Throat Distress May Mean DANGER

When the chest is sore and your cough hangs on, you naturally become worried. One sufferer who was troubled over her condition, writes:

"My throat pained. I coughed a lot. I was worried and wondered what was wrong with me. One of my friends advised me to use Nerviline. I am on my second bottle, and so is my mother. Nerviline is doing mother as much good as it is doing me. I have recommended Nerviline to five friends; they are receiving entire satisfaction also." Nerviline possesses real penetrating power and is a wonderful liniment—its analgesic powers are very great.

DDT Not Harmful To Honeybees

Are sprays containing DDT for control of insect pests in fruit, seed, and vegetable growing areas, injurious to honeybees?

According to officials at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, the answer is—no. And the officials have experiment constantly since DDT became more generally used as an insecticide some few years ago.

They have used highly concentrated quantities of the chemical to spray fully open apple blossoms while the bees were at work. The force of the spray material even drove the bees away temporarily, but they returned before it was dry and started collecting nectar again.

The dead bees which had worked the sprayed blossoms were subjected to chemical analysis for the presence of DDT. In only one sample was DDT found in sufficient quantity to be even suspected as the cause of death. And at no time was the death rate of adult bees, or of brood, any higher than that which occurred in a check spray.

The result of this quite drastic experiment—normally apple trees are not sprayed during the period of open bloom—proves beyond doubt, officials say, that under normal field conditions, DDT is not harmful to honeybees.

...for making aluminum!

RAIN! It may sound strange, but it's a fact: Every thing you see made of aluminum was made with raindrops—even the bus for which you scurry to escape the rain!

It's like this: Rain falls on high land in our north country. It runs down as rivulets and creeks. It becomes tumbling rivers. By trapping it behind dams, and guiding it through powerhouses, Alcan develops electricity—and uses it to make aluminum.

Smelting aluminum eats up vast quantities of electricity. Enough goes into making a single ton to light your house for fifteen years!

Today Alcan is prospecting for still more waterpower because Canada needs more aluminum for use at home and to sell abroad.

RAIN MEANS DOLLARS FOR CANADIANS:

- Alcan jobs for 15,000 Canadians
- Alcan pay envelopes holding $35,000,000 a year
- Alcan aluminum for more than 1,000 independent Canadian manufacturers — some 50,000 more jobs.
