

THE EASTERN GUARDIAN

IT PAYS to buy in this Province.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Foley, Cardigan, spent the week end in Little Pond, the guests of Mrs. Foley's parents. Their many friends were glad to see them.

SOME FISHERMEN.—Among the sports who visited North Lake on Wednesday, July 23rd were Messrs. John and Eddie Roberts of Kingsboro. They caught some splendid trout, Eddie landing one which measured twenty-one inches. Jack as he is familiarly known by his friends certainly lost none of his fishing abilities during the two and one half years spent overseas.

SCHOOL EXAMINATION.—The semi-annual examination of Elmira school was held on Friday, June 27th. A number of visitors and raterayers were present. The pupils were examined by their teacher Miss Mildred Rose, and other visitors. The answers so readily and accurately given by the pupils gave evidence of the careful training they had received during the past term. A program consisting of the following numbers were nicely rendered by the pupils: Words of welcome by Christina Murphy; Recitation on Rights of women, Mary Bailey; Speech by Margaret Bailey; Recitation, My Kitty Has the Mumps, by Irene Bailey; Recitation, "IT", by Ruth Murphy; Recitation, Ingratitude, Hilda Mellick; Monologue, Thanksgiving Reminders, Laura Campbell; Recitation, Double Trouble, by Annie and Evelyn MacNeil; Recitation, by Jennie MacNeil; Recitation, John's pumpkin, by Tommy Harris; Recitation, Mothers' Feat, by Laura Campbell; Valedictory by Margaret Bailey. The visitors and pupils were then treated with home made candy. Remarks were made by M. J. Campbell and others present congratulating the teacher on the splendid manner in which she had conducted the school during the past term and signifying their pleasure that she was remaining for another year. Prizes were awarded to Laura Campbell, Margaret Bailey and Mary Bailey for perfect deportment and to Tommy Harris for best attendance. The singing of the National Anthem brought the examination to a close.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME AND PRESENTATION TO SERG. JOHN A. MACLEOD

On Tuesday evening, July 1st upwards of ninety people wended their way to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. MacLeod, East Valleyfield, to extend the glad hand of welcome to their son Sergt. John A. MacLeod. After an address of welcome was read by Miss Anna Bruce, the guest of honor was presented with a gold signet ring by Miss Florrie J. MacLeod, a gift of the Valleyfield Comfort Circle, Sergt. MacLeod, although taken completely by surprise rose to the occasion, and in a neat and fitting speech thanked the good people for their kindness on this occasion. The guests then resorted to the dining room where a bountiful supper was served by the ladies of the circle. Seated with Sergt. MacLeod were the following returned soldiers, Pts. Alex R. Martin, Willie Macdonald, Martin W. Macdonald, John P. MacLeod, Alex MacPhee and Dan Matheson. The remainder of the evening was very pleasantly spent in music and various games by the younger set, while the good old people enjoyed a social chat together. After giving Sergt. MacLeod a vigorous bounce, the singing of Auld Lang Syne brought an evening of great enjoyment to a close. The following is the address: To Sergt. John A. MacLeod. Dear Friend:—It is with great pleasure that we your friends and acquaintances are assembled here this evening to welcome you back to our midst after an absence of three years. We look back with pride and admiration to that never-to-be forgotten day in Sept. 1915, when you voluntarily sacrificed your college career and donned the khaki to fight for King and Country. It was through no fault of yours that the pleasure you so long anticipated in meeting the murderous Hun face to face was denied you. You having repeatedly offered your services, it evidently was thought best to employ your talent where it was most needed, and there you nobly and faithfully strove to do your bit to oppose Kaiserism and to help right and freedom. Although many temptations beset you, we are proud indeed to welcome you back a clean type of young manhood, and now as you go out again to resume your duties, we would wish you every success in your chosen profession. On behalf of Valleyfield Comfort Circle, we beg you to accept this gift which though small in value carries with it a wealth of good feeling and more gratitude and appreciation than words or gifts can express. That it may serve to oft remind you of this pleasant event is the sincere wish of your many friends in Valleyfield and vicinity.

Making Hedgehog Useful

If a scarcity of metals were to result in a scarcity of gramophone needles an excellent substitute can be found in the spines of a hedgehog. This discovery is due to an officer of the Argyll and Sutherlands. The spines allow one to hear even the words of the singer and every note of the song in the softest of renderings.

SCHOOL EXAMINATION.—The semi-annual examination of North Lake school was held on Monday, June 30th. A number of parents and visitors were present. The pupils were examined by their teacher Miss Alberta Rose and others present and by their ready answers testified to the careful training of the teacher and the diligence of the pupils. Then following a short but spicy programme, consisting as follows: Words of welcome by Everett Macdonald; Recitation by Wallace and Elva Morrow; Dialogue by Christina Pope and Russell Dingwell; Recitation, Mother's foal, Chester MacLearn; Recitation by Hazel Pope; Monologue by Carrie Fraser, Valedictory by Carrie Fraser. Home made candy was then served by the teacher and after brief complimentary remarks the meeting was brought to a close.—One who was present.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY BELLS.

In order that they may take an appropriate part in the celebration of peace, the six old bells at Westminster Abbey are to be thoroughly restored, and new ones will be added to complete the octave. These old bells are of great historic interest. All except the treble (or smallest) were cast at the Whitechapel Bell Foundry of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The tenor, which is the largest, weighing one ton and a half, was cast in 1738; the fifth in 1598; the fourth and second in 1749, and the third in 1853. The treble is an early fourteenth century bell, cast probably by Richard de Wymshish, who was founding in the parish of Aldgate at that time. The treble and third must have been rung to celebrate the victory over the Spanish Armada in 1588, and one of them will ring again to signalize the greatest victory of history. When the Abbey authorities asked the foundry to overhaul the bells for ringing at the signing of the armistice, it was found that they were in such poor condition that only the smaller bells could be rung. Messrs. Mears and Stainbank reported that nothing less than entire rehang- ing would be of service. Fortunately two benefactors, who wish to remain anonymous, generously came forward and offered to bear the cost. Two smaller bells, to complete the octave, are to be added, and the old bells will be returned, the whole ring being rehung with entirely new fittings and frame-work. The old fourteenth century treble, while too small to take its place successfully in the octave, will be preserved, and a new bell cast in its place. The Abbey will then possess the heaviest ring of eight in London.

Embarrassing

"What do you think of women in politics?" "Embarrassing," answered Miss Cayenne. "You can't be sure whether a bashful man is going to propose to you or merely ask you for your vote."
