CHARLES MCGILL GEN'L MANAGER

Of The Wrecked Ontario Bank Blames the Directors, but Admits he Speculated With Bank Funds—He Frequented Bucket shops and Speculated in Wall Street.

TORONTO, Oct. 14.—Charles McGill, general manager of the Ontario bank, was seen in his room at the King Edward Hotel and asked as to the probable shortage of a million and a quarter. "If the loss will be so large, where did the funds go?" he was asked. After many repetitions of questions, McGill finally answered:

"The losses are made up in the ordinary course of business, made up of old debts and losses in securities purchased on behalf of the bank. I have been placed in a terrible position in the bank at times."

"The directors, instead of taking hold have stood from under and have withheld assistance when it was most needed. I had to raise money in my own name to keep things going. You can understand that when the time came when I could

The Reason Why?

If you are not well there is a reason. If you do not get well there is a reason. The reason is probably the same in both instances, namely, that your system is so run down, that it is in no shape to either resist or throw-off disease.

The remedy is obvious—Build up the constitution and nature will do the rest. As a system builder of stories were afloat. They guaranteed the Bank of Montreal to the amount of $1,000,000 if the latter would take the Ontario Bank over without examining its assets. This is what has been done. A prominent banker considered the transaction by which the Bank of Montreal takes over the business to the advantage of both institutions.

"Think of it," he said, "the Ontario Bank is allowed a bonus of a hundred and fifty thousand dollars and by the stroke of a pen the Bank of Montreal secures ten million additional deposits."

The uppermost story on the street Saturday was the position that the shareholders will occupy in the readjustment that is to ensue under the charge of the Bank of Montreal. A rumor from Montreal stated that the shareholders were to receive at the rate of $85 a share for their holdings, but, this is by no means accepted as a fact. The shares are now a jumble of unsalable and quotations were Saturday withdrawn from the Toronto stock market. It is argued that unless a complete investigation has already been made into the books of the bank, it would be impossible to arrive at a valuation which the shares should carry. If in the process of liquidation the losses do not reach the extent of $2,000,000, there will be something left for the shareholders.

It is also asserted that the purchasing bank is to allow the sum of $150,000 for the good-will of the Ontario bank. This will represent $10 for each $100 worth of stock held by the shareholders.

55,000 Meals
Did Him No Good

How One Man Wasted 50 Years of His Life. Thousands Like Him

"What's the use of eating, anyhow?" said the scrawny dyspeptic to his rosy, prosperous-looking friend. "Here I've been eating three times a day, and sometimes twice a day for 50 years, and look at me. I'm rawboned and skinny, all at the bottom of the ladder, sour on the world, and a pessimist. I know it, and I can't help it. If I had it to do over again, though, I would take care of my stomach, for I don't believe I ever really relished a meal in my life, not even mother's Christmas dinners, and I firmly believe that my way of eating, or whatever it was, brought along with it darkness and impossibility of success."

"You're right," nodded his companion. "Of course, that isn't always the case. But in this age we must not only 'Trust in the Lord and keep our powder dry,' but we must swallow sunshine with our food. Cheerfulness, especially while eating, which is the most essential act of man, is as necessary to him as sunshine is to the flower. Nothing normal can be produced in darkness."

"But this is what you haven't been doing, Mr. Dyspeptic. Your brain and your stomach, remember, are twins, and you have to trust them accordingly. Why not start now and repair the damage you've done. It is never too late, you know."

"You mean at my age? And suppose you can't always get the sunshine?"

"Absolutely, yes. Science has made it possible to get the sunshine, the health and the strength that your stomach needs, all put up together in little tablets. They call them Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the most effective tablets in the world for this very thing. One ingredient in these tablets digests 3,000 grains of food without the help of the stomach. Two tablets after each meal can do more work, quicker work and better work, in digesting a heavy meal, than the stomach can itself. The stomach need not work at all. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets does all the work, and gives your jaded stomach a rest, the rest it needs. Meanwhile you cure yourself of brash, irritation, burning sensation, heartburn, sour stomach, acidity, fermentation, bloating, and the worst cases of dyspepsia and indigestion. You get rid of these for all time. And then, besides, you can eat all you want and whenever you want, and you will also relish mother's Christmas dinners if you will take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating. That's the sunshine I was talking about. Then your face will reflect the internal change going on; you'll be more energetic, your mind will be clearer, you will have more confidence in yourself, you'll be happier, and you'll be yourself again."

"Your heart will change and you'll feel rosy. You'll enjoy your meals—and live. Let's walk down to the drug store and let me introduce you to one little package of these Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. You can get them at any drug store in the world for only 50c a package. It is worth it, Mr. Dyspeptic."
