard and roll out, dusting with oatmeal and adding butter. Fold and roll again till cake is about half-inch thick or less and round. Cut across and diagonally into eight triangles. If boards and cake have been correctly each piece will lift on a knife and can be put on the "gridle," which must be hot and dusted with meal. If you lift the whole circle, cut it on the gridle. Bake till the edges begin to curl up—anything from 10 to 20 minutes. Lift each piece off and put on some kind of toaster before the fire for a few minutes.

Today's Short Wave Radio Program (All Time is Eastern Standard) SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17 5:00 p.m.—Violin music from Finland to Spain. DJD, 26.4 m., 11.77 meg.

LONDON 6:20 p.m.—"Stand and Deliver," a history of highway robbery in England. GSG, 16.8 m., 17.79 meg.; GSP, 19.6 m., 15.31 meg.; GSO, 19.7 m., 15.18 meg.; GSD, 26.5 m., 11.76 meg.; GSB, 31.5 m., 9.51 meg.

LONDON 6:50 p.m.—Eugene Pini and his Tango Orchestra. GSG, 16.8 m., 17.79 meg.; GSP, 19.6 m., 15.31 meg.; GSO, 19.7 m., 15.18 meg.; GSD, 26.5 m., 11.76 meg.; GSB, 31.5 m., 9.51 meg.

Stimulating! As Mountain Air KING COLE Tea

BOOKS, ART, MUSIC (By F. R. H.)

SEPTEMBER BOOKS

The number of Fall books is always rather overwhelming. This year is no exception. Important September publications include—"The Buccaneers" by Edith Wharton, the last novel of one of America's leading novelists; "A Puzzle in Poison" by Anthony Berkeley, one of the Crime Club selections for September; "Rebecca" by Daphne Du Maurier, the English Book Society selection, also the Literary Guild choice for October; "The Joyful Delaneys" by Hugh Walpole, dealing with a light-hearted Irish family; "More Heavens Than One" a new novel by Frank L. Packard; "Erebus" by John Galsworthy, Foides whose "Street of the Fishing Cat" won the All Nations Competition; "Charles Laughlin and I," a biography of the famous actor by his wife, Elsa Leach; "Growth of a Man" by Max de la Roche—'not about John Bull'; "Thrice a Stranger" by Vera Brittain, the "testament of maturity" by the author of the popular "Testament of Youth"; "The Door of Life" by Edith Lugger, a narrative very different from her delightful "National Velvet"; "Crippled Splendour" by Evan John, the story of James I. of Scotland; "The House of Tavelnik" by Jo Van Ammers—Kuller a novel with its background in Holland of the eighteenth century; "While England Slept" by Winston Churchill who is coming to America in October for a lecture tour; "Baker and Taylor's Editor's Choice for September"; "Dynasty of Death" by Taylor Caldwell called the most impressive novel of the month; and "Big Ship" by Charles G. Loring, most readable of all September books; the story of a boy and his dog and the circus.

OCTOBER FORECAST Some of the interesting October books are: "Doctor Bradley Remembers" by Francis Bret Young; "The Wind" by Anne Morrow Lindbergh; "A Blunt Instrument" by George Heyer, October Crime Club Selection; "Listen! The Wind" by Anne Morrow Lindbergh; "Black Is My True Love's Hair" by Elizabeth Hadcox Roberts; "First the Blade" by May Merrill Miller; "Take it Easy" by Damon Runyon; "Such Sweet Compulsion" autobiography of Geraldine Farrar by Ruth Fielding; "Wisdom's Gate," by Margaret Ayer Barnes, continues the story of "Years of Grace"; "George Gershwin" edited by Merle Arlidge; "Toscanini and Great Music" by Lawrence Gilman.

Some of the most popular and best sellers at present in England are: "The Joyful Delaneys" by Hugh Walpole; "Science for the Citizen" by Lancelot Hogben; "The Domesday Men" by J. B. Priestley; "The Impregnable Women" by Eric Linklater; "Crippled Splendour" by Evan John; "Windsor Tapestry" by Compton Mackenzie; "To You, Mr. Oates" by James Hilton; "The Snows of Kilimanjaro" by Ernest Hemingway; "In Hazard" by Richard Hughes; "Harris Oscar Wilde" edited by G. B. Shaw; "The Rains Came" by Louis Bromfield; "Gone With the Wind" by Margaret Mitchell; "Tasmanian Pair" by Douglas Reed; "The Importance of Living" by Lin Yutang; "Old Money" by Audrey Lucas; "The Bible Designed to Be Read as Living Literature" edited by Ernest S. Bates; "How to Win Friends and Influence People" by Dale Carnegie; "Green Leaf" edited by L. Dickson; "The Thought Reading Machine" by Andrew Lang; "Out of the Nettle" by Norah Lofts; "Sir John Vanbrugh" by Lawrence Whistler; "William and Dorothy" by Helen Ashton.

How Can I... (By ANNE HUSLEY) Q. How can I clean terra cotta effectively? A. Make a solution of potash by dissolving in a half pint of warm water as much of fine potash as it will absorb. Then stir in enough sand to bring the solution to a consistency of paste; cover the terra cotta with this paste and leave it for at least a day. Then wash off with cold water and clean with non-fluoride cloths.

Q. How can I make a delicious filling for my cookies? A. Place between the cookies after they are baked.

Q. How can I cause whitewash to stick more readily to the surface of the wall? A. Add some salt to the whitewash, and it will adhere readily.

at Murray Point, Emma Lake, Saskatchewan, and the grounds are now fully equipped with a lecture hall, a radio room, a projector, a well stocked art library.

Mr. G. Kenderdine, Director of Art in the University of Saskatchewan, supervises the practical classes and Dr. G. W. Snelgrove lectures on the history of art and art appreciation.

"MASTER CLASSIS" IN MUSIC For the third summer, also a series of "master classes" was conducted in Toronto by the eminent pianist Evelyn Howard-Jones. Mr. Howard-Jones is a Londoner of Welsh descent and a famous interpreter of Brahms and of the piano works of Frederic D. Shubert who was his personal friend.

The attendance at these master classes was very large, this year, the students coming from great distances. Hector Charlesworth who was present at the opening session which was neither a recital nor a lecture, writes of this interesting method of study—"The composers studied were Beethoven, Schubert, Mozart, Brahms, and Dohnanyi. Four accomplished soloists were heard and after each number Mr. Howard-Jones discoursed on the individual problems in interpretation involved, and the traditions surrounding them. For instance he took up the beautiful main subject of Beethoven's Sonata, opus 27, No. 3, a sister work of the "Moonlight" Sonata, and illustrated the difficulty and awkwardness of the fingering demanded, despite the loveliness of the effect.

Realize that death is with the difficulties involved in transferring to the piano works composed for the harpsichord like those of Mozart and Rameau, and at the same time preserving the original atmosphere. He warned his hearers against accepting literally markings of tempo and expression, especially in the case of the older composers. He pointed out that even such a modern composer as Debussy refused to set down such markings, maintaining that a good musician would intuitively grasp the tempo from the melody itself. This in the speaker's opinion was asking too much, but he pointed out that an intuitive feeling for tempo and shading was the mark of the true artist.

LONDON - (CP) - Lieut. Richard Laybourne has bequeathed $15,000 of his $92,000 estate to provide free beer and cigarettes to the unemployed, affording a head for Fresh Guards.

Plan the Personality You'd Like to Have

You, Too, Can Have Good Times Have you ever thought how much your personality helps or hurts your future? Every day of your life you are becoming more popular as you are losing ground with your friends. You are gaining social poise and charm or you are less attractive to others.

Realize that you can't stand still. Take advantage of this fact. Study yourself. Decide what you want. Make your personality grow in that direction.

You wouldn't wear an unbecoming hat. But do you wear unbecoming manners? Do you may feel warmly and radiantly friendly toward new acquaintances. Do you permit your personality to express this inner glow?

Try to strengthen one pleasing trait each week. See how easily you attract gay interesting friends as your personality takes on new life and sparkle.

Discover your strong points, and your weak ones, by taking the personality test in our 32-page booklet. Strengthen your personality goal by following the advice of the author, a well-known psychologist.

Send 20c in coins for your copy of Developing Your Personality to The Guardian Home Service, Address: Be sure to write plainly your Name, Address, and the Name of booklet.

Name _____ Street Address _____ Town _____ Province _____

This Summer Art School is held at Murray Point, Emma Lake, Saskatchewan, and the grounds are now fully equipped with a lecture hall, a radio room, a projector, a well stocked art library.

Mr. G. Kenderdine, Director of Art in the University of Saskatchewan, supervises the practical classes and Dr. G. W. Snelgrove lectures on the history of art and art appreciation.

"MASTER CLASSIS" IN MUSIC For the third summer, also a series of "master classes" was conducted in Toronto by the eminent pianist Evelyn Howard-Jones. Mr. Howard-Jones is a Londoner of Welsh descent and a famous interpreter of Brahms and of the piano works of Frederic D. Shubert who was his personal friend.

The attendance at these master classes was very large, this year, the students coming from great distances. Hector Charlesworth who was present at the opening session which was neither a recital nor a lecture, writes of this interesting method of study—"The composers studied were Beethoven, Schubert, Mozart, Brahms, and Dohnanyi. Four accomplished soloists were heard and after each number Mr. Howard-Jones discoursed on the individual problems in interpretation involved, and the traditions surrounding them. For instance he took up the beautiful main subject of Beethoven's Sonata, opus 27, No. 3, a sister work of the "Moonlight" Sonata, and illustrated the difficulty and awkwardness of the fingering demanded, despite the loveliness of the effect.

Realize that death is with the difficulties involved in transferring to the piano works composed for the harpsichord like those of Mozart and Rameau, and at the same time preserving the original atmosphere. He warned his hearers against accepting literally markings of tempo and expression, especially in the case of the older composers. He pointed out that even such a modern composer as Debussy refused to set down such markings, maintaining that a good musician would intuitively grasp the tempo from the melody itself. This in the speaker's opinion was asking too much, but he pointed out that an intuitive feeling for tempo and shading was the mark of the true artist.

LONDON - (CP) - Lieut. Richard Laybourne has bequeathed $15,000 of his $92,000 estate to provide free beer and cigarettes to the unemployed, affording a head for Fresh Guards.

Plan the Personality You'd Like to Have

You, Too, Can Have Good Times Have you ever thought how much your personality helps or hurts your future? Every day of your life you are becoming more popular as you are losing ground with your friends. You are gaining social poise and charm or you are less attractive to others.

Realize that you can't stand still. Take advantage of this fact. Study yourself. Decide what you want. Make your personality grow in that direction.

You wouldn't wear an unbecoming hat. But do you wear unbecoming manners? Do you may feel warmly and radiantly friendly toward new acquaintances. Do you permit your personality to express this inner glow?

Try to strengthen one pleasing trait each week. See how easily you attract gay interesting friends as your personality takes on new life and sparkle.

Discover your strong points, and your weak ones, by taking the personality test in our 32-page booklet. Strengthen your personality goal by following the advice of the author, a well-known psychologist.

Send 20c in coins for your copy of Developing Your Personality to The Guardian Home Service, Address: Be sure to write plainly your Name, Address, and the Name of booklet.

Name _____ Street Address _____ Town _____ Province _____

This Summer Art School is held at Murray Point, Emma Lake, Saskatchewan, and the grounds are now fully equipped with a lecture hall, a radio room, a projector, a well stocked art library.

Mr. G. Kenderdine, Director of Art in the University of Saskatchewan, supervises the practical classes and Dr. G. W. Snelgrove lectures on the history of art and art appreciation.

"MASTER CLASSIS" IN MUSIC For the third summer, also a series of "master classes" was conducted in Toronto by the eminent pianist Evelyn Howard-Jones. Mr. Howard-Jones is a Londoner of Welsh descent and a famous interpreter of Brahms and of the piano works of Frederic D. Shubert who was his personal friend.

The attendance at these master classes was very large, this year, the students coming from great distances. Hector Charlesworth who was present at the opening session which was neither a recital nor a lecture, writes of this interesting method of study—"The composers studied were Beethoven, Schubert, Mozart, Brahms, and Dohnanyi. Four accomplished soloists were heard and after each number Mr. Howard-Jones discoursed on the individual problems in interpretation involved, and the traditions surrounding them. For instance he took up the beautiful main subject of Beethoven's Sonata, opus 27, No. 3, a sister work of the "Moonlight" Sonata, and illustrated the difficulty and awkwardness of the fingering demanded, despite the loveliness of the effect.

Realize that death is with the difficulties involved in transferring to the piano works composed for the harpsichord like those of Mozart and Rameau, and at the same time preserving the original atmosphere. He warned his hearers against accepting literally markings of tempo and expression, especially in the case of the older composers. He pointed out that even such a modern composer as Debussy refused to set down such markings, maintaining that a good musician would intuitively grasp the tempo from the melody itself. This in the speaker's opinion was asking too much, but he pointed out that an intuitive feeling for tempo and shading was the mark of the true artist.

LONDON - (CP) - Lieut. Richard Laybourne has bequeathed $15,000 of his $92,000 estate to provide free beer and cigarettes to the unemployed, affording a head for Fresh Guards.

Plan the Personality You'd Like to Have

You, Too, Can Have Good Times Have you ever thought how much your personality helps or hurts your future? Every day of your life you are becoming more popular as you are losing ground with your friends. You are gaining social poise and charm or you are less attractive to others.

Realize that you can't stand still. Take advantage of this fact. Study yourself. Decide what you want. Make your personality grow in that direction.

You wouldn't wear an unbecoming hat. But do you wear unbecoming manners? Do you may feel warmly and radiantly friendly toward new acquaintances. Do you permit your personality to express this inner glow?

Try to strengthen one pleasing trait each week. See how easily you attract gay interesting friends as your personality takes on new life and sparkle.

Discover your strong points, and your weak ones, by taking the personality test in our 32-page booklet. Strengthen your personality goal by following the advice of the author, a well-known psychologist.

Send 20c in coins for your copy of Developing Your Personality to The Guardian Home Service, Address: Be sure to write plainly your Name, Address, and the Name of booklet.

Name _____ Street Address _____ Town _____ Province _____

This Summer Art School is held at Murray Point, Emma Lake, Saskatchewan, and the grounds are now fully equipped with a lecture hall, a radio room, a projector, a well stocked art library.

Mr. G. Kenderdine, Director of Art in the University of Saskatchewan, supervises the practical classes and Dr. G. W. Snelgrove lectures on the history of art and art appreciation.

"MASTER CLASSIS" IN MUSIC For the third summer, also a series of "master classes" was conducted in Toronto by the eminent pianist Evelyn Howard-Jones. Mr. Howard-Jones is a Londoner of Welsh descent and a famous interpreter of Brahms and of the piano works of Frederic D. Shubert who was his personal friend.

The attendance at these master classes was very large, this year, the students coming from great distances. Hector Charlesworth who was present at the opening session which was neither a recital nor a lecture, writes of this interesting method of study—"The composers studied were Beethoven, Schubert, Mozart, Brahms, and Dohnanyi. Four accomplished soloists were heard and after each number Mr. Howard-Jones discoursed on the individual problems in interpretation involved, and the traditions surrounding them. For instance he took up the beautiful main subject of Beethoven's Sonata, opus 27, No. 3, a sister work of the "Moonlight" Sonata, and illustrated the difficulty and awkwardness of the fingering demanded, despite the loveliness of the effect.

Realize that death is with the difficulties involved in transferring to the piano works composed for the harpsichord like those of Mozart and Rameau, and at the same time preserving the original atmosphere. He warned his hearers against accepting literally markings of tempo and expression, especially in the case of the older composers. He pointed out that even such a modern composer as Debussy refused to set down such markings, maintaining that a good musician would intuitively grasp the tempo from the melody itself. This in the speaker's opinion was asking too much, but he pointed out that an intuitive feeling for tempo and shading was the mark of the true artist.

LONDON - (CP) - Lieut. Richard Laybourne has bequeathed $15,000 of his $92,000 estate to provide free beer and cigarettes to the unemployed, affording a head for Fresh Guards.

Plan the Personality You'd Like to Have

You, Too, Can Have Good Times Have you ever thought how much your personality helps or hurts your future? Every day of your life you are becoming more popular as you are losing ground with your friends. You are gaining social poise and charm or you are less attractive to others.

Realize that you can't stand still. Take advantage of this fact. Study yourself. Decide what you want. Make your personality grow in that direction.

You wouldn't wear an unbecoming hat. But do you wear unbecoming manners? Do you may feel warmly and radiantly friendly toward new acquaintances. Do you permit your personality to express this inner glow?

Try to strengthen one pleasing trait each week. See how easily you attract gay interesting friends as your personality takes on new life and sparkle.

Discover your strong points, and your weak ones, by taking the personality test in our 32-page booklet. Strengthen your personality goal by following the advice of the author, a well-known psychologist.

Send 20c in coins for your copy of Developing Your Personality to The Guardian Home Service, Address: Be sure to write plainly your Name, Address, and the Name of booklet.

Name _____ Street Address _____ Town _____ Province _____

This Summer Art School is held at Murray Point, Emma Lake, Saskatchewan, and the grounds are now fully equipped with a lecture hall, a radio room, a projector, a well stocked art library.

Mr. G. Kenderdine, Director of Art in the University of Saskatchewan, supervises the practical classes and Dr. G. W. Snelgrove lectures on the history of art and art appreciation.

"MASTER CLASSIS" IN MUSIC For the third summer, also a series of "master classes" was conducted in Toronto by the eminent pianist Evelyn Howard-Jones. Mr. Howard-Jones is a Londoner of Welsh descent and a famous interpreter of Brahms and of the piano works of Frederic D. Shubert who was his personal friend.

The attendance at these master classes was very large, this year, the students coming from great distances. Hector Charlesworth who was present at the opening session which was neither a recital nor a lecture, writes of this interesting method of study—"The composers studied were Beethoven, Schubert, Mozart, Brahms, and Dohnanyi. Four accomplished soloists were heard and after each number Mr. Howard-Jones discoursed on the individual problems in interpretation involved, and the traditions surrounding them. For instance he took up the beautiful main subject of Beethoven's Sonata, opus 27, No. 3, a sister work of the "Moonlight" Sonata, and illustrated the difficulty and awkwardness of the fingering demanded, despite the loveliness of the effect.