Foothills Oil Makes Important Strike

According to information reaching Financial Service to Foothills Oil & Gas Company, has struck about 9-000,000 feet of wet gas last Sunday in its No. 2 well and latest reports indicate that this volume is steadily increasing.

At the moment the production of the new strike cannot be exactly estimated until the well is placed on a separator. During the next few days it is probable that the gas flow will increase materially pending the time until the lime rock at the bottom has been cleared out.

The success of Foothills No. 2 directs some attention to the possibilities of the other three wells now going down on the property. One of these, No. 3, is being sunk on Foothills' subsidiary, Southwest Petroleum, and with the other two is looked upon as important potential producers.

Split in Home Oil to Precede Issue of Shares of New Merger

Official announcement of the merger between Home Oil and the Calgary and Edmonton Corporation is not expected until the end of the week and it is believed that a split of six shares for one will be made in Home Oil as a basis for the subsequent assurance of two shares for one share of the C. & E. Corporation.

The Calgary and Edmonton Corporation are said to have 70,000 acres out under drilling contracts. This comprises 40 separate contracts. These arrangements are made on the basis of a 12 1/2% royalty from the revenues of old companies until new Company has paid drilling costs.

In connection with Home the latest report shows No. 3 well down to 512 feet, or 95 feet in the lime and a gas flow estimated at 7,000,000 cubic feet, with an increase in this expected at an early date. It may be remembered that the biggest flow in the other Home wells are encountered at 175 feet in the lime.

Calmont Operations Show Steady Progress

Calmont Oils is rapidly pushing forward its operations and a new rotary rig is expected to arrive in Okotoks this week to be set up on the old Seneca well, now Calmont No. 9. This will be installed as quickly as possible and the standard rig now on the site will be moved to No. 7 on the Dallas lease adjoining the Home Wells. Within the next few days No. 3 on the original Calmont lease adjoining Okotoks will be upped in.

Chinese Eastern Railroad Romance

By Kenneth S. Clark, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, D.C., August 18 - The romance that hangs over all the railways in the world shines with peculiar lustre on the Chinese Eastern and is reflected in informed circles here.

The Chinese Eastern runs across Manchuria 1000 miles, passing Harbin, that thriving riotous East-is-West city and reaching Vladivostok on the warm Japan Sea. China wants the railroad, Russia wants it, Japan is very anxious about who has it, and the other two powers are interested to a lesser degree.

Imperial Russia built the railroad in 1896 under an agreement with the Empress of China. As an American phrased it, "they built her high, wide and handsome," on the broad gauge Russian line, and so high that in third class coaches there are three tiers of berths. The crack passenger trains such as the Trans-Siberian Express, shine with brass work and the big Russians of the train crew shine with buttons.

There are many evidences that the demand for milk drinks and ice cream is rapidly increasing. These dairy products are used more extensively in the summer months, and the hotter it is, the greater the demand.

Chinese Eastern Railroad Romance

July this year has seen a considerably larger consumption of milk over the counter and ice cream cones than for several years. We came to this conclusion after discussing it with restaurant keepers and sellers of soft drinks in several Canadian cities.

On a hot day, milk drinks are refreshing. If you don't think so, just try one. Chocolate milk drink seems to be most popular with buttermilk coming second. What is more refreshing than a nice cold drink of either of the former? From the health standpoint it is nourishing. This applies to grown-ups, while children still stay by the ice cream cone or sandwich.

The United States tourists are heavy milk drinkers. However, before ordering milk, they generally ascertain if it is pasteurized. In order to meet this increased consumption during the hot weather, the milk distributors make extra preparation so that their sales may be larger. The larger the milk distributor's sales of milk, the better it is for the dairyman.

Quite frequently we find that milk distributors are discriminating in their advertising of milk, and are putting out some very attractive advertisements. Milk sales are in direct competition with all kinds of soft drinks, which are advertised extensively, but the actual health value of milk drinks is away head. Attractive publicity.

SUMMER MILK DRINKS AND ICE CREAM

There are many evidences that the demand for milk drinks and ice cream is rapidly increasing. These dairy products are used more extensively in the summer months, and the hotter it is, the greater the demand.

SALAD COMBINATIONS

Here are a few suggestions for salad combinations suitable, either as the main part of luncheon, or in smaller quantity as the salad course at dinner:

- 1. Lettuce with French dressing and chopped olives. Any of the lettuces may be served in this way.
2. Watercress added to French dressing.
3. Chopped cabbage and green peppers, French dressing.
4. Slices of peeled orange and grapefruit, alternately laid on lettuce. French dressing, made with lemon instead of vinegar.
5. Cold boiled peas and walnuts mixed with mayonnaise.
6. Russian dressing. Either mayonnaise or sour cream mixed with chili sauce.
7. Cream cheese balls and French dressing.
8. Celery, Spanish onion and green pepper chopped and mixed with French dressing.
9. Cold boiled peas and walnuts mayonnaise dressing.
10. Mayonnaise (Chop parsley and add to plain mayonnaise).
11. Chopped cabbage and chopped green peppers, mayonnaise.
12. Thousand Islands dressing. (Mayonnaise mixed with chopped pickles and chopped capers).
13. Waldorf salad. Chopped celery, walnuts and apples with mayonnaise.
14. Cold cooked carrots, pickles, and olives, diced, and mixed with mayonnaise.
15. Slices of tomato and asparagus tips, mayonnaise.
Left-over vegetables, if plain boiled, can be used to form an interesting mixture for salad. If you keep on hand a few jars of pickles, olives, pimiento you can prepare an attractive salad at a moments notice.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. HAMMOND J. INCE

The death occurred at Hampton on August 20th of Mr. Hammond J. Ince aged 60 years. Mr. Ince had been in failing health for some time and this summer spent about a week in the Charlottetown Hospital but his illness had reached such a stage that no hope could be held out for his recovery, and he passed away at the home of his brother.

The late Mr. Ince was born at Hampton and was a son of the late Robert Ince at one time Clerk of the County Court. He was educated at the public schools and at the Charlottetown Commercial College. He spent about fifteen years in the United States and was in the Yukon three years, going past the Arctic Circle on different occasions. About nineteen years ago he returned to the Island and settled at Victoria. After carrying on farming for a while, he sold out and went to live with his brother for a time until he could procure another farm, but illness intervened.

The late Mr. Ince was a man of a high order of intelligence. He had a great fund of general information, was fond of reading and was a writer and lecturer of more than ordinary ability. Many of his contributions both in prose and verse have appeared from time to time in the columns of the Guardian and our readers can judge for themselves of the excellence of his work. Mr. Ince also lectured in different parts of the country and in Charlottetown mainly on his experience in the far north. Being a man of irreproachable character and conduct and possessed of a kindly and gentle spirit which endeared him to all who knew him, his death will be learned with deep regret by a very wide circle of friends. He leaves to mourn a widow, May Florence MacPhail, of Argyle Shore, three brothers, Joseph Ince, Los Angeles, Walter Ince, DeSable, Fred Ince on the homestead at Hampton, and one sister, Miss Ada in the United States.
