

STOP THAT COUGH!

Colds Lead to Catarrh—Catarrh Leads to Consumption.

A Beautiful Girl's Experience

MISS ALMA LILLIA.

Miss Alma Lillia, 506 18th St., Rock Island, Ill., says: "I am a firm friend to Peruna, for it cured me in two days of a cough which had been annoying me for three weeks, and which had developed a serious catarrhal affection of the throat and lungs. I had a number of colds during the year, and each left me with a little more catarrh; then this bad cough was the worst. I took cough medicines until I sickened at the sight of them. But Peruna cured me up in such quick time that I am its firm friend. Four weeks' constant use of it got the catarrh entirely out of my system. It deserves all the praise bestowed upon it."—Alma Lillia.

Nine cases of consumption out of ten occur in this way: A person catches a cold. The cold is not properly cured, and they quickly catch another one. This cold is dilly-dallied with by no treatment, or some treatment that is ineffectual, and the cold continues. Then they catch another cold and begin to cough. Then they take cough syrups, but they do no good. By and by they get tired of taking medicine and give up in despair. Their cold continues and their cough grows worse. Then they apply to a doctor, only to discover that they are in the first stages of consumption.

Miss Lillia, of Illinois, started out exactly in this way. Fortunately, she took a course of Peruna before it was too late. She had caught several colds, then a cough developed. She took all sorts of cough medicines, until, as she puts it, "I sickened at the sight of them." In four weeks Peruna had cured her of her catarrh and her system was entirely rid of it.

This is what Peruna is doing all the while. Not a day, and probably not an hour, passes but some one has a similar experience with Peruna.

The first step toward consumption is catching cold. The next step is a failure to cure it promptly. The third step is the development of catarrh, which gradually becomes chronic. The fourth step, the catarrh begins to spread from the head to the throat. The fifth step, the catarrh spreads to the bronchial tubes and lungs. It then becomes consumption in its first stage.

At any time during the progress of the catarrh, from the first onset of the cold to its final settlement in the lungs, Peruna can be relied upon to stop the disease. It cures entirely. Even after consumption has become thoroughly developed, many cases have found in Peruna a permanent cure. After they have been given up by physicians to die of consumption Peruna has cured them.

We have hundreds of testimonials that declare these facts in the most enthusiastic language.

U. S. Senator John M. Thurston, from Nebraska, writes the following letter from Washington, D. C., under date of April 6, 1901:

"I have used Peruna at various times during the past year or two with most satisfactory results.

"It entirely relieved me from an irritating cough, the result of excessive effort in the Presidential campaign, and I am a firm believer in its efficacy in any such trouble."—Jno. M. Thurston.

To take quieting medicines to stop a cough is absurd and harmful. The only way to stop a cough permanently and without doing more injury than good is to cure the catarrh, which is exactly what Peruna does. It cures the catarrh of the bronchial tubes and the cough ceases.

At the slightest appearance of a cough a bottle of Peruna should be taken according to directions. One bottle in the beginning will do more than a half dozen bottles after the catarrh has fastened itself on the lungs.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

The Old Folks Concert in Market Hall last night was attended by a large and highly appreciative audience. The different numbers on the program were received with well merited applause, and ye olde fashioned kitchen with its olde time inhabitants elicited much merriment. Excellent music was furnished by the Summerside Cornet Band, and the affair throughout was a decided success.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

In the hall at Brookfield on Monday evening, the 21st inst., a most enjoyable entertainment was given by the children of that school section. The entertainment consisted of singing, recitations and motto exercises which well merited the gifts of a Christmas tree which was in magnificent readiness and furnished all the children a suitable treat. One would have thought this to be the happiest ending to the evening conceivable yet there was a better. The teacher, Miss Ada E. Rows, and who deserved so much credit in training the children for the evening, and who gives such good satisfaction to the trustees and parents in her every day work was surprised with a well filled purse and the following address: Our Dear Teacher,—We are all glad to meet you on this occasion where we have the opportunity to show our appreciation of your kindness to us as pupils and also of the deep interest you have taken in us in a broader way fitting us for the battle of life. Allow us to present you with this small token as an appreciation of your faithfulness as our teacher. The address was read by Master Donald Campbell. Miss Andrews was taken by surprise but replied in suitable terms thanking them most sincerely for the kind sentiments expressed in the address, also for the valuable gift which accompanied it. She assured them that it was indeed a pleasant surprise to be thus remembered by her pupils this joyous Christmas season. Mr. Angus Beaton gave assistance in the musical part of the program. The trustees, Robert McDuff, Angus Beaton and Andrew McRae, all spoke in appreciation of the good work being done in the school by Miss Andrews and of their delight in the evening's entertainment.

There is a SOMETHING about VIM TEA that is to be found in no other tea," said a Saint John lady to a grocer the other day. She did not know exactly what or how to describe the difference, only there was a "something" VIM TEA had that other teas lacked. That something was a little more QUALITY.
