The Oddfellows of Charlottetown have a reputation for presenting to the public high class and delightful entertainments in line with the past successes will be the special engagement of the great monodramatic artist Newton Beers, who will present at the Opera House on Friday, June 7th, the sublime biblical and fraternal drama "David and Jonathan." The telephone wires sagged a little under a weighty message that came in from Mount Stewart on Saturday evening. The message was that Victor McDonald, the nine year old son of Joseph McDonald of that place, caught during the day near that place with hook and bait a trout which weighed on the scales 4½ pounds. There was a hard struggle before the fish was landed and some other boys assisted in the landing. The weight of the trout is vouched for by reliable parties who weighed it. If there is any other boy or man on this Island who has ever caught a trout weighing as many half pounds as the fisher has numbered years. The Guardian would like to be informed of the facts, duly authenticated. Anyway where else are there such trout and such boys as in Prince Edward Island? Congratulations to Victor.

Visitors to Victoria Park on Saturday evening witnessed an interesting game of baseball between the Euston Street Tanners and Orlebars. The game although of only four innings endurance was very exciting throughout. Howatt Trainor, McTague and Musgrave did excellent work for the Tanners, while Lowe, Milford, Saunders, and Haszard shone for the Orlebars. Lowe and McTague did some excellent curve pitching for their respective teams. As the fourth inning was nearing its close and the score was in favor of the Orlebars, a two base hit by Howatt relieved the fear of losing from the Tanners. The game ended in a tie, the score standing 12-12. H. Smith was a satisfactory umpire. A return match will be played on Wednesday evening. The line up was as follows:

TANNERS		ORLEBARS.
W. Trainor.	catcher	C. Milford.
E. McTague,	pitcher	J. Lowe.
