...USING THE SILO FILLER TO FILL THE OAT BIN

Among the labor saving devices used in the handling of grain mentioned by a writer in System and the Farm, is that of moving the silo filler alongside the barn at threshing time, placing the end of the silo filler in the bin, and moving the knives from the cutter and letting the lower elevate the oats into the bin. An additional advantage of this device is, that the dust is blown out of the oats.

...DRIVEN INSANE BY OUIJA SEANCES

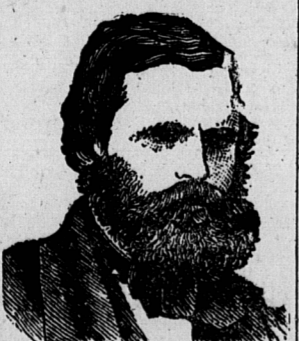

Seven Californians Committed to Asylum

MARTINZE, Cal., March 10.—After their arrest as insane suspects as the result of a 24-hour seance with Ouija boards, Adeline Botting, her mother, Mrs. S. Botting, Mrs. Joseph Moldavi and Mrs. Edward Borro were committed to state hospitals for the insane by the Superior Court here today.

The women were in a group of seven men and women arrested in a house at El Gorrillo, near here, yesterday. The three men of the party testify at the hearing that they had tried to induce the women to cease Ouija seances, but without effect. The men admitted that the last seance in which they participated had lasted for 24 hours, and they were so dazed to the boards that they did not take time off to eat or sleep. Insanely charges were placed against all seven.

Terrible Scenes In South Russia

LONDON, March 10.—Chaotic conditions in the wake of General Denekine's army as it retreated in South Russia before the Bolsheviks are vividly described by an official commission officer with the British expeditionary force. The British soldier had been as far north as Taganrog, on the Gulf of Asov, an arm of the Sea of Azov. "I never have I seen, nor participated in such a scramble in my life," the soldier wrote in a letter to the Daily News, telling of the fight. "We were lucky to get away at all; and the worst feature of the whole business was that the towns people of Taganrog turned Eshlabevki to a man at the finish. They looted everything. "At Rostov things were worse. The engine drivers had to be bribed with rum and food to proceed further down the line. The streets of Rostov were swept by hailstorms of machine gun fire, while the bodies of men, women and children who had been hanged on telegraph poles and trees by the retreating Denekine army, were awful to see. The pleading voices and appealing faces of those who could not be allowed on the train were pitiful. The whole scene was enacted in a blizzard of snow and sleet, so you can imagine the plight of the women and children. "At Ekaterinodar things were almost as bad. Thousands of refugees tried to rush the train but the sound of a couple of belts from the Lewis machine guns soon stopped that."

At a conservative estimate, more than fifteen million Gillette Safety Razors are in use throughout the world. It is stupendous—hard to realize! Such things, however, do not happen by chance. Unquestionable superiority must be behind this mass of opinion in favor of the Gillette Safety Razor.

First, naturally, there comes the continued facial satisfaction assured by Gillette shaving. That is taken for granted—no need to argue the point.

Next, comes the intrinsic value and merit of the Gillette sets, the carefully made cases, the mechanically perfect razors, the gleaming blades, 12 to a set, double-edged, super-keen.

Then, it is a mark of distinction to own a Gillette. It has a rightful place in the equipment of every man who prides himself on his appearance, whether the man be an artisan or artist, clerk or clubman, employee or employer.

Again, when the talk among men turns to razors, there is undoubted advantage in claiming ownership of a Gillette.

The final dictum in razor keenness is NO STROPPING—NO HONING and all devices calculated to bring other razor edges up to Gillette keenness only serve to compliment the razor that is Known the World Over.

WILSON'S LATEST NOTE POSITION HARD TO MEET, SAYS MAN, GUARDIAN.

LONDON, March 10.—President Wilson's latest note on the Adriatic question is considered by the "Manchester Guardian" as "a remarkably effective statement of a position which the British and French Foreign offices will find very difficult to meet." The newspaper considers that the peoples of Europe will recognize in the note "an accent which was inseparable from every Wilsonian pronouncement before May 1919, and we do not doubt that the majority will rejoice to hear it again, but the general fear will be that the note may have come too late. "The world today cannot escape the conviction," contends the Guardian, "that the time for Washington to repudiate secret treaties was in 1918, not 1920."

"SIAMESE" TWINS, HAPPY AS THEY ARE, TELL DOCTORS NOT TO SEPARATE THEM

WASHINGTON, March 9.—"Do not separate us. We are happy as we are." This was the plea of Washington's "Siamese" twins today when they were informed that by a simple operation the ligament which binds them together could be severed.

HAZING OF A GIRL FRESHIE

NEW YORK, March 5.—Sophomore girls in the College of New York University, on Thursday afternoon, kidnaped Miss Elsie Kanowitz, a freshman, who lives at 764 West 10th Street, kept her sequestered in a hall bedroom somewhere clad in a bathrobe for eighteen hours, and released her this afternoon after painting their class numerals on her forehead with iodine. The hazers accused the girl of violating one of the ten commandments laid down for freshmen conduct which read: "Thou shalt not converse with members of the male sex in the corridors, halls or classrooms."

The sophomores telephoned Miss Kanowitz's mother on Thursday night so that she would not be alarmed. The girl who took her plight good naturedly, which some attributed to her being both pretty and popular, sent her mother word that she was "having a fine time." None the less Mrs. Kanowitz hurried to the university authorities and demanded that they effect her daughter's release. Inquiry was made among the sophomores, but the guilty were not found and so nothing could be done until the girls voluntarily decided their captive had been reduced to the desired state of subjugation.

Miss Kanowitz was lured from her class room by a false message that the "dean wished to see her in his office." The conspirators seized her in the corridor, bound and gagged her and hustled her into a waiting taxicab.

HENRY FORD'S LATEST (From the Boston Herald.)

The western newspapers have been giving so much attention to the latest product of the Ford establishment—a substitute for the trolley and perhaps for the passenger train—that we have obtained the report from our own correspondent which appears in a neighborhood column. If there are any stock-jobbing purposes behind this publication we are unaware of them. We point to it as a possible milestone in transportation history. When the trolley came into use thirty years ago everybody expected that electricity would in time take possession of the steam railroads.

Henry Villard predicted that the locomotive would be in the scrap heap in ten years. The Manhattan Elevated promptly went over to electricity. Great developments of tunnel and subway services followed. Some of the long distance lines, like the "Milwaukee" railroad's great stretch across the continent, have lately been electrified; but a hole electrification has proceeded slowly. Now the Ford people propose to operate a car on tracks, believing the steel rail cheaper and more trustworthy than the rubber tire; and to use in an internal combustion engine a variety of fuels, including kerosene and alcohol, and to run the car just as one would run an automobile. If this should prove a reality we could congratulate ourselves that we had not gone over to electricity on its first coming, but had delayed long enough to get something better. This is the way many of the world's problems "work out." We shall all be interested to await developments of this latest idea. What an advantage it would be for those numerous branch lines and feeders, which now have too small a business to permit of that frequency of operation that makes service of much real value to the public! We all know such lines. If a Ford car, running once an hour, with one man as its operator, would cover such routes, what vistas of improved service would open!

LOBSTERS ARE VERY SCARCE.

YARMOUTH, March 8.—Notwithstanding the fact that the lobster fishing season opened a week ago the fishermen have done practically nothing for the first week, and last night there was only a shipment of forty-five packages for Boston, twenty-nine of which came from Westport. This has been due to the very unfavorable weather in the Bay, and the ice conditions among the Tusket Islands has not allowed the men to get out. Another theory is that the water is so cold that the lobsters have not yet started to crawl, and it is borne out by the fact that one boat out from Wedgeport a day or so attended one hundred and forty traps set on what was considered the best lobster fishing grounds in this vicinity, and her crew only gathered in twenty lobsters.
