MEMORIAL SERVICE—A most impressive memorial service was held in the continuing Presbyterian church, Kensington, on Sunday evening, August 30th, in memory of the three brave boys from that church that laid down their life for King and country in the Great War. The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Genge, the church being beautifully decorated for the service with flags and flowers. The pulpit was draped with the Union Jack by our returned hero, Corp. William Delaney, in honor of his dead comrades, while the flowers were placed by Mrs. William Delaney, Miss Lulu Toombs, Miss Wilina Toombs, Mrs. Alex Hiltz. The pastor spoke thrillingly of those three noble boys. Mrs. Robert Humphrey ably presided at the piano, the music being appropriate throughout. The solo by Mr. Tindel Sempel, "Will The Circle be Unbroken," was beautifully rendered and the quartette by Messrs J. F. Profitt, Tindle Sampel, Mrs. George Ramsay and Miss Olive Dalziel deserves special mention. The choir rendered some fine selections and the church was filled to capacity long before the hour of service. Special mention may be made of a beautiful wreath of flowers from Mrs. William McKay and Mrs. George Ramsay New Annan, that was placed in front of the pulpit and inscribed and which was "In Memory of our Fallen Heros," also an Honor Roll on which were inscribed the names of the three boys, Pte. Pircey Hunter, Pte. John Somers Pte. John Leabobe. The choir rendered suitable hymns. Those who heard Rev. Dr. Genge on this memorable occasion say it was a service long to be remembered The parents of the boys wish to thank those who took part in this beautiful service in any way. Dr Genge dwelt on the faithfulness of those who responded to the bugle call.

IN SOURIS ON HONEYMOON—A pretty house wedding of early autumn took place Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, 74 Carling Avenue, Ottawa, of Marguerite Aileen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Legate, to Mr. William Burnett Davidson, of Toronto son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Davidson. Rev. S. J. Farmer officiated. Gladioli, asters and other blooms were effectively arranged against a background of palms and smilax. The bride who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by her cousin Miss Rena Howe, as maid of honor, and by Miss Isabel Davidson, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid. Little Miss Ingrid Mason cousin of the bride, was flower girl, and two little ribbon bearers were Miss Dorothy Bryan, and Miss Jean Campbell. Mr. Pat Cowan, cousin of the groom was best man. The bride was winsomely pretty in her wedding gown of white georgette and maltese lace. It was designed in three tiers, with a georgette train, over which was a veil of rare old lace, a family heirloom, hanging from the shoulders, forming a double train. Another veil of French lace fell gracefully from a coronet of seed pearls and clusters of orange blossoms. She carried Ophelia roses, heather and lily-of-the-valley in shower. The attendants were dressed alike in georgette, trimmed with French flowers and silver lace. Miss Howe was in marigold shade, and Miss Davidson in buttercup yellow. They both wore bandeaux of silver leaves in their hair, and carried arm bouquets of pink roses The ribbon-bearers wore filmy little frocks of mauve silk and lace. Mrs. Legate, mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of black satin, beaded in cut steel, with open-work girdle, lined with deep rose. She carried roses. Mrs. Davidon wore a French hand-embroidered gown of blonde georgette over a slip of peach satin. She carried a feather fan. Following the ceremony, a reception was held, after which Mr. and Mrs. Davidson left for Quebec and Souris, P. E. I. The bride travelled in a smart costume of pencil blue flat crepe, with coat to match with beige fox fur and a hat of velvet and silk in the same tones. They will later reside in Toronto. —Ottawa Citizen.

A CLEAN MOTOR

I suppose half the troubles in engines are due to dirty motors. I mean dirty on the outside. The accumulation of oil and dust plays havoc with ignition wires and electrical units, causing shorts and grounds and in the case of units causing arcing and burning. It is a wise plan to mix in equal parts, gasoline and kerosene and with a sash tool, scrub the outside of the motor and drip pans. After this, go over the motor again with gasoline, then if you still feel industrious, protect the electrical units and "hose off" the engine with cold water and allow it to dry in the sun before starting it. You will find that this is a good investment and well worth considering.

You might also find a number of little brass caps that you never saw before, and if you look closely you will perhaps find that they are to receive oil to lubricate some tiny part that you did not know existed.

QUES.—Will 30 x 3½ tires have more power than 31 x 4 or the oversize for the former?—L. M., Hunter River.

Place Names Of Prince Edward Island

By request of a number of Readers the Guardian begins in this issue the publication of the full list of Place Names, of P. E. Island, issued by the Geographic Board of Canada and referred to in a recent issue. Such terms as "Wright, 1852," "Holland, 1765," etc., are references to the maps published at different dates. The list is alphabetical and will be published from day to day as space permits.

PLACE NAMES

Albany; settlement with post office, lot 27. There was a post office of the name in 1874.

Alberry Plains; settlement, lot 50. Meaning All Berry Plains, from the large variety of wild fruit. Named by Edward Plaidwell. Alberry was the school district name, 1862.

Alberton; town, lot 4. After Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, later Edward VII, who visited Charlottetown at the age in nineteen, August 10 to 12, 1860. Name suggested by Hon. Benjamin Rogers. Earlier known as Cascumpeque.

Albion; bay, Georgetown, Holland, 1765. Present name Georgetown harbour. Albion is an ancient name of England.

Albion; settlement with post office, lot 59. Name doubtless taken from the preceding one.

Alchorn; point, lot 65. Chart, 1846. People of the name still live here. Points de la Croix of French plan, 1749.

Alexandra; settlement, lot 49 Meacham, 1880. Doubtless after Alexandra, Princess of Wales, now queen dowager. Another spelling is Alexandria.

Allanby; point, lot 18. Better know as Darnley point. In this lot map, 1810, shows Allanby settlement, a name not now in use. The reference is to Captain Wm. Allanby, 40th regiment, who got lot 18 in 1767. On map, 1775, he is described as Wm Allanby, P. M. (provost marshal). "Prince Edward Island Magazine," April, 1904 quotes an affidavit of Allanby dated April 22, 1785 and signed "receiver of quit rents and collector of customs" in which Allanby states he came to the island in the same ship as Governor Patterson in 1770. Allanby was a member of the Governor's council which met February 17, 1773.

Allan; cove lots 30 and 65. Holland, 1765 chart and Department of Interior, 1914. May be after Admiral John Carter Allen, present at capture of Louisbourg, 1758, or after Lt. James Allen, 44th regiment, wounded at Louisbourg. Wright, 1852, and Meacham, 1880, have Canoe cove. Here is Canoe Cove settlement.

Alliston; settlement lot 63. After John Allis, a British soldier settler who died about 1895. Earlier known as Peters Road. A post office November 1, 1896, to March 1, 1914.

Alma; settlement with post office Lot 3. Post office opened during the year ending August 31, 1876.

Amherst; cove and point, lot 28. Holland, 1765. After Field Marshal the Rt. Hon. Sir Jeffery Amherst, K. B., P. C., 1st Baron Amherst of Monteral, Kent. Jeffery Amherst was born in Kent, January 29, 1717. His father's neighbour, the Duke of Dorest, took him as a page, and got him an ensigncy in the guards in 1731. He served as A.D.C. on the staff of General Ligonier, commanding in Germany, at Roucoux, Dettingen, and Fontenoy, and on the Duke of Cumberland's staff at Laffeldt and Hasterbeck. In 1756 he became colonel of the 15th regiment. He attracted the attention of Pitt by whom he was given the rank of major-general and command of the expedition against Louisbourg which sailed from Portsmouth in May, 1758. As a reward for the success of this undertaking, he was appointed commander in chief in North America. During the next two years he took personal command on the Lake Champlain and St. Lawrence fontiers, and received the capitulation of Canada at Montreal on September 8, 1760. He was then appointed governor general of British North America, and in 1761 received the thanks of Parliament and was made a knight the bath. In 1763 he returned to England. In 1770 he became governor of Guernsey, and in 1772 a privy councillor, lieutenant general, and acting commander in chief of the forces. His steady support of the war against the American colonies increased his favour with the King. In 1776 he was created Lord Amherst, in 1778 he became a general, and in 1793 commander in chief. This last office he resigned in 1795 to the Duke of York, and in 1796 the King made him field marshal. He died at Montreal his seat in Kent, on August 3, 1797.

Anderson; creek, lot 22. Robert Anderson, born at New London of Scottish parents, settled here about 1816.

Annandale; village, lot 56. The name was given about 1868 in deference to James Johnston, pioneer shipbuilder and trader who was born in Annandale, Dumfriesshire, Scotland, in 1837, and came to Prince Edward Island in 1840 with his parents who settled in Lower Montague. Mr. Johnston began business in Annandale in 1855, when it was known as Grand River Wharf. It was not till the year 1876 or 77 that the name Annandale became general in use. The post office name then as now was Lot 56.

Annarowe; settlement, lot 65. A post office of the name was opened about 1889 and closed March 1, 1898.

Appin Road; settlement, lot 30. Wright and Cundall, 1874. Doubtless after App'n, Perthshire, Scotland.

Argyle Shore; settlement, lot 30. Argyle became settled in the early part of last century by immigrants from Argyllshire (Argyleshire), Scotland.

STRANGE FLAG AT FAIR IS WEMBLEY'S PENNON

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—Many curious eyes were turned upward to where a blue and white flag flew under the Union Jack on the Exhibition flagpole at the eastern end of the Manufacturers' Building on Saturday, and hundreds of people inquired of Exhibition officials what it was and the reason for its being there.

It was the first official flag to leave Wembley Exhibition, London, England, and was presented to the Canadian National Exhibition to be flown in honor of Wembley. The design is a blue background with white streamers, and in one corner is the famous Wemblew lion.

A FEATHER IN ONE'S CAP

Pheasant plumages promise to be a favorite hat trimming this fall. The beautiful wood tints of the Chinese bird blend most harmoniously with the soft velours of which many of the fall hats are constructed. The brims are slightly wider in front but turned back even more sharply than has been the case with the summer sport hats.

American apples are more popular in Egypt than those received from Italy and Greece.

INSIDIOUS EYE STRAIN
We use this adjective advisedly.
Sufferers from Eyestrain may have perfect vision and therefore do not suspect the presence of any eye defect.
The motive power of the entire human organism is Nerve Energy.
Normal eyes, it is computed utilize about 20% of this Nerve Energy, but when Eyestrain is present, a much larger proportion is required. Hence defective eyes, through their consumption of an excessive amount of Nerve Energy, may seriously affect the functioning of other organs of the body, and produce ill health.
