SONS OF ENGLAND DECORATE GRAVES

As is the annual custom with the members of the Benevolent Society of the Sons of England in this city, yesterday was observed in decorating the graves of their deceased brothers. The slight shower in the early morning had the effect of allaying the dust and the drives to the various cemeteries were not unpleasant. The brothers met in front of their Lodge Room at 9 a.m. with teams, and from there they divided and each of the following cemeteries was visited: Sherwood, Cross Roads and Marshfield, where the graves of their departed brothers were decorated with English roses and the Union Jack. At Marshfield the service of the Order was held and the congregation joined with the brothers, assisted by Rev. Mr. Coffin. At 2.30 p.m. the members of the Lodges Eton and Prince Edward formed in procession from their Lodge room, Victoria Row, and headed by the 82nd Regiment Band, marched to the cemetery in Queen Square in charge of Brother D. J. Sterns, Marshall, where a large wreath was placed by Bro. (Private) H. E. Moore, at the base of the monument, "in loving memory of Bro. Roland D. Taylor, of Lodge Prince Edward, born 3rd March, 1878, joined the society, 11th April, 1899, died 18th February, 1900." The service here, as at the People's Cemetery, where they afterwards marched to, was conducted by Past District Deputy Bro. L. B. Miller, who acted as President, assisted by Bro. H. M. Chandler, Chaplain, and Bro. J. Harry Williams, Secretary. Only the partial service at the monument was used. The procession here re-formed and marched to the People's Cemetery, where a large gathering had preceded it. Here the graves of some twenty-five members were decorated, after which the procession returned to the city and banded at the Lodge room, where a short session was held. Acting President, Bro. L. B. Miller, thanked the Brothers for the generous turnout and stated that while he did not wish to be personal, he was particularly pleased to see Bro. Moore with them on this occasion. He understood that he had already enlisted for the front in the P. E. I. Brigade now being formed. He felt confident that if he was a fair sample of the composition of the Brigade, that Prince Edward Island need have no cause to fear that her sons would give a correct account of themselves under all circumstances. He assured Bro. Moore that he would carry with him their heartfelt wishes for his safe keeping and to remember what the God Who presides over our destinies in Charlottetown, will be found in the trenches on the plains of Flanders. His safe return will be hailed with the greatest delight by the Brothers as well as a host of friends and well-wishers. The President's short address was warmly applauded. On motion a vote of thanks was tendered the President for the efficient manner in which he had conducted the services. Another unanimous vote of thanks was ordered to be presented to the 82nd Regiment Band for the quality and quantity of music supplied; and also thanks to the members of the Committee and those contributing in assisting in the work of decoration. The following is a list of the graves decorated: BRO. ROLAND D. TAYLOR, Prince Edward Lodge. Born 3rd March, 1878, joined 11th April, 1899, killed in action at Paardeberg, S. A., 18th February, 1900. ALLIES WINNING IN WEST RUSSIANS EVACUATING WARSAW

Brilliant Achievements by British and French in Western Theatre. Allied Airmen Bombard German Positions. Russians Repel Many Attacks but Admit Front has been Pierced at Several Points

(Special to The Guardian) PARIS, July 31.—In Artois, in the vicinity of Souchez and Labyrinth there was last night an intermittent rifle fire and cannonading but no engagement of infantry. In Argonne at the crossing of the road from Servon to Bagatelle with that which runs from Layon to Binarville, the explosion of a German mine yesterday was followed by fairly spirited fighting in the course of which we succeeded in occupying the excavation made by the explosion.

(Special to The Guardian) PARIS, Aug. 1.—German night attacks in Alsace were repulsed with heavy losses, according to an official statement issued this afternoon from the French War Office. In the region of Artois, around Souchez, some German attempts to attack with hand grenades were repulsed easily. In Alsace, in the middle of the night the enemy attacked without success our positions Schratmanuelle and Reichackeropf, suffering heavy losses. On the rest of the front there has been no incident of importance to report. During the day of July 23 our aeroplanes threw thirty shells on the aviation camp at Dalheim, also six shells on a military train.

(Special to The Guardian) VIENNA, July 31.—Austrian cavalry entered Lublin Friday afternoon, according to an official statement issued to-night by the Austrian War Office. (Special to The Guardian) PETROGRAD, July 31.—While the Austro-German assaults have been repulsed in several places along the Baltic line, the admission is made in an official statement issued to-night by the headquarters of the General Staff that the Russian front has been pierced at important points.

A FINE TRIBUTE TO SIR ROBERT BORDEN

(Special to The Guardian) LONDON, Aug. 1.—A fine tribute is paid to Sir Robert Borden in a brief statement appearing in "Land and Water." One cannot forget that it is due to statesmen of the Borden type, the writer notes, "that the British Empire owes its solidarity to-day. Men who have declined to admit that any consideration, personal or immediate, could outweigh the ultimate good of the loyalty and devotion to a pledged word bring with them."

KAISER'S "GOD" STILL WITH HIM

(Special to The Guardian) LONDON, Aug. 1.—The German Emperor has issued a manifesto to the German people, in which he refers to the outbreak of the war. In his manifesto he says: "Before God and history my conscience is clear. I have not willed the war. Full of gratitude we can say to-day God is with us."

SALVATION ARMY OFFICERS FAREWELL

The Salvation Army Citadel was filled to its utmost capacity and a large number of extra chairs had to be brought in by the ushers to accommodate the crowd last night, this being the Farewell service of Ensign White. Ensign White took by his text II. Corinthians, 13:11, "Finally brethren farewell!" He said, in part, since coming to Charlottetown over two years ago, he had not shunned to declare the whole counsel of God. The message may not have been delivered with enticing words of man's wisdom and a great flow of eloquence, but he trusted rather more with a burning desire that the gospel of the Son of God would permeate the hearers and listeners who had come from time to time, and brought forth fruit unto everlasting life. Words failed to express to his dear friends and comrades how deeply and keenly he regretted his departure and the severing of the strong tie that bound them so closely to each other. He would always cherish the fond and pleasant memories of his stay in Charlottetown and the generous hospitality of its people. Needless to say words could not express his feelings nor those of Mrs. White. He had not seen all he would like to have seen accomplished but thanked God for what had been done in their work and labour of love from time to time. During the first winter of their stay upwards of 30 to 40 families had been provided with provision, coal, etc., and about one hundred men and women had come to the mercy seat. Five hundred and fifty dollars had been put on the building and quarters in the way of repairs. Several of the local people spoke words of appreciation for the untiring zeal of the officers and the betterment of the Army position in Charlottetown. The Ensign said he valued very highly the sentiments expressed; also the goodwill and wishes of the people. The meeting closed by singing "God be with you till we meet again."

Ensign and Mrs. White leave Charlottetown on Wednesday afternoon, followed by the best wishes of the people. Minard's Liniment Cures Diphtheria

SECOND QUEENS NOMINATIONS

The Convention of the Liberal-Conservative of the Second District of Queens was held on 27th ult. in the Lyceum. The Convenor, Mr. Albert Tremere opened the meeting at the hour appointed and scrutiners were appointed to examine the credentials. After that had been done the meeting proceeded to the nomination. Mr. Douglas Currie in a complimentary speech proposed Mr. L. L. Jenkins as Convenor. Mr. John McKay, Wheelley River, seconded and was further supported by Mr. John Murray, North Wilshire. After a lapse of a few minutes and no other nominations made, it was moved that nominations close, which motion was carried. Some of these present, however, objected and wished to propose Mr. J. A. Messervy. After a good deal of discussion, Mr. Jenkins expressed his willingness to reopen the nominations, as he did not wish the nomination without everyone having an opportunity of voting. The ballot was then taken, and the vote stood 44 to 11, with one pole unrepresented in favour of Mr. Jenkins. The nomination for Assembliesmen was put and Mr. Buntin was unanimously chosen. The question of a mob was next brought up and discussed at some length and Mr. Jenkins was asked to take the pledge against the mob. Mr. Buntin was taken in the matter and declined to be pledged. Mr. Buntin afterwards thanked the delegates for his nomination. The Premier then spoke on the Government's policy, and votes of thanks terminated the proceedings.

CANADIAN RESOURCES TO BE USED IN WAR

(Special to The Guardian) LONDON, July 30.—Sir Robert Borden, Sir George Perley, and Major General Hughes had an important conference today with Lloyd George and the Munitions Committee, speaking to the Montreal Gazette. Speaking later, Sir Robert said:—"We found Lloyd George disposed to utilize to the fullest extent, all the industries and resources of Canada he suggested that Canada might undertake to supply certain essential articles not at present produced in the Dominion, but which possibly may be supplied there. This point the minister of Militia will take upon his return to Canada."

GERMAN SHELL EXPLODES IN MESSROOM

(Special to The Guardian) POINT A MOUSSON, France, July 31.—A German shell fell into the mess room of the Field Hospital of the American Ambulance of Paris while the staff was at dinner to-day. The missile penetrated the floor and burst in the cellar. A French orderly was killed and one American was slightly scratched by a fragment of shell. The Americans then took quarters further to the rear of the firing line. They believe work done has been of much value to the French sanitary service and they have received official commendation.

WAR CONTRACTS ENQUIRY RESUMED

As briefly reported on Saturday the Royal Commission on war contracts held an evening session in Summerside on Friday. Sir Charles P. Davidson, Royal Commissioner presided and Mr. John Thompson was counsel. The first witness called was Emerson Eustoll, acting ledger clerk of the Bank of Nova Scotia. Examined by Mr. Thompson, he produced the receipt signed by MacNeill for his cheques and acknowledging the vouchers that there is a balance of $96.50 in his favor at Dec. 31, 1914. Q. McNeill has said that he did not receive the cheques at the bank, but that they were delivered to him at the stable. Is that so? A. They are always given to the customer at the Bank. Q. Is this the original document at the Bank of N. S. regarding W. B. MacNeill's accounts? Yes. Mr. W. B. MacNeill was then recalled and examined as follows: Q. Have you found any more horses since we left off? Yes, we found some others. Q. You bought two horses from Linkletter? What did you pay. A. I paid $270. Q. There was another cheque on September 3 for $179.50. A. That would be about the price I paid. Q. Was there a cheque issued 3rd of September for $170? A. I do not remember. Q. Did you buy a horse from Calvin Reeves? A. Yes, I am not sure whether it was within the dates or not. Q. What was the price? A. $228. Q. Was that horse sold to Anderson? A. I am not sure. Q. Was there a cheque of the 2nd September for $190? Yes, I think so. Q. Did you buy any horses on the 29th of August and the 3rd of September except to sell to Anderson? A. I do not think that I sold them all to Anderson. They would not take all the horses I offered them. Q. How many were rejected? A. I cannot say. Q. Did you buy a horse from McLeod of St. Eleanor's? A. Yes. Q. Was $180 about the price? A. I think so. Q. You said the average price to a farmer was about $170. A. I do not remember. Q. Including the rejected horses would it be fair to say you paid an average price of $125? A. About that price. Q. Let us come back to John Hankness's horse. It was a pretty low priced horse was it not, at $140. A. No. Q. You sold nine horses from your stable to Major Anderson, — 6 draft and 3 cavalry horses. How many did you have in your stable? A. About 20 to 25. Q. After Anderson stopped buying how many would you have on hand. A. About 18. Q. You only filled up to the extent of 2 or 30 after Anderson took that draft of 9 horses? A. Yes. Q. What number had you when Anderson started to buy? About 20 to 25. Q. About how many less had you when Anderson stopped buying? A. About 5 less. Q. You probably had two or three rejects left on hand? A. Yes. Q. Anderson came over with Doyle early in August and met you in the street? A. I do not recollect meeting Doyle in Summerside. Q. What was your conversation with Doyle? A. I do not remember. Q. Did you tell him you wanted some horses? A. I do not remember saying anything to him about them. Q. Was your first intimation about Anderson requiring horses from Doyle? A. Yes. Q. You received a letter? A. Yes. Q. Have you that letter? A. No. Q. Do you recollect a letter as follows: "Moncton, N. B., August 1914.—Dear Sir, The militia department requires a number of horses immediately, and as the time is short we may not be able to get a sufficient number around here, we are inquiring around Summerside, Colons—all except greys; sound in wind and limb, good eyes, teeth." A. Yes. Q. That letter was received by you after Doyle spoke to you? A. I am not certain. Q. Did you make any inquiries as to the price they were likely to pay? A. No. Q. Did Anderson or Doyle tell you that they were going to look at your horses? A. No. Q. Did Doyle meet you in the street and say: "You have some fine horses over there? A. I do not remember. I do not recollect Doyle saying anything about them. Q. You were rather expecting Anderson to be coming over about horses? A. I did not know Anderson at all. Q. Had you a suspicion that Anderson wanted horses? A. No. Q. Were you surprised when he called upon you in August? A. No. Q. Were you expecting him, and had you your horses nicely groomed and ready for inspection? A. Yes, I always try to keep them well cleaned up at all times. Q. Did they arrive in the evening steamer? A. I do not remember. Q. After receiving the letter on the 14th and before Anderson arrived, did you buy any horses. A. I do not remember. Q. Were Anderson and Doyle there to inspect your horses? A. I think so. Q. Did Doyle inspect them all over?

A. Yes, he examined the teeth, legs, and ran the horses up and down. Q. Did Anderson arrange the price to be paid? A. Yes. Q. What did you pay for these 6 horses? A. I do not remember. I think I received $3800 for the first 16 horses. Q. I will show you the checks August 29, 1914, $1425 for 6 horses. S. B. Anderson; L. S. Doyle, Veterinary Officer. Q. Did you buy these horses in a batch, or bargain for each horse separately? A. Separately. Q. What was the price for each horse? A. I do not remember. Q. Did the price vary? A. Yes. Q. About what price? A. I cannot say. Q. What was the price of your best horse? A. $250. Q. Your lowest horse? A. I do not remember. Q. Was there any price limit fixed by Major Anderson? A. I do not think so. Q. He paid an average of $237.50 for these six horses? A. I do not remember. Q. Your memory is not so good tonight, Mr. McNeill. Q. Did he say anything about buying further horses? A. I think he did. Q. Two or three days after Doyle or Anderson came back and bought another 10 horses? A. No, I took the horses to Moncton. Q. Were they inspected by Doyle? A. I do not remember. Q. You shipped 10 on the 26th of August? A. I think so. Q. You took the ten horses over on chance, did you not? A. I must have been. They would have to pass an inspection in Moncton. If they did not pass the inspection I took them back. Q. Did you bargain with Major Anderson as to the price to be paid? A. I think so. Q. What was the top price you got? A. I do not remember. Q. The lowest? A. I do not remember. (Your memory is very poor tonight, Mr. McNeill) McNeill—It may get better. Q. It is a very curious thing that that second batch of horses, ten in number, worked out to a cent to $250.50. Q. Some days later you shipped over ten more after bargaining with Anderson. The ten worked out at $257.50. Q. In the face of that do you say that Anderson bargained with you for the price of each horse? Q. You received $237.50 on the 10th of August. Did he not place a flat rate on the horses which he would pay? A. I do not remember. Q. Did Doyle arrange for a flat rate? A. No. Q. Did any person arrange that you should have a flat rate? A. No. Q. You say then that it was just $237.50 apiece on the flat, considering that you bought them all round the island, after they shipped them over, that they bargained with Anderson as to what you were to get? Have you any explanation regarding this? A. No. Q. Did you receive the sum? A. Yes. Q. Did you not total up what a windfall like that would amount to? A. No. Q. Either Anderson or Doyle came over about the end of August; did you telephone them you had some horses? A. Yes. Q. How many did you tell them? A. I think 47. Q. You went over with your 10 horses and you got a check for 6 and one for 10? A. Yes. Q. Doyle came over about the 21st of August and selected 54 horses? A. Yes. Q. Did anybody help Doyle to examine them? I was there. Q. How long did it take him to examine them? A. I could not say. Q. Did you go over with the horses? Yes. Q. Were there 54 horses? A. Yes. Q. Did you slip one in? A. No. Q. How did they come to be 55? A. I do not know, I think there was one that had not been ticketed, which would likely be examined at Moncton. Q. They were examined in Moncton? A. I think so. Q. Did you get your check? A. Yes, for 54 horses, $12,254. Q. What did you do with the extra horse? A. They kept him there. They had not bought him. I only got paid for 54. This horse may have been sent from the boat by some mistake. Q. Whose horse was it? A. —Thos. Humphrey's mare. Q. Your horses were inspected by Anderson. Did you with Anderson look at the horses? A. I do not remember. Q. Did Anderson pay you for the horses without bargaining about the price? A. I do not remember. Q. What discussion was there as to the price between you and Anderson? A. I do not remember. Q. Did he pay you the price you asked or cut down the price? A. I do not remember.
